

NEW SUPERINTENDENT NAMED AS BOARD ACTS TO FILL VACANCIES

Farmville Man Succeeds J. H. Moore As Superintendent; Has Done Outstanding Work With Local Chamber Of Commerce

Sam D. Bundy, Farmville native whose work as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce has been outstanding, has been elected to succeed J. H. Moore as superintendent of the local schools.

The announcement of Mr. Bundy's election was made by Chairman John B. Lewis of the Farmville school board, who added, "The board considers itself fortunate in obtaining the services of a man with Mr. Bundy's training and qualifications."

Already making plans for the 1947-48 session, Mr. Bundy will continue his work with the Chamber of Commerce until August, or even later, if possible, unless a suitable successor can be secured earlier.

Maynard G. Thorne, president of the commerce body, expressed the sentiment of the board of directors when he stated that Mr. Bundy would be sorely missed.

Upon his graduation from the local high school in 1923, Mr. Bundy attended Duke University, then Trinity college, and received a bachelor of arts degree in 1927. He attended the Duke summer school in 1930 and has taken extension and correspondence courses at the University of North Carolina and N. C. State.

Mr. Bundy was in the teaching profession continuously from 1927 until 1944. He served as principal of Maxwell school in Duplin county the first year he was out of college. From 1928 through 1933, he was principal of Speed school in Edgecombe county and from 1933 through 1944 he was principal of Leggett school, also in Edgecombe. After serving as chief clerk of the O. P. A. board in Tarboro from 1944 until Feb., 1945, he was principal of Williamson school in Martin county until June, 1946, when he accepted the position as secretary of the Farmville Chamber of Commerce.

Active in civic, fraternal and religious work, Mr. Bundy is a 32nd degree Mason, a Shriner and is now serving as superintendent of the Christian Sunday School. He was president of the Tarboro Kiwanis club in 1941, lieutenant-governor of the Kiwanis sixth division in 1943, and governor of the Carolinas Kiwanis district in 1945. He was a member of the International Committee Achievement Reports in 1945 and was chairman of that committee in 1946.

He is married and the Bundys have two sons, ages nine and seven.

OCCUPY NEW HOME

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Windham and son moved into their new home in Victory Park, Monday, and may in years to come boast of their being the second family to move into this new section, and the very first to reside in their own home.

Doris and J. T. have been as busy as bees during the past month and have done a wonderful job in transforming their "GI" house from a rough, unattractive structure into a beautiful and livable home, doing most of the actual work of carpentering, papering and painting themselves.

Several of the other homes are nearing completion and Victory Park will soon be one of the show places of the town. Considerable interest is being manifested by a majority of the citizens here, who ride out at frequent intervals to observe the progress and improvements being made.

The purchase by some 20 odd servicemen of the "GI" homes from the government was responsible for pushing the May building permits, issued by the town, above the $21,000 mark.

WINS AIRPLANE

The many friends of Red Newton, Jr., have been extending their congratulations for the past several days on his good fortune in connection with the acquisition of a prize Taylorcraft airplane in a contest held in Washington City, while he was attending a state convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. and in that city last week.

Executive commander of the local post of the VFW, and a popular and successful businessman, is surrounded by many friends and family.

Seven Vacancies On Farmville Faculty

Five High And Two Elementary Teachers Needed; Instructors Obtained For Third Grade And Home Economics

Although only two of the nine vacancies created by the resignation or retirement of local teachers have been filled, officials of the Farmville school district have applications for the other positions and the board is meeting Thursday to review them. John B. Lewis is chairman; serving with him are Dr. John M. Mewborn, A. C. Monk, Jr., Arch J. Flanagan and Irvin Morgan, Jr.

Miss Ruth Parker has accepted a position as home economics teacher, succeeding Mrs. W. C. Harrell, who moves this month to Gatesville where Mr. Harrell, who served as history instructor and coach, will become superintendent of the Gates county schools. The third grade vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. J. H. Moore, who moves to Elizabeth City where Mr. Moore becomes head of the Pasquotank county system, is to be filled by Miss Hardy of La Grange.

Two second grade teachers are needed. In the high school, there are openings for a commercial teacher, mathematics, Spanish, public school music and history.

Attempts will also be made to have provision made in the new budget for a vocational agriculture teacher.

William A. Carr State Graduate

William Allen Carr, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Carr, was among the 398 graduates taking part in the impressive 58th commencement exercises at State College, Raleigh, Monday morning, receiving his BS degree in Chemical Engineering from the hands of Governor Cherry and congratulations from Dr. Frank P. Graham, president of the Greater University. The baccalaureate sermon was preached Sunday evening by the Rt. Rev. Thomas Wright, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of East Carolina.

