BROWNIES ORGANIZED

A Brownie troop, an auxiliary group, of the local Girl Scout organization was formed on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Farr, the adult leader.

The troop will be composed of 15 girls from the ages of seven through ten. The aims, ideals and activities have the same basic objectives as the Intermediate Girl Scouts.

Mrs. R. T. Williams, a leader of Troop 2, gave an interesting summary of the Girl Scout movement and how the Brownies were first organized.

Charter members of the new troop are Martha Holmes, who was elected leader; Theodora Albritton, secretary; Ann Morgan, treasurer; Lou T. Lewis, Nan Williams, Marion Pickett, Jane Russell, Blanche Satterthwaite, Johnnie Jane Joyner, Faye Mewborn, Ann Pollard and Sybil Crumpler.

Only three more members can be taken into this troop.

After the program the girls played games, sang favorite songs, repeated the Scout Promise and enjoyed munching apples.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Clarabelle Flanagan, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Flanagan, celebrated her ninth birthday with a theater party on last Thursday afternoon.

Following the movie the guests were invited to the Flanagan home for refreshments, consisting of cake decorated in blue and white, ice cream and salted nuts, served from the dining room table which bore attractive blue and white decorations and was softly lighted by blue tapers.

Games were played on the lawn. Guests included Ellen Norris Spencer, Jane Russell, Theodora Albritton, Ann Morgan, Ann Pollard, Janet Atkinson, Lou Taylor Lewis, Sybil Crumpler and Faye Mewborn.

Club Meetings Are Marked By Timely Programs

Woman's Club
Featuring the initial meeting of the Woman's Club held in the home of Mrs. E. R. Clegg with Mrs. B. Street-Sheppard as joint hostess, Friday afternoon, was an interesting and constructive talk by Miss Elizabeth Davis concerning "Our National Library" in Washington, D. C. She discussed its origin, growth and development and the varied services rendered by it to the people of this and other nations, illustrating her talk with beautiful exterior and interior views of the building. Miss Davis also told about her visits to libraries in Western North Carolina.

Mrs. W. Jesse Moye made an announcement relative to the district meeting which will be held in Plymouth, October 11. The club members discussed the awarding of a citizenship prize to be given to the pupil in the high school who had contributed most to the upbuilding of the school and community as a whole.

Mrs. C. W. Blackwood was elected chairman for securing subscriptions to the "North Carolina Clubwoman." Delicious cookies, ice cream and nuts were enjoyed by those present, including Mrs. Z. B. T. Cox and Mrs. Sam Bundy, who were welcomed as new members.

Exquisite arrangements of crotalaria, sinias and false dragonhead were on the tables and mantels throughout the home.

Literary Club

A meeting, featured by a delightful and entertaining program, was held, Wednesday afternoon, by the Literary Club, at the home of the president, Miss Elizabeth Davis, in which lovely yellow chrysanthemums, pink dahlias and red roses were arranged with artistic effect.

The program topic, "Music in America," was developed in an excellent paper, written by Miss Mamie Davis and read in her absence by Miss Tabitha DeViscanti, and by special vocal and instrumental selections in illustration of the various types of music; the club members sang in unison, Carry Me Back To Old Virginia, and Battle Hymn of the Republic; Mrs. J. W. Joyner sang Jeanie With the Light Brown Hair, Just A Wearyin' For You, and played Deep River.

Bringing the program to a delightful conclusion were solos, My Lover Is A Fisherman, Let My Song Fill Your Heart, and Kiss Me Again by Miss Rosemary Holmes, with piano accompaniment by her mother, Mrs. E. W. Holmes.

Mrs. W. Alex Allen assisted her sister in serving ices molded in fruit designs, individual coconut cakes and salted nuts. Following the desert course, after dinner coffee was poured by Mrs. F. M. Davis, mother of the hostess, from a beautifully appointed table in the hall.

Special guests of the hostess were Mrs. E. W. Holmes and Miss Rosemary Holmes, Mrs. Nannie Moye Humphrey and Miss Edna Robinson.

Jr. Woman's Club

The Junior Woman's Club met, Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. Tommy S. Ryan at her suburban home, which was beautifully decorated with early fall flowers.

Mrs. J. T. Nolan presided and led in the Junior Club Woman's pledge, with which the meeting was opened. During the business session, the club voted to contribute to a foreign scholarship; Mrs. R. T. Williams gave a report of the recent birthday party held by the Girl Scouts, which was sponsored by the club, and told of plans for forming a Brownie troop, and members were reminded by the president of the 15th district, Mrs. Jesse Moye, who is a member of this group, of the district meeting to be held in Plymouth, October 11.

The meeting was closed with the Club Collect.

During an enjoyable social period, the hostess served vanilla ice cream, topped with strawberries, and black chocolate cake.

Mrs. Eli Joyner, Jr., and Mrs. Robert T. Monk were special guests of the hostess at this time.

Contract Club

Mrs. W. Leslie Smith was a gracious hostess, Tuesday afternoon, entertaining members of the Contract Club and additional friends at her home on West Church street, in which lovely arrangements of roses, dahlias, sinias and marigolds were used as a setting for the four tables.

Mrs. M. V. Jones compiled high score for members and received a double deck of Congress cards, and retained the floating prize, notettes, also. Mr. Russell Moore received the guest award, a decorative china plate, and Mrs. W. M. Willis, scoring low, received a similar prize, as consolation.

A frozen marshmallow salad was served with ribbon sandwiches, Saratoga chips, pickles, crax, chocolate fudge and coffee by the hostess, assisted by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Emerson Smith, Mrs. R. G. Ruffin, Mrs. G. L. Gilchrist and Mrs. L. E. Walston.

Special guests were: Mrs. Alton W. Bobbitt, Mrs. W. M. Willis, Mrs. L. E. Walston, Mrs. G. L. Gilchrist, Mrs. Russell Moore, Mrs. R. G. Ruffin, Mrs. George V. Monk, Mrs. L. T. Pierce and Mrs. Ben Vernon.

Book and Bridge Club

Members of the Book and Bridge Club and special guests, Mrs. J. Y. Monk, Mrs. J. M. Mewborn and Mrs. Ernest N. Petteway, enjoyed an afternoon of bridge, Friday, with Mrs. R. T. Williams as charming hostess in her home which was made more attractive with fall arrangements of roses, sinias and dahlias.

High score was received by Mrs. J. Y. Monk.

Iced coca-colas and dainty sandwiches were served during the refreshment hour.
