

Memorial Movement Is Given Impetus

Lionel Weil Outlines Plans For Campaign Before Large Meeting

Forty Citizens Enthusiastic In Endorsing Ideal

Col. John Langston Appointed Secretary of Executive Committee

Date Has Been Set For June 27th

Between forty and fifty of the city's leading citizens met last night in the Chamber of Commerce rooms and put into motion the machinery for the completion of the New Community Memorial Building that is to be erected in Goldsboro.

Lionel Weil, chairman of the campaign committee outlined the program to be followed in putting across the campaign for funds and told briefly the principles and plans back of the executive committee in putting the matter before the public at this time.

Practically every phase of life in Goldsboro was represented at the meeting and not a word of dissent to the plans of Mr. Weil was spoken and practically every man and woman in the meeting was heard from. The general slogan was "Now is the time to start work." Mr. Frank Taylor said "It's come time to work" the words were echoed back and forth during the entire duration of the meeting.

The outline of the campaign as briefly outlined by Mr. Weil is given below:

Our good friend Captain Nathan O'Berry in one of my unguarded moments ordered me to look after the raising of funds for the county Memorial Building. While it is not as easy thing to refuse the Captain's commands, the compelling reason for my acceptance of this task was my desire to finish the work begun nearly four years ago.

The present undertaking before us will take the co-operative efforts of not only the forty-five who have so kindly agreed to serve on the executive committee but a considerable number of workers besides.

In selecting this committee it has been my endeavor to secure those who will not only represent our city but who are in thorough accord with and who will properly sponsor this movement in order to expedite matters and properly work out all details may I suggest that I be authorized to appoint sub-committee of five to seven members.

As you are doubtless aware eighteen thousand dollars has been paid on the Memorial Building lot and in order to finish the payment of eight thousand dollars will be required at a cost sixteen to twenty thousand it will be necessary for the original subscribers to contribute their proper proportion of their original subscription and I would suggest that authority be given this sub-committee to determine this proportion.

I wish to submit the following as a plan of campaign. The business and industrial sections of the city should be covered by twenty-five to thirty teams composed of at least two workers to the team. This will require a minimum of sixty men. We would welcome the co-operation of the American Legion in this work.

The residential sections of the city should be thoroughly canvassed by at least forty to fifty women or twenty to twenty-five teams. Special teams for special prospects should also be formed.

Cards of all living subscribers and new prospects are being prepared. Mrs. Laura Spicer has been appointed chairman of the women's division. Spicer's ability needs no eulogiums at my hands but her conduct of the former campaign is sufficient evidence that we are very fortunate in having her undertake the present work.

FAIR COMMITTEE DISCUSSES RACING FOR FALL EVENT

Goldsboro Likely To Join With Five Other Towns in Circuit

Will Be Called Short Ship Circuit

The executive committee of the Wayne County Fair Association met yesterday afternoon in the offices of the Chamber of Commerce and discussed a number of features of the coming fair, particularly the matter of racing. The fair will probably become a member of the Carolina Short Ship Circuit, organized recently by a number of fair secretaries meeting in Goldsboro. The cities composing this circuit are Rocky Mount, Raleigh, Fayetteville, Goldsboro and Clinton. It will be observed that it will be a six week circuit and with proper prizes offered can be made interesting to many horse fanciers who have heretofore gone only to the grand circuits.

MERCHANTS WILL HOLD IMPORTANT MEETING MONDAY

Local Body Will Elect Officers and Talk of the Coming State Meeting

Secretary Urges Large Attendance

The Merchants' Association will hold a very important meeting in the Chamber of Commerce rooms on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at which time officers for the coming year will be elected.

The secretary of the organization, Miss Grace Warwick urges all the members to be present at the meeting in order that the report of the nominating committee be given careful consideration by a large number of the merchants of the city.

Next week Miss Warwick and Mr. A. A. Joseph will go to Statesville to attend the annual convention of the North Carolina Merchants' Association which the local organization is a member. A number of other merchants are expected to attend the convention.

Statesville is the home office of the Merchants' Association of the state but this year is the first year in which the convention has met there, owing to the fact that heretofore Statesville has had no adequate hotel facilities to take care of a large convention. A new hotel has made it possible for the associations to meet for the first time in the cradle of the organization.

