Lexington Taxi-Driver Believed to Have Been Killed by Man He Was Riding.

Greensboro, Aug. 8. (AP)—The touring car belonging to Charlie Garwood taxi-driver, who was slain late Thursday near Lexington, and robbed was found near the business center of Greensboro early today.

Late Thursday, according to information from Lexington, an unknown white man went to a blacksmith shop and purchased a bar of iron. This bar was found beside the body.

Garwood's head had been battered with a piece of iron pipe, which was found near the roadside, near here early today.

Miller, according to the authorities, was arrested Wednesday night when Garwood reported him for alleged drunkenness in Garwood's automobile. The police say Miller was reported to have made threats against Garwood. Miller declares he was at the scene here last night.

Miller is reported to have had a license on his person. The left blue license was turned out, but the right one was a pocket-knife brought from a pocket-knife committee, and at least eight copies of the license were back of Garwood's plate. WORLD FLIERS TO MAKE AN ATTEMPT COMPLETE FLIGHT

Conference Held Yesterday for Discussion as to Whether to Continue Flight.

Reykjavik, Iceland, Aug. 8.—The world fliers of the American army aviators who have completed 21,000 miles in their efforts to put a girdle around the earth, seemed in danger of being abandoned owing to the ice conditions off Greenland which are declared to be the worst in 20 years.

Lt. Lowell H. Smith, who is in command of the flight and Maj. Crumrine of the American air service were called into consultation by Rear Admiral Thos. J. MaGruder on board the cruiser Richmond.

The conference was called to consider the question of calling off the flight for this season. Both Lt. Smith and Maj. Crumrine argued that there still was hope of completing the proposed route from Iceland to Greenland, and on thence to Labrador.

The result of the conference was an order to the cruiser Raleigh to proceed to Greenland waters, and explore the coast for a possible landing place for the planes south of Andaghasalik, which was picked out in making up the itinerary as the first stopping place in Greenland.

BERLIN PRODUCES FREAK AUTO

Berlin, Aug. 7. (AP)—German automobile manufacturers have great affection for freak designs in cars.

One of the latest monstrosities to appear in the streets of Berlin is a motorcar with the motor in the rear, and so constructed that the front end of the car bears the appearance of the rear end of an ordinary car. In consequence the vehicle seems to be running the wrong way, and the crowds stop in the street, and laugh at the unusual craft.

LEGISLATURE SETTLES DOWN TO BUSINESS ON SECOND DAY'S SESSION

LAFOLLETTE GOES ON RECORD BEING OPPOSED K. K. K.

It Cannot Long Survive, He Says. Unalterably Opposed to the Klan.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Senator LaFollette, of Wisconsin, independent candidate for President, in a letter made public today, declared he is unalterably opposed to the evident purposes of the Ku Klux Klan; as disclosed by its public acts.

"It cannot long survive," continued the Senator. "Relying upon sound judgment and good sense of our people, it is my opinion that such a movement is foredoomed, it has within its own boundary the seeds of its death."

The letter, addressed to Robert P. Scripps, newspaper publisher, was given out for publication at Senator LaFollette's office. Declaring it "unfortunate that questions involving religious opinion and other questions related to the vital issue of the restoration of the government to the people, have been raised in this as another critical year of our national history," the letter added.

"Controversies feed upon and inflame prejudice and passion to the exclusion of issues involving the very life of government itself."

Senator LaFollette declared at the outset of his letter that "the one dominant, all embracing issue, is to break the combined power of the private monopoly system over the political and economic life of the American people."

"This power," he continued, "controls every important branch of industry—mining, manufacturing and transportation. It controls markets and credits, and dictates the price of every product necessary to feed, clothe, warm and shelter the human family. To control that which sustains life is to control life itself. This is economic slavery. Free government cannot long exist side by side with economic despotism."

With reference to the Ku Klux Klan, the Senator said: "Any one familiar with my record especially in my own state, knows that I have always stood without reservation against any discrimination between races, classes and creeds. I hold that every citizen is entitled to the full exercise of his constitutional rights."

Officials of LaGrange Against Bootleggers

Mr. Page has been a citizen here all of his life and for years has conducted a small store on Main street. He is unassuming in his manner, pleasant and a hater of drunkenness and rowdiness and made no contentions concerning the presence of liquor in his place of business.

The case was disposed of Monday in Recorder McCullen's court. The defendant was fined $25.00 and cost and gave bond for observance of the prohibition law for the next twelve months. Recently it was stated that the anti liquor law was being violated extensively in LaGrange and to the Lenoran this week Chief Lucas stated that he would welcome any tangible evidence of anyone violating this law. "I cannot arrest and present to the court a person just because some one tells me he thinks that the person sells liquor, we must have evidence" explained Mr. Lucas, who asserted that with sufficient evidence, he would not hesitate to go for the biggest man in town.

Two of the Measures for Which the Session Was Called Were Formally Entered Into.

