Grader On Local Tobacco Market Describes Travels In Palestine

Sunday morning at the Presbyterian Sunday School, Maurice Hodge of Corbin, Ky., discussed his travels in Palestine during the war. Mr. Hodge is a government tobacco grader on the Farmville market this year. He was introduced by C. F. Baucum.

Opening the talk, Mr. Hodge remarked that he would not talk about the political situation in the Holy Land because few people know much about national politics and "I will not say much about the modern side."

"The Jews have modernized to a great degree," he added, giving as some examples the irrigation projects in the Jordan valley where fruit as fine as any in the world is raised, and the community farms which are examples to the rest of the world.

The mountains of Judea in many sections have not changed much since Christ was there. The same camel caravans go out across the desert at night. Intense heat in the daytime prevents day-time travel. Most of the people are still shepherds and farmers. A plow used 5,000 years ago was found in a tomb in Egypt and is identical to those still used in the cultivation of the soil.

Very little is known about the country from the time Titus destroyed Jerusalem, in 70 A. D., until Constantine became emperor. As a Christian, Constantine recognized the religious significance of the country and the Catholic church has built shrines at each of the important places. One of these shrines is the Church of the Nativity, Bethlehem.

Mr. Hodge pointed out that water is very scarce in Palestine and that towns have been established close to sources of water.

Bethlehem, the home of David, stands high on a ridge in the mountainous section. Going down the sides toward the valley are terraces which are built like pockets and have caught dirt for a thousand to two thousand years. Figs and olive groves are cultivated. In the fall grain is planted and shepherds graze their flocks in the winter.

A farm of four acres is considered quite a plantation and a spot of ground as large as average living room is considered a large field.

Until he visited Palestine, the speaker stated that he had always thought of the wilderness of Judea as being a tangle of growth. Instead it is a barren, rocky and mountainous section.

In Bethlehem, on the spot where Christ was born (or is believed to have been born), the Catholics constructed the Church of the Nativity in 380 A. D. When the Persians overran the country, they destroyed all the churches except this one. The reason for its being left was that on the wall was a mosaic picture of the three wise men, in garments that looked much like the garb of the Persians. The invaders decided that the wise men must be people of their nation and left the building intact. Walls of the church are built of solid rock and are four or five feet thick. Windows are now covered, the door is boarded up except for a space large enough for a person to crawl through and boards may be lifted to view the mosaic patterns on the floor. When the Crusaders came, they built a marble manger to replace the wooden one which they knew would eventually rot.

Jerusalem, the center of Christ's work, is the only modern inland city in Palestine. Still walled in, the old city was destroyed but has been rebuilt. Seven gates are in use. One, the gate facing the Garden of Gethsemane, has been closed for years. Called the Golden Gate, it is believed it will be opened when Christ returns.

Shops are about the size of an American pantry and many have been in the same family for two thousand years. When the father dies, it is passed to the oldest son and then to his oldest son, and so on down the line. The little, narrow streets can be stepped across. Two people can walk down them or a donkey may travel them. Via Dolozza, where Christ carried the cross, is a gloomy place, from which the sun is almost wholly excluded. On the journey down this street, Christ stopped seven times to rest and at each of these stopping points the Catholics have constructed churches known as the Seven Stations of the Cross. For hundreds of years the Catholics were the only group of which there are records in Palestine.

The Pool of Bethesda, which is connected with the lame man in the Bible, is the most peculiar pool in the world. It is never dry, but it does not run all the time. The water seeps down to a low ebb and then rushes in and fills up again. It must have been at time of the rushing in, that those who wished to be healed tried to get in.

(To be concluded next week)

Mayor Jim Joyner Brings Farmville Outstanding Honor

Mayor J. W. Joyner brought a signal honor to Farmville early this week when he was elected vice president of the North Carolina League of Municipalities. The election was made at the annual meeting of the league in Charlotte.

