Wholesale Indictment Of War Dollar Men In Wilson's Administration

Include One Assistant Secretary In Cabinet And Number Of Biggest Business Men Throughout War—Charge Conspiracy Defraud Government

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Benedict Crowell, assistant secretary of war under the Wilson administration, and six "dollar a year" men associated with the council of national defense, were indicted here today by the special grand jury investigating war frauds on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government in construction of wartime army camps and cantonments. The others indicted were:

William A. Starrett, Morton C. Tuttle, Clemens W. Lundoff, Clair Foster, John H. McGibbons, James A. Morris.

Charge Conspiracy

The indictment charges a conspiracy to maintain existing laws and regulations; to control the giving of contracts to friends, associates and clients under the "cost plus" system, which it is charged resulted in a loss to the government of millions of dollars and reduced the morale of labor.

The indictments are the first big salvo in attorney General Daugherty's attacks on many war time contractors which the department of justice holds after exhaustive investigation to be fraudulent. Others are expected to follow and it is estimated that the amounts involved when the attorney general's full program is under way will run into hundreds of millions of dollars.

Today's indictments came as the result of consideration by the grand jury of a mass of evidence which the attorney general had been gathering for 18 months. It was presented by former Representative McCulloch of Ohio now a special attorney general.

The indictments, applying to all named alike, charges that contractors, the agents, engineers, architects and officers of the government entered a conspiracy to set up a system profitable to the contractors and prejudicial to the government, and to control the giving of contracts to friends, associates and clients, past and prospective committee of the council of national defense, the indictment, charge, was used as the vehicle for carrying out the alleged plan.

Charge 47 Frauds

The government charged that the alleged conspirators used their membership on the committee to unlawfully influence other officers of the United States in the plans and policies for carrying out the war time construction program; to attain the "cost plus" systems; to eliminate usual safeguards for the government and to defeat checking up and supervising the contractors.

The indictments, which charge 47 overt acts, further charge that the alleged conspirators used their positions for their own gain, and assisted con-

ABERNETHY SECURES G SMITH'S RELEASE

Moves on the Powers That "Be" Despite Opposition of Naval Captain

George Smith, son of James A. Smith of Mt. Olive, has been ordered and transferred to the east coast and will receive his discharge from the American navy as soon as he arrives, according to a telegram to Congressman Charles Laban Abernethy, it was stated yesterday by his secretary J. J. Hatch, who is still in the city spending the Christmas holidays. For a while it was reported that young Smith was not to receive his discharge, that the captain and therefore he wouldn't. Congressman Abernethy, however, move the powers that be to action and Admiral Thomas Washington, of Washington, orders his release, and that is all there is to it.

IRVIN S. COBB AT HIS OLD JOB FOR ONE NIGHT

PADUCAH, KY., Dec. 30.—Irvin S. Cobb held down the job of Managing Editor last night of the News-Democrat the paper he left in 1904 to go to the New York Sun.

From his old desk, a fixture in the News-Democrat office, he supervised preparation of copy and, among other things wrote a signed story.

Many Paducahans visited the office to see Editor Cobb in action.

Mr. Cobb, a native of Paducah, was visiting his mother Mrs. Marie Cobb here. Responding to an urge to "get back into harness", he accepted an invitation from G. H. Goodman, publisher of the News-Democrat to hold the editorial reins for one night.

BEAUTIFUL WOMAN NEARLY LOSES MIND OVER LOVE-AFFAIR

Miss Lela Lynch, Age 19, In Pitiful Mental State As a Result

BELIEVED THAT SHE MAY RECOVER

Lela Lynch, age 19, young woman woman clerking in a local store for the past few weeks, has lost power over her mental faculties; and it is believed by physicians who attended her that it was caused by an unhappy love affair with Lester Mitchell, of State college. The beautiful young woman who has been raving at intervals for the past few days and who told snatches of her experience, to A. E. Howell, superintendent of public welfare, was carried to the state hospital yesterday. Some say that all of the mental anxiety was caused by the opposition of her uncle, W. H. Capps, of Princeton, to her marriage to young Mitchell. Others say that young Mitchell who is taking vocational training at State college and has been working night and day to complete his studies, neglected his home girl. Still others knowingly declare that Mitchell found another sweetheart in Raleigh and that the beautiful Miss Lynch found out about it and couldn't stand the mental stress.

