The Woman's Society of Christian Service held its monthly meeting with Mrs. Albert Bundy on Monday night. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Melvin Gay presided. At the conclusion of the business session, Mrs. Ed Taylor gave the devotion using Paul's letter to the Ephesians.

Rev. Tommy Tyson gave a most inspiring and challenging talk on the topic, "Women Lead." He stressed the influence of women in the home and church.

During the social hour the hostesses served a sweet course to 15 guests.

Mrs. Ed Taylor was hostess to the Woman's Club on Thursday night of last week. The president, Mrs. D. D. Fields, called the meeting to order. The chaplain, Miss Corbett gave the devotion. The regular routine business having been disposed of, Mrs. Fields presented Mrs. Tommy Holloman, a member of the Walstonburg faculty.

Mrs. Holloman ably discussed current events. She presented the pros and cons of world problems today and discussed some of those which loom serious ones in the days ahead.

During the social hour the hostesses served a chicken salad plate with coffee. Two new members were added to the roll.

Mrs. Veasey speaks

On Women Voting At DAC Meeting

(Kinston Free Press)

"The Importance of Voting" was the subject of a highly interesting and informative address given by Mrs. E. L. Veasey of Franklinton at a meeting of Queen Anne Chapter of the Daughters of the American Colonists at the home of Mrs. S. P. Hines recently. The group met in luncheon session.

Hostesses were Mesdames C. B. Brooks, Hubert J. Landauer, J. E. Weyher, F. W. Carroll of Hookerton, R. B. Hooker and Vaughn Taylor. A delectable three-course dinner was served. Mrs. J. I. Morgan of Farmville, Mrs. Fred Darden of Ayden and Mrs. George Knott of Kinston serving in the dining room. Mrs. Knott, regent, presided over a brief business period. Committee reports and routine business were heard.

Mrs. Veasey maintained "On November 4 polling booths will open their doors to a hundred million Americans, 51 million women and 49 million men. On that same day a lot of women will have appointments at the polls, the polls will be closed, the polls will be closed, the polls will be closed.

Women can and do wield their vote effectively but too often they are indifferent to their responsibility in government, she insisted. Since enactment of the 19th Amendment giving women the right to vote, women have found virtually no field closed to them, she said. She enumerated as proof 11 women in Congress, one woman ambassador, Eugenia Anderson, one woman foreign minister, Perle Mesta, one woman assistant secretary of defense, one woman treasurer, 500 women serving in positions of authority in Washington and two women mayors and three federal judges in America.

All women are not qualified to serve in state legislatures or Congress, but they can be careful whom they send to represent them, she pointed out. In 1900 people traveled by horse and buggy to hear candidates and to cast votes. In this atomic, radio, TV and modern transportation age, a rainy election day keeps voters away from the polls, she continued. Comparative figures were given showing percentages of eligible persons who recently voted in national elections in Australia, Great Britain, Sweden, West Germany, Canada and Israel with United States at the bottom of the list with 51 per cent as against Australia's 96 per cent, the highest.

"Yet, we, the people of America, think we are selling democracy to the world," concluded the speaker. "We are the nation which is trying to persuade Asia, the Middle East, Africa and the South American dictatorships that the right of the people to rule their own destinies is the most precious heritage man can have."

Mrs. J. I. Morgan introduced Mrs. Veasey, sister of Mrs. George Knott of this city. Twenty-six attended with the following attending from out-of-town: Mesdames Veasey, Morgan, C. Wayne Spencer and Miss Mary Boykin, Wilmington; Miss Tabitha D. Visconti, Miss Perkins, Mrs. Fred Darden, and Mrs. Willis, Farmville.

Six New Members Join Baptist Business Women's Circle

Six new members were present at the Annie Perkins Circle of the Baptist Missionary Society meeting, Monday night. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Albert Lewis with Mrs. W. B. Gardner, joint hostess. Mrs. C. W. Casper, chairman, presided and welcomed a visitor, Mrs. Wyatt Tucker, Jr., and the new members, Mrs. Harold Allred, Mrs. Charlie Raaberry, Mrs. Critz Hillard, Mrs. Dewey Hathaway, Miss Margaret Lewis and Miss Elsie Seago.

Mrs. Paul Vaughn was devotional leader and the program was given by Mrs. Billy Marston.

Miss Annie Perkins announced that a Mission Study course would be conducted Thursday night of next week.

Mrs. Robert Joyner closed the meeting with prayer.

The hostesses served cranberry salad, Ritz crackers and coffee.
