This is a matter that The Goldsboro News would like to see settled by ballot. Both sides should have an equal voice, children as well as grown-ups, flappers as well as staid matrons, sinners as well as reformers can all speak their mind with the assurance that their names will not be pub-lished, but each ballot must be signed so that an accurate check can be kept to prevent ballot box stuffing. The Literary Digest conducted a nation-wide straw ballot contest on the liquor question, and now The Goldsboro News will conduct a similar vote to determine whether or not the movie fans of Goldsboro and Wayne county want to laugh at fatty's antics. Just use the following ballot and vote as you see fit: you see fit:
