

Jesus Christ Is Only Refuge To Which Men May Turn

WITHOUT HIM SIN IS BOUND TO MASTER

In Soul Stirring Sermon Evangelist Sets Forth Only Possible Hope

UP TOWN MEETING THIS AFTERNOON

Mrs. Ham, After Giving Faithful Service in Meeting, Goes Home To Place Children in School and Little Daughter Declares She Expects To Come To Goldsboro on Her Honeymoon

BY R. S. PICKENS

Speaking along the same line he pursued the night before, Mr. Ham last night delivered the most evangelical sermon of the meeting. He spoke in the morning on "The Christian Race" and out in Pikeville at three o'clock he spoke on the three resurrections.

At morning service the crowd was large, almost filling the tent, and then at Pikeville hundreds of people gathered around the steps of the school building to hear the minister.

The Pikeville folks had built seats out in the open and after a short song service the evangelist spoke at length on the raising of the three people from the dead that took place during the life of Christ.

Tonight's subject is "The Unpardonable Sin" and the sermon on that subject is said to be the strongest the minister preaches.

Coming Back on Honeymoon Last night was Mrs. Ham's last service at the tent. She left after the service for the Kentucky home of the evangelist to arrange for the entering of her little girls in school.

Since coming to Goldsboro she has attended every service and her work at the piano has been that of an artist. She plays with the exquisite touch of a born musician and still is able to obtain the great volume so necessary in playing for an orchestra and a large choir.

The two little girls went back to Kentucky with her, and just before leaving Martha Elizabeth stated with all earnestness that she was coming back to Goldsboro on her honeymoon. The two little girls, always at the tent, have grown to be favorites with the crowd.

Their uniformly correct behavior had led the choir to fall in love with them. Mrs. Hardy Thompson will take Mrs. Ham's place at the piano.

Up Town Service The first up town service of the meeting will take place in the Farmer's Bank and Trust Company this afternoon at four o'clock and will continue until 4:30 o'clock. The men are urged to be present at the meeting.

Wednesday night Mr. Ham talked on the need of a refuge from an accusing conscience. Last night he took a few things from which a man needs a refuge, and then presented the reasons for accepting Christ as this refuge.

"I want you people tonight to note a few things from which a man needs a refuge. We took up only one class last night in our message, but tonight we want to take up several classes.

COTTON GROWERS EXPECT TO HANDLE 600,000 BALES IN N. C.

Falling in Line With Tobacco Growers Who Are Tying Up South Carolina

ABOUT 58 PER CENT ALREADY SIGNED IN S. C.

Raleigh, July 6.—With 58 percent of the tobacco crop of South Carolina on signed contract listed by growers, by pounds and acres, at Raleigh headquarters of the tobacco growers cooperative association, officials of the organized tobacco growers here today made light of the report of independent warehousemen that only 26 percent of the South Carolina crop was signed with the association.

Hundreds of new contracts arriving daily from South Carolina are pushing the large majority membership of the big producing counties to higher percentage each week. Williamsburg county now passes a 90 percent sign-up; Florence county is strongly climbing from 80 to 90 percent, and Darlington county, which signed over a hundred growers in the last few days, is close to the three quarter mark. Robeson county sent in 72 contracts in a single day last week and is now close to a 90 percent membership.

At Wilson Saturday. With Oliver J. Sands, executive manager of the association, and George A. Norwood president of the growers association due to speak at a mammoth mass meeting of Eastern Carolina farmers and merchants in Wilson next Saturday, the last barriers of opposition to the new system of marketing are visibly weakened.

Tobacco growers of Western Carolina, from Guilford, Rockingham, Stokes and Randolph counties, will rally for a last great meeting at the old battle ground of Guilford, Saturday July 15th, when J. H. Craig, former bank examiner of South Carolina and now treasurer of the 75,000 organized growers in the marketing association, will make the principal address.

The North Carolina cotton growers cooperative association, which has had its headquarters in the same building with the tobacco growers association, has moved into new quarters, preparatory to completing its organization for the handling of over three hundred thousand bales of cotton this fall for its 27,000 members. This association is putting on an active campaign to bring its sign-up to 600,000 bales of cotton for this season.

DEATH OF LITTLE DILLON CHILD

The five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Dillon, "R. H. Jr." died at eleven o'clock last night at the home of his parents, 413 S. John street. The little fellow had been in bed six weeks, all the while struggling bravely to recover. Some weeks ago he fell down stairs and was severely injured and remained in a weakened condition. The whooping cough was contracted and this was the immediate cause of his death.

The funeral may be held this afternoon, though this depends upon whether or not relatives arrive in time. Mr. and Mrs. Dillon formerly lived in Greensboro, and came to this city about two years ago.

GOLDSBORO ENJOYS HALF HOLIDAY IN STORES AND OFFICES

First Trial of Afternoon Closing During July and August Is Fine Success

SEVERAL MORE WILL "FALL IN" NEXT WEEK

Goldsboro presented a cityfied air yesterday afternoon with most of the stores and lots of the downtown offices closed while employees and employees gobbled about in cooling waters and gambled over the Fair ground greens. An accurate count of the stores that closed was not made but practically every member of the Merchants Association making the pledge sometime ago to grant a half holiday to employees clamped the lid on at one o'clock yesterday and a lot who had not signed up followed suit.

Others, who remained open yesterday afternoon, some because they forgot it was Thursday until too late to shut up—a few to see how the thing was working—promised to close next Thursday and the Thursday next and next until the last Thursday in the month of August.

"We are glad enough for our employees to have the half day off," a member of one of the leading firms of the city said yesterday afternoon. "We believe it is line with modern business methods and that the increased efficiency among our salespeople and office workers will more than compensate us for any possible loss in business."

There was another side to it, too. The employees who were enjoying the half holiday were grateful. Some of them spent it in resting while many others were hilarious. A scant few remained at their posts with the doors closed and the curtains down but most employees joined merrily in the program.

Not a few folks forgot about the half day closing and came down town "especially to get in—store." That store happened to be closed and the particular clerk she wanted to see was wrapped in a stunning bathing suit that would draw the spotlight at Atlantic City and lighting off a high springboard at Riverport.

Every bank in the city closed and the officials, for the most part, were out on a lark with as much abandon as their clerks and tellers. Stenographers whose employers haven't signed up were almost mutinous but were calmed with the assurance that the try out of a half holiday in the stores was such a success it seems sure to spread to the office buildings by next Thursday.

Following is a list of the firms which were closed yesterday or gave assurance that they expect to be closed next Thursday afternoon: Mrs. John S. Dorch, Mrs. G. E. Hodgin, N. A. Edwards, W. Ellis, A. Phillips, M. M. Abadie, Barnes Gro. Carolina Power & Light Co., J. G. Derr, C. Z. Kadis, Heilig & Meyers, S. Heedin, Goldsboro Shoe Co., M. Mansour, Solly Kaleak, Junius Kanan, Parks Gro. TRAPPED IN TUNNEL SUBWAY PASSENGERS OVERCOME BY FUMES

500 New Yorkers Converted Into Shrieking Mob as Result of Blaze

THREE NOT EXPECTED TO RECOVER; MIRACLE

NEW YORK, July 6.—Trapped in a dark subway tunnel, seventy five feet below the street and reeking with gas fumes and smoke, nearly five hundred men, women and children and passengers on an East side train of the In-terborough Rapid Transit company today were converted into a frenzied, shrieking mob, almost a third of whose members were overcome before they could fight their way to safety.

A worse spot for such an accident scarcely could have been found than Lexington avenue and sixtieth street where the train came to its sudden halt. There is no express station between Grand Central Terminal at 42nd street and 86th street. The express tracks are three tiers down beneath the local tube of the I. R. T. and the cross-tunnel of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company and the only exits are three narrow, little spiral stairways to the street. These were jammed with fugitives from the scene below. A little fire extinguisher whose contents were turned on a tiny blaze in a motorman's control box was held responsible by police and fire officials for the clouds of poisonous fumes and smoke sent swirling down.

More than three scores of those overcome were in so serious a condition as to require hospital treatment while the number who were treated on the street and in emergency hospitals set up at the scene was placed up at about 100.

