NOBLE SERVICE

Dream not of noble service elsewhere wrought;
The simple duty that at home awaits the hand
Is God's voice uttering a divine command;
Life's common deeds build all that saints have thought.

Go not abroad for happiness. For see! It is a flower that blossoms by thy door.
Bring love and justice home; and then, no more,
Thou'lt wonder in what dwelling joy may be.

—Minot Savage.

(In memory of the passing of Mrs. Lillie Askew Horton on Sunday, May 5, 1935.)

MY MOTHER'S GARDEN

So fitting is the following poem, by Alice E. Allen, expressing fully and beautifully "the fragrance of her life" that we print it in lieu of an editorial as a tribute of esteem to May Turnage Moore, whose passing was recorded as of April 20, 1946:

Her heart is like her garden,
Old-fashioned, quaint and sweet,
With here a wealth of blossoms,
And there a still retreat.
Sweet violets are hiding,
We know as we pass by,
And lilies, pure as angel thoughts,
Are opening somewhere high.

Forget-me-nots there linger,
In full perfection brought,
And there bloom purple pansies
In many a tender thought.
There love's own roses blossom,
As from enchanted ground,
And lavish perfume exquisite
The whole glad year around.

And in that quiet garden—
The garden of her heart—
Songbirds are always singing
Their songs of cheer apart.
And from it floats forever,
O'ercoming sin and strife,
Sweet as the breath of roses blown,
The fragrance of her life.

WE ARE GLAD

In reviewing the twenty years of his life, which the Rev. C. B. Mashburn gave to Farmville, cheerfully "spending and being spent" for the good of this community, we know that we express the feeling of our people in saying "thou hast done great things for us, whereof we are glad."

While this pastor has been outstanding as the longest record of service by any minister in Farmville, it also has been one of the most successful in the history of any Church in this section of the State, and the influence wielded cannot be measured or his achievements appraised by human reckoning.

It has never been easy and it isn't easy now for a man of strong convictions to stand firm and steadfast among the shifting currents of opinion, but he who perseveres and aids in establishing principles in religion, in government, in business and in the social field renders a service to his fellows far above those who follow only for the leaves and fishes.

Passing among us daily for twenty years, preaching the tender solaces of the Gospel, warning of sin and its consequences, making our duties plain before us when occasions demanded, speaking words of comfort when our hearts were anxious, cheering us at other times with witty sayings, blessing our firesides with his presence, he has endeared himself to hosts of his fellows, and the community feels that he and his good wife "belong" to Farmville.

Yes, we are glad that the Rev. Mr. Mashburn dwelt among us for twenty years, glad that this community was privileged to have his uplifting ministrations for so long a time, glad now that he is permitted to have a long period of rest as sorely needed, in the mountains of Western North Carolina, and we will be glad when at some future time he may choose to return and make his permanent home here among his good Farmville friends.

The best home demonstration ever shown, who will observe National Home Week, May 8-12, covered 19,000,000 square feet of meat, fruits and vegetables in 1946.

The purpose of the Home Demonstration is to show the best use of the land and to help the people to get the most out of their land.

CHURCH GROUPS MEET

Presbyterian
The Presbyterian Auxiliary held its initial meeting of the new church year Monday evening in the church with the new president, Mrs. John M. Newborn presiding.

"How Firm A Foundation" was selected as the opening hymn. Mrs. J. T. Nolan led the devotional reading Scripture from the Book of Acts and the 119th Psalm. Prayer was offered by Mrs. J. M. Hoggood.

"Why We Are Presbyterian," the first topic in the new year's study was developed by the pastor, Rev. E. S. Coates. A number of men of the church and representatives from Carver's Chapel were present to join in the study.

Mrs. C. F. Baucum gave a report on the recent Albemarle Presbyterian meeting held in Goldsboro which she attended as delegate. Mrs. Hoggood, who is president of the Presbyterian Church, thanked the local auxiliary for the honor bestowed upon her at this meeting, displaying her life membership pin which she said she expects to wear at all times.

