FARMVILLE, PITT COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA, FRIDAY, JANUARY 3, 1947

NUMBER TWENTY-FIVE

FRANK DAVIS, Jr., PROMINENT FARMVILLE CITIZEN PASSES

Business Suspended During Hour of The Funeral Held From Late Home Friday

A host of friends from Farmville and community, and from points throughout Eastern Carolina, assembled here, Friday morning, to pay a last tribute of esteem to Frank M. Davis, Jr., 52, a member of one of the pioneer families of this section, a large landowner and a citizen, who had gained much prominence in the financial and political life of Pitt county during the twenty-four years of his residence here.

Mr. Davis succumbed to kidney complications in a Richmond hospital, Christmas morning, following a long period of falling health and a critical illness of several days duration.

Final rites were conducted from the residence on North Main street at eleven o'clock, Friday morning, by the Rev. Z. B. T. Cox, pastor of the Christian Church, with the Rev. E. S. Coates, of the Presbyterian Church, reading the Scripture references and the Rev. E. W. Holmes, Baptist pastor, offering prayer. Business was suspended here during the funeral hour.

The Rev. Mr. Cox paid a high tribute to Mr. Davis as a humanitarian, basing his eulogy on the Bible assurance that "he that giveth a cup of cold water in His name will not lose his reward." The minister and friend said in part, "Truly a great price has fallen in Israel." Frank Davis believed firmly in applying the teachings of Jesus in his relationships with people. He expressed in his deeds, regardless of race or color or creed, what he believed in Christ. He gave more than the proverbial cold water, he gave where the need was and what it was, and the influence of his kindly spirit and the example of service to his fellowman will live in our hearts and bear fruit in the years to come. He is gone, the torch is ours. You and I are to follow in the footsteps of all Christian servants if we wish to make the world in which we live a better world."

The minister also paid a tribute to Mr. Davis' attributes of kindness and consideration as evidenced in his home life and the family circle.

Mrs. C. E. Townsend, Mrs. A. W. Bobbitt, Charles F. Baum and E. C. Holmes sang "What A Friend We Have In Jesus and Precious Name at the home, with Mrs. Henrietta M. Williamson as accompanist, and beautiful lute of Somewhere was rendered at the graveside.

Interment was made in Hollywood cemetery beneath a large and handsome floral tribute.

Active pallbearers were: W. Alex Allen, Lewis C. C. E. J. Wainwright, R. D. Rouse, W. C. Holston, Manly L. E. Weisten and Robert Lee Smith.

Friends in attendance were requested to serve as honorary pallbearers as they arrived.

Surviving are his wife, the former Mrs. Estler Blount Quinsey, of Ayden, two stepchildren, Miss Agnes Virginia Quinsey, a senior at Salem College, Winston-Salem, and Charles Blount Quinsey, of Farmville; two sisters, Mrs. L. B. Johnson and Miss Mamie Davis, both of Farmville; two brothers, George W. Davis, of Farmville, and R. Lang Davis, of Orlando, Fla., and several nieces and nephews.

Mr. Davis was born in Hawthorne, Fla., a son of the late George W. Davis, Sr., and Mrs. Mary Westberry Davis.

He came to reside in Farmville as a young man in 1923, taking over the responsibilities of the vast farming interests of the late uncle, Robert Lang Davis, and becoming associated also with the firm of R. L. Davis and Brown, one of the State's pioneer establishments in the business of general merchandising, which was in active operation for more than sixty years. Much of Farmville's development and growth is attributed to the energetic and progressive policies of the Davis family and the contributions made through the years.

Miss Jean Murphy Weds John C. Darden In Church Ceremony

Greenville.—Miss Jean Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dudley Murphy, of Greenville, and Mr. John Cowan Darden, son of Mrs. James H. Darden and the late Mr. Darden of Farmville, were married on Friday afternoon at half past four o'clock, December 20th, in the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church, the Rev. Robert W. Bradshaw, pastor, officiating, using the double ring ceremony.

The church was beautifully decorated with tall baskets of white carnations, chrysanthemums and fern which stood before a background of long leaf pine and southern smilax. The entire setting was softly lighted by multiple cathedral candles in tall white standards.

Proceeding the ceremony, Mrs. G. C. W. Hadley at the console of the organ, rendered a program of nuptial music. She was gowned in powder blue crepe and wore a corsage of pink carnations. Just prior to the entrance of the bridal party, E. C. Holmes of Farmville sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." Schubert's Serenade was softly played during the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of ivory slipper satin with fitted bodice and round sheer yoke studded with pearls, three quarter length leg of mutton sleeves and skirt extending into a circular train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a coronet of pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias.