Mayors of two other outstanding North Carolina cities were also elected vice presidents. They are Mayor H. H. Baxter of Charlotte and Mayor George W. Lentz of Winston-Salem. Mayor and Mrs. Joyner and Town Clerk and Mrs. Cleveland Paylor attended the convention from Farmville.

Pack-A-Towel

Action project for World Community Day, November 5, is Pack-A-Towel for a teen-ager in displaced persons camps in Europe and in refugee camps in Asia.

It is the earnest hope of the committee planning the local observance that quite a number of towels will be shipped from Farmville community.

Civic and patriotic organizations, church groups and social clubs are asked to participate. Won't you contact members of your club or group and make plans to send one of these gifts to a boy or girl?

No group in Asia or Europe has suffered more—physically or spiritually—than the young people. Send a bright, colorful, pretty outfit to pep up their spirits.

What to do: Start with a pretty bath towel 22 inches wide. On one end fold new or good-as-new garments—as complete an outfit as you can. Include bedroom slippers (no hard-soled shoes), and items such as soap, comb, tooth brush, handkerchiefs, neckties, writing materials, socks, stockings, scarves packed into a pocketbook or pouch (nothing that will break or spill). In girl's packages include pretty new material for dress (or yarn) and sewing kit. In boy's packages send some small handy tools. Include a friendly note with sender's name and address. Flip one end of towel over the pile. Pin edges together with two dozen assorted safety pins.

Bring your bundle for dedication on World Community Day. Plans for the dedication are underway and announcement will be made in the Enterprise next week.

WALSTONBURG CLUB TO HEAR MRS. TUCKER

Mrs. J. Brooks Tucker of Grimesland, who last September was one of the four representatives of the North Carolina Federation of Home Demonstration clubs to the meeting in Amsterdam of the Associated Country Women of the World, will be guest speaker at the Walstonburg Woman's club Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. I. J. Rouse will be hostess to the meeting which begins at 8:30 o'clock. The speaker will be introduced by Mrs. Nell Butler of Snow Hill, former home agent in Greene county.

Mrs. Tucker has held membership for 20 years in one of the Pitt county Home Demonstration clubs and at present is a member of the Red Banks club. She has served as an officer of her club many times, is a past president of the Pitt County Federation of Home Demonstration clubs and for two years was president of the North Carolina Federation of Home Demonstration clubs. For three years she was international treasurer of the Associated Country Women of the World, has been on the U. S. Liaison committee of this organization for eight years and last year was chairman of the Study Folder group for the committee.

Nerve C. Gupton, 95, father of Mrs. J. R. Shearin, died at the home of a daughter near Wood Friday morning following several months of declining health.

Funeral services were held at the Wood Baptist church Saturday afternoon, where the body lay in state an hour before the rites. Rev. Aaron Conn of Wake Forest officiated, assisted by Rev. E. W. Holmes, Baptist minister of Farmville. Burial was made in the church cemetery.

Surviving are nine children, Cleveland of Wood, J. Harvey of Louisburg, Route 1, Thurmond W. of Glendon, Mrs. G. D. Hedgepeth of Nashville, Mrs. W. E. Harris of Youngsville, Mrs. S. T. Leonard of Wood, with whom he made his home, Mrs. R. E. Turner of Louisburg, Route 4, Mrs. Shearin, a number of grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren.

Four Picked As Candidates For Queen Of Frolic

Ann Horton, Connie Rollins, Lela Mae Moseley and Marguerite Thomas Nominated; Committee Members Are Named

Voting for the queen of the Halloween frolic, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association, has begun in earnest and campaign managers are busily persuading voters their candidate is best. Elected by popular vote Monday morning were the following local high school students who will represent their classes: Senior, Ann Horton of Fountain; junior, Connie Rollins; sophomore, Marguerite Thomas; freshman, Lela Mae Moseley of Fountain.