Mr. Howell is of the opinion that her condition is only a temporary derangement and that it will yield to psychiatric treatment. Rest, proper food, quiet surroundings are some of the things he believes she needs. Her case is defined as, "Dementia-precocox." Friends here, and strangers, too, have expressed a great deal of interest in the case. Some have declared that she is very beautiful, above the average in intelligence, and talented as well. A note of sympathy has sounded by those who understand she is an orphan. Several times she has tried to tell the story to her brother-in-law Willie Howell, but since her mental confusion she always gets confused before getting very far. At times she throws her arms about her friends necks and goes off incoherently into a semi-ritical of her experiences.

"SAIL ON! OH DEAR CONFREE COMFORT"

Chief Gets Sore At Insulting Interview, Orders Man Away, Hence and Forever

KINSTON, N. C., Dec. 28.—Then Everington showed the gentlemen the door. Being a religious man, he gave him a slip of paper bearing the two words "Goldboro" and "Greenville." Had he not been religious, he stated today, he would have told him to go—elsewhere. A perturbed Comfort resident whizzed into the police station here in high gear and told George Everington, police chief that his 18 year old son had run away and was bent on joining the navy. Comfort is remote from here, some hours' ride, and the Kinston police have no jurisdiction there nor particular interest in the recruiting stations and stop this thing," said the visitor. Everington resisted a moment and then acquiesced. He would be accommodating, he decided. "Where are the stations?" he asked. "There's one at Greenville," the visitor replied. Everington made a note on paper. "Another at Goldboro," the Comfort man said. Another on the paper. "Where are some more?" asked Everington. "I don't know—just 'phone 'em all around. You ought to know where they're at—don't you know?" The discomfited Comfort man was peevish. "No, I don't know where they're at," the chief confessed. "Then it's a pity you're so d-d ignorant," said the conferee from Comfort. That was where Everington terminated the interview. "Get out of here," he ordered. His dignity and his comfort man were both ruffled. The lost youth may even now be sailing, sailing, over the bounding main, for all that Everington knows.

MORE BIRTHS THAN DEATHS IN GOLDSBORO THIS YEAR

Births exceeded deaths in Goldboro during 1922 by 114, according to official records kept by Registrar Robt. C. Creech.

TEN STORY BUILDING MARK SKY LINE 1924

Wayne National Bank Change Plans From $150,000 to $350,000 Building

Before the advent of 1924 the new home of the Wayne National Bank will rear its proud height above Goldboro and increase the sky line to ten stories. It will be an edifice that any city can well be proud of. Constructed of granite, brick and terra cotta it will be modern in every respect and will involve an expenditure of $350,000, the plans having been enlarged since the original building permit was issued for $150,000.

The Wayne National Bank will occupy the ground floor, the mezzanine floor and the basement. The upper stories will be given over to officials which will be served by two elevators of the latest design intended for speed and safety.

The building will be of steel and reinforced concrete. The drawing of the amended structure will be received in a few days when the News will publish a picture of the building as it will look when completed.

Two vaults will be provided on the ground floor. One for books and records, the other for cash and securities. The latter will be the very last word in burglar proof construction. There will also be safety deposit boxes for individual use.

The basement will be used for storage of valuables such as silver, works of art or other belongings of people who may be out of the city and do not want to leave them in their homes during their absence. This feature has proven useful in other cities.

In speaking of their new building, Vice President and Cashier W. E. Stroud said: "We have an abiding faith in the future of Goldboro, Wayne County and Eastern North Carolina, has a trading territory that calls for increased banking facilities and for this reason we feel justified in erecting our new home. We are confident of the future and look for a prosperous New Year. In 1922 our daily deposits averaged $400,000.00 better than in 1921."

