

Henry Tyson To Retire June 30 As Rural Carrier

Completes 31 Years' Service On Farmville Routes; Ed Nash Warren Takes Over Rural Post

Henry Tyson's retirement as rural mail carrier on June 30, after more than 31 years of service, will result in several major personnel changes in the Farmville postoffice.

Archie Cayton, who has been serving as carrier on route 1 since Joe Henry Bynum's retirement several years ago, will take over Mr. Tyson's route, number 2. Ed Nash Warren, a clerk in the post office for 14 years, will shift to the position of rural carrier and will take over the Cayton route. These changes will become effective at the same time.

Mr. Tyson rounded out 31 years of service as a carrier in April. He has faithfully served the rural inhabitants on Farmville routes. Of his total service, 28 years and three months were spent as rural carrier on route 1, and the remainder of the time, three years, as route 2's carrier.

Three Teachers Appointed For School Faculty

Three teachers were approved this week for the Farmville High School faculty. Sam Stell of Tarboro, will be the Social Studies teacher and assistant coach. This position was held last year by Charles Tucker, who will be coach and Physical Education instructor at the school next year. Mr. Stell comes to this position from 2 years at the Ayden High School. Mrs. Stell will be the 6th grade teacher replacing Miss Elizabeth Parker who has accepted a position in Williamson. Mrs. Sue McGee Pope who has taught in the Bell Arthur and Clinton schools will replace Miss Mary Grape Gaylord as 4th grade teacher. The eight grade teacher vacancy has not been filled.

The Inter-State Convention embraces the states of North and South Carolina, Georgia, Virginia and West Virginia.

Parolees In Pitt Have Good Records

As of April 1, Pitt County Welfare Department had 15 active parolees. During the month one parolee's case was terminated after he had been on parole some over four years. He had complied with all the requirements of the Office of the Commissioner of Paroles and the Welfare Department while on parole and received recommendation of the Parole Officer, Miss Elizabeth Warren. He was granted by order of Governor Scott a final discharge from parole.

One parolee was killed during the month of April, therefore the file on his case was closed. After the above-named cases were closed, this left 14 active cases, of which 7 are farmers. Two of these made additional money over and above their monthly advancement on this year's crop; one made $18.00 and the other $12.00.

One of the parolees is a cook and made $60.00 during the month; one is a State employee, earning $192.00 per month; one is a saw mill worker and made $120.00; another is a brick layer and carpenter and earned $235.00 for April; one is a maid and earned $50.00; and the thirteenth parolee is self-employed as a florist and made $250.00 during April.

Bennie Wooten Dies Of Wounds Inflicted By Self

Funeral services for Bennie Thomas Wooten, 56-year-old Farmville man, were conducted yesterday afternoon at 4:30 in the Farmville Christian church. Mrs. Wooten, a well-liked man who served as farm overseer for Dr. Paul Jones, died Monday from self-inflicted knife wounds. Missing since Monday morning, Wooten's body was found Wednesday morning in the front seat of a pickup truck in a little-used path near Beaver Dam lake. A blood-stained razor blade found on the seat beside him indicated that he had inflicted the wounds, on his right arm, with the blade.

The services were conducted by Rev. Z. B. T. Cox, Christian minister. Interment followed in Hollywood cemetery.

Mr. Wooten was a member of the Farmville Christian Church, the Red Men, and Woodmen of the World. For a number of years he had been farm supervisor for Dr. Jones.

He was the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Evans Wooten of Farmville and the late Owen Wooten. In 1916 he was married to Mamie Willford who died in 1927. In 1930 he married Bettie Lovic who died in 1950. In 1951 he married Elizabeth Whitehead of Wilson, who survives.