Opportunity Is Unheeded By Those Who Will Not See

Goldsboro News Gift Plan Attracting Remarkably Few Club Members, Despite the Fact Guarantee To All Means Guarantee to You

The many valuable awards to be distributed by The Goldsboro News in its mammoth Salesmanship Club gift distribution are clamoring for more real active hustlers to enter the campaign and extend some real effort to land them. And when it is taken into consideration that every active participant is guaranteed either a cash prize or one of the larger awards, it seems strange that so few readers are taking advantage of this tremendous profit-sharing opportunity.

If you were offered a sure thing without a penny of cost, a new 1932 model touring car worth $1750, or a motor car worth $490 and another motor car worth $490 for a little of your interest and spare time during the next few weeks, would you take it?

Or, if you were offered a bag of gold to stand back and say, "Surely it is not real, I never did or never could get so much so quickly or so easily." Or, if you were offered 10c on the dollar for every collection you secured, would you believe it possible? Wouldn't you think that a mighty generous reward for spending a few moments of your spare time collecting credits? And, while thinking of these things, are you going to let the "other fellow" have the good things?

Opportunity For All. The pessimist sees only the hole in the doughnut while the optimist—well, you know the rest. Look for the beautiful if you would have it. Cash in on your opportunities that are offered you if you would profit accordingly.

OFFICIALS SAYS STRIKERS' JOBS WILL BE FILLED

NEW YORK, July 6.—Reports that a considerable number of striking shippers had returned to their tools today and that satisfactory staffs of new men were being hired to replace those still out were issued by officials of several railroads entering the port of New York area.

The Lehigh Valley announced that its absent shippers will lose their service privileges unless they resume work by midnight tomorrow. The Lackawanna announced that one hundred strikers had come back at the Gingsland shops. Most of the 80 per cent of DeWitts and Hudson shippers who quit their posts Saturday remain out, but 500 new men have been put in their places. It was said by L. F. Lorce, president of the line.

The Erie announced it had hired between 800 and 900 new men of whom 150 are negroes. None of the Baltimore and Ohio strikers are returning, it was said by one of the officials of that road who added that 250 new men have been employed in the past 24 hours.

United States Deputy Marshal J. J. Joyner, of Wilson, yesterday seized twelve bottles of "De Witt's Electro Cure" in the store of D. F. Clark, colored groceryman on North John street, under government libel charging that the alleged medicine contained a greater alcoholic content than the label indicated.

Clark was summoned to appear before Federal Judge Henry G. Connor in Wilson at the October next term of court and make explanation. He was not placed under arrest but was recognized under the libel proceedings sent down here by Assistant United States District Attorney W. G. Briggs, of Raleigh.

The "De Witt's Electro Cure" is distributed by a Baltimore-based distributor the second lot of it seized in Eastern North Carolina by the Federal Agents. It is advertised, on the bottle, as a cure for dizziness, headache, backache, gout, liver troubles, eczema, rheumatism, malaria and a dozen other human ailments.

AYCOCK STATUE TO BE UNVEILED IN RALEIGH NEXT JULY

Gutson Borghum, Well Known Sculptor, To Execute Memorial to Carolinian

FUNDS RAISED BY VOLUNTARY SUBSCRIPTIONS

By Brock Barkley. RALEIGH, July 7.—Gutson Borghum, one of the most distinguished sculptors America has yet produced, will make the monument to Charles Brantley Aycock and it probably will be unveiled in Capital Square on July 4 of next year.

This announcement was made today by the special committee charged with the task of selecting the sculptor, the committee consisting of Col. F. M. Parrish, Joseph Daniels, E. C. Brooks, R. D. W. Connor and F. D. Winston.

The selection of Mr. Borghum, no doubt will give universal satisfaction. He is already known to the people of North Carolina by his wonderfully spirited statue of Henry L. Wyatt in Capital Square, and by his equally popular statue of Senator Vance erected by the state in Statuary Hall, Washington. Many other North Carolinians have admired his Sheridan monument in Washington, his colossal head of Lincoln in the rotunda of the National Capitol, and his statue of the North Carolina aviator, McConnell, recently erected at the University of Virginia.