Two Million Dollars Worth Cotton Handled On Local Market 1922

In the neighborhood of $2,000,000.00 worth of cotton was marketed locally during 1922. This is an estimate of from 20,000 to 22,000 bales which sold at an average of about twenty cents a pound. In speaking of the cotton situation for this year B. G. Thompson said: "Prices ranged from 16 1/2 to 26 1/2 cents per pound during the year and I would say that the average price was around 20 cents. This is for middling cotton. Ginning to date in the county for 1922 is a little less than 25,000 bales, while in 1921 it was 34,000 bales, a decrease of 9,000 bales on an increased acreage of twenty per cent. I would estimate the boll weevil damage at ten per cent, although in some places this amounted to as much as 40 per cent. About 85 per cent of the 1922 crop has been marketed, except that which has gone into the hands of the co-operative association. I find the people of Wayne county in more comfortable circumstances than they were this time last year. The outlook for 1923 is indeed bright. The cotton farmer must heed the presence of the boll weevil and fight him along the best known lines."

HAVING ATTENDANCE TROUBLES AT COGDELL HOWELL DELIVERS ULTIMATUM

Cogdell school is having its attendance troubles these days and County school superintendent Jerome and Welfare Superintendent Howell have delivered their ultimatum. The school was burned in October the day after school started, a church was used temporarily, but some of the children on J. T. Edgerston's place have not attended since and though it is claimed by the distance, measured by Mr. Howell and Mr. Jerome last week that they live beyond limits it is said they are trying to force the heard to put on some means of transportation Mr. Howell says he believes all will enter their children after Monday after the parents meeting.

The solicitor ordered that Baxter's bond be fixed at $10,000.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Authorization for the closing of the Commercial National Bank of Wilmington was sent by the Comptroller of the currency upon receipt by him of information from the national bank examiner of the information indicating the bank insolvency. Establish Curb Market

The Chamber of Commerce, at the present time, is compiling statistics with the view of having established in our city during 1923, first, a local curb market where our farmers can dispose of all of their surplus food products; second, a modern dairy cold storage plant where all surplus milk can be utilized; third, a packing plant where there will be a daily market enabling our

GOLDSBORO IN 1922

In this issue of the Goldsboro News an earnest effort is made to present a comprehensive resume of what Goldsboro has accomplished in 1922. It is a story of remarkable achievement. Almost a score of different articles by people who are identified with the making of a city are presented in this issue of The News. They tell their own story and these stories are well worth reading. This will be an annual feature of The Goldsboro News.

FAIR MONUMENTAL ACHIEVEMENT OF THE CHAMBER COMMERCE

Planning Curb Market Next Year Keep Pace Million Dollar Improvement

IS ONLY PART OF THINGS PLANNED

(By W. C. DENMARK, Secretary Goldsboro Chamber of Commerce)

It gives us pleasure to comply with your request as to furnishing you with a news article outlining some of the activities of this organization during the closing year. We are positive that if we were to attempt to give you in detail space that has been allotted we would not permit publication. Therefore, we shall confine our remarks to one of our feature achievements.

Our city and county is thoroughly familiar with the development along the lines of manufacturing, street improvements, building and our commercial growth. We are all familiar with the fact that over a million dollars has been appropriated during 1922 within the gates of our city in residential manufacturing and commercial buildings and a similar amount has been spent for city streets and other improvements. This development has taken place because our business interest realizes more strongly than ever before the possibilities of Goldsboro. The Chamber of Commerce being the one commercial organization where over two hundred of our leading citizens and professional men meet with individual ideas as to the purpose of their organization, and realizing that in united man power there is strength, early in 1922 adopted an agricultural program, knowing beyond any doubt that the farm development in Wayne County meant progress for our city. A strong representative committee of our Wayne county farmers was organized, approved our program and pledged themselves to assist in putting it into effect. This program carried a resolution urging the farmers to diversify, to produce more food stuff, consisting of live stock, poultry, corn, potatoes and fruit for canning and drying, and a number of other food products that we have had to buy outside of our county in the past.

Sp eaks For itself.

