

NEWS OF THE CITY

LAYMEN'S FEDERATION TO MEET AT EVENING

The Christian Laymen's Federation will hold services at Ebenezer church in Fork Township, next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Prof. Hunt and orchestra will furnish music during the services. Everyone is cordially invited to attend and is requested to bring a Ham-Ramsey revival song book.

LOST HIS HORSE

Ben Whitley, a colored farmer living on Mr. N. W. Boye's land on Goldsboro R. F. D. 5, is missing a horse today. Yesterday Ben drove his horse and buggy to town and tied the horse in the lot back of Handy and Stallings' stable. He tied the animal with a rope good and strong. When he went back some hours later horse and buggy were gone without a trace. He reported the matter to the police and also offers a reward for information, but so far no information has come.

COTTON COMING IN

Yesterday was a big day with the Wayne Bonded Warehouse, Manager Dickerson having received and stored

500 bales. Something over three hundred of these came in on the railroads. Already the warehouse has stored 5,000 bales, practically all of it cotton belonging to the Co-operatives. The warehouse structure is now about complete and indications are that it will be full in a short time.

DR WALL TO PREACH THANKSGIVING SERMON

Dr. Zeno Wall will preach a special Thanksgiving sermon at the First Baptist church this morning. There will be a free-will offering for the Baptist orphanage at Thomasville and for the Kennedy home.

Special music and other features of the day have been planned.

Any one who will clip this Advertisement and present it may have his Battery, "any make," recharged for $1.00.

THE A. T. GRIFFIN CO. ONE OF CITY'S ASSETS

Remarkable Record Achieved By Local Company for Many Years of Town's Growth

With stock and service unexcelled in Eastern North Carolina, the A. T. Griffin Manufacturing Company, of Goldsboro has prospered since it was established in 1905. During seventeen years of business the plant has never shut down for lack of orders or neglected to declare dividends. Every year has shown a balance on the right side of the ledger with the exception of one. No change has been made in the officers with the exception of when A. T. Griffin turned over the office of secretary-treasurer to his son, E. A. Griffin. The officers are: J. L. Borden, president; A. T. Griffin, vice-president and general manager and E. A. Griffin, secretary-treasurer. The directors: C. Dewey; J. L. Borden, F. K. Borden, George C. Royal, Joe Rosenthal and A. T. Griffin.

Covering two city blocks and with ideal railroad facilities, the A. T. Griffin Manufacturing Company makes a specialty of finished material for residences and carries a stock of both white and yellow pine for use in the manufacturing thereof. They carry all kinds of building material and ship to all points in Eastern North Carolina. No prices are quoted to northern markets. The office is located near the corner of George and Beach streets. When the company was organized in 1905, Goldsboro boasted of a population of about 3,500. Since then the A. T. Griffin Manufacturing Company has done much to build up the community and their progressive policy is in keeping with the spirit of greater Goldsboro. When asked for a statement A. T. Griffin said: "We are just lumbering along, but that's our business."

The Children at Xmas Time

Mothers, how precious will be the photographs of your children in years to come. Nothing is so acceptable for Christmas gifts; so permanent—or so economical.

THE PILGRIM FATHERS WHO ESTABLISHED
OUR FIRST THANKSGIVING DAY WERE
HUMBLE AND GOD FEARING PEOPLE.
THEY WERE ALSO FRUGAL PEOPLE

The example of piety is worthy of all emulation.

And their habit of frugality, though necessary in that day, is no less necessary today to the man who would be happy and prosperous.

Piety and spendthriftiness do not go together often. Power is based upon conservation and proper use, not upon abuse.

Let us talk to you about the value of saving.