Many other striking works of his might be mentioned. The New York Times of last Sunday had a full page illustrated article describing his new $100,000 war group to be erected at Newark, N. J. At Stone Mountain, Ga., Mr. Borghum is directing the most colossal achievement in statuary yet attempted on this continent, the picturing of the armies of the Confederacy and their leaders on a granite cliff 1,700 feet long and 800 feet high.

The preliminary sketch for the Aycock monument, submitted by Mr. Borghum, calls for a standing bronze figure of the man against a granite background extending 18 feet, the statue flanked by base reliefs interpreting the spirit and ideals of the educational governor. Mr. Borghum expects to have his models ready for final selection by the committee and family in early fall and expects to have the entire work ready for unveiling by July 4 of next year.

Erected by Voluntary Gifts. The monument completed will cost $18,000, the entire amount being raised by voluntary gifts from the people and school children of North Carolina. The committee has insisted on financing the work in this way without asking for or receiving any appropriation from the legislature. The work has been delayed because just as it got well under way the war broke out, and war, panics and other disturbances have delayed action until this time. But within another year the committee believes its labors will find fruition in perhaps the most distinguished piece of statuary in North Carolina. George C. Royall, of Goldsboro, is chairman of the general committee, and Nathan O'Berry, chairman of the finance committee.

Foster Mother Dies Of Joy As Girl Weds

NEW YORK, July 5.—As the first notes of the wedding march sounded for the marriage of Miss Ethel Soderofsky and Louis Gelman, at Bethshvan Hall, No. 210 Fifth Street, there was a little flurry at the door. Mrs. William Moses, No. 1305 Brook Avenue, the bride's cousin and foster-mother of the bride, entering with her husband, suddenly staggered and called for a chair.

Guests carried her out quietly. The wedding ceremony proceeded and the bride and bridegroom received congratulations and left for their honeymoon without knowing that a tragedy had occurred.

ALL GUARDS ARMED TO SHOOT QUICKLY

Postmaster General Has Instructed Men to Shoot Upon Provocation

NO ANXIETY ABOUT MOVEMENT OF MAILS

If Regular Guards Should Be Insufficient To Repel Any Obstruction Marines Will Be Called Upon to Back Them Up Says Attorney General

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Postmaster General Work issued instructions tonight to division superintendents of the railway mail service to report to Washington immediately any attempt on the part of railway strikers to hamper movements and to advise the prosecuting attorneys in those sections where disturbances occur with a view to aiding in prosecutions.

No further reports were received by the department during the day from its inspectors in Missouri and Louisiana where strikers were reported yesterday to have attempted to obstruct Federal clerks assigned to mail trains. The postmaster general declared that mail clerks were adequately equipped with instructions to shoot upon provocation and that if they failed to do with any situation, marines would be called into service.

"I am confident that any movement of the railway mail service, even if carried off the present situation, will be the department will avail itself of the services of the marines in such a case, such as the case of the wholesale pilfering of a mail bag."

Let the public have no apprehensions about the movement of the United States mails; they will go forward promptly and promptly, strike or no strike.

DOCTOR IS SEARCHING FOR LACK OF WORK

News Discovers First Class Practitioner Who Admits He Wants More to Do

Not entirely satisfied with having discovered a city manager running a municipality on a short budget and coming out of the year with money in the bank, The News is now able to point—and with some pride—to a man on the government pay roll who admits that he hasn't enough work to do. Most of these fellows who live on tax payers' money—and some of them hold positions more by virtue of word healing qualities than professional capacity—cry aloud, when accosted in the subject, that they are worked to death. Long has it been the wonder that more did not die and many souls weep because of the hardships of holding office. Of course not all government employees, whether Federal or State government, come under the same class. There are many hard working men on both pay rolls who do great work and lots of it. Occasionally "a rare bird" turns up.

All of which is by way of calling attention to the free dental clinic now under way at the court house from nine until five. Already hundreds of Goldsboro children, under the age of thirteen, have been beneficiaries of the co-operative arrangement between the county and the State Board of Health.

"I haven't enough work to do," moaned Dr. R. L. Underwood, dentist in charge of the clinic yesterday afternoon. "I have too much to do and I don't particularly care for reading. Please say in the paper that I can take care of at least a thousand more Goldsboro children, under this new arrangement between the county and the State Board of Health, who need dental treatment."