The Chamber of Commerce, with the support of the above mentioned agricultural committee, promoted and staged our 1922 Fair which spoke for itself. We all realized this fair as being the best we have ever had and its success is due largely to the efforts that our county officials and citizens, both men and women, put forth. We exhibited the most varied line of poultry, live stock and other farm products ever shown in our county and the Chamber of Commerce feels that their efforts in the diversified farming program assisted largely to bring this into reality.

It might be interesting to both our farmers and business interest to know that during the past year it has been necessary for us to purchase from northern, western and eastern markets over two hundred cars of hay, one hundred and nine cars of meat, thirty nine cars of lard, 87 cars of cornmeal twenty six cars of canned goods, forty six cars of corn, seventeen cars of fruits, 854 four cars of vegetable. A total cost of almost a million dollars. The above figures apply only to solid car shipments confined to Goldsboro and do not cover the tons of food products consigned to other railroad points in our county. If you will read carefully again the above mentioned commodities, you will see that there is not one article named that we could not have produced in our county. What would it mean to our farmers, merchants and banks if we had proceeded the above and deposited this amount of money in our local banks. The State Agricultural Department advises us that we send out of our county each year more money for food products than we could produce at some time the total value of our cotton and tobacco crop has amounted to. It is for this reason that the chamber of Commerce has linked itself with the farmers of our county in a united effort to prevent these conditions in the future.

SMUGGLE $7,000,000 WORTH LIQUOR IN N. Y.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—With the subcatcher Hanson of the federal dry navy of the port of New York, tied up at the battery with engines disabled, the narrows were left unguarded long enough today for 15 ram-runners to slip into port with $7,000,000 worth of liquor, according to advice of the New York police department.

SHERIFF'S COHORTS HAVE A GREAT YEAR

"Go-Getters" of Blockaders Cut up 150 Stills, Send Three Scores to Roads

During 1922 Sheriff W. D. Grant, Chink Rhodes, and his other cohorts have destroyed more than 150 stills, sent 60 blockaders and liquor sellers to the roads, including five white men sentenced recently, and destroyed hundreds of barrels of beer and malt, including 57 barrels destroyed in four consecutive days.

In the opinion of officers and court officials, this has been one of the most fruitful of all clean up years. There hasn't been so much destroyed as there was last year, perhaps, it is believed, but it is considered that the quantity is growing more and more scarce despite the abundance the liquor lovers profess exist.

Sheriff Grant and his cohorts by night and by day have combed the county and have brought them in one by one and two by two as the case demanded and Judge Bland and Judge Allen have done the rest. So far only one murderer has escaped the vigilance of the sheriff's officers. That is Jim Greenfield. Some predict that Greenfield will come into city eventually and give up if he is still alive. A funny haze still hangs over the facts of this murder, in the opinion of the officers, and they are by no means sure everything is so, that it is said to be so about it.

TWO MAMMOTH WAREHOUSES ARE BUILT IN YEAR

Two of the most important additions to big business in Goldsboro during 1922 was the erection of two mammoth warehouses to take care of the products of the soil of Eastern North Carolina. The first was constructed by the Co-operative Cotton Growers not for their own use but to provide storage room for cotton growers who do not belong to the organization. This warehouse is spacious and can accommodate 15,000 bales of the fleecy staple. The second warehouse was erected by growers of sweet potatoes and fills a long felt want. It was financed along conservative lines so that at the end of five years the growers will own the building themselves. Goldsboro is doing all in its power to increase the prosperity of agriculturists because it is the center of the richest agricultural belt in the Carolinas.

MORRISON ORDERS GRAY RELEASED

Raleigh N. C., Dec. 30.—Governor Cameron Morrison today rescinded his action of earlier in the week in honoring extradition papers in the case of William Bingham Gray, wanted in Kentucky on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences, after a hearing held at the Governor's office. Gray was immediately given his liberty.

"I have made an investigation of this matter," said the governor, "and while I believe a sincere and honest effort was made to reestablish the school at Mehane, failure has been the result. I do not believe young Gray is guilty of any fraud. I have found that he led his law class at the University of Virginia this year and is considered a very bright man with an excellent future. I do not intend to ruin his life by sending him to Kentucky for trial. "I want to say however that Colonel should discontinue the operation of the school or it will get him into serious trouble," he said.

