ARMISTICE

Lest We Forget

On the morning of November 11, 1918, millions of war-weary men were released from the pitiless struggle.

Four years have not dimmed the memory of our first exultation over peace, with victory for the ideals of our homeland.

Yet there are many with whom the horrors of war will always remain, to remind us, while celebrating victory, to cherish the ideals of a peace so dearly won.

Will you join with this bank in its pledge to carry on their spirit of loyalty and service, thus making Armistice Day truly significant.

Mr. Nathan O'Berry, Goldsboro, N. C. My dear Mr. O'Berry: I am enclosing you check for $335.00. I will send balance in a short time. Sickness and election have prevented me from collecting full amount, but it will certainly come forward before very long. I assure you my dear Sir, that nothing has given me more pleasure than being able to have my county share in the memorial of one of the greatest governors North Carolina has ever had, and thousands of children are today being educated due more to Charles B. Aycock than any other one man in North Carolina. You must feel mighty good this morning over the election. Very sincerely yours, (Signed) A. H. ROYDEN.