BULGARIAN PREMIER KILLED WHILE IN FLIGHT FROM SOFIA

Death of Stamboulsky Ends a Remarkable Career in Bulgaria's History

HE WAS OF LOW PEASANT ORIGIN

LONDON, June 15.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Bulgarian semi-official agency here this afternoon announced the death of ex-Premier Stamboulsky, and added that he was killed during a flight after a party of armed peasants had attacked the car in which he was passing through the village of Slavovitsa.

SOFIA, June 15.—(By the Associated Press.)—Former Premier Stamboulsky, of Bulgaria, has been killed while trying to escape. The end of the peasant leader's career follows a series of dramatic developments beginning with the overthrow of his government in the early hours of last Saturday and the formation of a coalition government, including all the opposition parties with the exception of the Communists.

Fled to Mountains. As soon as Stamboulsky became aware of the successful coup d'etat, he fled toward the mountains of Central Bulgaria, shaving off his mustache, and disguising himself as an army chauffeur. He was deserted by most of his followers, only four being with him when he arrived at Piriot on his way to Elshantza. The pursuing troops of the new government overtook the party at Piriot, but Stamboulsky escaped into the forest during the fighting in which his four followers were overcome.

He could not long elude the large forces seeking him, however, and he was captured yesterday at Molavi, a village near Slavovitsa.

Peasant Premier. Alexandre Stamboulsky, known as the peasant premier, was one of the most picturesque personalities in modern Bulgarian history. A man of massive frame and tremendous energy, he was described by his opponents as a "bull of a China clover," but there was no doubt of his popularity with the all-potent peasant party.

Of the humblest peasant origin, he rose to the power of a dictator, solidifying under his leadership the widespread opposition to the war policies of former King Ferdinand, who threw the fortunes of his country into the scale on the side of the central Powers in the World War.

BUSINESS WOMEN HEAR MRS. JOHNSON

Commissioner of Public Welfare Speaks About Prison Investigations

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH, June 15.—"Every public institution belongs to the people—whether it be a prison, a chain gang, a county home, or whatever—and officials have no right to take the attitude that the public which supports these institutions is not privileged to know what is being done in them and how the money that the people contribute is being spent." Mrs. Kate Barr Johnson, Commissioner of Public Welfare, told the North Carolina State Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, in session here, at its meeting this morning.

"On the other hand," the Commissioner continued, "the individual citizen is shifting his responsibility when he stands aside and says that these institutions are no concern of his. In every county in North Carolina where there has been a substantiated unfavorable report submitted on county institutions such as the jail, chain gang, and county home, this report is a direct reflection on the patriotism and Christianity of the citizens of that county. For these institutions will be made humane and progressive to the extent that public opinion demands."

"At the instigation of Governor Morrison the Prison Board has inaugurated some notable prison reforms in this state, but these reforms are only part of a system that should eventually be worked out. The State Board of Charities and Public Welfare expects to continue its study of the penal system of North Carolina in order to make such recommendations as may be necessary to the next General Assembly. An extra man with special training has been employed to assist the board this summer in this work. The board is determined to accept its constitutional responsibility in this regard, and it looks to the progressive and humane women of the State for intelligent and unprejudiced support in carrying out its duties."

Mrs. Johnson prefaced her address to the Business and Professional Women by declaring that although North Carolinians "have the right to be proud of the progress of their State in many directions, it will be deplorable if through too great boastfulness they get into the attitude of not being willing to face unpalatable truth."

"It gets us nowhere to cover up by platitudes and oratorical phrases social scores which by evasion will only foster to break out later with increased violence," she said. "If there were no unfortunate conditions in North Carolina, there would be little use for the Board of Charities and Public Welfare. The board's responsibility is to bring about social conditions to light and then handle them as effectively as possible. The (continued on page 3)

BUSINESS HOUSES RUINED AT WICHITA BY CLOUD BURST

For Third Time in Two Weeks Kansas Suffers From Floods

SANDBAG WALLS ARE BEING BUILT

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 15.—Several sections of Kansas again face floods with the third rise of streams within the last two weeks. At Wichita, a new overflow of Chisholm Creek and the drainage canal is predicted with another inundation of the northern section of the city in prospect following a rain of almost cloud-burst proportions.

Swept along by a 54 mile an hour wind, the rain filled the streets and began to flood stores and caused merchants to rebuild the sand bag walls that protected their stores during the flood of several days ago.