Members were reminded to turn in their Sunshine gifts as soon as possible.

Christian
Groups of the Women's Council held regular business meetings this week preliminary to the Council meeting on next Monday. The usual study taken from the World Call magazine was continued.

Mrs. J. O. Pollard was hostess for Group 1 and made an offering to the treasury in place of serving refreshments. A devotional was given by Mrs. Henrietta Williamson.

Mrs. Letha Edwards entertained Group 4 in the home of Mrs. C. L. Jones. Mrs. Lee Corbett presided and Mrs. J. E. Turnage gave the devotional. The program study was led by Mrs. Jack Smith and Mrs. C. L. Jones. The hostess served strawberry ice cream and cookies in the social period.

Group 2 met with Mrs. C. L. Ivoy who also chose to give a donation instead of serving. Mrs. A. C. Turnage led a devotional and Mrs. Blanche Paschall, the program.

Mrs. Archie Cayton was hostess for Group 3's meeting which was presided over by the chairman, Mrs. Ted L. Albritton, who also led the program study. The devotional was given by Miss Vera Williams.

Plans were made for the Group's special duties at the church this month and for presenting the program for the Council on Monday. It was decided to meet on Tuesday evenings during the summer months.

In the social period the hostess served strawberry ice cream and cookies.

The Loyal Woman's Class held its final meeting of the season Friday evening when Mrs. R. G. Barrett was hostess. An arrangement of lovely Amaryllis lilies decorated the living room of the home.

Mrs. Louise Harris, president, presided. Mrs. L. E. Turnage chose as a devotional subject, "Light," based on Scripture from John 12. An appropriate poem was given and she concluded the program with an interesting Bible quiz.

Instead of serving refreshments, the hostess made a donation to the class treasury. Meetings of this group will be resumed in August.

Scouters Meeting Held In Crisp

The supper meeting of Scouters of the Edgecombe and Pitt-Greene Districts, held at Crisp, Wednesday evening, with Joe Eagles as host, was attended by Ed Nash Warren, P. K. Ewell, R. LeRoy Rollins, Dr. W. M. Willis and George W. Davis, local Scout leaders.

Following a sumptuous fried chicken supper, served by the Crisp Parent-Teacher Association, the program, taking the form of a well planned Boy Scout Troop meeting, was presented.

Scoutmaster Folk, of Tarboro, talked on the opening features of a troop meeting; Wyatt Brown, of Greenville, discussed the advancement program; Scout Executive John Hackney, took the patrol period as his subject, and Mr. Grimes, Field Executive, outlined a plan for the fun portion of the meeting. Field Executive Mayo led in the singing of Scout songs.

Mr. Dupree stated that he does not anticipate any changes or remodeling at present.

WHY A CLEAN-UP AND PAINT-UP CAMPAIGN?

First—all classes of people learn to play and work together. Chronic knockers are led into the ranks of the loyal and useful boosters—thus developing community spirit.

Second—Streets and alleys are repaired and cleaned.

Third—Fire losses are reduced by removing accumulations of waste and rubbish.

Fourth—Vacant grounds are improved by cleaning up and being converted into play-grounds or gardens.

Fifth—Shrubbery is trimmed, trees are planted, lawns are raked, back yards cleaned, homes are dedicated to continued cleanliness by the ministrations of painter and decorator, thus living conditions are improved.

Sixth—Breeding places for disease are rooted up and destroyed, mosquitoes, flies, rats, roaches and other pests are stamped out, thus making our city more healthful and actually saving lives.

Seventh—Cleanliness and beauty improves morale of workers.

Eighth—It advertises a city to be called clean and a rapid growth in newcomers will be noted.

Ninth—It creates a lively demand upon local dealers for everything needed in making homes clean, attractive and safe from fire, disease and the weather. It stabilizes, restores and increases the value of real estate, and helps the bankers and the borrowers. It helps business.

The North Carolina Crop Improvement Association will conduct its next annual meeting in Shelby, probably in January, 1947.
