

GROWERS URGED TO VOTE FOR ACREAGE ASSESSMENT AS MEANS OF WINNING ADDITIONAL SUPPORT IN WASHINGTON

Funds Will Be Used By Tobacco Associates To Bolster Exports

Every flue-cured tobacco grower in this section whether landlord, tenant or share-cropper—has been urged to vote in Saturday's referendum.

Farmville growers may cast their ballots at Carl Tyson's office on East Wilson street.

Depending on foreign markets for 40 cents out of every dollar they earn from their leaf crop, North Carolina flue-cured tobacco growers will go to the polls tomorrow (Saturday, July 12) to decide whether or not to assess themselves 10 cents an acre for the next three years to promote export sales.

The assessment referendum was authorized by the 1947 General Assembly, and farm leaders throughout the State are urging growers to make it their business to vote in this significantly important election.

At least a two-thirds majority of those voting must favor the assessment before the money can be collected annually for the years 1947, 1948, and 1949. It is estimated that the cost to the average farmer will be only 45 cents a year.

The money will be administered by Tobacco Associates, Inc., a non-profit organization made up of farmers and allied interests. Funds collected will be used to maintain, promote, and develop foreign markets for flue-cured tobacco.

Unless the export market can be held, North Carolina growers will produce far more tobacco than can be used in the United States. The resulting surplus would drive prices down, resulting in a serious disruption of the agricultural economy of the State.

"North Carolina growers have much at stake in the coming referendum," Dr. I. O. Schaub, director of the N. C. State College Agricultural Extension Service, said. "We produce annually more than two-thirds of the entire flue-cured crop. Of the $455,000,000 our leaf growers received last year, $182,000,000 came from export sales."

A large vote in the flue-cured tobacco referendum Saturday, July 12, "will show all tobacco interests that we really mean business in working out better living conditions for the farmers and their families," says J. H. Vaughn, Route 3, Elm City, chairman of the board of directors of Tobacco Associates, a non-profit organization formed to protect and expand exports of "The Golden Leaf."

The referendum will give all flue-cured growers in North and South Carolina a chance to vote on the question of assessing themselves 10 cents per acre to maintain and enlarge acreage. Last year American flue-cured tobacco bought by foreign countries meant a return of $200 per acre, or a total of about $1,000, to the average farmer.

"We have no doubt as to the outcome of the referendum," Vaughn says. "We only hope every flue-cured producer who possibly can will get out and vote."

Vaughn is a widely-known Nash county official and spends all the time he can spare from his 150-acre farm on the Tobacco Associates program. The organization has a broad program of education, information and public relations in connection with flue-cured exports. If two-thirds of those voting Saturday approve the assessment, the program will have an all-out, go-ahead signal.

JOE WHITFIELD

Funeral services for Joe Whitfield, 62, well known farmer of Farmville, who died at his home about 10 p. m. Tuesday night, July 1, after being in declining health for some time, were held from the Seven Springs Methodist Church Thursday at 4 p. m. The Rev. R. N. Pitts, assisted by the Rev. F. S. Clegg, Methodist minister of Farmville, conducted the rites. Interment was in the church cemetery. Mr. Whitfield was a native of Wayne county and a former merchant at Seven Springs. He lived in Wilson county before moving to Farmville a few years ago. He had been a member of the Seven Springs Methodist Church for many years and was a member of the Farmville Farmers' Market.

Tomorrow Is The IMPORTANT Day

J. H. Vaughn of Elm City, route 3, points to the day when flue-cured tobacco growers will decide whether they are willing to assess themselves 10 cents an acre to promote export markets. A big vote will convince national authorities that the growers are in earnest about meeting and solving the crisis.

Farmville School Faculty Completed; Classes Begin Aug. 27

John Lewis Johnson of Raleigh, Brother of ECTC Coach, Will Teach Social Science And Direct Athletic Program

Members of the Farmville school hung out the "no vacancy" sign several days ago as they completed the list of appointments to the local faculty by naming John Lewis Johnson of Raleigh to the position of athletic director and instructor of social sciences, and elected Miss Margaret Lewis of Belvoir as a member of the primary school faculty.