The residents along the river at Smith Center flooded for the third time in two weeks, last night when the stream flooded the by-land. Motor and interurban traffic in the vicinity of Pittsburgh is blocked. At Columbus, near Pittsburg, the rain was reported at four inches yesterday and all small streams in Cherokee county are out of their banks.

The Neosho River at McCum is reported rising and blocking traffic between Pittsburg and Parsons. The Neosho at Iowa was reported to be the highest in many years, exceeding the flood stage of 1934.

MRS. CROKER WINS HER WILL CONTEST IN DUBLIN COURTS

Long Drawn Out Case Comes To Close With Victory for Widow

COURT ROOM BREAKS INTO APPLAUSE

DUBLIN, June 15.—(By the Associated Press.)—A verdict, in favor of Mrs. Bula Croker was found by the jury in the contest over the will of the late Richard Croker this afternoon.

When the crowded courtroom realized that Mrs. Croker had won on every count, the through burst into tremendous cheering and hand-clapping. The court tried vainly for a considerable time to restore silence. When quiet finally came, Chief Justice Maloney said he much regretted the demonstration.

The allegation that Bula Croker was already the wife of Guy F. Malone at the time of her marriage to Mr. Croker was declared by the jury to be unsubstantiated.

The jury also found Mrs. Croker not guilty of influencing her husband against his children.

BOLL WEEVILS ARE RECEIVED FROM ALL SECTIONS OF STATE

Department of Agriculture Gets Samples of the Pest From Many Counties

COWPEA POD WEEVILS ARE NOT DANGEROUS

RALEIGH, June 14.—Live boll weevils have been received by Franklin Sherman, chief of the division of entomology for the State College and Department of Agriculture, from counties as far west and north in the State as Cleveland, Mecklenburg, Cabarrus, Lee, Harnett, Lenoir, and Beaufort. It was announced tonight. No weevils have been sent in from counties south of these but specimens should soon arrive, it was stated.

"A number of cowpea pod weevils on young cotton are causing much concern among farmers whom suspect this weevil of being the cotton pest," Mr. Sherman stated. "However, the cotton boll weevil should soon be appearing in all parts of the cotton growing area and with its appearance will come the old question: 'What shall I do?' 'Shall I poison?' 'What method of poison shall I use and when?'"

"The general problem of boll weevil control is given in extension circular 124. The dust poison method is fully described in extension circular 137 just issued to North Carolina farmers. Both of these circulars may be had from local county agents or by writing to the editor, Extension Service, Raleigh."

Mr. Sherman said he believes the dust poison method is the best for actual use in killing the weevil.

"We considered the dust poison method as the standard and only poisoning method which we are justified in advising yet for our farmers to depend upon and its limitations and difficulties are plainly discussed in the circular," he continued.

This is in line with resolutions of Southern Agricultural Workers at Memphis in February, and with news items of United States Department of Agriculture in March. In accordance with those pronouncements other poisoning methods, including the adaptation of the Florida Method, are being tested and studied in this and other states.

"The question of when to begin dusting is so discussed in our circulars as to allow latitude of judgment according to abundance of early weevils, but cautions against it where not needed or when unprofitable. It aims at economy and effectiveness. Some farmers may use other methods, or may dust earlier than we indicate, but that is on their own choice. In giving advice for general adoption we feel that we must be conservatively safe. Improvements are of course possible, and hoped for, as time goes on."

ENDERWOOD FOR PRESIDENT

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 15.—Senator Oscar Underwood of Alabama was given the unanimous endorsement of the state committee for president of the United States, in session here today.

DURHAM BANKER IS FOUND GUILTY OF STEALING FUNDS

The Judge Says It Is Time To Stop the Taking of Women's Money

IS DOUBLE FIRST COUSIN OF HILL

DURHAM, N. C.—After a brief talk in which he told a crowded courtroom that the time has come when the courts must protect the funds of women and children in banks, Judge W. M. Bond, in superior court here today, sentenced Thos. B. Pierce, former cashier of the Home Savings Bank, to serve five years in the State Penitentiary.

Pierce was charged with embezzlement of more than $40,000, and after having been out since 5 o'clock, the jury returned a verdict this morning guilty on three counts and not guilty on the last two. Pierce's counsel gave notice of appeal and his total bond was fixed at $15,100.

