Football Squad Begins Practice For New Season

The local high school football aspirants began work on Aug. 24 in preparation for the 1956 season. Twenty boys reported for the initial call.

Light equipment has been used for the first week of practice. Heavy equipment will be issued the latter part of the week as the boys round into playing condition. The first week's sessions have been devoted almost entirely to conditioning drills, consisting of calisthenics, grass drills, foot races, wind sprints and position and stance drills. The main part of the football menu, consisting of the two main fundamentals, blocking and tackling, will be begun in earnest the latter part of this week. The first scrimmage will be held next week.

The prospects of a winning team this year are of a problematic nature. Of last year's squad, seven players graduated, and two others, for various reasons, are not returning to school. All of these nine players were first stringers last year, so a rebuilding job is forthcoming. Last year's graduation hit hardest at the end, center, halfback and fullback positions. If a well balanced backfield can be molded to go with a line that should be equally as good as last year's, then the team may win some games, stated Coach Elbert Moye.

Boys from the 1949 squad who have reported for practice are Roy Vick, Roy Flora, Bobby Fulford, Albert Cannon, Wilbert Morris, Douglas Pierce, James Fountain, Randolph Allen, Joe Smith, Charley Fitzgerald, Richard Oakley and Paschall Barrett.

These boys, along with three or four newcomers to the squad, who have been showing up well in practice, will carry the load for the 1956 season. It is probable that three or four more boys with experience may join the squad when school opens on Monday.

Coach Moye adds that more boys are urgently needed for the squad. A 25-man squad is almost a necessity in order to compete on favorable basis for every position and to maintain an adequate number of boys for practice scrimmage sessions. All boys are urged to compete for the team in order that Farmville may field a team that will be a credit to the community. All high school boys with the proper school spirit are encouraged to come out and try for the team.

Colored Football Team

The students at the colored high school here will have their first football team this year. Through the combined efforts of local citizens last year, equipment was bought for 22 players.

The first game will be played on the school's athletic field on Oct. 6, against the Vann High school of Ahsokie. Game time will be 3 o'clock. This will be the first game and year for both schools.

There will be three games at home and three away this year. The team has been practicing for two weeks and hopes to make a creditable showing when the first game is played.

At The Kiwanis Club

Dr. E. R. Smith, a native of Ohio worked in a Panama hospital for more than 10 years before coming to Farmville last spring, had charge of the Kiwanis program Monday night and told fellow members of the club some interesting facts about Panama.

Dr. Smith stated that the Canal Zone is leased by the United States from the Republic of Panama for a period of 99 years, with option of renewal. The annual rental is about $200,000, said Dr. Smith.

He explained that the Canal Zone is governed by a combination of military and civilian personnel.

Dr. Smith stated that the Canal Zone is the most of Dr. Frank Harris. Rev. Bill Moton was the guest of Charles Edwards.

Firemen at Convention

Assistant Fire Chief Curtis Flanagan, who is vice president of the North Carolina Firemen's Association, Chief Hayward Smith and Ed Ward will leave Monday to attend the state convention in Henderson, N.C. The state meeting will be held Tuesday and the regular meeting will be held the following week.

Firemen from the state, who will be attending in the group.

CAPITAL REPORTER

North Carolina's famed 30th division of the National Guard can expect a tap on the shoulder from Uncle Sam by October 1, according to a report here.

Most of the Guardsmen hereabouts had breathed a little easier when they heard a Tennessee combat team of the 30th had been called up. They figured that meant the whole division as a whole would be well down the list.

Your Capital Reporter hears via the grapevine, however, that the 30th is high on the list and can expect a call to active duty before the football season gets out of its dispersal.

Other Washington cleanings via Raleigh:

Deferments for married men will soon end. The entire deferment policy will be spelled out more clearly when government leaders set the balance between industrial and military needs for skilled personnel.

Federal income tax will be upped on individuals by 10 to 15 per cent effective in the last three months of 1956 and for all of 1957. This means the individual—or little—taxpayer will be hit first, since excise and excess profit taxes will not come until after the November elections, if at all.

