

Activities Of Local Church Organizations

Baptist
 "A Farther Horizon" was the program subject developed by Mrs. Marvin Speight, Jr., at the Y.W.A., Monday evening.
 The group opened the meeting with the Watchword followed by each member reciting a verse of Scripture. The hostess, Miss Elvira Tyson, led in prayer.

Miss Rosemary Holmes adjourned the gathering with a prayer.
 During the social hour, Miss Tyson served mince-meat pies, topped with whipped cream, and hot coffee.

Mrs. G. L. Langley was hostess to the Annie Perkins Circle, Tuesday evening in the Church. Mrs. J. W. Miller presided and also took part on the program entitled "Fields Yet Untouched by Southern Baptists." Others having a part in the discussion were Mrs. G. W. Davis and Mrs. Robert Fields.

The devotional, taken from Psalm 72 and Joshua 13, was led by Mrs. M. G. Thorne.

Individual chocolate pies, open face pimento cheese sandwiches cut in turkey shapes, and hot coffee were served during a pleasant social period.

Episcopal
 Mrs. John D. Dixon, directress, presided at the Episcopal Altar Guild meeting, Tuesday evening, and opened the session with prayer and the creed. Mrs. Will Jones, Jr., was hostess to the Guild, in her home, which was decorated with zinnias and chrysanthemums.

Miss Margaret Smith gave a final report on the personal stationary sale and also mentioned that she had had the lock on the Church door repaired. The members voted to purchase a case of wax to sell.

After adjournment, Mrs. Jones served individual coconut pies topped with ice cream.

Methodist
 Circle Four, of the Methodist Society, met Monday afternoon, with Mrs. Layne Dail as hostess.

Mrs. Pearl Johnston took her devotional from the 34th chapter of Luke, with the theme being "Christ-like Love and Forgiveness." She read a selection "The Kind Jeep" which told of Armistice Day.

During the business session, the members decided to change the meeting time to 3 o'clock.

The hostess served ice cream, cake, nuts and dates to the members and a visitor, Mrs. Marvin Speight.

Chrysanthemums were used as decoration.

The Wesleyan Guild met, Monday evening, at eight o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Joseph D. Joyner with Mrs. G. M. Holden as hostess.

Mrs. Stuart Sugg presided and Mrs. Corinne Stillely conducted the meditation on the subject of "All Things To All People." Mrs. Curtis H. Flanagan, program leader, talked on "At Work Together."

The election of officers resulted as follows: Mrs. G. M. Holden, president; Miss Bettie Joyner, vice president; Mrs. Curtis H. Flanagan, secretary; Mrs. Joseph D. Joyner, treasurer.

Delicious refreshments were served after adjournment.

Presbyterian
 Mrs. L. T. Pierce was hostess to Circle 1 of the Presbyterian Auxiliary, Monday afternoon with 8 members present.

Mrs. J. M. Hoggood opened the meeting with prayer and continued the study of the book of Isaiah for the devotional. Mrs. Frank Dupree, Jr., used as the program topic, "Visiting with a Purpose."

Mrs. Mabrey E. Pollard adjourned the meeting with a prayer.
 Refreshments consisted of cakes, cheese crax, nuts and drinks.

Circle 2 met at the home of Mrs. Allen Drake, in the evening, with Mrs. W. H. Moore, Jr., presiding and using "Visiting the Sick" as her program study. Mrs. William P. Easley gave the devotional based on several chapters of Isaiah.

Cake topped with cream and pimento was served to the members and guests. Plate decorations were yellow chrysanthemums. Mixed flowers attractively decorated the hostess' home.

BIRD NOTES

An article on the Pine Warbler was the program feature by Bert Barrow Warren at the Bird Club, Saturday morning. Its length measures 5 3/4 inches; the upper parts of this bird are olive green, the under parts are yellow streaked with olive; the bill, shorter than head, is slender, tapering gradually to the tip; its wings are long and pointed; the tail is notched.

Duller in color and smaller, the female is often plain olive which inclines to gray on the back of the neck and shoulders. Sometimes she is almost wholly dull gray, faintly tinged with yellow on chest, sides and flanks.

The nest is always placed on a horizontal limb of pine or cedar from 6 to 20 feet up. Quite firmly attached and built of strips of grape vine, bark, rootlets, leaf stems and caterpillar silk, it houses the eggs, which generally number four. The lining is either deer or other animal hair. The Pine Warbler's eggs vary in color from dull white to pale grayish-lilac, are marked with specks and spots of brown and amber, and lilac color usually forms a wreath around the larger end.

The members made posters and colored pictures to be used in the Book Week Parade, Saturday. Other activities in which the boys participated were swinging, carpentering and playing games.

Frank Williams joined the club at this time and was cordially welcomed.

SOME INTERESTING FACTS ON COTTON SITUATION

The favorable statistical position of cotton was called to the attention of Pitt County farmers recently by J. V. Taylor, chairman Pitt County Agricultural Conservation Committee, also the 92% per cent parity loans giving cotton growers an opportunity to retain title to their cotton and sell later when prices are more favorable.

The August 1 carryover of 7,500,000 bales, he said, compares with 11,200,000 bales a year ago and 13,000,000 bales in 1939.

He pointed out that the U. S. Department of Agriculture's recent estimated August 1, 1947 carryover of less than 4,000,000 bales is the smallest in 17 years.

The Commodity Credit Corporation has already disposed of its large accumulated stock and all stocks now on hand have been committed for export.

Chairman Taylor stated that he had been advised that "at present prices and with continuation of the export program, the exportation of American cotton would be expected to increase materially." This, he pointed out, would further decrease the carryover.
