

President Harding At Kansas City Gets His Face Well Sunburned

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—President Harding today cancelled his proposed trip to Europe Park to open medals to some Boy Scouts and to the United States veterans hospital as a result of a severe case of sunburn contracted in a fifteen mile ride about Kansas City in arrival early in the day.

The President's physician explained that the sunburn was not serious and should not interfere with the delivering of his address here tonight.

The President had made the ride in a motor car, a broiling sun. Mrs. Harding protected by a large hat suffered no injury.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 22.—Consolidation of the railroads of the country into a small number of systems is a rational, justifiable step, the transportation problem, President Harding declared here tonight in full of promise towards solution of the second prepared address of his western trip.

"If the system consolidations will not afford the solution," he said, "then our failure will enforce a costlier experiment and the one great commitment which I hope the United States will forever escape."

The Executive expressed the belief that this one great commitment—government operation—would be a colossal blunder, which would destroy initiative, infect us with political corruption, create regional jealousies and impose incalculable cost on the public treasury.

Discussing relations between the carriers and their employees as a vital factor in the transportation situation, the President announced that he favored continuance of the Railroad Labor Board under such modifications as seem most likely to make the plan successful. He said he was not convinced that the test of this plan had been "a complete and entirely fair one," but added that "there is little to hope for until all concerned are ready to comply promptly with the board's decisions."

"I am frank to say," he continued, "I do not hope for compliance on the part of employees so long as decisions are ignored by the managers."

The sort of consolidation of the carriers which Mr. Harding advocated contemplates a constitution of the larger systems so that the weaker and unprofitable lines would be able to lean upon the financial strength of the stronger and profitable ones until the growth of the country makes them all earn a just return upon the capital invested. The whole would be under "rigorous government supervision."

Such a consolidation, the President asserted, would "effect a diminution in rates without making a net return impossible" and at the same time would "make sound finance possible for expansion."

"There now appears to be no difficulty about any constitutional inhibition to the voluntary consolidation as authorized by Congress," the Executive continued, "but the problem of reconciling the interests of the hundreds of different ownerships and managements of lines to be merged into systems has proven a task for which no solution has been found."

"It is, therefore, being seriously proposed that the next step be to further amplify the provisions for consolidation so as to stimulate the consummation. It is my expectation that legislation to this end will be brought before Congress at the next session."

There are some roads—many of the smaller ones in fact—whose continued operation is absolutely vital to many thousands of people, to considerable towns, to large areas of country, whose revenues simply can not provide financial facilities through earnings, pending a considerable growth in community population, say nothing of earning any return whatever on capital invested. No ledgerdom of court processes, receivers' certificates, or financial juggling, can save them. They must get more revenue or stronger support or quit operating until the country is more largely developed.

"The railways have become public utilities," he said.

CHAMPAGNE GIVEN TO "DAVY JONES"

NEW YORK, June 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—The ocean liners flying the Union Jack steamed into the New York harbor today with excellent stocks of liquor for the trip home despite the fact that United States had said they must cross the three mile limit bone dry. All day long the water front waited for the federal agents to pounce upon the liquor breaking the British government seals with which the liquor was sealed and carry the liquor away, but late today the liquor was untouched.

If this is done and tonight there is every indication that it would be, it was said that Secretary McPherson, who promulgated the order, may learn of his orders being carried out before he sails for Europe tomorrow on the Majestic. He is expected from Washington early tomorrow. One of the British vessels who defied the American dry edict and forced a test case was the Cunard Berengaria. The fact that she intended to carry liquor across the three mile limit had been well heralded and federal agents in New York had been deluged with orders on just how to act. The other vessel was the Baltic. She shocked the waterfront with surprise.

