The Kinston people are sporting straw hats. The Lenoir farmers have nearly all finished planting corn.

Mrs. Nancy Sutton, a most estimable lady living near town, died on the 1st, aged 63 years.

There are thirty inmates at the county poor house.

Mr. Elijah Ellis' rice mill will resume work today.

Eggs were retailed yesterday at 13 cents per dozen.

The County Commissioners visited the poor house on yesterday.

John Wm. Shackelford and F. W. Hargett arrived in the city from Richlands yesterday.

Mr. Wade has established his harness shop in the building of W. H. Abbott near door to Joseph Lassiter's Livery Stable.

A goodly number of Kinstonians are attending Court at Snow Hill this week, and "there are more to follow" later in the week.

L. J. Moore Esq., of New Bern, passed through Kinston on Sunday last, on his way to Snow Hill to attend the Superior Court now in session there.

The cleaning house is in full blast yesterday. There were fifty or eighty hands, mostly women and children, were picking the "recones" out of their hulls.

Dr. Schaffner, the Mayor of Salem, has been a guest of Rev. G. W. Sandelin during the past week.

Crops in generally regarded as a poor crop, but Mr. Joe Lassiter has recently bought some growing rye on a field near Kinston, paying at the rate of $20 per acre.

Mr. Curtis Lenoir, near Kinston, planted ten acres in cotton on the 1st day of April. He must be after heading off Mr. W. M. Parker, the "first bale" man of Kinston.

Mr. J. E. Barrett is the only proprietor of Lenoir manufactures at this time. He is, and has been for some time, busy in shipping brick, lumber and shingles to Goldsboro.

President W. J. Best of the Midland N. C. R.R. was in town for several hours on Monday, in company of some of his friends. It is said he had an interview with the County Commissioners.

As an evidence of the energy and enterprise of Mr. J. W. Grainger, we saw a heavy man on his way to the platform to be shipped by rail a day or two ago. Nor is this an unusual occurrence.

Joseph Lassiter, the enterprising Horse Dealer of Kinston, has sent several head of stock—horses and mules—to Snow Hill in charge of Mr. F. R. Vincent, with the view of disposing of them there this week.

The New River Improvement forces are at work near the mouth of South Fork Creek. Ben R. Hanson was up from New Bern to the works on Monday. It is said they are making commendable progress.

Osias McCallen takes charge of the telegraph office in New Bern. Mr. Henderson remains in charge of the Express office. The telegraph office is removed next door to C. E. Glover's.

The Lenoir Press Schools are nearly over. Treasurer Sutton says he has considerable money on hand now. It doubtless belongs to those districts where they are going to build school houses.

Mrs. J. M. Mowbrine had her eye painfully injured last week by the explosion of a pistol cap which she had swept in the fire. The wound was painful, but the eye not permanently injured.

Kinston is a booming place for fertilizers. Mr. W. C. Moore has sold already over five hundred tons this season, and it would not be far of the mark to say that Mr. E. Harvey has sold 1,500 tons since January.

We regret to announce that Mr. Marshall, Superintendent of the Planning mill, Fish and Blind Factory is quite ill. Hope his ailment will soon pass away, and he be able to resume his duties at the head of this institution again.

New Bern is a little ahead of us in the trucking business, having made a shipment of peas on April 1st, but we are following close in the wake. Mr. Gaber Cox having on same day some specimen pods nearly ready for table use.

Mr. J. F. Mowbrine has recently sold advantageously at Goldsboro, for different Lenoir farmers, several lots of cotton. This cotton was sold by sample, and shipped via New Bern. Query: Is Goldsboro a better cotton market than either Kinston or New Bern?

Big fire at Falling creek on Monday night, burning up every apple in the village. Mr. Josh Fields lost store and fruit rack of goods. Mr. George Hinkle lost store and greater part of stock of goods. Post office also burned. Cause of fire unknown; light insurance.

Dr. M. S. Smith, enlightened the citizens of Kinston on the subject of Mornans, and what he saw in Utah, on Monday night last. He claims to be better informed on the subject of Mornans and Mornansian, than any one else who has ever spoken or written on the subject.

It is reported that a number of cases of small pox are in and around Elizabeth City and that several deaths have occurred from the disease. It was first caught by a negro preacher, who died and not knowing the cause of death, his funeral was largely attended, and the disease spread rapidly from that occasion. No doubt the number has been greatly exaggerated, but still precautions will do no harm. The matter is in the hands of the authorities, who will deal properly with incoming transportation lines.—North Star Press.

La Grange Items.

Wheat is making a fine appearance. James Hardee and Wiggins, at the Institute Section, were married last week.

Corn planting was the order of the day last week. The smart ones are nearly through, while the lazy ones have not commenced.

Saturday afternoon is the harvest time among the merchants in town. Judging from appearances, last Saturday did not yield a bountiful harvest.

Col. J. W. Isler, of Wayne, who has been seriously ill for the past two or three weeks, was in town Saturday. His health is still quite feeble.

Ben F. Sutton, of Bucklebury, took unto himself a third wife on last Thursday. Miss Elsie Herring, of Wayne county, was selected as the bride.