ODD FELLOWS WILL GIVE HIGH DEGREES

Teams Coming From Raleigh And Durham—Many Big Officials

Grand high officials and degree teams from the Odd Fellows lodges of Raleigh and Durham are coming here tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock to put on the Patriarchal degrees and to organize an encampment. It was stated last night by Grand High Priest D. W. Davis of this city. All of the three or four hundred members of the lodge are requested by Mr. Davis to be at the lodge hall at that hour. Among some of the high officials who will be here is John D. Barry, grand representative.

At 6:30 p. m. there will be a banquet at the Kennon hotel. After supper the Golden Rule and the Royal purple degrees will be conferred a few of the Odd Fellows of this city have had these higher degrees, it was stated, but that there has been no encampment here and that the majority having them is comparatively small.

C. O. S. MAKES 1,000 VISITS AND ANTI-T. B. BEATS 1921 OVER 5700

Combination Red Cross C. O. S. Given Splendid Efficiency Prevents Duplication

SALE CHRISTMAS SEALS MAY BE $1,500

The Charity Organization Society is Goldsboro's name for its associated charities. All relief work carried on in the city limits is under the direction of the C. O. S. with the exception possibly of soldiers' families which fall to the local Red Cross and individual work done by the churches among their needy members.

The C. O. S. is a well organized agency with Mrs. Theo. O'Berry president and has secured the active cooperation of many men and women of the community. Celebrating the fortieth anniversary of its founding on October 30th with a special appeal for funds for 1923, the C. O. S. raised $5,000 for charity work. This drive was planned by A. E. Howell and captained by C. E. Wilkins, Mrs. Tom Norwood and Miss Beale Clayton. The drive came just in time to recoup the rapidly dwindling treasury of the C. O. S. for demands upon it have grown with Goldsboro's increased population and consequent increase of poverty.

The active work of the C. O. S. is handled by Miss Mary Hardy, executive secretary, whose office is in the community building. Miss Hardy's salary and her upkeep are paid jointly by the C. O. S. and the Red Cross; this has proved a most satisfactory arrangement since there can be no duplication of assistance when both local relief agencies are in the hands of a single person.

1,000 Visits to Poor

The secretary's annual report shows almost one thousand visits made to poor families, hospital treatment and medical care secured for nearly two hundred, many school children clothed, transient given aid, children placed in institutions, and over two thousand dollars spent in supplying groceries, fuel, shoes, clothing, medicine and medical treatment for the poor people of the city.

In conjunction with other organizations the C. O. S. assisted in the preparation and distribution of one hundred Thanksgiving banquets, the empty stocking Christmas tree, and the New Year relief work, as well as a great many other movements in which the community has been interested from time to time.

The Anti-Tuberculosis committee is a branch of the Charity Organization Society although its finances are managed separately. Miss Gertrude Wolf is chairman of this body, which raises funds for its maintenance by the sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals. Although it is too recent to give exact figures for 1922 Wayne county exceeded its seals sales for 1921 by several hundred dollars.

Between twelve and fifteen hundred dollars is expected when returns are complete. Ten patients have been sent to Sanatorium, N. C. for treatment, all of these are greatly improved, some are now able to work again. Screens, spitum cups, fresh eggs and milk have been provided for other tuberculosis sufferers. The confidence that the people of Goldsboro have shown in the C. O. S. is a constant stimulus to increased activity.

COLLECTING $60,000 MORE TAX THIS YEAR

City Striving to Make Up For Expenditures of Last Year; Collecting Now

Taxes that will be collected in the city this year and that are collectable at this very moment will amount to more than $60,000 above the taxes collected last year. The reason for this is that the city spent $68,000 more than the income last year. Last year $172,499 was collected on a property valuation of $17,679,000, while this year $236,145 will be collected on a property valuation of more than a million and quarter less than the property valuation of 1921. The difference is the tax rate has been raised from 97 cents to $145.

