PTA Hallowe'en Frolic Successful; Nets Treasury $650

Marked by the largest attendance since similar events have been staged for the past eight years, the PTAsponsored Halowe'en frolic, over which Marguerite Thomas reigned as queen, was a financial success, according to Mrs. Frank Allen, general chairman, who reports that more than $650 was cleared, $270 of which was derived from the contest for queen.

Many of the booths, manned by members of the Parent-Teacher association; were forced to close early because their stocks of merchandise and prizes were exhausted.

Miss Thomas, tenth grade student was crowned queen by Robert Pollard, one of her campaign managers, and chosen by the queen as her escort. A medley of popular tunes was played by Newton C. Maenhout after which Sam D. Bundy, master of ceremonies, introduced all the candidates. Then, the queen stepped forward and her by her escort. A quartet com-posed of Bob Morgan, James Murphy, James Thorne and Everette Roebuck sang one of the queen's favorite selections, "It Only Happens When I Dance with You," with Miss Alma Whitley taking the solo part.

Mr. Bundy presented Miss Thomas a gold wrist watch, donated by Robert's jewelry store. Miss Connie Rollins, runner-up, a member of the junior class, was given a gold locket, donated by D. R. Morgan's jewelry store. The PTA awarded jeweled lapel pins to the other candidates, Miss Ann Horton and Miss Lela Mae Moseley. All four of the young ladies were attired in evening dresses.

In the bingo games, the grand prizes, a tank of bottled gas and an electric heater, were won by Mac Carraway and Mrs. Graham McAdams.

Mrs. Allen and her committees ex press appreciation for the contributions and cooperation given them.