Campaign managers, whose job it will be to drum up votes for the choice of each class, are: Bob Morgan and Harold Maenhout, senior; Zeb Whitehurst and Billy Russell, junior; Robert Pollard and Ann Bynum, sophomore; Carolyn Roebuck and Jean Cayton, freshman.

The queen will be crowned in a special ceremony and will be presented a gift. Mrs. Frank Allen, chairman of the committee in charge of the pick-the-queen contest, explained her plans to the high school students and asked that each class nominate a candidate. Boxes, divided into four parts with a picture of each candidate on top, have been placed at Belk-Tyler's, the Paramount theater, Wheelers Drug company, City Drug company, at firms in Fountain, and in the high school classrooms. This is one election in which money talks, and votes will be tabulated on the amount of cash deposited for each girl. Votes are one cent a piece.

Voting will close October 29 at noon. Committee chairmen have announced their committee members for the frolic on Friday night of next week at the gymnasium. They are: Booths and entertainment, Mrs. Walter Jones with Mrs. Ted Albrinton in charge of horse racing; Mrs. L. P. Thomas, Mrs. J. E. Bynum and Mrs. J. M. Mewborn, silhouettes; Mrs. Howard Moyer, bingo; Mrs. W. H. Moore, Jr., bean bag; Frank Allen, weight guessing; Mrs. George Moore, Jr., pickup boats; Lewis Allen, penny pitch; Mrs. Elbert Holmes, darts game; Mrs. R. T. Williams, moving pictures; Miss Margaret Lewis, novelties. The fortune teller presides that his name be withheld from the public, list his crystal ball and tea leaves divulge some deep-hidden fact that should have remained a secret.

Mrs. M. W. Rollins, chairman of the refreshment committee, will be aided by Mrs. C. C. Simpson and the Senior Girl Scout troop. On the fish pond and car rides committee with Mrs. Frank Williams are Pratt Gaskins, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Jones and Frank Williams. Assisting Mrs. Harry Harper with solicitations are Mrs. Charles E. Fitzgerald and Mrs. W. A. Allen.

Mrs. R. T. Williams, Mrs. John M. Mewborn and Mrs. Lynn Eason are on the queen committee with Mrs. Allen. Miss Alma Whitley and Newton Maenhout have charge of the music for the coronation. Mrs. Jack Lewis will have charge of the grab bags.

FARMVILLE SAILOR SERVES ABOARD LIGHT CRUISER

Asa Lafayette Dail, radarman, second class, USN, of Farmville joined recently with the citizenry of Nice, France, in celebrating the fourth anniversary of the liberation of that famed Riviera resort city by the American Army. A detachment of sailors and marines paraded with French troops during the celebration.

Dail is serving aboard the light cruiser, the USS Farga, now cruising in the Mediterranean Sea as a part of the Sixth Task Fleet of Admiral Richard L. Conolly's Eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean Forces.

Mediterranean duty offers opportunities to visit many of the southern countries of Europe and northern parts of Africa.

Interesting News Items From Ballard's

At the October meeting of the Ballards Home Demonstration club, the members decided that if the club house is to be completed they would have to resume work. Accordingly, on Monday, Oct. 18, men and women met at the club house and while the men worked on the house the women were going to cook a Brunswick stew and serve for lunch. In this way, the ladies hoped to get the building finished.

Mrs. J. R. Gowan was hostess. Another talk in the series on "The Necessities of Everyday Living" was made by Mrs. James Moore, who spoke about courtesies to remember in the automobile. Mrs. Howard Moyer gave some very useful suggestions on gardening and a poultry report was given by Mrs. C. L. Jones.

One book review, "Seventy Miles From a Sermon," was given by Mrs. E. M. Tyson.

Mrs. A. J. Garris presided over the business meeting and at this time a report of the nominating committee was given by Mrs. L. E. Turnage.