Mrs. Gattis Honeycutt, Jr., of Washington, matron of honor, wore a brocaded ivory satin gown, full floor length skirt, fitted bodice with angel wing sleeves, matching mitts and carried an arm bouquet of white chrysanthemums tied with red satin ribbon and wore a bandeau of gardenias in her hair. The bridesmaids, Miss Sara McDearman of Durham, cousin of the bridegroom and Miss Barbara Nell Gardner, cousin of the bride, wore dresses identical with that of the matron of honor and carried bouquets of red carnations tied with red satin ribbon. Little Miss Frances M. Soley dressed as a miniature bride, preceded the bride to the altar.

James H. Darden attended his brother as best man and R. H. Cowan, Jr., Graham Jordan, and Guy Mitchell, of Durham, Horton Rountree and Tommie Willis, of Farmville, Stuart Murphy, brother of the bride, acted as groomsmen.

The mother of the bride wore a black crepe dress embroidered in sequins with a purple throat corsage. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a black crepe dress with matching accessories and wore a corsage of orchids.

For traveling, the bride changed to a brown gabardine suit with alligator accessories, brown felt topper and her corsage was of yellow orchids.

After a wedding trip to unannounced points, Mr. and Mrs. Darden will be at home in Farmville.

Informal Reception
Immediately following the wedding, the parents of the bride entertained at an informal reception at their home on Liberty street. Miss Miriam Anshon of Plymouth, and Mrs. W. L. Clark, aunt of the bride, presided at the refreshment table where punch, iced cakes, iced tea and iced coffee were served.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Murphy of Greenville. She is a graduate of Greenville high school and attended East Carolina Teachers' College. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. James H. Darden and the late Mr. Darden of Farmville. He attended Virginia Episcopal school at Lynchburg, Va., and is a graduate of State College, Raleigh.

On Wednesday evening, Mrs. Gattis Honeycutt, Jr., officiating at the home of her mother on South Street, complemented Miss Jean Murphy. The rooms were fully decorated in purple and white. A great number of guests were present. The ceremony was presided over by the best man, James H. Darden, and the bride was escorted by her father, Mr. John D. Murphy, mother

Anasley-Wooten Vows Spoken In Church Ceremony

Beauty and simplicity characterized the wedding of Miss Mamie Ruth Wooten and Glenn W. Anasley, which was performed at four o'clock, Christmas Day, in the Christian Church. The Rev. Z. B. T. Cox, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Haywood Smith played and Miss Helen Rouse sang "Because by Hardlot, and "Until," by Sanderson. The traditional wedding marches were used.

The vows were spoken before a background of greenery and white gaidoli in floor baskets flanked by branched candelabra.

The couple entered together unattended. The bride wore a blue suit with black accessories and a purple orchid at her shoulder.

Ushers were C. A. Joyner and Clarence Jarvis.

Immediately after the ceremony, the couple left for a trip to unannounced points.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie T. Wooten. She attended Farmville schools and served in the WACS two and one-half years. Mr. Anasley, manager and owner of the Farmville Radio Service prior to moving his business to Wilson in December was a former Wilson citizen. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Anasley, of Talladega, Ala.

At The Kiwanis Club

President Charlie Hotchkiss presided at the Kiwanis meeting, Monday evening, and was presented as the speaker also by program chairman, Frank Allen.

President Charlie's inspiring remarks were in the form of a retiring speech, an account of accomplishments of the club during the past year and a charge to the members for a deeper realization of their individual responsibilities to the club and to their fellowman, "that life for all mankind may be more abundant."

The speaker emphasized the obligation of each person to his Maker and to his fellowman, pleading for a better understanding and even stronger friendships.

Looking into the New Year, president Charlie said in part:

"Yesterday is now but a measuring stick. Yet upon our use of it hangs the fate of tomorrow. Let us review it carefully and chart our course for the year ahead. Far in the future lie many changes. The course we pursue now may well decide our lot in the years to come."

"May I state to you my own course for 1947 as:

1—I pledge full cooperation and support to this club and all of its worthwhile undertakings.

2—I shall improve my relationship with my fellowman, by being more generous toward his cause.

3—I shall strengthen my faith in God, and shall request that He give me the courage and determination to accomplish my goal.

"And when I have done this, I expect to be a happier, stronger and better man."