Fishing with hook and line in Bear Creek is a paying business to some. Henry Bunn caught a "chub-fish" that weighed, when first caught, 91 pounds. So says the fisherman.

Lewis Hinson, the man who hand-stitched Henry Sutton's head, was up before Capt. W. S. Byrd, and discharged without bond. It is curious to know how aggravated cases can be made to appear, and upon investigation the evidence is entirely different.

The colored element in the Republican party of this State have conventioned. I see that one of the grievances set forth is that the colored people are partially excluded from sitting on juries. Any person, be he white or colored, who complains because he is excluded from the jury box, discloses the fact that he is entirely unfit to serve. It is about time for the political cauldron to boil, and we may expect to see the scum rise.

Lenoir Letter.

CONTENTS: N. C. NEWS, April 4, 1882. MESSRS. EDITORS:—Though the JOURNAL has departed from the "Monumental City" and has taken up its abode in the "City of Hills" still we all feel a deep and abiding interest in its welfare and success. After seeing your issue of last week, we now feel assured that we will not only receive the benefit of all local news which the JOURNAL has heretofore contained, but a vastly improved paper, which will wield a wide moral and political influence in Eastern Carolina. We have heard many expressions of satisfaction with the first issue. Accept our congratulations upon the bright prospects which lie before you.

The farmers of this section are busily engaged in preparing their lands for planting. There will be a slight increase in the acreage in cotton. Small grain is looking unusually well. We venture the assertion that there is some as fine wheat in this township as there is in the county. We have some excellent farmers. Messrs. A. G. Coward, W. E. Rountree, C. T. Barwick, B. M. Abbott and several others in our community are not only making a living, but are making money on their farms. There is a great amount of prospective land in this township. Only pluck and energy are necessary to make it the garden spot of the county.

We are not lagging behind in material improvement. Mr. Jno. L. Myers has lately completed a large and commodious dwelling. Mr. Frank Rountree is building. Mr. A. G. Coward will begin during the month the erection of an elegant two-story dwelling. The Masonic Lodge at Bethel is now being painted and plastered. When the work now being done upon it is completed, this building will be an ornament to the community. The lower floor is used for a school room and is now occupied by Mr. J. D. Murphy, who has a flourishing school. The many public spirited citizens are fully alive on the subject of education. The good seeds sown by "Ye Editor" during the winter, while acting as county superintendent of public schools were not sown in vain. The people are beginning to realize that they can go on progress without culture and no culture without schools.

Mr. Lewis Kilpatrick, one of our best citizens who has been in bad health for some time, we are glad to say, is rapidly improving.

Some of the fairest among the fair daughters of Lenoir were visiting the family of Mr. W. H. Rountree last week. Lenoir feels proud of her many charming belles. Why there are so many old bachelors in the county is a mystery to your old and humble correspondent.

Jones County Items.

Commissioner's meeting to-day, not so many present as usual.

The farmers in county generally are very well advanced this spring in preparing for their crops and in planting. Jones county can boast of having as practical, energetic and well to do farmers as any county in the State. I am glad to see men diversifying their crops and especially have they planted more small grain than usual. I think a variety of crops may prove profitable as well as a more certain mode of farming.

I offer diversifying as a suggestion to the farmers and I hope you will discuss the subject through the columns of your paper.

Willie Hatcher is a nephew of Mrs. Parker about 14 years of age, died in this place last Saturday night, of heart disease.

Miss Hattie Moses of Kinston is visiting Mrs. Capt. Page.

Dr. J. H. Scarborough of Sampson county has located at this place to practice his profession. The Dr. has had two or three years practice and speaks quite a good English, and I am confident he will succeed.

The superior court of this county convenes next week, the criminal docket is very small which speaks well for the morality of the county.

Three young Kinstonians, David Walsh, Geo. H. Herring and Poly Griffin were in the city on Sunday. It is said that a recent visit to Kinston by some of New Bern's fair daughters will prove profitable to the Midland as these young men take advantage of every Sunday train. One of these remained until the "small hours" on Sunday night and returned on the freight Monday morning.

We noticed another one on Monday, W. B. Bunn, assured us he was of business strictly.

The steamer Trent left on Monday with a good load of fertilizers and general merchandise for Jolly Old field, and a flat in tow loaded with fertilizers consigned to Gristley & Dixon, Snow Hill.

The County Commissioners have authorized their chairman to instruct W. H. Ellison to have Willis bridge across Swift Creek, between Greensport and Snow Hill.

Rev. E. G. Vann, of New Bern, a minister of the Presbyterian Church, preached in the Methodist Church in this place on Sunday. We have heard his sermons spoken highly of throughout the City Economic.

The revival at the Methodist church continues with much interest. Twenty-eight joined the church on Sunday on Sunday night quite a number were at the altar. Dr. Burkhead is a very forcible speaker, and his manner of presenting truths carries conviction to the heart.

The Continentals went out on yesterday with a full load of fertilizers and general merchandise, for points on Trent river above Pollockville, and for Trenton.

The Continentals carried more freight for J. B. Banks than any other steamer along Trent river.