New officers for 1949 will be: Mrs. Nichols, president; Mrs. J. D. Jones, vice president; Mrs. James Moore, secretary; and Mrs. L. R. Jones, treasurer.

A helpful and interesting demonstration on landscaping the home was given by Miss Lowery, assistant home agent.

A short recreation period was conducted by Miss Lowery and Mrs. J. R. Jones. It was enjoyed by all present. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Howard Moyer, served a frozen salad on lettuce, cheese ritz, pickles and hot tea.

On Saturday evening, Mrs. G. T. Tyson and Miss Louise Tyson were hostess at a surprise birthday party in honor of a birthday party of the 17th birthday.

After the guests arrived, Misses Louise Tyson and Virginia Crawford led in playing several interesting games and then several contests were enjoyed by all present. The music for the occasion was furnished by a record player.

After the games and contests, the guests were invited to a lovely appointed table centered by a large birthday cake and were served cake and punch by Miss Letha Tyson and Broynie Tripp.

Durward received a lot of useful and handsome gifts.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Nichols of Charlotte spent the week end at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sugg and little son, William, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Moses Tyson.

Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Baker and son, Bobby, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Baker of the Cobb Dale section Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Nichols and Mrs. Ike Joyner were Raleigh visitors Sunday.

ORGAN RECITAL

Truman L. Newberry will present an organ recital at the Christian church Sunday evening at 7:30. Mr. Newberry is connected with the Stephenson Music company, Raleigh.

At The Rotary Club

George W. Davis told the Rotary club Tuesday night that the responsibility for youth is in their hands. He named several things such as helping youth get a system for their work and play, inviting them to Sunday school and assisting them in getting an education as some projects the members might carry out. The basis for his talk was the words of Moses, "what is that in thine hand?"

Levi Walston stated that Elbert Holmes had been appointed chairman of the associate memberships for the Farm Bureau and that Farmville's quota for the associate memberships is $1,000.

Elbert Moyer was welcomed as a new member. J. D. Joyner won the attendance prize. Robert Rollins was the guest of his father, R. LeRoy Rollins.

Farmville Keeps Winning Ways With Another Victory

Farmville high school Red Devils scored their third victory of the season Friday afternoon by defeating South Edgecombe, 25-0.

Both teams were held scoreless in the first quarter of the game. Farmville had three scoring chances but muffed them all by fumbles.

The scoring ice was broken in the second quarter when a 46-yard end run by Wilbur Bennett advanced the ball to the South Edgecombe four-yard line, and Ernest Morgan plunged across for the tally.

Farmville scored again when Carl King received a pass from Wilbur Bennett and lateraled to Frank Dupree who scampered 40 yards for a touchdown. The half-time score was 12-0.

In the third quarter Clarence Joyner broke into the clear on an off tackle play and scooted 45 yards for the third touchdown.

Wilbur Bennett intercepted a pass and raced 70 yards down the sideline to score the final tally. A pass from Bennett to Carl King added the extra point.

South Edgecombe threatened the Farmville goal line on a few occasions but the stout Farmville line threw back each threat.

Leaders in this improved defensive play were George Wooten, Henry Tyson, James Fountain, Harry Albrinton, Bobby Fulford, Joe Smith, Jack Turnage and Albert Cannon.

In the backfield the hard running of Frank Dupree was the highlight. Claude Tyson also ran hard and well until an injury forced him out of action. Wilbur Bennett did a commendable job of passing and running.

Farmville plays Wendell this afternoon (Friday) at 3 o'clock in Wendell.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB TO PACK TOWELS

Two towels for World Community day observance, November 5, will be packed at the next Junior Woman's club meeting, it was decided Tuesday afternoon after Mrs. W. C. Garner outlined the project. Mrs. J. M. Gibbs and Mrs. Carroll Oglesby were appointed to gather materials for the project.

