CHRISTMAS DANCE TO BE GALA EVENT

The annual Christmas dance for the younger social set sponsored by the Major Benjamin May chapter, D. A. R., will be held at the chapterhouse Friday evening, December 26, from 9 to 11 o'clock.

Jimmy Marshall and his Carolinas from the University of North Carolina have been engaged to furnish the music, and invitations are being extended by those in charge.

INVITATIONS ISSUED

Invitations reading as follows have been received by friends here: "Mr. and Mrs. Leon Daniel Glover request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Betsy Jane, to Mr. Joseph Franklin Gregory, on Tuesday, the twenty-third of December, at five o'clock in the afternoon, First Methodist Church, Wilson, North Carolina." Enclosed cards read: "Reception immediately following the ceremony at home."

FARMVILLE WINS TWO

Farmville won a doubleheader from South Edgecombe last night. Faye Corbett led the girls to a 32-23 victory by scoring 16 points for top honors. Sydney Caraway led the boys with 9 points to wallopp the South Edgecombe lads, 37-17.

The girls have won five games this year without a loss and the boys have won and lost two.

Next game is scheduled in Farmville on Tuesday, December 30, with Grimesland.

BOOK AND BRIDGE CLUB

Mr. Walter E. Jones entertained the Book and Bridge club and additional tables Friday afternoon in her home which was decorated with greenery, candles, tree balls, Christmas scenes and a lighted tree.

Chicken salad sandwiches, ham biscuits, Mrs. Nest cookies, cheese straws, coconut balls and coffee were served upon arrival of the guests. Later in the afternoon coca colas were passed.

Mrs. R. T. Monk scored high for guests and Mrs. R. T. Williams, for club members. The slam prize, handkerchiefs, was awarded Mrs. W. Alex Allen. Mrs. W. B. Burke received the same prize, a couple of chocolate mints. High scores at each table were given silver pine trees which were used as centerpieces on the tables.

BROWN-LITTLE VOWS SPOKEN IN WINTERVILLE

Miss Nannie Lou Little became the bride of Adrian Errol Brown, Jr., in a ceremony solemnized at five o'clock Friday afternoon in the Reddy Branch Church in Winterville. Rev. Adrian E. Brown, Methodist minister of Bridgeton and father of the groom, officiated.

White gladioli, fern and floor candelabra formed a setting for the wedding.

Mrs. Roy Cox, pianist, played "Largo," the traditional wedding marches and during the ceremony "To a Wild Rose" by MacDowell was used. Miss Nell Taylor Beaman of Farmville sang "At Dawning" by Cadman, "The Sweetest Story" and Lutkin's Benediction.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father wore a mist pink suit with winter white accessories and carried an orchid on her prayer book. Miss Ruth Little, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and was attired in a blue suit with which she wore a corsage of white carnations and a wine hat.

Ushers were James and Charles Little, brothers of the bride and Joe and Jimmy Brown, the groom's brothers. Wiley Brown, another brother of the groom, was best man.

Mrs. Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Francis Little of Winterville, is a graduate of Winterville high school and E. C. T. C. She was a member of the Erwin school faculty last year and at present is commercial teacher in Farmville high school.

Mr. Brown, son of Rev. and Mrs. Adrian E. Brown of Bridgeton, is attending E. C. T. C.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for a trip to unannounced points.

Miss Ruth Little and Mrs. Charles F. Little, Jr., entertained at a cake cutting Thursday evening for the wedding party.

Attending the wedding from Farmville were Mrs. Carl L. Beaman, Miss Nell Beaman, Carl Beaman, Jr., Miss Ruth Speir, Miss Margaret Lewis and Miss Margaret Bynum.

WOMAN'S CLUB

George Frederick Handel, composer of the "Messiah" acclaimed as one of the greatest pieces of music ever written, was the subject of a talk by Mrs. W. A. Pollard, Jr., before the Woman's club Friday afternoon.

After giving a resume of this composition, she introduced Miss Ruth Moore who sang "Come Unto Me," which is taken from the oratorio. Records in keeping with the theme were played.

A nominating committee composed of Mrs. W. Jesse Moye, Mrs. A. B. Moore and Mrs. J. M. Hobgood was appointed by the president, Miss Tabitha DeVisconti.

After the repeating of the collect and singing carols, the group was served Russian tea and assorted cookies by the hostesses, Mrs. B. L. Lang and Mrs. Edison Moore. Mrs. Hobgood's home where the meeting was held was made more attractive by the use of Christmas greens and different shaped candles.

Special guests were Mrs. Pollard, Miss Moore, Mrs. F. M. Davis, Sr., and Miss Elizabeth Davis.

MOTHER-DAUGHTER SUPPER GIVEN BY GIRL SCOUTS

As a courtesy to their mothers, Girl Scouts of Troop 2 entertained at a Mother-Daughter supper Friday evening in the high school lunchroom.

The girls prepared the supper which consisted of ham, candied potatoes, peas, hot rolls and pineapple cake topped with cream and cherries.

Mrs. R. T. Williams, troop leader, supervised the serving of the meal with the assistance of Nancy Lu Moore and Julia Satterthwaite.