"Bill" as the popular young Farmville man is called here, finished Farmville high school in 1942 and entered State College the following fall, where he studied for two years before being transferred to the Navy V-12 program at Columbia University. From there, he went to Fort Schuyler Midshipman School, N. Y. He was assigned to duty, following the end of hostilities, on the Eastland, an attack transport, which was used to transport troops from Japan back to the U. S. A. He was placed on inactive duty at Norfolk, Va., in August, 1946 and reentered State College in September.

His college activities include: vice president of Lambda Chi Alpha; member of the interfraternity council; member social functions committee; treasurer sophomore class; managing editor The Technician; staff member of the Wautauga; member of Theta Tau; member AICHE; outstanding work in Y. M. C. A.

Bill spent this week with his parents here. He is leaving Monday to assume his duties as junior supervisor in the Chambers Works, Wilmington, Del., a Du Pont branch, which position was offered him about three months ago.

THRIFT-GAS COMPANY OPENS NEW STORE HERE

The Thrift-Gas Company, an affiliate of the Tarboro Furniture Company, has opened its store on South Main street, adjacent to Sing Oil Company, and has available for immediate delivery ranges and refrigerators which use bottled gas as their source of power.

Harry Adler of Tarboro, owner of the store, expressed his pleasure at being able to secure a location in Farmville.

Bell Arthur Methodists Buy Bus and Bring 'Em In

When a religious survey of the Bell Arthur community disclosed the existing information that 60 per cent of the people were not attending Sunday Schools of any denomination, members of the Bell Arthur Methodist churches another round, carrying persons to and from central services. Pastor of the Bell Arthur church is Rev. Key Taylor of Wake County. Services are held on the second and fourth Sundays in each month.

R. A. Joyner Given Vote Of Thanks For His Work With REA

Former Town Clerk And Manager Of Electric Membership Corporation Given Vote Of Appreciation For His Years Of Service

Richard A. Joyner, whose faithful work as a public servant extended over a period of more than 25 years prior to his resignation last Sept. 10 as city clerk and manager of the Pitt and Greene Electric Membership Corporation, Saturday afternoon was given an unanimous vote of thanks for his unselfish work as members of the corporation convened in the town hall for their annual meeting.

Expressing regret at Mr. Joyner's resignation, necessitated by declining health, the motion was made by W. C. Hinson and seconded by Ichabod Allen.

Called to order by President J. Lee Tugwell, the meeting was opened with a prayer by Rev. E. W. Holmes, pastor of Farmville Baptist church, following which Mayor J. W. Joyner cordially welcomed the visitors to Farmville.

Directors of the corporation, all of whom were present with the exception of J. E. Mewborn, were then presented.

Project Attorney John B. Lewis introduced Sam D. Bundy, secretary of the Farmville Chamber of Commerce, whose timely talk concerned building and stressed that moral, social and spiritual building could be accomplished by faith in ourselves, faith in our fellowman and faith in God.

C. M. Paylor, manager, presented a report which had been mailed to each member April 15.

President Tugwell made a few remarks concerning construction and made the statement that in the matter of construction no partiality was being shown. He added that the cooperative had adopted and was trying to carry out a policy that would serve the greatest number of people with the small amount of material available.

Mr. Paylor then introduced I. D. Kirkin, the new superintendent of the R. E. A. department of the Town of Farmville. Mr. Kirkin spoke briefly and pledged his cooperation in every way in carrying out the program.

A. C. Oakes, chairman of a nominating committee composed of himself, Ralph Bynum, W. E. Smith, G. L. Mewborn and W. L. White, reported that E. E. Nethercutt, O. L. Erwin and Sam V. Tugwell had been nominated for two-year terms as members of the Board of Directors. The motion to accept the report was made by W. J. Baker and seconded by Jasper B. Jones.

Prizes donated by merchants of Fountaine and Farmville were awarded as follows: Mrs. Walter Pittman, Walstonburg, route 3, electric broiler; Albert Jensen, Snow Hill, route 2, electric iron; S. G. Parris, Stan-tonburg, route 1, table lamp; J. M. Eastwood, Farmville, route 2, electric clock; J. L. Small, Snow Hill, route 2, electric toaster; Jasper Boyd Jones, Snow Hill, route 1, heating pad; Alfred J. The Presbyterian Juniors held a picnic at the municipal park, May 29, in place of a regular meeting. Games were enjoyed after the picnic.

National Flag Week

Governor Cherry Monday proclaimed June 4-15 as National Flag Week and said that "there never has been a time in the history of this nation when people should have a higher regard for our flag and that for which it stands than in these days of worldwide struggle for the advancement of liberty, opportunity and other Democratic ideals and objectives."

Activities Of Local Church Organizations

Baptist Sunday School, 9:45 a. m.; morning worship, 11:00 a. m., sermon subject, "And, You Fathers;" Baptist Training Union, 8:00 p. m.; evening worship, 8:00 p. m.; sermon subject, "Place a Check on Your Desires." Good singing. Organ and piano numbers that you will enjoy.