Mrs. C. H. Outland announced that yearbooks will be available soon and Mrs. W. C. Hathaway reported on Girl Scout activities and presented a check for $125, proceeds of the spaghetti supper sponsored by Troop 1, to the club to apply on the Scout hut. It was reported that $178 was made on the rummage sale.

The club also made a gift of $5 to the Leonard Wood memorial in New York to be used for leprosy.

The program leader, Mrs. Gibbs, presented the guest speaker, Mrs. J. M. Carraway, who spoke on mental hygiene in the home.

Following the repeating of the collect in unison, Mrs. R. D. Harris, who entertained the club and a guest, Miss Agnes Quinerly, served orange fruit jello, topped with whipped cream and nuts, and devil's food cup cakes iced in orange. Her home was decorated with roses and white chrysanthemums.

KIWANIS EXPOSITION OPENS TONIGHT IN WAREHOUSE

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the Farmville Post of the Traveler's Protective Association and the Association are sponsoring Child's Accident Prevention Week here, and due to the program sponsored by the Association for the prevention of accidents and the services rendered throughout the nation, everyone should be grateful and recognize the efforts of this organization for the wonderful achievements; and

WHEREAS, it is fitting that our citizens lend a helping hand to the aims and activities of this organization;

THEREFORE, I, J. W. Joyner, Mayor of Farmville, North Carolina, hereby proclaim the week of October 24-30, 1948, as Child's Accident Prevention Week, and call upon all citizens of Farmville and community to take part and help to make this program a success through the many channels open to them.

Herewith I have set my hand and seal, this the 20th day of October, 1948.

J. W. JOYNER, Mayor.

American Legion Fair Will Be Held In Greenville Next Week

Next Monday, October 25, will mark the opening of the 13th annual Pitt County Fair to be held in Greenville, to run throughout the week, closing Saturday night, October 30.

A premium list offering prizes in excess of $4,000 has been distributed and entries from individuals and group exhibitors to date have far exceeded those of any previous year.

Entries will continue to be accepted at the fair grounds up to and including Tuesday morning, insofar as space permits. Cash premiums and ribbons will be awarded to winners in the more than 100 classifications.

Other exhibits will include horticultural products, home baked goods, house furnishings, pantry products, plants, flowers and fine arts. Group exhibitors to display their work will be the home demonstration clubs, 4-H clubs, vocational and agriculture groups.

One of the features of the week will be the Wednesday Junior Pured Swine Show in which 30 or more members of the 4-H and farm clubs will exhibit their entries for prizes to the amount of $300.

In addition to cash prizes in the many classes for hogs, Grand Champion and Reserve Champion ribbons will be awarded.

To complete a full program for fair visitors, the largest display of fireworks ever seen in the county has been arranged, and these displays will be presented nightly, beginning Monday. The amusement midway attractions will be furnished by the John Marks Shows, and their complement of shows and riding devices will total 25 or more.

Wednesday will be Children's day, at which time all youngsters of school age will be admitted free to the fair grounds between the hours of noon and 6 p. m.

TPA Plans Accident Prevention Week

Farmville Post TT of the Travelers Protective Association is sponsoring Child's Accident Prevention Week in the Farmville area, Oct. 24-30, and is calling upon citizens of the community to do everything in their power to stamp out accidents.

Mayor J. W. Joyner has issued a proclamation to the effect that next week will be observed especially for the purpose of preventing accidents. 20,000 American boys and girls are killed annually in bicycle accidents alone.

Those sponsoring the campaign are asking the cooperation of all automobile drivers and others to curb the high accident rate.

At The Kiwanis Club

At the Kiwanis meeting Monday night, Maurice Hodge told about his travels in Palestine. It was practically the same talk made Sunday at the Presbyterian church and which is given in detail elsewhere in this issue of The Enterprise.

Mr. Hodge was the guest of Carol Modlin. The talk was interesting and keenly enjoyed.

Rev. Cox had as his guest his father-in-law, M. P. Chandler of West Point, Va., and Ed Nash Warren was the guest of Henry Johnson.

