OUR CHRISTMAS WISH TO YOU

At this Christmastime, unrest, confusion and bloodshed exist in the land where the Prince of Peace was born. Conditions there reflect, rather accurately, the temper and mood of the entire world. The rattle of swords is drowning out pleas for peace. In Korea swords have been drawn and thousands of men are suffering and paying with their lives because nations refuse to adopt the ideals and philosophy which the Christ-child brought to earth 2000 decades ago.
 Our Christmas wish to you is that the Light from the Bethlehem Star, which led the shepherds to the Manger, will pierce the hearts of men everywhere, and that those who guide the destinies of nations will come under the spell of that Light, setting such an example for the rest of us that the Golden Rule will become the motto for the whole world.

WHEN CHRISTMAS COMES

When Christmas comes, I like to think of friends Busy at merrymaking And happy because of the sacredness of the day; To image an old loved expression, Peculiarity, or some special association,
 At this time of the year When hearts, gay or sad, turn homeward,
 With thoughts of warmth and longing.
 I like to feel that I have Clasped their hands for a moment; Never to let the day pass Without some expression of love, Some closeness of spirit.
 —Grace S. Carraway

MRS. HOLSTON HURT IN ACCIDENT ON CHURCH ST.

Mrs. W. C. Holston was hurt on Friday afternoon in an accident that occurred on Church street, when she walked into an automobile driven by Bill Jones, Hardy truck mechanic. Mrs. Holston was knocked to the pavement and was dazed by the impact and fall. Her forehead was cut and several stitches were taken. Her left arm was bruised. Mrs. Holston was returning from the home of a neighbor, and failed to look in the direction from which the car was approaching.

Town and Country

(By James B. Hoodland)

Whatever problems Presbyterian Minister Edwin Conroy has about church and Sunday school attendance would vanish overnight if the members of his congregation would follow the example of four of his elders who, between them, have a combined perfect attendance record of almost 400 years.

King-pin of this faithful quartet is John Hill Paylor, who last Sunday rounded out 43 years of perfect attendance. On the Paylor calendar, the third Sunday in December ranks with Christmas in importance and the pride Churchman Paylor takes in his record is shared by his fellow worshippers. Hospitalized one Sunday a few years back, Mr. Paylor was unable to attend Sunday School so the Sunday School went to him. The class met that afternoon in his room in a Raleigh hospital.

Next longest record is held by Cliff Corbett, who was honored recently when the Sunday School class he teaches at Ballards Church presented him an award for 18 years of perfect attendance. Mr. Corbett teaches a class in that Sunday School and then rushes back to Farmville in time for church service.

G. Robert Smith hasn't missed Sunday School in 15 years. And he is more than an attendant at the service. For years, he served as secretary and finally persuaded the session to relieve him of his duties, only to be called back when his successor, Frank Barcom, received "Greetings" from his good Uncle Sam.

Charles F. Baumon is a member of the Faithful Four. He has missed only one Sunday, in nearly 20 years, and that absence was chalked up a few years ago, after he had compiled about 15 years of perfect attendance. Like Mr. Smith, Mr. Baumon was an official in the Sunday School for many years. His faithfulness and experience are quite frequently utilized and he is called upon to officiate. He also directs the singing, and is a valuable member of the choir.

MISS OAKLEY AND MR. HOUSE PLEDGE VOWS

In a candlelight ceremony at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, in the Wesley Methodist Church, Miss Mary Frances Oakley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tennis Brooks Oakley, and William Wooten House, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce E. House, pledged their marriage vows. Rev. Z. B. T. Cox and Rev. Thomas Tyson of Walstonburg officiated at the double ring ceremony.

A program of nuptial music was rendered by Miss Carolyn Roebuck, pianist and Miss Pat Corbett who sang "O Promise Me." prior to the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" as a benediction.

Miss Guita Cannon was Miss Oakley's maid of honor and only attendant. She wore a lavender street length dress of taffeta and carried a bouquet of roses. Ruffin House, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Hubert Garris and Earl Lloyd.