Barbara Greene was toastmistress and Carolyn Roebuck asked the blessing. Mrs. J. B. Joyner responded to the address of welcome which was given by Jean Moore. The singing of a Christmas carol opened the program.

After dinner, bingo was played with small prizes placed under the lighted tree being awarded the winners. Santa Claus and candles further carried out the Christmas theme.

The dining tables placed to form a C were centered with sugar plum trees. Handmade snowmen were placed cards. Ivy interspersed with candles was used down the middle of the tables.

Each Scout received stars denoting the number of years she has been in Scouting to be sewed on the uniform.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB

Tuesday's meeting of the Junior Woman's club was marked by the recounting of the story of Henry Van Dyke's "The Other Wise Man" by Mrs. Cherry Easley, who has been guest speaker at this club for the past few Christmas meetings. She was introduced by Mrs. Sam Lewis, program leader.

The treasurer announced that $6.50 had been sent to the Greek relief fund.

Stuffed angel food cake, salted nuts and hot coffee were served by the hostess, Mrs. James H. Darden, Jr., who used greenery and candles in carrying out the Christmas motif.

MRS. W. A. POLLARD, JR. HONORED AT BRIDGE PARTY

Complimenting Mrs. W. A. Pollard, Jr., recent bride, Mrs. Mabry E. Pollard was hostess to four tables of bridge and eight refreshment guests. Thursday afternoon. Greenery and red berries formed a setting for the tables which were spread with refreshment cloths and centered with red candles in silver holders. Cedes and berries tied with ribbon were placed around the candlesticks.

As guests arrived cakes laid in white with red and green decorations, leas molded in the shapes of Santas, trees and bells, salted nuts and green and white mints were served. During play coca colas were passed.

The dining table had an arrangement of poinsettias around a lighted candle flanked by smaller tapers as its centerpiece.

Mrs. Archie Speight made high score and received a gold bud vase. She also won the floating prize, a novelty bell. The low award, a set of plastic table mats, was presented to Mrs. Sam D. Bundy.

The honoree was remembered with a corsage and a handpainted ash tray.

Mrs. Kermit Lamm of Wilson was an out-of-town guest.

Mrs. Pollard was assisted in receiving and serving by her daughter, Ann, and her sister, Mrs. Gary Bergeron.

MAJOR MAY CHAPTER HAS CHRISTMAS MEET

Mrs. Vernessa S. Townsend and Mrs. Louise D. Harris were gracious hostesses at the December meeting of the Major Benjamin May Chapter, D. A. R., held Saturday afternoon in the chapter house, which had been given a festive atmosphere by the artistic use of huge Christmas tree ornaments and large red candles on the mantels and baskets of evergreens and scarlet berries.

A manger scene in miniature was used in connection with "Mary's Journey From Nazareth to Bethlehem," the program topic developed by Mrs. G. Alex Rouse. A children's vested choir, composed of Mary Frances Joyner, Theodora Albritton, Louisa and Frank Williams, Johnnie Dixon, Will Jones, Jr. and Jimmie Joyner, singing "O Little Town of Bethlehem and Silent Night" beneath a floor candelabra of glowing cathedral candles formed a living picture and was used as a preface to the tracing of Mary's journey.

Mrs. Z. B. T. Cox read the nativity story from St. Luke and O Come All Ye Faithful was sung in unison. Tying in the theme of love and universal peace was a poem, "World Harmony" by Grace Noll Crowell and the closing supplications.

Mrs. Henrietta M. Williamson, vice regent, presided over the business session, during which Mrs. J. O. Pollard reported receipt of two brocade markers for the chapter house door and one of the windows to memorialize the late Mrs. Louise Moye and parents of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Monk.

Mrs. Pollard also outlined plans for the Christmas dance, sponsored annually by the chapter for the younger social set and college group, to be held on December 26, and Mrs. Williamson appointed additional committees in this connection.

The hostesses were assisted by Miss Mary Ann Townsend in serving a marshmallow salad, sandwiches in Christmas tree motif, date bars, chocolate crispies, cheese biscuit and coffee.

Special guests were Mrs. W. J. and Mrs. B. O. Turnage, Mrs. R. H. Knott, Mrs. J. I. Morgan, Mrs. S. E. Ewell, Mrs. Dunbar Lamar, Mrs. J. T. Thorne, Mrs. J. Frank Harper, Mrs. W. A. Pollard, Jr., and Mrs. Z. B. T. Cox and Mrs. B. S. Smith.

SEVEN PINES CLUB HAS PARTY

The Seven Pines Home Demonstration club held its annual Christmas party in the form of a buffet luncheon on Tuesday, December 16, at 12:30 at the home of Mrs. Ichabod Allen. The hostesses were the new and old officers, Mrs. Allen, Mrs. L. E. Garris, Mrs. Lyman Heath, Mrs. Clifton Ellis, Mrs. Roy Jones and Mrs. Jasper Morgan.

Mrs. Allen's home was beautifully decorated with holly, cedar, and red and green candles in apple holders.

After the luncheon was served, beautifully wrapped home made gifts were given to everyone after which Christmas carols were sung.

There were 22 members and 2 guests, Miss Lowery and Mrs. Edward Johnson, present.