Miss Lewis was appointed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. Berkeley Rutledge of Ayden, whose resignation was tendered a few weeks ago. A graduate of E. C. T. C. in the class of 1947, Miss Lewis this summer is directing a recreation program for primary-age children at the Free Will Baptist Orphanage at Middlesex.

Mr. Johnson, whose brother, James Johnson, is coach at E. C. T. C., also attended the Greenville institution and graduated in 1946. Last year he taught at Central high school in Cumberland county and this summer is taking work on his master's degree in Greenville. Next summer, he will direct the town's recreation program, funds for which were recently voted by the Board of Commissioners as a supplement for the coach's salary.

Sam D. Bundy, superintendent of the school, hopes that Mr. Johnson's studies at E. C. T. C. will be completed in time for him to report here one week before the regular school term begins August 27.

E. P. Bass has already assumed his duties as instructor of vocational agriculture. Mr. Bass is a native of Wayne county, attended Rosewood high school and was graduated from State college in 1930. He taught for three years at Floyd's high school in South Carolina and then put in 12 years at Fair Bluff, in this State. For the past two years he has been serving as conservationist in Carteret county with the soil conservation service. His wife is the former Miss Hallie Covington of Raleigh. They have two sons, Eddie, 10, and Bobbie, 2. Local school officials are seeking to secure permission for the Bass family to move into the teacherage at Bell Arthur until living quarters are obtained here.

Due to decreased attendance in 1946-47, Farmville school will have one less teacher in 1947 than it had last year. The Fountain school, however, is given one teacher more than it was allotted in 1946-47. Teacher quotas are determined by the State Department of Education on the basis of average daily attendance during the school year.

Mrs. Archie Pridden of Portsmouth, Va., is spending the week with her mother, Mrs. Albert Jones.

Activities Of Local Church Organizations

Baptist

Mrs. LeRoy Rollins and Mrs. John B. Joyner spoke about the Chinese at the Woman's Missionary society which met Monday afternoon in the church assembly room. In giving an account of her trip to San Francisco's Chinatown, Mrs. Rollins described the Joss house in which is located a Chinese temple where the life history of Confucius is portrayed. There is evidence that superstition prevails in the temple. One of the Chinese oddities which the speaker viewed is the telephone exchange where the listings are by name only; no numbers are used.

The devotional taken from Psalm 96 was given by Mrs. Gordon Lee; Mrs. E. W. Holmes led the opening prayer. "Hark the Voice of Jesus Calling," the theme hymn, was sung. The president, Mrs. J. R. Shearin, extended a cordial welcome to a new member, Mrs. Walter Jones.

After the business session a social hour was held with Mrs. Dameron Fields, Miss Mamie Davis and Mrs. C. L. Beaman as hostesses. A fruit drink, cookies, crax and ritz were served.

A round table discussion about the Ridgecrest conference was led by the members who attended at the Y. W. A. meeting, Monday evening. Mrs. Herbert Moore was the devotional leader.

Mrs. Marvin Speight, hostess, served a frozen fruit salad and crackers to 12 members and a guest, Mrs. Beasley Bailey.

Using Psalm 19, Mrs. Floyd Rouse gave the devotional at the Annie Perkins circle held in the Baptist church Tuesday evening. Mrs. Robert Joyner presided in the absence of the chairman, Miss Annie Perkins.

Mrs. R. LeRoy Rollins, who was presented by the program leader, Mrs. Joseph Batchelor, talked about Chinatown in San Francisco.

A sweet course was served by the hostesses, Mrs. J. H. Moore and Mrs. R. L. Manning, in the social period.

Christian

"Come Thou Almighty King" was used as the opening hymn at the Woman's Council which was presided over by Mrs. Ted Albritton who announced that the local council made the honor roll for the past year and who explained the chart showing the source of the missionary dollar and how it is divided.

The program was made up of the reading of a letter from Lois Anna Eli by Mrs. Jack Smith, and a talk on evangelism in Bible times by Mrs. Lee Corbett and another talk about unevangelized areas by Mrs. L. E. Turnage.

"Wells of Living Water" was the devotional theme presented by Mrs. L. E. Turnage and Mrs. Flave Darden.

