MRS. HOWARD HARRIS
HOSTESS TO CIRCLE 6
Mrs. Howard Harris was hostess to the last meeting before summer adjournment of Circle 6 of the Methodist WSCS, Monday night.

discussion of a special project. No decisions were made and the chairman was asked to seek information in regard to the needs of the church. Work for the circles in the coming year was discussed and plans laid.

CIRCLE 4 MEETS WITH MRS. J. H. HARRIS

Mrs. J. H. Harris was hostess to members of Circle 4, Monday afternoon, at her home. Mrs. C. H. Moring, newly-elected chairman, presided over the sessions of business.

Mrs. J. Frank Harper gave a very inspiring devotional talk. She read selections from the third chapter of Lamentations and based her talk on a chapter entitled "Anew Every Morning," selected from the book "Walking With God," by Bishop Coates J. Harrell. Bishop Harrell is a brother of Mrs. M. Y. Sell, wife of a former pastor of the local Methodist Church. Mrs. Harper pointed out that life becomes dull and drab when we accept as commonplace the blessings that we daily enjoy and especially the loving kindness of our Heavenly Father. When people accept as old the indescribable joy that can come from Christian living, then they lose the greatest blessing that can come to man.

Projects for the coming year were discussed and plans made. The circle will disband for the summer months of July and August.

The hostess served punch upon the arrival of the members and in the fellowship period that followed the meeting, she served iced tea, sandwiches and candies.

MISS MARY CARR GIVES WESLEYAN GUILD PROGRAM

Miss Mary E. Carr was the program speaker at the Wesleyan Guild meeting Monday night. Miss Lula Forbes was the hostess at her home. Miss Carr continued the approved study from the book, "The Earth is The Lord's," and developed the theme, "Let The Little Ones Come." She enumerated the ways in which adults could further the Christian education of children, such as supervised kindergartens, child care programs and community services.

Mrs. Alfred Lewis and Mrs. Eddie Caraway gave the devotional using the program theme.

During the business of the meeting, presided over by the chairman, Mrs. G. M. Holden, Mrs. Holden, Mrs. Curtis Flanagan and Mrs. L. J. Willard reported on the district meeting held Sunday at Rocky Mount. The members packed a box with Bible School supplies, material for aprons and soft toys to be sent to Vienna, Austria. Mrs. Frank Arglander who is in charge of the Methodist church work there will receive the box.

After adjournment of the meeting, Miss Forbes served punch, sandwiches, cookies and salted nuts.

WARREN PALMER AMONG STATE COLLEGE GRADUATES

Warren Palmer, husband of the former Edith Frances Harper, and a former Farmville resident, was among the 22 men graduating from State College last Sunday with a Bachelor of Nuclear Engineering degree. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harper, daughter, Willis and son, Bob, and Mr. and Mrs. Jennie Harper attended the graduation exercises.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer recently accepted the position of custodians of the Vetsville Y.M.C.A. They left Raleigh this week to attend the Christian Student's Conference at Blue Ridge.

Mr. Palmer, in addition to his position with the Y.M.C.A., will continue to work with the Machine Research Foundry Corporation. He will enter the fall semester at State and study for his master's degree.