Gov. Ed Davis, of Greenville, will be a special guest and will install the new officers and directors at the next meeting on Monday evening.

Hugh and Glasgow Smith, of Greenville, were visiting Kiwanians, and H. W. Ritter, of Lumberton, I. R. Garrett, of Richmond, and Don Hodson, of Chicago, were special guests.

Charles Blount Quinsey and Rodrick Harris were announced as new members and will be welcomed into the club at the next meeting.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Mrs. and Mr. George M. Allen announce the birth of a daughter, Edith Montford, on Tuesday, December 24, in Woodard-Herring hospital, Wilson. Mrs. Allen is the former Miss Mary Sweeney, of Dixon Springs, Tenn.

Miss Betty Lou Turnage Weds C. W. Howard, Jr.

Greenville.—The wedding of Miss Betty Lou Turnage of Washington, D. C., and Greenville, to Charles Washington Howard, Jr., of Greenville, was solemnized on Saturday, December 21 at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the Eighth Street Christian Church with the Reverend Dr. H. G. Haney, pastor of the church, officiating, using the double ring ceremony.

Baskets of white chrysanthemums interspersed with glowing cathedral tapers in branched candelabras were used against a background of fern and evergreens.

Prior to the ceremony a program of wedding music was rendered by Mrs. Paul Davenport, Sr., organist; Mr. Winslow Parker of Ocrak, Alabama, sang "Oh Perfect Love," "Deanna," and as a benediction the "Lord's Prayer" was sung.

Ushers were J. E. Kittrell, Jr., Earl Pace, Jr., Ed Davis, Jr., Edwin G. Moore, Barney Warren, Jr., and Richard Stokes, III, of Greenville.

Mrs. Frank M. Adams of Washington, D. C., and Tullies, Miss, was the matron of honor. Her dress of American Beauty fabric was fashioned with a fitted bodice, drop shoulders and full bouffant skirt, swaying white ostrich tips in her hair. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses, with blue sweet peas and forget-me-nots tied with white satin ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Miss Patricia Myers of Silver Springs, Md., Mrs. Gilbert R. Roberts, Jr., of Washington, D. C., Miss Joyce Baskin White and Miss Joie Corbett of Greenville. They wore becoming frocks of French blue fabric, made identical to that of the matron's, wearing American Beauty ostrich tips in their hair, and carried arm bouquets of American Beauty roses tied with matching satin ribbon.

John Howard of Greenville, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Master Jimmy Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Long, was ring bearer and wore a miniature dress suit. Little Miss Grayson Waldrop, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Herbert Waldrop, was the flower girl. She wore a frock of pink net over satin, made similar to those worn by the bridesmaids and carried an old-fashioned nosegay of small pink rosebuds.

The bride entered with her brother, Harvey W. Turnage, Jr., of Washington, D. C., by whom she was given in marriage. Her wedding gown of white satin was made with a molded fitted bodice and a drop shoulder of white net embroidered in seed pearls, with long sleeves ending in a calli lily point over the hand and a full flowing skirt ending in a long circular train. Her veil of misty imported illusion cascaded from a tiara of white satin entwined with seed pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses centered with a white orchid showered with satin ribbons and stephanotis.

Mrs. Turnage, mother of the bride, wore a dress of subtle crepe with matching hat and accessories and a natural orchid.

Mrs. Howard, mother of the bridegroom, wore a black crepe dress with a yoke of flesh chiffon trimmed with cut steel beads and matching accessories. She also wore an orchid.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Harvey W. Turnage and the late Mr. Turnage of Silver Springs, Md., and Farmville, N. C., and the granddaughter of Mrs. W. E. Galloway of Greenville. She is also the niece of Lt. Gen. Allen H. Turnage, who is now in command of Marines in the Pacific, stationed at Honolulu. She attended school at Salem Academy and was graduated from Southern Secondary Junior College at Buena Vista, Va. She attended the University of Maryland last year.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Howard, Sr., of Greenville. He graduated from Woodberry Forest School, Woodberry Forest, Va., in 1942 and was a student at the University of North Carolina where he was a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity. He entered the Army in 1943 and served two years in the European Theatre. He will return to the University in January to continue his studies.

Immediately after the ceremony Mrs. W. E. Galloway, Mrs. Matt Long and E. G. Galloway accompanied at a reception at the County Club for members of the wedding party.

