WAYNE COUNTY CONVICT CAMPS ARE PRAISED BY SOLICITOR Many Shriners Are Prostrated From Heat

PENAL CONDITIONS IN WAYNE, SAYS WILLIAMS, BEST IN HIS DISTRICT

But One Flogging, He Learns, Has Been Administered in This County in Months, and That Consisted of Only Five Lashes

Following an inspection tour yesterday, Clawson L. Williams, solicitor of this district, declared the Wayne County convict camps are the most sanitary and the best equipped that he has ever seen.

His praise extended still further. "I do not expect a single county in my judicial district," he said, "when I say, too, that the prisoners, according to their own accounts, are the best treated of any county that has come under my observation."

Solicitor Williams is thoroughly convinced that humane treatment is accorded to Wayne county convicts. "The favorable response from the prisoners I questioned as to their treatment," he declared, "was that they had no complaint, that their overseers were just and humane men."

"The food is unusually good for convicts, and the sanitary conditions are excellent. I saw no room for improvement."

The investigation was made on the request of Governor Morrison, who is making an inquiry of prison conditions in the State through the solicitors. Without giving the overseers notice of his impending visit, Solicitor Williams, during a full court proceeding, visited three of the four camps in the county, the central camp, the camp on the Raleigh road, and the camp on the Fremont road. "After inspecting the sanitary conditions of the camp, the sleeping and eating quarters, I left the overseers," he said, "and examined privately from eight to ten men at each camp. They had no complaints to offer. All seemed satisfied with their treatment."

Mr. Williams declared that there was no complaint of brutality by any of those questioned. "So far as I could ascertain," he continued, "but one man has been whipped in recent months. He was a negro convict who, according to his own statement, was given but five lashes back in December for fighting. The lashes were administered in the presence of a physician. I was informed, as the law requires."

"I examined this convict personally, but if the whipping administered to him was of a brutal nature, he had no complaint to offer. In fact, he said he considered the whipping a mild one, and smilingly declared that he reckoned he deserved it."

The fourth camp will be inspected by the Solicitor at his earliest convenience, and he finds it to be up to the standard of the other three, he will forward a report of his investigations to the Governor, which he said would reflect in glowing terms the excellent care given its convicts by the county of Wayne.

CITY PLANNING AND ZONING IS THEME OF ROTARY ADDRESS

Solution of Many City Problems, Grinnalds States, in City Planning

MANY HEAR TALK OF BALTIMORE ENGINEER

"A solution of many existing problems is to be found in city planning," J. C. Grinnalds, city planning engineer of Baltimore, told the Rotarians last night in a talk on "City Planning and Zoning."

"Undeveloped sections of growing cities," he stated, "will be free from the evils of dead end streets and congested automobile traffic if a definite design be formulated as is usually done by a commission appointed to forestall the mistakes made in early history of towns."

Mr. Grinnalds attributed to zoning much civic benefit. "This simply means the protection of residential sections against the encroachment of business places or industrial plants. A great clamor for zoning ordinances has recently been raised in Baltimore and other large cities. Your own state legislature has authorized incorporation of towns to provide zoning commissioners and city planning boards."

To hear the discussion, the Rotarians had invited a number of special guests. Those present were: E. M. Land, Archie Dees, F. K. Borden, Sr., H. B. Parker, G. C. Royall, N. O'Berry, M. M. Humphrey, G. K. Freeman, E. H. Bala, J. H. Hawley, W. D. Creech, A. T. Griffin, T. H. Norwood, Sam Bridgers, J. R. Raper.

8 EVENTS WITH $400 STAKES IS CARD FOR EASTERN FAIR RACES

Now Able To Offer Weeks of Racing, Officials Will Attract Big Horsemen

P. M. JACKSON WAS CHOSEN PRESIDENT

The Carolina short ship racing circuit, composed of the Rocky Mount, Raleigh, Kinston, Goldsboro, Fayetteville, and possibly the Dunn, New Bern, and Smithfield fairs, was organized here yesterday at a meeting of eastern Carolina fair association secretaries with the following officers:

R. M. Jackson, Fayetteville, president; W. C. Denmark, Goldsboro, vice-president; T. B. Smith, Clinton, secretary; and W. T. Kiser, Kinston; Norman Y. Chambliss, Rocky Mount; T. B. Smith, Clinton; R. M. Walgren, Raleigh, and W. C. Denmark, Goldsboro, directors. The racing committee is composed of T. B. Smith, Clinton; Fress Harper, Kinston; and W. C. Denmark, Goldsboro; while R. M. Jackson, and T. B. Smith were appointed to draw up a set of by-laws.

Unable to stand the pace of the grand circuit, to which a number of fair associations in this section have joined, the secretaries of the fair represented here yesterday determined to organize a circuit of their own, and it was decided that each fair should not offer less than eight races with 400 stakes each. The entrance fee was set at five per cent with no deduction to money winners.

Since there is no conflict in the dates of the fairs of the towns and cities represented in the circuit the officials feel that by offering from eight to ten weeks of continuous racing that they will attract many big horsemen to the circuit.

RUSSIA'S REPLY TO LORD CURZON

MOSCOW, June 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—Russia's reply to Lord Curzon's latest memorandum on Anglo-Russian relations was forwarded to London today and will probably be delivered by Leon Krassin Thursday. The document is of considerable length and is understood to be a not unqualified acceptance of the British demands, though it is generally conciliatory.

The Crava, a noted publicist, declares that Curzon is playing the policy of New York in minimizing the importance of Russian trade to England.

"If Europe economically is gradually becoming a province of America, then why," he asks, "should not English people, little by little, become the mouthpiece of the American people?"

NOBLE HARDING PLAYS IMPORTANT PART IN SHRINE CONVENTION

Wearing the Red Sea Coat Executive Watched Parade from Vanu Way

DELIVERS AN ADDRESS ON FRATERNALISM

WASHINGTON, June 5.—President Harding had a prominent part in the festivities last night at the forty-ninth annual convention of the Ancient, Arabic, Noble of the Mystic Shrine. He reviewed a parade of twenty thousand Shrines the feature event of the day; delivered an address on fraternalism at the first session of the Imperial Council and presided tonight at a banquet given by the Imperial Potentate James C. Cassidy, of Milwaukee. Mrs. Harding and General Harding, the Executive, who Noble of Aladdin Temple of Columbus, Ohio, remained for a half hour in his reviewing stand in the White House as the long parade passed through the city. "Allah" on their banners, "having" said. Mrs. Harding, who was in Washington from the White House, wearing a white suit, was seen, but General Harding, a Noble, was in the uniform of his rank as General of the Armies.

Both the Executive and Mrs. Harding entered, fully into the spirit of the occasion, applauding the marchers and finding amusement in antics of some of the drum majors and the clowns accompanying the general of the delegations. As the 118 temples passed the White House, President and Mrs. Harding saluted the American flag and were kept on their feet much of the time the parade was under the way.

Probably no more picturesque parade than that of the Shrines has had passed over Washington's historic thoroughfare, some of the notable victory, preparation and other pageants. From the conventional lack and the cooler while the colors presented all the hues of the rainbow while the variety of costumes kept pace almost with the number of the colors.

Clear skies greeted the Shrines, but long before the parade had ended the intense heat made for some discomfort for both the marchers and the thousands who packed the sidewalks and "circus" seats along the two miles of the route. Heat prostrations were frequent and ambulance and temporary aid stations were kept busy. More than six persons, including Shrines, were taken to hospitals while estimates were that equally as many were given first aid at the street stations. Those taken to hospitals were reported to be out of danger tonight.

TRINITY COLLEGE IS PREPARED TO SERVE
