

Joe Tally Makes Hit As Guest Speaker At Divisional Meeting

"Happiness is a by-product of service." This was the theme of an address delivered last Friday night by J. O. Tally, Jr., of Fayetteville at the annual dinner meeting of the Kiwanis Carolinas' District Seventh Division. 188 members representing eight of the nine clubs in this section of the state gathered in the school lunchroom for the occasion.

Frank K. Allen of Farmville, lieutenant-governor of the division, presided over the banquet. Presidents of the clubs were presented and they, in turn, asked their members to stand and be recognized. The president of the clubs and the number attending from each follow: Greenville, Milo Smith, 55; Wilson, Harry Finch, 18; Washington, Edward Matthews, 20; Goldsboro, C. T. Cozart, 25; Stantonsburg, S. P. Hunt, 8; Kingston, Alex Hogan, 9; Jacksonville, Carroll Bryan, 22; Farmville, Glasgow Smith, 31. Visitors were Dr. Paul Jones of Farmville and Roy Rowe of Burgaw, guests of Dr. Frank Harris.

Wilmington was the only town in the division not represented. Members of that club were helping with the Azalea Festival and sent their regrets.

Herb Hennig of Darlington, S. C., secretary-treasurer of the district, made a brief report, congratulating the division secretaries for the splendid work they were doing. He also paid Allen a handsome compliment for the interest and enthusiasm he is displaying in his official role. Tally, who serves as governor of the Carolinas district, was introduced by Allen. In his opening remarks, the young Fayetteville attorney, who is a candidate for Congress, expressed his thanks to Lieut.-Gov. Allen, and a lot of the fine spirit manifested by Kiwanians throughout the district.

To illustrate and emphasize the part Kiwanians must take if they maintain the standard of their motto, "We Build," Tally told the New Testament story of Silas and Barnabas whose ability to rejoice, though imprisoned, was a direct result of their faith and the life of service they had rendered.

Dr. Albert Schweitzer, who gave up a brilliant career as physician, musician and philosopher to become a medical missionary to Africa, was cited as a modern counterpart of the two Biblical missionaries. Dr. Schweitzer was quoted as saying that the real key to happiness lies in serving others.

Friday night's visit marked the second time that the Fayetteville attorney had delivered an address here, and Kiwanians were deeply impressed with his talk and the ease with which it was presented.

Barney Bland, assistant agriculture teacher in the local school, and the Rev. Frank M. Ross, Episcopal rector, were installed as new members of the club at the meeting.

Stabilization Has Large Stocks Of Tobacco On Hand

The annual stockholders meeting of the Flue Cured Tobacco Cooperative Stabilization Corporation will be held in the Hotel Sir Walter, Raleigh, on June 27, at 11 o'clock.

At this meeting, Carl T. Hicks of Walstonburg, president, will deliver his annual address and General Manager L. T. Weeks of Raleigh will make his yearly report.

Highlighting the meeting will be an address by the Honorable L. Y. Ballentine, North Carolina Commissioner of Agriculture, who will discuss the new agricultural program for the South. Mr. Ballentine is considered by many to be one of the outstanding agricultural administrators in the nation and should speak on topics of vital interest to all.

At the business session of the meeting, there will be many important matters to be decided by the stockholders relating to the organization's operations for the coming season. Any member present will be given the opportunity to speak his mind and request any information he may desire.

Three directors will be elected during the meeting. Each year three directors are elected for a three-year term as required in Stabilization's by-laws. Board members whose terms expire this year are: J. E. Winslow, Greenville, George Sockwell, Elon College, and George L. Pate, Rowland.

On the recommendation of Stabilization's Board of Directors, there will be meetings held in each of the flue-cured states prior to the Annual Meeting in Raleigh for the purpose of forming Voluntary Advisory Committees who will convey matters concerning their particular states to the organization's Board and will also convey information pertaining to the operations of Stabilization to members in the area they represent.

The Farm Bureau and Grange, organizations in flue-cured tobacco producing states will have the responsibility of calling and organizing these meetings for the Stabilization membership.

General Manager Weeks will attend each of these meetings and submit a full report of Stabilization's operations along with other important matters relating to this year's program.

Stabilization's members have marketed the 1951 crop, and selling to dealers and manufacturers is now underway. Stabilization received 142,244,000 pounds of tobacco from all belts during the 1951 season.

Sales of tobacco in Stabilization's stock during the current marketing season have been slow, and the outlook as of this date does not indicate that substantial quantities of leaf will be sold between now and the 1952 marketing season.

When markets opened in the 1950 season, Stabilization had approximately 77 million pounds of tobacco on hand. At the time the markets opened during 1951, the organization had a stock of 75 million pounds on hand, and it appears that when the markets open this year, stocks will be in excess of 150 million pounds.

Under the price support system this year, farmers are assured of a minimum of 50.6 cents a pound for their flue-cured leaf. In the event parity rises between now and June 15, growers will be given the benefit of any increase in price.

Should parity decline, however, producers will still receive not less than 50.6 cents a pound, which was 90 percent of parity during March.

The 90 percent of parity support price in 1951 was 50.7 cents a pound for flue-cured leaf.

Want a lot of mileage for your money?

WE'LL admit that the price tags of automobiles—all automobiles—aren't what they used to be. But it's just as true today as ever before that some price tags are lower than others, and some cars cost less to own than others. So let's see how a Buick SPECIAL fits into the picture. Take first cost. If you put the price tag of this Buick against price tags of cars that have always been tagged as belonging in "the low-priced field"—you'll find that, in actual dollars, a Buick's surprisingly close to these cars of lesser size and horsepower. But that's just the beginning. What you're getting here is Buick quality—this SPECIAL comes down the same assembly line as SUPERS and ROADMASTERS. Its hefty tells you it has extra sturdiness in frame and structure. Its Fireball Engine delivers extra power. It is an eight, valve-in-head, with high compression, and the miles you can get from a gallon of gas make it a thrifty performer. You get Buick's Million Dollar Ride, which protects you—and the car—from jars and jolts. Even the tires are bigger—which, any tire man will tell you, lengthens their wear. And if you pay a bit extra for Dynaflo Drive* you're easing the strain on the engine, the rear end, the tires—and eliminating clutch repair bills.

So when we talk about "mileage for your money" we're talking about the miles you'll get from your car—including the unused miles that are what you have to sell when you trade it in. Maybe that's why Buick's doing so well in the present market. Why not come and see what a great car this is for you.