Edwin Gill, commissioner of revenue until he backed Charlie Johnson in the last governor's race, is slated for the job of U. S. Collector of Internal Revenue for North Carolina.

The present collector—Charles H. Robertson—is expected to retire soon. Gill is expected to be named to the federal post, with headquarters in Greensboro, before the end of the year.

Here are some behind the scenes dope on Governor Scott's second visit with Oscar Chapman, secretary of interior, Tuesday in Washington.

Governor Scott has been hollering about a shortage of power in the State for some time now. Two weeks ago, on his first visit with Chapman, the governor found out that North Carolina was behind other states—even those of the South—in power output. This has resulted, he was told, in the State being bypassed by industries seeking a new home.

The story goes that Kerr Scott hit the ceiling when he learned this from federal officials. He was shown aerial maps and other surveys that showed the State's power output potential.

Ironically, it was less than a year ago that Scott made a speech in Lumberton at the dedication of the Carolina Power and Light Company's steam generating plant. He again children, Marion Pickett, Kay Guthrie, Theodora Albritton and Mary Lou Moore spent the week end at the Eastern cottage at Atlantic Beach.

Paschall Barrett has returned from a two-weeks visit to relatives in Norfolk and South Hill, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Lewis and daughter of Henderson will spend the week end with Mrs. Lewis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Foster. Mrs. Lewis and daughter will remain for a few days.

said there wasn't enough electric power in the State.

Scott was criticized for not making a "nice" speech and two days later the CP&L's president, Louis Sutton, in a paid advertisement, took the governor to task, stating that there was "no existing shortage in power in CP&L territory."

Yet, less than eight months from that day, the CP&L ordered an enlargement of the Lumberton plant.

The pre-campaign jockeying for the 1952 gubernatorial race is taking some funny twists. Once-beaten Chas. Johnson, a Charlotte resident less than a year and seeking nomination as a "westerner," is gaining favor with the Old Guard.

Capua Waynick, Governor Scott's campaign manager and a cat with 9 lives, politically speaking reportedly is trying to make up his mind which way to jump. He's made no secret of the fact that he would like to be governor. But he's been hearing stories about Scott losing favor and may decide to cut away from the Scott camp completely. In the past, he has always landed on his feet when he jumped the traces—and he was in town last week testing the wind to see which way to jump.

Another opinion sampler, Secretary of State Thad Eure, reportedly getting ambitious, too, no longer is riding the bridge on the ship of state. He's out paddling his own canoe.

Meanwhile, State Treasurer Brandon Hodges is sitting on the sidelines watching it all. He ain't mad at nobody, and seems to have the faculty to keep both sides happy. Some of the political experts in these parts seem to think that Hodges is in the best position of the bunch.

You can expect a good fight in the 1951 General Assembly over the sales tax.

"It looks to me the car job is to try and keep the services we're giving without boosting taxes," one legislator put it.

He claimed that this might be accomplished by changing the sales tax setup. It now is 3 per cent with some 15 exemptions.

The new suggestion is a straight 2 per cent sales tax on everything.

This, he opined, would make the tax easier to collect and "fair to all."

This legislator claimed such a move would bring more income to the state, too. He said so much of the current sales tax is practically uncollectable because of merchants handling some taxable goods—and some untaxable goods.

"You just can't collect all the proper tax from a place like that," he said.

Local School Begins Session Monday Morning

The Farmville school will open on Monday at 9 o'clock and will remain in session until 12:30 for the first day. Parents are requested not to send or bring pupils to the school before 9 o'clock as doors will not be unlocked before that time. School buses will not leave their starting points before 8:30.

There will be no formal opening exercises since the auditorium is in the process of being re-wired and the fact that the auditorium will not hold the entire student body. Elementary pupils will report to their rooms that will be designated by proper signs. They will then receive instructions to proceed to the section to which they have been assigned. High school pupils will report to the same home room they had last year and those just entering high school will report to the auditorium for a few minutes to get their home room assignments. After pupils have been placed and assigned rooms they will receive instructions relative to fees and schedules. Books will be distributed by the first day in the elementary school but will not be distributed in the high school until fees have been paid.