Among hosts and hostesses entertaining for the bride and groom were Miss Edna Mitchell, Mrs. Ray Wass, Miss Joyce Corbett, Miss Rosella Taylor, Mrs. F. A. Randall, Mrs. H. T. Anderson, Miss John Barnes, Miss Mrs. Durward Thacker and Miss Helen Tucker, Miss Rachel Peckham, Mrs. Clyde Webb, Mrs. W. W. Wagoner, Mrs. Graham Flanagan, Mrs. E. S. Bond, Mrs. J. C. Jones, Mrs. Philip E. Coleman, Miss Alice Ruth Bundy, J. B. Kittrell, Jr., and Miss Frances Kittrell, Miss Nancy Hannah, Miss Johnson, Ed Davis, Jr., Clifton Hugh Edwards, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Will Moore of Greenville, and Mrs. Arthur Joyner and Miss Mary Anne Townsend, Miss Ann Wood, of Farmville, Mrs. Frank Montgomery Adams and Mrs. William Clinton Murray of Washington, D. C.

A wedding breakfast was given on Saturday, December 21 at 12 o'clock by Miss Sarah Hannah at her home on Centre Club Drive, including Miss Betty Lou Turnage and her wedding party.

Chamber Commerce Activities

In response to several inquiries concerning the paving of the road from Bell Arthur to Joyner's Cross Roads and due to the persisting rumors that the road had been cancelled as a paving project, Sam D. Bundy, secretary of the Farmville Chamber of Commerce, recently wrote to J. G. Clark, State Highway Commissioner for this district, and requested the true status of said road.

Mr. Bundy received the letter below from Mr. Clark.

December 14, 1946
Mr. Sam D. Bundy, Secretary,
Farmville Chamber of Commerce,
Farmville, North Carolina.

Dear Mr. Bundy:
This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of December 13, concerning a road from Bell Arthur to Joyner's X-Roads. As you probably know, we are putting rock on this road now and our plans are to carry this road on through to Joyner's X-Roads. We have been assured, this week, that we would get enough rock to finish this job and weather permitting, this will be placed on road up to Joyner's X-Roads. My engineers advise me that there is a short distance in this road that will be necessary for them to widen before it can be finished, but this is only of a temporary nature and of a short distance.

The rumors that get out are nothing unusual. It seems that every road we start working on rumors get started as to what we are going to do and what we are not going to do. I shall do all I can to push this road as rapidly as possible.

Of course, I think you understand that this rock base we are putting on this road cannot be finished with a topping until the spring, and I think this generally understood by all the people. The reason for that is that we cannot use asphalt topping such as we are going to put on this road in the winter months.

Yours very truly,
J. G. Clark.

At The Rotary Club

Rotarian LeRoy Rollins presented the Rev. Z. B. T. Cox as guest speaker at the Rotary Club, Tuesday evening. The Rev. Mr. Cox made a timely and thought-provoking talk on the subject of "Playgrounds and Directors." Taking in consideration that Farmville citizens are planning at this time for a community building, a playground and a full time director for its recreational program, the speaker stated that these community facilities are necessary but that the most essential need is for backyard playgrounds with parents giving their time for supervision, playing with and teaching their children fair play, truth, honesty, loyalty and unselfishness as necessary attributes in the development of Christian living and good citizenship.

Past president Frank Williams presided in the absence of president Johnnie McWhorter. Lin Wooten was winner of the attendance prize.

All people who won't work aren't lazy—they just heard that exercise between meals isn't healthy.

From her wedding bouquet.

MARCH OF DIMES STAGES ITS FUND APPEAL FROM JAN. 15-30

Red Heads Score A Victory Over Locals

Cage fans, packing the Farmville gym to capacity, Tuesday evening, saw the All-American Red Heads, advertised as the world's champion girls' basketball club, win a victory over the local team to the tune of 23 to 18 in a fast, enjoyable game, featured by side plays on the part of the girls including exaggerated concern over opponents knocked down in play, and getting of the referee, Walter E. Jones, all of which added more fun and laughter to the evening's entertainment.

The girls, former All-Americans, play only men's teams using men's rules and are said to have played before nearly 2,000,000 people in seven seasons in all sections of the country. Gene Love, the tallest member is 6 feet 4, and Shubby Winter, the lowest, is 5 feet 2 inches. In answer to our very natural inquiry, the sports editor replied that the girls are attractive, shapely and that all are red headed with the exception of those whose hair is too dark to take hue.

Line-up for the locals was as follows: Bobby Russell and Albert Hinson, forwards; Jackie Willis, center; Dan Satterthwaite and Edward Allen, guards. Shelly Roebuck and Dewey Hathaway substituted.