Episcopal

The Episcopal auxiliary held its July meeting with Mrs. R. S. Scott Monday afternoon. Miss Helen Smith, president, read a scriptural reference dealing with lepers, which is the summer study for the group. Mrs. G. Alex Rouse reported that a box of clothing had been shipped overseas and she, Mrs. John D. Dixon and Mrs. B. C. Copenhaver were appointed to pack another box.

Miss Smith read a note from Mrs. C. S. Hetchkins and gave a report on the adult conference at Camp Leach which she recently attended.

The program chairman, Mrs. Jack Lewis, presented Mrs. W. Jesse Moye, who reviewed the book, "Who Walk Alone" by Perry Bagen, which deals with lepers. Donations for leper work were collected.

Mrs. W. T. Candler was welcomed as a new member. A short prayer closed the meeting.

The hostess passed a fruit drink, open-face olive sandwiches, pimento cheese sandwiches and assorted cookies in the social hour.

Commissioners Pick Joe Joyner For Tax Position

Board Comments Him For Fine Work As Register Of Deeds And Decides He Is Type Of Man For Important Tax Job

Joe D. Joyner of Farmville, who since September 1 has been serving as Register of Deeds for Pitt county, will relinquish the duties of that office July 15 in order that he might take over the job of county tax supervisor and collector.

Friends of Mr. Joyner throughout the county are pleased that the Board of Commissioners singled him out for the appointment. They are confident that he will fill the position with credit to himself and the county.

A veteran of four years' service in the Marine Corps, Mr. Joyner attended the University of North Carolina and went on active duty June 21, 1941. He was released in September, 1945, and appointed Register of Deeds one year later.

Succeeding Mr. Joyner as Register of Deeds will be Charles P. Gaskins of Greenville, son of the late Claude Gaskins, who served for several years in the office to which his son has been appointed.

The following excerpt was taken from the minutes of the board's meeting Monday:

"Negotiations having been held with Mr. J. D. Joyner, in which mention having been made of the fine work done by Mr. Joyner as Register of Deeds, and in which the Board felt the need of the type services in the Tax Department of Pitt County such as Mr. Joyner has rendered as Register of Deeds, Mr. Joyner was offered the position as Tax Supervisor and Collector of Pitt County, and after due consideration decided to accept the same and offered his resignation as Register of Deeds effective July 15, 1947, so that he might enter into his new duties. The Board specifically commended the work done by Mr. Joyner and feels very fortunate in securing his services in the Tax Department."

"Motion was therefore made by G. H. Pittman, and seconded by J. Vance Perkins, that J. D. Joyner be appointed Tax Supervisor and Collector of Pitt County. The motion was carried unanimously."

At The Kiwanis Club

Rev. C. W. Riggs, pastor of the Goldsboro Christian Church, called on the people of America to think "before it is too late" as he told the Farmville Kiwanis club Monday night that this is an age of optimism, opportunity and oppression. The guest of Ted Albritton, Rev. Riggs declared that the conditions of Germany, Japan and Spain is a result of not thinking on the part of the people. He prefaced his address with the statement that he had a deep respect for the spirit of such civic clubs as Kiwanis, evidenced by the fact that he had a perfect attendance record for 15 years. In Rotary, the pastor's talk showed that he was well versed, had traveled widely and was deeply concerned over conditions which face America today.

Two visiting Kiwanians were present: Dr. John Barrett of Greenville and Roland Modlin of Washington. Ernest Petteway had as his guest a brother-in-law, Ralph Stone of San Bernardino, Calif. Bill Candler of the Farmville Auto Sales Co., Inc., was the guest of Larry Taylor, and E. P. Bass, new agriculture teacher, was the guest of Sam Bundy.

At The Rotary Club

LeRoy Rollins, program leader, described some of the cities he visited on his way to and from the Rotary International convention in Los Angeles and gave a brief report on the convention at the Rotary club meeting Tuesday evening.

Marvin Jones was awarded the attendance prize. Bill Harrison of Harrison of Baltimore, Md., was the guest of Marvin Jones and Dr. Paul E. Jones had as his guest his son-in-law, Lt. Col. Charles M. Duke.

Proposal to Limit Parking Placed Before Merchants

A proposal to impose one-hour parking limits on important streets was discussed Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce. The secretary, Sam D. Bundy, was instructed to conduct a poll of merchants to determine whether they were in favor of the proposal.