Surviving besides his mother and wife are three children by his first marriage: Mrs. Glenn Ansley, Farmville; Mrs. W. E. Crooker, Camp Lejeune; Staff Sgt. W. W. Wooten, Pine Castle, Fla.; four sisters, Mrs. Harold Melton, Mrs. W. B. Gardner, Mrs. Bob Norman, all of Farmville, and Mrs. Van W. Little of Monroe; four brothers, W. C. Wooten, J. A. Wooten, Abe Wooten, all of Farmville, and Sam Wooten of Chicago, Ill., and eight grandchildren.

Washington News Letter

- Row at Demo Meet?
- Fair Deal Push By HST—
- ROK Troops Improving—
- MacArthur No Like Ike—
- Barkley and Russell—

The sudden shift to the left, by national Democratic party leaders including President Harry Truman, looks no good for party harmony at the Chicago convention. In the first election of officers for the convention the national Demo group put its regular slate through without trouble—Gov. Paul A. Dever, of Massachusetts, was named keynote, loyal party man Sam Rayburn was named permanent convention chairman, and Fair Dealer John W. McCormack was named to head the preliminary platform drafting committee.

Conservative Southerners, who are demanding that the party platform tone down its civil rights plank this year, and reinstate a strong states' rights plank, can find little comfort in this selection of officers. And to pour more salt into Conservative wounds, President Truman is reportedly backing Senator Hubert Humphrey, of Minnesota as a major speaker at the convention, also insisting on a strong civil right and Fair Deal stand by the Democrats.

This certainly looks like the brewing of another convention storm for, whereas the Truman bloc is pressing for more Fair Deal declarations, a bloc which has been led up to now by Governor James Byrnes, of South Carolina, is pressing, just as insistently, for less Fair Deal philosophy in several fields. And Byrnes has threatened to withhold support of the national Democratic ticket if his demands are not met.

In a Mississippi speech recently he even suggested a third independent party might again be needed this year.

JIMMY DARDEN SETS HOLE-IN-ONE RECORD

After 18 years of playing golf, Jimmy Darden made his first hole-in-one shot, recently. Playing in a threesome Friday, with Bo Rabl and Arthur Joyner, Jr., he scored his second ace within several weeks. The first hole-in-one was made in four-some play on the 9th hole of the local greens. The second shot was accomplished on the 14th hole of the course, par-3, distance 135 yards with a number 9 iron.

Two County Races Hinge On Results Tomorrow's Vote

Register of Deeds And One Seat On Board Of Commissioners Are Feature Contests

Democrats and Republicans alike will troop to polling places in their respective precincts tomorrow and select office holders ranging in degrees of prominence from townships constable to governor.

The vote in Pitt county will be comparatively light, however, in view of the fact that only two races of county-wide importance are to be settled. One of these is the four-way race for Register of Deeds and the other is the race between Brown Hodges of Grifton and R. Guy Jackson of Ayden for district five's member of the county Board of Commissioners. Mr. Hodges, the incumbent, has served on the board for 10 years. Two years ago, Mr. Jackson was unsuccessful in his attempt to defeat Mr. Hodges but defeated him in the district, which fact he being used by Mr. Jackson in his attempt to persuade voters in the remaining sections of the county to cast a ballot in his favor. Both the contestants have been working hard.

In some sections, a heavy vote will be cast. This will be in precincts which have "favorite" candidates. For instance, Farmville will probably turn out in large numbers to support the candidacy of Mrs. Blair Cox Wheeler, who is seeking election as Register of Deeds, a post she now holds by appointment.

The governor's race—between Hubert Olive and William B. Umstead—has been the topic of debate in political circles. In this section, Mr. Umstead apparently has the advantage, since most of the forces who supported the late J. M. Broughton in his successful fight against Mr. Umstead several years ago for the Senate are now arrayed in the Umstead camp. It is admitted, however, that Mr. Olive has been gaining strength in this locale in recent days.

The polls will be open from 6:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Ormandsville Wins In 12th Inning

Ormandsville defeated Farmville, 8-7, Wednesday night in a 12-inning game in the local park. Heath started on the mound for Farmville and was relieved by Benton. V. Jones started for Ormandsville and was relieved by Garland Little.