MOST OF MEASURES INTRODUCED LOCAL BILLS

Senator Charles U. Harris Promised That the Ship and Port Commission Measure Would be Laid Before the Senate Along With Another Bill Authorizing the Re-acquisition of the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroads.

Raleigh, Aug. 8.—The mill of legislation at the extra session of the North Carolina general assembly began grinding in earnest today. Fifty-nine bills were dropped into the House hopper, given their first reading and referred to committees, are placed on the calendar. Fourteen measures were received by the clerks in the Senate, and started through the routine of legislation.

Two of the measures for which the legislature was called together were formally entered into today with a promise that the other two would be started on the opposite side of the legislative floor of the capitol tomorrow.

Today Representative Townsend introduced a bill to repeal the constitutional amendment passed at the regular session and which was to be voted on by the people in November, dealing with highway bonds sinking funds. He also introduced a new amendment that introduced a defect found in the first measure.

Senator Charles U. Harris promised today that the Ship and Port Commission measure a matter of great interest to all the people would be laid before the Senate along with another bill authorizing the re-acquisition by the State of the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley railroad, when these measures are put into the Senate the chief work of the session will be under way.

The most important measure ordered, favorably reported by a House committee was on a bill by Representative Townsend creating a committee of three representatives and two senators to study the fiscal system of the State public school and those of other states and recommend changes and betterments.

"An effort was made in the House today to block any statewide legislation except the measures for which the extra session was called, but it did not get far.

Representative J. Roan Davis of Caldwell county introduced a resolution to this effect, and spoke briefly on it. He immediately met with opposition from Representative Murphy of Rowan county, however, and by a viva-voce vote the house refused to suspend the rules and put the resolution on its pass. It was then referred to a committee.

The bill of probably the widest interest laid before the senate was the measure for the appropriation of $500,000 to erect a State office building in Raleigh. Senator Harrison of Rockingham introduced the bill.

The reporter interviewed Mayor C. C. Aldridge and found him from head to foot for the enforcement to the finest point the prohibition law in LaGrange. "I will welcome, in the highest degree, any authentic information regarding any whiskey selling in LaGrange," said the Mayor and his demeanor showed that his prayers went up for ridding his town of the vile stuff.

DELEGATION FROM WILSON HERE LAST NIGHT AT ST. PAUL

Given Cordial Greeting by 1,500 Federation in Gathering at St. Paul's Methodist Church.

In each city in North Carolina that the Han-Ramsey party have held evangelistic campaigns, a Federation, composed of men and women, has been organized and not only converts of these meetings, but others in the religious cause have taken an interest which might be the means of bringing some unconverted person to turn "and traveling at the straight and narrow walk of life, and at the same time let his light so shine that other might hear of the Gospel. Goldsboro is spoken of as "Daddy" of the Federations of the State, and having extended an invitation to the Federation of Wilson, the invitation was accepted, and last night at St. Paul Methodist Church the local Federation greeted a delegation from Wilson estimated at 100, composed of men and women who came to conduct a prayer service, and tell the people of Goldsboro the pleasure they had received and were still receiving as a result of the successful meeting held at Wilson, and to offer any assistance to Goldsboro that they might be called upon for.

Mayor Bain conducted the song service, and when several inspiring songs had been sung the service was turned over to the delegation from Wilson.

Testimonials from the visiting delegation, including Mr. Carl Goehc, editor of the Wilson Mirror, were immensely enjoyed. Mr. Goehc stated that he had left the effects of the recent meeting at Wilson, and was more intimate with the Han-Ramsey party than any other person, having heard them in New Bern, Raleigh, Greenville and Washington and it was a pleasure to be closely associated with them in Wilson.

The editor commented Goldsboro upon being the first town in the state to have a Federation, and said that Mr. Han had hesitated to refer to Goldsboro as of the best effects of this twinning here.

Mr. W. J. Ramsey was also present last night, having come over from Henderson, where preparations are being made for the opening of a campaign there, a week from tomorrow. Mr. Ramsey was cordially greeted, entering in church after the services had started. He expressed his appreciation of the opportunity to be present and hear the Wilson delegation and their testimonials.

EIGHT COLLEGE YOUTHS TESTIFY IN MITIGATION PLEA FOR CHICAGO BOYS

Finally Give Way to Dr. Hurlburt, Mental Specialist and Testify as to Observations.

DR. HURLBURT FOURTH OF MENTAL SPECIALISTS

Dr. Hurlburt Corroborates the Statement of Dr. Glueck That Loeb Struck the Death Blow; Delves into the Realm of Parental Influence in Seeking Causes for Various Effects; Examined Boys Thirteen Times.

Chicago, Aug. 8. (AP)—Eight college boys finally gave to Dr. Harold S. Hurlburt, fourth of the defense's mental specialists who took the witness stand today before Judge Caverly and gave testimony in support of the plea for mitigation in the sentencing of Leopold and Loeb, kidnapers and murderers of young Robert Franks. The students, mostly friends of Loeb, testified as to their observations of the youths' peculiar mannerisms and mental mechanisms as revealed to them at parties or fraternity houses.