John Parker reported on the district convention in Asheville, displayed an achievement plaque won by the club as the most outstanding of its size in the district.

Frank Allen exhibited some of the souvenirs presented at the convention, held in Asheville.

Everything is in readiness for the Kiwanis Exposition which opens tonight (Friday) in Monk's Warehouse No. 1 on West Wilson street for a two-night stand.

John Council Parker, chairman of the committee in charge of the annual festival, has left nothing undone to provide entertainment and fun for the event.

Grand prizes will be awarded both nights. A special ruling has been obtained from the Attorney General on the plan the Kiwanians will follow in giving away the prizes and everything is strictly legal.

The event is held each fall by the club as a means of swelling its scholarship fund, from which loans are made to worthy students who need financial assistance in order to continue their education.

Nothing but home-talent is used. These are no "gyp" joints, everything is on the up and up. Henry Johnson promises that real, live onions and genuine mustard will be used on the hot dogs he dispenses, and operators of the bingo stand promise that every player has an equal chance.

The club, in past years, has enjoyed unusual success with its exhibitions and anticipates another successful event.

Known heretofore as the carnival, the event was moved indoors this year and the name changed to exposition.

Activities Of Local Church Organizations

Baptist
With Mrs. H. C. Outland presiding, the Truett circle Monday afternoon planned entertainment for the Royal Ambassadors, took an offering and heard that the mission study class would be conducted November 2 by a worker from the Baptist Student center in Greenville.

Matthew 7:24-27 was read by Mrs. Manly Liles who led prayer and told the story of "Four Chocolate Bars," which deals with the conversion of a German home into an orphanage. "Partners in the Advance Kingdom" was the topic of a talk by Mrs. Outland.

After prayer, the hostess, Mrs. Gordon Lee, served heavenly hash, nuts and coffee.

The Mary Lee Ernest circle met Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. B. Joyner. Mrs. Henry Johnson presided in the absence of the chairman, Miss Mammie Davis.

The devotional was given by Mrs. J. C. Parker and the program, "Know Your Yearbook," was reviewed by Mrs. W. J. Rasberry, Mrs. J. C. Parker, Mrs. Ben Lewis and Mrs. Johnson.

During the social period, a sweet course with salted nuts was enjoyed.

Methodist
Mrs. J. M. Carraway was program leader at Circle 5 Monday afternoon. After the business session was conducted by Mrs. J. Y. Monk, chairman, refreshments consisting of heavenly hash, salted nuts and coffee were served by the hostess, Mrs. George Moore, Jr.

Presbyterian
With a record attendance of 25 members and one visitor, the October meeting of the Presbyterian auxiliary was held in the home of Mrs. E. S. Coates Monday night. Mrs. L. T. Pierce, Bible study leader, read the scripture followed by prayer. Miss Frances Gray used the topic, "Home and Community Working Together," for the program.

It was announced that World Community Day, November 5, will be observed by the Council of Church Women with a moving picture at the Baptist church. No definite action was taken on a proposal to pack towels for displaced persons in Europe. Members accepted the invitation of the Methodist and Christian churches to meet together for the study of the home mission book, "On Our Doorstep."

Previously, arrangements had been made for Dr. Harold J. Dudley, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Wilson, to review the home mission work in the Presbyterian and Synod.

Presiding over the business session was the president, Mrs. M. E. Polard.

ARTHUR CHURCH TO HAVE HOMECOMING

The Bell Arthur Christian church will observe Homecoming day Sunday morning with a sermon by the pastor, Rev. L. B. Bennett, and a picnic on the grounds at the noon hour.

All former members and friends of the church are invited to attend.

Rev. Bennett, who leaves soon to assume charge of the Maclefield church, will be replaced by Mr. Hamlin, teacher at Atlantic Christian college, Wilson. He will conduct services on the second and fourth Sunday in each month.