Both the Berengaria and Baltic were allowed to pass through quarantine unmolested and proceeded to their docks. It was said that nothing could be done until the captain with their manifests had applied with permits to retain enough liquor for medicinal purposes. After this it was any surplus would be seized. Davy Jones stowed away many quarts in his locker as a result of the Federal ruling. This was done (Continued on Page Two)

"SMILING WOMAN" SEVERELY GRILLED BY CHICAGO POLICE

Man Who Isn't All Man But Who Isn't Woman Being "Third Degreed"

IS STILL WEARING CLOTHES OF WOMAN

CHICAGO, June 21.—Police await the moment when Fred G. Thompson, alias Mrs. Frances Carrick, will "break" under their ceaseless examination for solution of the mystery surrounding the shooting to death a fortnight ago of Richard G. Tesmer, wealthy insurance man. They are firm in their belief that Thompson, who, masquerading as a woman, has been "married" for several years to Frank T. Carrick, an automobile mechanic, while at the same time legal ly wed to Marie Kosakowaka, alias Marie Clark, was the "smiling girl" who shot Tesmer in the presence of his wife after robbery which netted less than $25.

Thompson has maintained ever since he was arrested that he knew nothing of the Tesmer killing. He still wears the feminine habiliments in which he was dressed when detectives took him from the flat, where he lived with Carrick and the Clark girl. The police do not credit a confession mumbled by Carrick last night in which he named Thompson as the (Continued on Page Two)

Erost In New Mexico Oh For Some On Center Street, Goldsboro, N. C.

CHICAGO, June 22.—Three states experienced unseasonable cold yesterday, while the rest of the United States sweltered. Some relief is in sight for many sections, but in others there will be no break in the heat wave, forecasters says.

Scores of deaths and numerous prostrations have been caused by the hot weather. High temperature records were made in many cities.

The most notable contrast was furnished by New Mexico, where a severe frost made it necessary to break ice in watering troughs in some sections so livestock could drink; the mercury dropped to 28 degrees above zero on the Arizona desert. Citizens of Superior, Wisconsn. hurriedly dragged out winter clothing when the temperature there descended to forty. Generally cooler weather was experienced in North Dakota.

In the eastern states more than forty-three deaths were recorded. Factories and schools generally were closed because of the intense heat. Baltimore and Washington saw the hottest weather in the histories of the two cities, when the mercury climbed to 100 degrees.

The maximum in New York City was 96 and much suffering was caused in the Queensboro section, when the water supply failed because of alleged illegal use of garden sprays.

Four died and twenty were over-com in Chicago, bringing the total fatalities for the week to twenty-one. The maximum temperatures was 91. Ohio reported five more deaths and temperatures of 94 to 97 degrees. At Fremont, Ohio, the heat exploded a concrete pavement, Grand Rapids, Mich. reported 94 degrees. Readings in Indiana varied from 90 to 95. Minneapolis, with three prostrations, and St. Paul had temperatures of 90 degrees.

The heat was said not to have been excessive in the Southland and farmers welcomed it because of retarded crops due to the late spring and summer.

Comparatively cool weather was general over the Pacific coast.

Captain Nathan O'Berry Rings Death Knell of the Faction Spirit in Goldsboro Meeting Held Last Night

The executive committee of the Memorial Building fund drive met last night in the Chamber of Commerce rooms with practically the entire membership of the committee present.

Captain Nathan O'Berry opened the meeting by saying, "Twenty or thirty years ago it was impossible for any movement of this kind to originate without one faction asking 'Who is behind this thing?' or the other faction asking 'Who is going to run this thing?'"

"I see among those present here tonight the sons of some of those who were participated in those factional fights, and it is my soul and to see that spirit gone forever. The young men of this city are men of vision, and with you behind our movement we cannot fail," Mr. O'Berry added.

He then called on Lionel Wall who went further into the detail plans of the campaign and explained the use of the subscription cards that have been prepared. Mr. Wall talked to the men present who would be unable to be here and take part in the collecting to stand up and only two men were unable to present and they were both available for one or the other of the days.

Mr. Wall stated after the meeting that he had never seen such cooperation from any body of men and women since he has been in Goldsboro and that with all the people working as they were and with the general interest that had been aroused (Continued on Page Two)