Since a town ordinance will be required to place such regulations into effect, representatives from the Chamber of Commerce will petition the State Department to increase the number of children's day camps.

PAYING ASSESSMENT ROLL APPROVED AND AMOUNTS LEVIED AGAINST PROPERTY

Farmville District Will Vote On Bond Issue For Schools

John B. Lewis, Town Attorney, Appears Before County Commissioners And Requests Election Be Called

A request that Farmville school district be allowed to hold a special election this fall on the issuance of $300,000 in bonds for educational purposes was approved Monday by the Pitt Board of Commissioners after John B. Lewis, chairman of the local school board, appeared before the executives and explained circumstances under which the petition for the vote was made. It was requested that the election be held Saturday, October 18, the same date that voters in the district will pass on a proposal to levy a 15-cent tax for the school.

Funds are badly needed for the construction of a new colored school here and a major part of the $300,000 issue has been earmarked for the project. Improvements are also needed for the white school.

Chairman Lewis told the board that, in his opinion, an issue of the size requested could be financed by the district without increasing the tax rate by having the bonds become due beginning in 1951, by which time the district will have cleared itself of other indebtedness.

Town Board Increases Pay For All Workers Effective July 16

A flat 10 per cent for all workers of the town employed on weekly or monthly basis was granted by the Board of Commissioners Monday night. The increases become effective July 16.

The increase will cost the town about $3,000. To have granted the increase for the entire 12 months would have cost $3,000.

The increases were provided for in the tentative budget which called for a tax rate of $1.35. The budget has not yet been approved.

Farm Training For Veterans Planned By Agriculture Teacher

A veterans' farm training program is being planned for Farmville high school but it will be January 1 before the program can actually get underway, according to an announcement by E. P. Bass, teacher of vocational agriculture.

This will be the same type of program that is now being carried on at other schools and is one phase of the "GI" training program supported by the Veterans Administration in cooperation with the State Department of Vocational Education. Mr. Bass added:

Several inquiries have been received about the work and anyone interested in obtaining more information should get in touch with Mr. Bass at his office in the Agricultural Building, Farmville Office hours at present are 8:30 to 1:30 every Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

BLACK SHANK REPORTED ON SEVEN GREENE FARMS

Black shank disease of tobacco has been found on seven farms in Onmonds, Hookerton, and Jason townships in Greene county. This is the first year that the destructive disease has been found in Jason and Hookerton townships.

Farmers with black shank infection on their farms are W. E. Stroud, G. F. Bright, Snow Hill, route 2; I. G. Curraway; Fred C. Darden, Will Bowen, Ayden, route 1; A. C. Edwards, Hookerton; John L. Phelps, La Grange, route 2.

Costs Per Foot Vary From $1.41 Between Waverly And Pitt Streets On Grimmerburg. To $2.37 Between George And Pitt On Pine

Prepared by Engineers Thomas L. and Henry W. Rivers, the assessment roll, which shows the amounts to be levied against property abutting streets recently paved, was approved Tuesday night by Farmville's Commissioners who then went behind closed doors, into executive session, to discuss the budget for the new fiscal year.

Only persons to appear before the board—and he did not have a complaint—was Sam Underwood of Greenville, county attorney, who represented the Board of Education. Mr. Underwood told the town board that he was satisfied that the amount levied against the school property was correct.

Town Clerk Cleveland M. Paylor is this week mailing to property owners a statement showing the amounts levied against each tract. New due, these assessments will be payable at par until August 27, after which date interest will be charged at the rate of six per cent. It has been estimated that most of the property owners will avoid paying interest and will settle with the town before the interest begins. Property owners, if they desire, pay the principal and interest in not less than five—not more than 10 annual installments which will become due each October 1, the date taxes become payable.

The costs of the improvement program vary in proportion to the amount of work required for each block. Property owners getting off lightest are those who live on Grimmerburg street between Waverly and Pitt streets, where the cost per foot is $1.8109. Those most heavily hit will be the owners of property on Pine street, between George and Barrett, where the cost per foot has been computed as $2.471946. In some instances, figures were carried to seven decimal places in arriving at the correct amount to be charged against property owners.
