At The Kiwanis Club

(Greenville Reflector)

Ell Bloom of Greenville, lieutenant-governor of the Carolina Kiwanis district, presented a program of music at an inter-club supper meeting of the Stantonburg and Farmville Kiwanis clubs here Monday night.

Farmville President Charles Edwards and Stantonburg President Jack Brodgen presided. Frank Allen welcomed the Stantonburg Kiwanians.

In the Stantonburg club president's response he took time out to say that "Frank Allen is on the way to becoming a Seventh Kiwanis Division lieutenant-governor."

Ell Bloom, futeist, Cecil Ellington, saxophonist, Bill Regan, guitarist, & Frank Casey, accordionist, now teaching at Walstonburg, presented a program of instrumental music and they also played for the "congregational" singing of some of the old songs.

Miss Anna Bynum, "sweetheart" of the Farmville club, was accompanied for the singing of Kiwanis songs led by Rev. Earl Holmes, Baptist minister. Rev. Thad Cox said the invocation.

Kiwanis President Edwards reminded that Wednesday, May 9, will be Farmers Day in Farmville and that elaborate plans are being made for the event.
