SENATE LAWYERS HOLD ANTI-LYNCHING BILL IS UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Senator Borah, Republican, Reporting For Sub-Committee, Points Out That Highest Court Has Already So Held; Overman in Accord With This View.

WASHINGTON, May 23.—An opinion that the anti-lynching bill passed recently by the House is unconstitutional and should not be enacted by Congress was submitted today to the Senate Judiciary committee by a sub-committee headed by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho.

BIG HEADS MUST CEASE VISITING

God Forbid That There Should Be a Breach Between Peoples of English Tongues Says Marshall

LONDON, May 23.—Thomas R. Marshall, former vice-president of the United States, who was the principal guest at a luncheon given today by the English Union, declared he could be no real understanding of harmony while "fat, smug American grandees, pretending to represent the United States, come to London to cut a swath on Piccadilly row and while cynical, self-sufficient English visitors come to America to criticize the provincial characteristics of the American people."

THE LEVIATHAN

In requesting the shipping board not to change the name of the Leviathan to his own, President Harding has acted both with character and good taste and an appreciation of the eternal fitness of things. The present name, as he truly says, has an overpowering national sentiment, because it is so intimately associated in the popular mind with the record performance of the mighty vessel in carrying the troops of the American expeditionary force to and from the battlefields of Europe.

DES JOHNNYCAKES? RAIS OUL!

Uncle Sam sold 65,000,000 bushels of Indian corn abroad in the first three months of this year. At last Europeans are coming to like Johnnycake and corn bread and corn fritters and corn flapjacks and maybe just plain cornmeal mush. Duties are coming to like these things, for they are the people who have bought our corn thus far. Maybe Johnnycake will be the amalgam which will get the world together. Who can tell?—St. Paul Post.

Will Pave Road From Wayne County Line to Warsaw

(Special to The News) RALEIGH, May 23.—Four delegations, seeking roads in a half dozen counties, filled the day for the state highway commission. With the road work now extending into practically every county, the commission is facing the task of pacifying route losers. Raleigh hotel lobbies were crowded with members of the delegations, and highway politics was the big topic of discussion. More than one hundred people were represented in the four delegations appearing before the commission today. Others are scheduled to air their grievances tomorrow.

WANTING INFLUENCE OF ANTI-TAXERS IS MARKED IN STATE

Heriot Clarkson Has Found A Bible Name for Those Who Have Been Noisy

GOVERNOR'S STATEMENT HAS CLARIFIED THINGS

(Special to The News) RALEIGH, May 23.—Men of public interests coming to Raleigh report the state in the throes of its greatest fight between the "anti-taxers" and progress as the "so-called anti-taxers" make war on the apostles of advancement. Each one of the hundred counties has its organized campaign against taxation, with its leaders either seeking a seat in the public councils of the state or endeavoring to wield an influence in the selection of applicants. In most of the counties the fight has thus far been ineffective, and the next general assembly is not expected to suffer through the activity of the reactionary. The 12 months' building campaign in practically every county has brought the added figures on the tax slips and this, it is believed, has been chiefly responsible for the anti-tax uprising. Then the state put on its big program and while it has not called upon the pocket book of the individual for any increased allowances, the job it has undertaken looks so big as to make it seem impossible to put it over without calling heavily upon the average citizen.