They occupied the entire morning session, excepting the four minutes when Dr. Bruce Armstrong of Charlevoix, Mich., gave evidence regarding a slight accident to Loeb in 1920.

Dr. Hurlburt, going over the lives of the defense from cradle days concluded that Loeb is mentally diseased, but had not reached his conclusion as to Leopold when court was adjourned until tomorrow. Dr. Hurlburt corroborated the testimony by Dr. Bernard Glueck, that Loeb was the actual slayer.

Struck Frank Several Times

Loeb said that he struck the boy several times with a cold chisel, intending to stun him and strangle him later with the assistance of Leopold, but the blows were sufficient to cause death, said Dr. Hurlburt.

That Loeb had discussed the Frank boys murder with his mother, getting quite a kick out of it was also testified by the doctor. He revealed that Loeb saw the funeral of his victim, and felt a bit uncomfortable, but was not remorseful when he saw "Bobbies" friends carrying the coffin which contained the body of the boy to the grave.

Delves Into Mental Influence

Dr. Hurlburt delved into the realm of parental influence in seeking causes for various defects that his thirteen examinations of the youths revealed that Leopold's mother suffered from to him. He testified he had learned a physical ailment before his birth, remained an invalid, and died seven years later. That Loeb's mother just before his birth was sickly and also suffered from several acute infections. The testimony of the college students all ran along the same line to the effect that Leopold was irrational, drank heavily, argued childishly, had fainting spells, and lacked horse sense to balance his intellect.

Only Oil In Eastern N. C. Is In Filling Stations

Kingston, Aug. 8.—They worked the same stuff in Georgia, S. G. Bartlett, secretary of the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce, stated yesterday when asked as to his opinion of the oil drilling operations being carried on in the State.

"I suppose they made supposed drillings at a dozen places and they never got a quart of oil. About the only oil that Eastern Carolina ought to take stock in or of is the kind you put in your car and you buy at a filling station."

Mr. Bartlett stated that what he never did understand about the Georgia oil digging operations was the fact that the state geologist of that state federal geologists and others in high official positions stated prior to the drilling that there was unquestionably oil under the Georgia land. How they could have afforded to make such statements, so definite and specific, and yet evidently must have known there was no oil or at least little likelihood of oil being found.

"They would put up a derrick and drill a few hundred feet or more and that was about all there was to it. They kept trying in various places till every "sucker" in the state had bought land nearby to the drilling lots and then they stopped. A good many "suckers" bought stock."

"Of course, there may be some oil but it doesn't look possible or probable as the Eastern Southern formation on the coastal plain section is at the same level and wells have been drilled into formations south of North Carolina at several points."

"Eastern Carolina ought to devote her energy to farming and other active production and not be pulled off the path by a little oil boom, about which there is so much secrecy. I don't believe there is anything to this oil fussing here in this section."

Mr. Bartlett stated that the methods of operation in Georgia were inclusive of the following moves: bringing in a rig and planting it ready for drilling, laying off of lots, small ones, at so many hundred dollars each, the sale of these lots and the partial drilling of an "alleged" well then no oil and there every one was out of the fellow who sold the cheap land for a fortune. Meanwhile he was gone.

Around Havelock, where local men from New Bern and others from this state are promoting the drilling and were only a few are financially interested and there is no stock for sale, the matter is evidently being handled. It appears to be an honest attempt to find out once and for all whether there is any oil or not. A land development company had also been granted a charter by the Secretary of State, with headquarters at Havelock.

LOEB'S MOTHER WILL TESTIFY IN HIS DEFENSE

Coming to Try to Help Son in Spite of Doctor's Orders, "Patches" Too.

Chicago, Aug. 8. (AP)—Mrs. Albert Loeb, mother of Richard Loeb, will take the stand in an effort to gain mitigation of the penalty her son and Leopold, Jr., paid for kidnapping and killing Robert Franks, according to defense attorneys Nathan Leopold, Sr., millionaire box manufacturer, also will testify, it was the crime for which Judge Caverly will fix the punishment. Loeb has been visited only by his mother. She has insisted on testifying, despite physicians' warning against her leaving the Loeb summer home at Charlevoix, Mich., where she is attending her invalid husband.

Other relatives of both boys have been summoned by defense to augment the testimony of young men and women, former college fellow students and friends, regarding any manifestations of "mental disease," the slayers have given. The theory of mental irresponsibility by the defense bases its hope for mitigation.

Miss Germaine K. Reinhardt, nicknamed "Patches," 18 year old artist model and stenographer, who was quizzed by the prosecutor regarding the initials "G. K. R." on the ransom note sent to Franks' father, and who has visited Loeb frequently in jail will testify. Another on the list is Miss Rosalind Nathan, sister of Loraine, who testified yesterday her sister believed Loeb was "plain cuckoo."

Examination of lay witnesses will probably extend into next week, the defense has indicated. After they will be two or three remaining psychiatric, with a possibility of a conclusion of testimony by the end of next week.
