CARD CLUB MEMBERS ARE ENTERTAINED AT DINNER

Mrs. G. Alex House entertained members of the New Deal Club at a dinner party this week. The table was centered with an arrangement of white anemones, carnations, narcissus, red tulips and fern, flanked by red candles. Dinner was served at 7:00 o'clock. Covers were laid for nine.

In the progressive contract games played at two tables by "streamlined rules" in the evening, prizes of formal postal notes were won by Mrs. Robert D. Rouse and Mrs. Alton W. Bobbitt. Tallies were in the spring-time mode and packets of flower seeds were given as favors.

Club members in attendance were Mrs. Alton W. Bobbitt, Mrs. Frank Davis, Jr., Mrs. L. E. Walston, Mrs. Henrietta M. Williamson, Mrs. Robert D. Rouse, Mrs. S. A. Roebuck, Mrs. P. E. Jones and Mrs. W. Leslie Smith.

B AND B CLUB

Mrs. James Lang entertained the Book and Bridge Club, and special guests, Mrs. Neal Howard, Mrs. Tod Albritton, Mrs. R. V. Piser and Mrs. R. C. Copenhaver at a delightful afternoon of bridge Friday.

Mrs. Frank Allen compiled top score for the three progressions. The books, "The Friendly Persuasion," by Jessamyn West, and "The Egoist," by George Meredith, were awarded Mrs. C. S. Hotchkiss and Mrs. T. S. Ryan, first and second high score winners for the month.

The patriotic motif, in observance of Washington's birthday, was emphasized in the floral arrangements of flowering quince and japonicas, and in the refreshment plate. Coca-colas were served with mince meat delicacies and other party knick-knacks. Open-faced sandwiches were decorated to form cherry bunches.

GARDEN CLUB HEARS INTERESTING PROGRAM

The Garden Club held its February meeting on Monday afternoon with Mrs. J. W. Holmes as gracious hostess.

The president, Miss Tabitha M. DeVisconti, presided and gave a report on Garden Pilgrimages. The program was presented by Mrs. B. Streeter Sheppard whose subject was Vegetable Production. She stressed proper tools and properly prepared soil before planting good seed or plants, also proper cultivation, telling when and what to plant and urging canning or freezing of the surplus.

Speaking of gardening as a help for wounded Veterans she quoted Raymond Clapper, foreign correspondent who was killed in the South Pacific, "But it is gardening that seems most of all to heal the soul."

In a round table discussion, members talked of annuals, insects, spraying, and what plants to fertilize now.

Jonquils and sprays of flowering quince were in lovely arrangement throughout the home and in the social period, cherry pies topped with cream, salted nuts and coffee were served.

RECENT BRIDES FETED

Mrs. Eibert C. Holmes charmingly entertained the Emily B. Holmes S. S. Class at its February meeting on Tuesday evening, at which time the class honored Mrs. Robert P. Wheeler and Mrs. Carol W. Modlin. Flowering quince was used in decorating the home.

An entertainment program was led by Mrs. Albert Lewis, after which the hostess served chicken salad and tomato apple molded in graduated heart shapes, potato chips, cookies and coffee.

Mrs. Wheeler was presented a shower of handkerchiefs which, further emphasizing the heart theme of the evening, were beautifully arranged as a large heart nosegay. Mrs. Modlin was remembered with a gift of silver in her pattern.

Additional guests of the hostess included Mrs. Bill Garner, Mrs. Roderick Harris, Mrs. E. W. Holmes, Mrs. Red Newton, Jr., Miss Louise Frazier, and Mrs. Leland Day of Morehead City.

CLASS SOCIAL

The Loyal Woman's Class of the Christian Church enjoyed a social meeting at the home of Mrs. Louise Harris, Friday evening.

Mrs. Lester Turnage led the devotional. In her remarks she spoke of George Washington as a great churchman as well as a leader of his country. Mrs. C. L. Ivey conducted a Bible quiz.

Ice cream, salted nuts and sand tarts were served. Cherry candies added a decorative note to the refreshment plates.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

Miss Christine King, of Louisburg, announces the marriage of her sister, Dicie Gray, of Glenn Dale, Md., to Elmo Senour Targart, of Washington, D. C., which was solemnized in Leesburg, Va., on January 31.

ASH-WEDNESDAY SERVICES TO BE HELD HERE MARCH 6

A special Ash-Wednesday service will be conducted at Emmanuel Episcopal Church, Wednesday evening, March 6, at 8:00 o'clock by the rector, the Rev. Jack B. Rountree. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

EPISCOPAL AUXILIARY HAS SPECIAL STUDY

The Rev. Jack Rountree was president of the Episcopal Auxiliary meeting, Monday afternoon, and reviewed for the group, the mission study book, "The Cross Over Africa," by Newell Booth.

He explained, "In general, the book concerns conditions of people native to a great continent who were the original inhabitants of that same continent who have become victims of the commercial exploitation of the various countries and as a consequence the African has become a stranger in his own land."

Mrs. James Lang, president, presided over the meeting. Mrs. W. R. Burnette announced that plans for World Day of Prayer are being completed. The Auxiliary is in charge of this observance to be held March 8, in the Baptist Church.

After adjournment, the hostess, Mrs. T. S. Ryan, served lemon bisque, coffee and toasted nuts.

Altar Guild

The Episcopal Altar Guild began a new study at their meeting Tuesday evening, when Mrs. W. R. Burnette outlined the opening chapter of the book, "The Episcopal Church, Its Doctrine, Ministry, Discipline, Worship and Sacraments," by George Hodges.

The Directress, Mrs. John D. Dixon, presided and appointed as a nominating committee, Mrs. Burnette, chairman, Mrs. Will Jones, Jr., Mrs. T. S. Ryan. The Guild made plans to buy an Altar Curtain.

In the social period, the hostess, Mrs. E. S. Scott, served chocolate sundaes, iced cup, cakes and coffee.

BIRTHDAYS OBSERVED AT PARTIES TUESDAY

Miss Nancy Lu Moore observed her thirteenth birthday, Tuesday, at a dinner party, having as guests Misses Ray Hathaway, Gayle Cheek Flanagan, Ruth Tyson and Ann Bynum.

A green, pink and yellow color scheme beautifully decorated the table which was covered with a lace cloth and centered by a floral arrangement. Place cards were attached to party nut cups.

Mrs. W. H. Moore, Jr., mother of the honoree, served a fried chicken menu followed by a dessert course, molded jello and slices of the lighted birthday cake.

Miss Marcia Forbes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Forbes, also celebrated a birthday, her tenth, on February 26, when twenty young friends were present for an afternoon party.

Outdoor games were enjoyed after which Marcia opened her many lovely gifts. The lighted Birthday Cake, decorated in pink and green and flanked by tall green tapers, centered the dining-room table from which ice cream, candies and nuts were also served. Each guest was presented an attractive favor.

RECEIVES DISCHARGE

Pvt. Harold (Tony) W. Melton is at home having received his discharge at Fort Meade, Md., on Feb. 27, following two years in the service, five months of which he served as a rifleman in the European theater. While there he was awarded the Purple Heart for wounds received in combat against the enemy, and the European campaign ribbon with two battle stars.

He returned to the States in February of 1945. For the past six months he has been employed in Officer's Quarters, at Camp Lee, Va.

Before entering the service Pvt. Melton was employed by Williams' Grocery and Market, here.