JACK DEMPSEY TO MEET "STRANGLER LEWIS"

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 30.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, world's champion heavyweight wrestler, announced today that arrangements have been made for a mixed match between Jack Dempsey, heavyweight pugilist (175) holder and himself. Lewis produced signed articles covering the match which was drawn at Wichita Kansas and carried the signature of Jack Kearns, manager for Dempsey.

The article, a sporting writer observed, "contained one million rules as to how the two are to behave themselves."

PREVENTION CORNER STONE OF HEALTH DEPARTMENT'S WORK

Year's Activities Are in Vaccination, Nursing, and Enforcing Sanitary Measures

PUT ON NEW NURSES AND INSPECTORS

(By A. J. ELLINGTON Health Officer)

The phases of health work carried on during the 1922 season by the Goldsboro and Wayne county health department have been numerous and varied. Nineteen different units of work were undertaken. Ten of these units were considered as routine health department duties, while nine special items of work were accomplished. A brief narrative of the year's work is herein presented. A detailed report will be published later.

The Health department which was organized February 1921 under the cooperative plan between the City of Goldsboro, Wayne County and the State, is at present composed of a health officer, who is a graduate public health nurse, a dairy and food inspector, who is a graduate in medicine, a sanitary inspector and an office secretary.

Among the phases of work undertaken during 1922, was a strenuous campaign launched against venereal diseases. Nearly seven hundred blood tests were made of which 25 percent were for syphilis. These cases, mostly colored, were treated in the health department clinic. The value of this work cannot be estimated since we know that syphilis is a transmissible and inheritable disease with serious and often fatal termination, and since untreated syphilis accounts for one third of the inmates in the insane asylums of our state, of gonorrhea, another venereal disease, forty eight cases have been treated in the clinic and by local physicians. Altogether 593 treatments for gonorrhea and syphilis have been given in the health department clinic by the health officer and several practicing physicians.

T. B. Is Big Problem

From the facts and figures, regarding tuberculosis, presented at the meeting of the North Carolina Tuberculosis Conference held in Goldsboro, October 4, Wayne county has a big problem to face. This disease claimed its share of attention the past year. In March, during the ten days clinic, conducted by the department, with Dr. J. L. Spruill, of the State Sanatorium, as examiner, there were 125 applicants examined. Of these forty were found with active tuberculosis. Among twenty seven negative examinations during the year by the Health Officer, eight were active cases. This is the only case of tuberculosis in the county that will be used in combating the sick and death rate from tuberculosis.

Health Crusade And Hygiene

The Health Department will inaugurate in securing the campaign for the tuberculosis testing of all cattle in Wayne county. This work started in October and will be completed within the year. The eradication of tuberculosis among cattle will be a great saving economically, as well as the means of preventing the numerous cases of bovine tuberculosis among young children.

The Modern Health Crusade, which teaches practical personal hygiene, was inaugurated in most of the rural white schools. In recognition of a certain number of health chores performed, 218 children reached the degree of Progress. There were 2,650 school children examined for physical defects. Over 30 percent were advised and referred to physicians for treatment, chiefly for diseased tonsils and adenoids and malocclusion.

One of the most important units of work during 1922, was the Tonsil and adenoid clinic. One hundred children received the operation free of charge or at a reduced rate. Upon the recommendation and assistance of the health department, 108 other children have had their diseased adenoids and tonsils removed.

The white school-dentist treated 500 children. It is needless to comment upon the importance of dental work in preventing ill health and systemic diseases.

A nutrition class composed of ten selected undernourished children, was demonstrated before the State Anti-tuberculosis Conference. Most of these children have gained weight since coming under the regulations and inspection of this class.

Realizing that the time has not yet arrived when every expectant mother is able to have the services of a competent physician at childbirth, a class was conducted for the instruction of midwives, who deliver nearly one half of the babies born in this county. Thirty six mid-wives received the instruction in the fundamentals of obstetrics and in the prevention of the enormous loss of life at childbirth. Over six hundred conferences were held by the nurse with mothers throughout the county. Six hundred thirty one babies were registered and their mothers given instruction in the care of the infant.

Headache Vaccinated

In June and July a vaccination campaign was conducted. At the 100 dispensary points throughout the county, 1146 received three doses of anti-typhoid.