Plea of Defense. Attorneys for the defense attempted to have the charges dismissed when the case was called for trial, pleading that Pierce was mentally incapacitated at the time irregularities in the bank occurred, and that on this plea it would be impossible for the State to show a "criminal intent." Judge Bond refused to grant the request.

Particular interest has been manifested in the trial of the former bank cashier on account of his relationship to John Sprunt Hill, multi-millionaire, president of the bank and district highway commissioner. Mr. Hill appeared in the role of prosecuting witness and was regarded as the star witness in the trial. The defendant, according to testimony offered at the trial, is a double-first cousin of the president of the bank.

Throughout the trial the defense confined its efforts to showing a lack of criminal intent, and no attempt of breaking down the evidence presented by the State. The effort was continued throughout the arguments presented by the lawyers. The State on the other hand appealed for the defendant's conviction on the ground that he embezzled the money deliberately and with an intention to defraud the bank and its customers.

Developed 12 Months Ago. The charges against Pierce developed more than 12 months ago. At this time he had served fifteen years as cashier of the bank, and was quite popular in local financial, fraternal, religious and social circles. He was especially popular with the customers of the bank. Mr. Hill said "went to the affairs of the institution in fact the bank president testified on the witness stand that he had up to the time had complete and implicit confidence in the ability and honesty of the cashier."

Speculated in Stocks. Some years ago, so the evidence went, Pierce started speculating in stocks. Mr. Hill testified that he did not know of the cashier's speculations until the irregularities at the bank were discovered.

FIFTEEN YEARS IN WORKING AND NIGHT SLEEPING

Girl Lives Near Goldsboro All Her Life and Never Goes To School

CAN DECIPHER FUNNY PAPERS

Among the more interesting things recently discovered by the Department of Public Welfare was a fifteen year old girl who had never been to school and who had been blind a present of early in life by her mother.

The girl, upon reaching the stage when she could walk alone was presented to her grandmother by her father and since then has been constantly with her grandmother and has never spent a day in school in her life. She has been taught her letters, but can barely make them out and can hardly write them at all. She is a resident of Wayne county.

When asked by Secretary Howell how she liked the idea of having been given away by her father she said that she thought it was all right and that she guessed she had received a lot more with her grandmother than she would of received at home on account of their having so many there who had serious fights.

Mr. Howell found out that the girl enjoyed figuring out the words in the funny paper so he took her some of the newspapers in a few newspapers of magazines. He stated that she had no idea there was anything else in the world other than the farm she was living on.

NEGRO PREACHER TO EMPTY STOMACH

A negro preacher preaching to empty stomachs in Goldsboro, N. C.

Yesterday morning a bus was crowded with negroes on the street at the corner of Walnut, the hind which was the crippled preacher. He had his Bible open on his lap and was preaching to the crowd. The sun was shining down on him, but still he kept on preaching.

Yesterday afternoon he was seen preaching to empty stomachs. Every now and then someone would pass by and drop in a coin, but the preacher kept right on preaching, wondering whether anyone was listening or not.

He says his home is in Clinton, N. C. and several years ago someone took him up by telling him that the sheriff was after him for some money he had taken from the bank. He took to the woods and ran into a swamp. He lived up in the trees and was remained there for eight months. On the eighth day he managed to work himself out, and was left in a paralyzed condition, so that he has to walk on his knees.

HAGEN FAILS TO WIN BRITISH CUP BY ONE STROKE

A. G. Honors Wins Title With Score of 295

AMERICAN'S SCORE AGGREGATED 196

TROON, June 15.—By the Associated Press.—A. G. Havers, a Scot, won the British open golf championship, competition which was concluded here today with an aggregate score of 295.

Walter Hagen failed today in his attempt to win the British open golf title for the second time. Hagen made the fourth round in 75, giving him a total of 96, one more than A. G. Havers, British, who late this afternoon was leading in the field.

Hagen's failure to win means the return of the championship trophy to British hands after two years in American possession, as the other outstanding American representatives, Joe Kirkwood and McDougall-Smith finished 298 and 297, respectively while Johnny Farrell had an aggregate of 296 and George Auldock of Boston was far in the rear with 329.

A gallery of nearly 10,000 persons witnessed Hagen's final, Out-C. A. Whitehead, British, now has a chance to beat Havers.