The Young People's Bible Class enjoyed a hamburger roast in the garden of the teacher, Mrs. George W. Davis, on Thursday evening. After the social hour, a business meeting was held with H. B. Humphrey, president, presiding. There were around 30 in attendance, including the pastor, the Rev. E. W. Holmes, Mrs. Holmes, Miss Delphia Parker and H. D. Johnson, special guests.

Eli Joyner Attends UNC Class Reunion

Chapel Hill, June 9--Ten years out of college, University of North Carolina alumni of 1937 held a 10th anniversary reunion luncheon here June 8 as part of the Commencement program. Fred H. Weaver, University dean of men and '37 president, presided.

Under the "Dix Plan" reunions, used by University alumni classes, the '37 class is scheduled to have a full-scale reunion in 1948. The special get-together this June was an "extra dividend" reunion.

Officers other than Weaver include Niles W. Bond, vice-president, who is now attached to the American legation at Berne, Switzerland, and T. Eli Joyner, Jr., secretary-treasurer, of Farmville.

Plans were discussed by class leaders for establishing a memorial at the University honoring the 14 members of the class who died in military service during World War II. Ed. Note: T. Eli Joyner, Jr., who is associated with the Farmville Furniture Co. as manager, was graduated from the University School of Commerce with a BS degree. He was advertising and assistant manager of The Daily Tar Heel, campus newspaper, during his first three years and business manager during his senior year; business manager of the freshman handbook; vice president of the sophomore Y. M. C. A. cabinet and a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Circle 4 of the Methodist Woman's Society, met Monday with Mrs. L. E. Burnett as hostess. The devotional topic, "Sharing the Abundant Life," was presented by Mrs. E. R. Clegg, and was based on the second chapter of Luke.

Mrs. Pearl Johnson, program leader, gave a sketch of the life of David Livingstone, as an example of Christian faith and fortitude.

Ice cream, cake and salted nuts were served during the social period.

Mrs. L. T. Pierce, Sr., was hostess to members of Circle 1, of the Woman's Auxiliary, Monday afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock. Mrs. Robbie Smith conducted the devotional, based on the Sermon on the Mount, under the subject topic, "How Do I Affect Others?" Mrs. George B. Moore read a timely selection from "The Survey."

Following adjournment, strawberry ice cream and cake were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. L. T. Pierce, Jr., and her sister, Mrs. Ethel Thornton.

Circle 2 met Monday evening, at 8:00 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Glenn Newton. Mrs. W. P. Essley conducted the Bible study on the subject "How Do I Affect Others?" and Mrs. Allen Drake, in charge of the program, led in the discussion of the missionary topic, "Seeking A Sound Strategy."

During the social hour, the hostess served iced fruit juice and cookies.

The members of the Rotary Club were kept "in stitches" at the supper meeting, Tuesday evening, at which Dr. Ralph Deal, of Greenville, a former college professor, was guest speaker. Announcing his subject as "What Is Wrong With the World?" Dr. Deal, in his inimitable manner, cracked jokes after jokes and delighted his audience with his sparkling wit and contagious optimism. When he had concluded, his hearers felt that all was right with the world as viewed through Dr. Deal's rose tinted glasses.

Bill Fisher, as program leader for the evening, called on Paul Ewell to introduce the speaker.

M. V. Jones won the attendance prize.

Special guests were Charles F. Buncum and Visitation Jimmie Fuller, of Elston, Boy Scout Field Executive.

Belk-Tyler Store Having Face Lifted

Remodeling Program Calls For New Front; Will Be Most Modern In Eastern North Carolina

The most modern store front in Eastern North Carolina is what the Farmville Belk-Tyler store intends to have when the remodeling program, started Monday morning, is completed six weeks or two months hence.

Awarded to Contractor John M. Tyndall of Kinston, contract for the work calls for adding nine feet to the depth of the windows, installing an island window in the entrance and using terrazo tile for the flooring. Glass brick will be used above the windows and the name of the firm will stand out in 20-inch, raised, stainless-steel letters. Plans also call for the installation of fluorescent lighting.

Inside the store, improvements will be made. These plans call for some new fixtures and a new floor. Ernest N. Petteway, manager of the store, is elated over the modernization program and is certain that it will enable the firm to more capably serve the community.

LEGION INSTALLS NEW OFFICERS, PLANS FOR SEPTEMBER RALLY

On Board Of Governors

J. C. CARLTON

Was installed as a member of the board of governors of the Bright Belt Association, at the annual meeting, which convened at Myrtle Beach, S. C., this week. Mr. Carlton is a member of the Monk Warehouse firm.