Miss Oakley entered the church with her brother, Edward Oakley, by whom she was given in marriage. She wore a winter white suit and hat and carried a white prayer book arranged with a bouquet which was centered with an orchid.

Mrs. House is a student in the senior class of the Farmville High School. Mr. House was graduated from the Winterville High School and is associated with the Pitt Hardware Company at Cherry Point.

SPENDING HOLIDAYS HERE

Miss Elio May, student at Flora Macdonald college, arrived Thursday night to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward May.
 Miss Elizabeth May, a staff member of the Children's Home at Barium Springs, will spend next week here with her parents.

ATTEND STATE MEDICAL CONFERENCE IN RALEIGH

Dr. and Mrs. Charles E. Fitzgerald and Dr. and Mrs. John Winstead of Greenville attended the Fifth Annual Public Relations Conference of the North Carolina State Medical Society held in the Sir Walter Raleigh Hotel in Raleigh on Friday, December 14. Dr. Fitzgerald and Dr. Winstead represented the Pitt County Society at the meeting.

MISS JOAN ATKINSON HONORS MISS BETTY FUTCH

One of the loveliest entertainments of the Yuletide season was the dance given on Saturday night by Miss Joan Atkinson at the D.A.R. Chapter House, honoring Miss Betty Dale Futch, of Leesburg, Fla., house guest.

The Chapter House was made beautiful and festive for the occasion by the use of Christmas decorations throughout the ballroom. The mantels were banked with greenery and Christmas trees, candles and berries were used in artistic arrangements on them. Floor baskets of pine were used about the room and candles furnished the illumination for the scene.

Miss Atkinson received at the entrance to the ballroom and introduced the honoree, Miss Futch.

RECEPTION BY MISS ATKINSON

Refreshments which consisted of fruit punch, ham, biscuits, party cake and sandwiches, adults and kiddie sets were served from a table appropriately decorated in the Christmas motif. Mrs. Henrietta Williamson presided at the punch bowl.

Other guests, who assisted Miss Atkinson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben S. Atkinson with the festivities were: Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Joyner and Mrs. W. E. Davis.

NEUVO HAS HOLIDAY MEETING IN HOME OF MRS. W. R. BURKE

Mrs. W. R. Burke was hostess to Neuve Bridge Club members and other guests on Wednesday night. The living and dining rooms of the home were beautifully decorated with arrangements suggestive of the Yuletide season.

During the playing of cards, the hostess served fruit punch from the dining room table which was covered with a red cloth. The crystal punch bowl was encircled with holly and ice in Della-Hobbs and green tree designs was used to chill the contents.

When cards were laid aside the guests were invited into the dining room where Mrs. Sam Lewis and Mrs. Burke presided; Mrs. Lewis cutting and serving a Christmas tree cake, the hostess serving a red and green, star design bavarian cream dessert.

Mrs. Lewis was the high scorer for club members.
 Mrs. Burke remembered special guests, Mrs. E. R. Smith with a pottery vase, and Mrs. Leland Flanagan with a gold pocketbook accessory.

MRS. HARRIS HOSTESS AU FAIT CHRISTMAS MEETING

Mrs. J. R. Harris graciously entertained the Au Fait Bridge Club members and special guests, Mrs. J. D. Joyner, Thursday afternoon in her home on the Mountain Highway. The home was decorated with a large lighted Christmas tree, poinsettias, green, red and silver cedar, Christmas tree ornaments and an unusual aquamarine crystal ball arrangement of white fern and colored balls.

The hostess served fruit cake topped with eggnog ice cream and coffee, before the playing of cards. The refreshment tables were centered with the favors, packages of candy topped with miniature snowmen. Later during the progressions coca colas and salted nuts were passed.

Mrs. R. O. Long, Jr. was awarded Christmas place mat, the club high score prize, and Mrs. Allen Drake received glass tumbler painted in Christmas designs. Mrs. Joyner was remembered with a lovely red chintz apron. Each member was presented a club Christmas gift, which were