Shelly Roebuck, of the local team, was matched in a free goal shooting contest with Hazel Walker, advertised as the world's most famous star, having been selected All-American National AAU Women's Tournament Champion and having won the title of National Free Throw Champion for six years and International Champion for two years. Roebuck finished with only one goal behind the champion—Miss Walker, scoring 15 out of 15 shots and Roebuck getting 15 goals out of the same number, which delighted the local fans.

Proceeds of $127.00 were realized from the game by the Farmville athletic organization.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

The American Legion Auxiliary held its December meeting in the home of Mrs. W. M. Willis, Thursday, with Mrs. J. E. Taylor and Mrs. C. A. Tyson as joint hostesses.

In the absence of Mrs. Mamie Davis, president, the hostess presided. The chaplain, Mrs. A. W. Bobbitt conducted the devotional from Luke 20, afterward offering prayer.

A report was given on the box of Christmas gifts sent to the Veterans Hospital, Fayetteville, by this group and the Literary Club.

The program consisted of carol singing and the reading of an inspiring message prepared by Miss Mamie Davis and read by Mrs. Bobbitt. Stress was laid on the fact that this was a peaceful Yuletide and that the season is the time for extending good will to other nations.

Ice cream, pound cake, salted nuts and cheese crackers followed by hot coffee were served in the social hour.

A miniature manger scene and choir boys predominated in the attractive decorations in the Willis home.

Never Greater Need For Funds, Says Pitt Cam- paign Chairman, J. H. Moore, In Urging Full Support

The 1947 March of Dimes, annual fund raising drive of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis which supplements the never-ceasing battle against polio, will be held January 15 to 30, it was announced today by J. H. Moore, chairman of the March of Dimes campaign in Pitt County.

Need For Money
The need for funds, Mr. Moore said, has never been greater, since the nation has just emerged from the worst epidemic of polio in the history of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, founded in 1939 to spearhead and coordinate the battle against this disease.

"United States Public Health Service figures show," said Mr. Moore, "that the 1946 polio epidemic is second only in severity to the great epidemic of 1916, the worst in recorded history. This means that not only were the Foundation and its chapters called upon as never before to supply expensive equipment, personnel and every other aid known to modern science to the stricken, but they still must assist those who have not yet achieved maximum recovery. And there are more of these than there have ever been before."

"The National Foundation also spent millions of dollars during 1946 in medical scientific research to trace the cause of infantile paralysis," Mr. Moore explained. "It will continue to do so until that cause is discovered and conquered."

The National Foundation also intends to pursue vigorously its far-reaching educational program to inform the public on precautions against the disease; what to do if and when polio strikes; and what your March of Dimes is prepared to do for every American, regardless of age, creed, color or race, stricken by the dread crippling—and that is to provide the best available care, regardless of cost, until maximum recovery is assured.

Appeals For Support
"The people of Pitt County, in common with Americans everywhere," Mr. Moore went on, "have been most generous in the past in supporting the fight against infantile paralysis through the March of Dimes. Indications are that they will be even more generous this year because they know that this fight is their fight. They realize that the March of Dimes is their best insurance against polio—and that the battle will go on in the laboratory until final victory is won and infantile paralysis joins the other great scourges of mankind unmarked and dispersed by knowledge."

"The annual March of Dimes," Mr. Moore concluded, "is the only means the National Foundation has for financing its battle against infantile paralysis."

Mr. Moore then revealed his plans for raising funds in Pitt County this year.

These included appointment of the following chairmen, who have accepted and from all reports are expected to make this the most successful campaign of all:

Bell Arthur, Mr. Cashwell, Ayden; E. F. Johnson, Belmont; L. L. McCreary, Rebel; W. C. Leatham, Chatham; Newman Lewis, Falkland; Miss Essie Fountain, Mrs. Herman Baker, Farmville; J. H. Moore, Grifton; Paul J. Clark, Grimesland; M. L. Beahm, Grouton; T. M. Grimes, Stokes; W. E. Knight, Whiteville; J. T. Eggers, Greenville; O. E. Dard.

H. H. Stagg has been appointed to direct the campaign in the county among the colored people.

Several committees are planning benefit dances either on January 30 or 31. The Farmville Junior Women's Club under the direction of Mrs. E. T. Niles, president, will sponsor the dance here and cover the expenses in town. Mr. Moore will be in charge of the school dance in Farmville.

K. F. Shaw, made Director.