At The Kiwanis Club

Miss Hazel Garris, an attractive young member of the Lang's 4-H club, had members of the Kiwanis club crooling at the month Monday night as she mixed appetizing milk drinks and, when the time came to auction them off, such gourmets as Lewis Allen and Hubert Joyner bid up to two dollars for the privilege of enjoying the concoctions. Proceeds from the sale of the drinks went to the club's fund for underprivileged children. Miss Garris and Miss Hines, an assistant home agent, appeared on the program as the guests of George Allen.

Miss Garris, who presented the same program at a recent meeting of the Greenville club, talked about the value of milk as she proceeded with her task of mixing the drinks. She explained that milk is not fattening, and is second to none in food value.

Dr. G. Ashby Winstead was inducted as a new member by Sam D. Bundy, who reminded the club of the divisional meeting in Greenville to-night and moved that the Tarboro club be invited to meet with the local group on Monday night, June 23.

The club also welcomed as visitors Dr. Paul E. Jones, who was the guest of Alton Bobbitt, Charles F. Baucum, who was the guest of Henry D. Johnson, and Dan H. Jones, the guest of John Parker. Dr. Jones spoke briefly about the proposal to construct a hospital in the county with Federal, state and local funds, and suggested that a plan might be worked out which would insure the location of the hospital in or near Farmville.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson announced Wednesday night that sugar had been freed from ration controls for households, hotels and restaurants because larger quantities are available. However, price controls remain. So does rationing of industrial sugar.

This action ended all rationing of articles for ultimate consumers for the first time since April 1942. Sugar, last food to be removed from rationing, was the first to be rationed.

Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Willis spent Monday at Wake Forest, where their sons, Jack and Tommy, entered the summer school.

Death Strikes Gay Family Three Times in Two Weeks

Walter G. (Bud) Gay, Jr., 33, died early Thursday morning at the Veterans' Facility in Fayetteville where he had been seriously ill for three months.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon, conducted by the Rev. Z. B. Cox, pastor of the Farmville Christian Church, of which deceased was a member. Hour and place of the service had not been decided at the time the Enterprise went to press Thursday afternoon.

Interment will be in Hollywood cemetery.

Mr. Gay served four years in the Army during World War II. The major part of the time was spent in Panama, England, and France. He was a member of Farmville Post No. 151, American Legion, and of the Knights of the World.

He was married, leaving a widow, Mrs. Mack Abrams, and two children, Mrs. A. G. Cayton, both of Farmville.

Surviving are one foster daughter, Easter Mae Gay of Wilmington; four sisters, Miss Sue Gay of the home, Mrs. A. A. Stewart and Mrs. Boyd Parker, both of Wilmington, and Mrs. Margaret Summers of Baltimore, Md.; and one foster brother, Arthur Gay of Farmville. A number of nieces and nephews also survive.

Active pallbearers were Arthur Gay of Farmville, A. J. Cayton, James and Robert Gay, R. J. Waterwright and others.

Charles S. Edwards, New Commander, Announces Appointments At Dinner Session Friday Night In School Lunchroom

The Farmville American Legion post Friday night installed new officers. Agreed not to meet in July and August but made plans to re-open their monthly meetings the first Friday night in September with a barbecue supper at the swimming pool.

Presiding over the meeting was Leslie P. Yelverton, outgoing commander, who expressed his appreciation for the fine cooperation given him during the year and commended the members to keep the post's treasury as full as possible so a suitable building could be erected within the near future. The financial report showed that the post now has more than $9,000 as a surplus. Singled out for special mention was Charles Esberry, whose work as adjutant has been outstanding.

The post went on record as expressing its regret at the untimely death of Jesse Gay, Farmville soldier who was killed two weeks ago in an air crash in the Orient. It was brought to the attention of the post that the young man had expressed a desire to affiliate with the post and it was the opinion of his acquaintances that he would have done so had he had the opportunity.

Also discussed were plans for sending Manly Wooten and Aaron Tyson to Boys' State. The two youths are in Chapel Hill this week receiving instruction in governmental studies.

Both Commander Yelverton and Charles S. Edwards, who later in the evening was installed as commander, expressed intentions to attend the Legion convention at Carolina Beach next week. The post voted to recognize as delegates all who attended from Farmville.

Charles F. Baucum presided over installation services and inducted Commander Edwards and the following new officers: Harly Johnson, first vice-commander; C. L. Beamon, second vice-commander; J. H. Bynum, third vice-commander.

Commander Edwards pledged his efforts to make the year a successful one and announced the following appointments:

Executive committee—L. P. Yelverton, C. L. Beamon, Dr. Paul E. Jones, Dr. W. M. Willis, R. O. Lang, Jr.

Program committee—Rev. Z. B. T. Cox, chairman; Lloyd Lucas and Eli Joyner, Jr.

Food committee—A. F. Joyner, chairman; Billy Smith and Jalmer Bynum.
