Bishop Wright Visits Local Episcopal Church

ookes Fryer Presented In Organ Dedication Recital

The impressive confirmation gan dedication, which marked annual visit of the Rt. Rev. Tho H. Wright, D. D., to Em church Sunday afternoon was well attended, and Brookes Fryer of Tar oro and Norfolk, Va., a gifted young organist and composer, who was presented by the organ committee in a recital, immediately following, won praise from the appreciative congregation for his artistic interpretation and performance of technically diffi-

The recital program was designed by Mr. Fryer to develop the maximum effectiveness of registration and versatility of the Hammond organ, which was installed in the church in September of last year by families of church members both as a memorial to those "gone before" and as a means of honoring living members who are seving in varied capacities at present. These include:

Edward Clyde Beaman, senior war-den; Mrs. Vivian Parker Harris, active in the Woman's auxiliary and 17 Girls Promoted To Second Class; Succumbed To Heart Attack Followoriginator of an organ fund in 1927; Mrs. Lillie Askew Horton, faithful in attendance and active in Woman's iliary and present U.T.
