Work For One Project For The Community Each Year, Wayne Post Votes

Votes at Barbecue Held Last Evening to Or- ganize Fire and Drum Corps and to Secure Proper Name Plates for Photographs at Community Building; Thirty New Members

Decision to organize a fire and drum corps, to identify pictures of Wayne men who were killed in service with brass name plates, and a pledge to accomplish one object in the way of community service each year marked the business of the Wayne Post of the American Legion last evening.

One hundred former service men and one former service nurse—Miss Alice Wood—were in attendance at the meeting. Thirty new members for the local post were recruited, and an enthusiastic interest was shown in plans to revive Legion activities in the county.

Hugh Dortch, commander of the local post presided over the meeting and introduced Col. George Freeman who gave a brief account of the recent national convention in Philadelphia and urged the Legion here to show more interest in the civic life of the community. He told of what other posts of the Legion in North Carolina and in the nation as a whole are doing.

Approval of the idea of a fire and drum corps for the post came following the address by Col. Freeman. E. F. C. Metz, a member of the Spring band, will be secured to aid in instructing candidates for the corps, it was stated. A distinctive uniform will be procured.

The Legion will engage itself each year to the successful completion of some movement which will be for the best interests of the community. It was decided what movement the Legion might undertake for this year was not decided upon at last night's meeting, but the matter of launching a campaign on behalf of the proposed tuberculosis sanatorium for this section was discussed. This suggestion seemed to meet with general approval.

Pictures of Wayne men who paid the supreme sacrifice have been hung at the Community Building, but they are not properly marked with name plates, it was explained. The Post voted to bear the expense of securing name plates.

Officers of the Post expressed the pleasure with the interest manifested at the meeting and declared that it would mark a new era in the beginning of a life of the organization here. Hugh Dortch is commander, Paul Edmondson, vice-commander, C. F. Dees, Jr., adjutant and E. H. Bala, chaplain.

WAS SLAIN WITH HIS OWN PISTOL

Think Brezmore Taken Young Yelverton's Gun and Killed Him With It

That young Gordon Yelverton, son of J. B. Yelverton of Fremont, who was murdered and a truck load of tobacco taken from him several days ago near Farmville, was killed with a pistol he had carried was the opinion expressed yesterday in Fremont. The foul murder of the fifteen-year-old boy continues to be much discussed in the nearby town.

Citizens seem convinced that Geo. Brezmore, Williamston negro, under arrest for the killing, is guilty of the crime. A pistol which young Yelverton had had for self-protection as he drove tobacco trucks from Williamston to Wilson was found in the possession of Brezmore. The News was told in Fremont yesterday.

Brezmore had started from Wilehamston with the lad on the truck of tobacco, it was said, but the members of the family had not known that he was going with the body. That the negro borrowed the pistol from Gordon on some pretext and then used it in blowing out the brains of the youth after he had been engulfed some distance from the road was the theory advanced by Fremont citizens yesterday.

MRS. BAYLE TO DELIVER TALK

Honorary President Washington Y. M. C. A. To Tell of Visit to Egypt and Palestine

Washington, D. C., well known Mrs. William Hamilton Bayle of speaker and philanthropic worker of the Capitol will address the Chab Shalom Congregation tonight, service after Mrs. Bayle is a keen observer and interpreter of human interests and emotions gathered from her many years of social and philanthropic work, extensive travel abroad and through this country, and her large acquaintance with men and women of prominence.

She is now Honorary President of the Washington Y. W. C. A. of which institution she was President for fourteen years, but the last few years she has spent largely in travel abroad. She is the guest of Mrs. Sol Well, of this city, her friends of many years standing.

Mrs. Bayle will speak on her impression of Egypt and Palestine where she visited in 1922 and again in 1925, a subject she is well competent to discuss with authority.

The services preceding Mrs. Bayle's address will begin at 7:30. The public is welcome both to the services and address.

QUEEN MARIE ABANDONS TOUR

Will Hurry Home to Be With Husband Who Is Ill

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 18.—(AP)—Queen Marie of Rumania virtually completed her American tour tonight and made ready to hurry home.

Dispersed by private advice from Bucharest, concerning the condition of King Ferdinand, she summoned members of her suite and American advisers today decided that she be taken as soon as possible to the bedside of her husband. Dispatches from abroad have described the king's illness as inflammation of the lower intestine and as cancer.

Some confusion attended efforts of train officials to outline a revised itinerary run to New York. Tentatively she will go direct to New York, while Prince Nicholas pays brief visit to Detroit and Cleveland, to see automobile plants and to greet Rumanian residents.

Marie is expected to sail on November 24 on the Berengaria.

Neither is the Louisville to New York route definitely settled. The intention hinges on a possible stop at Harper's Ferry to enable Marie to view the historic battle sights. The tentative schedule calls for a 15 minute stop at Cincinnati tomorrow morning, and skirting of Washington at a point outside the city.

It is definitely announced that plans to have the children see the Army-Navy football game in Chicago are cancelled, as are trips to Atlantic City, Lake Wood, N. J., White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, and Richmond, Va.

Although she had waited in vain for further advices from Bucharest Queen Marie showed no traces of her anxiety today as she followed Louisville's reception program. She visited the birthplace of Abraham Lincoln, and "My Old Kentucky Home" and Bradstreet, but decided to omit a civic banquet and ball tonight.

Auto Smash At William and Mulberry

An auto collision occurred at the corner of Mulberry and William streets yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock, in which one car was badly smashed up and another damaged.

An Essex Driven by L. H. Hart collided with a Ford roadster, overturning the roadster and almost completely wrecking it.

Will Discuss National Petroleum Problems

The annual convention of the American Petroleum Institute at Tulsa, December 7, 8 and 9, will bring together the largest and most representative gathering of leaders in the petroleum industry that has ever been held. From 1,500 to 2,000 chiefs of corporations, technical experts, scientific authorities, state and national officers, economists and engineers, will consider in the broadest way the questions that relate to permanently supplying fuel to America's 26,000,000 motor cars, and meeting the multitude of other demands on petroleum. Officers and directors of The Institute are shown in the illustration. All rank among the leaders of the industry.

Rev. Mr. Daniel Delivers Address At Service Held By Juniors Honoring Dead Brothers

"We measure men not by what they achieve but by the way in which they fill the sphere in which they walk." Rev. J. M. Daniel, pastor of St. Paul Methodist church, declared last evening in delivering the memorial address in honor of the seventy-eight members of the Junior Order who have died since the local lodge was formed.

Two hundred members of the Junior Order in Goldsboro and friends of the order attended the service. "Life's greatest pleasure is just that we are not forgotten," Rev. Mr. Daniel told the audience. "There are the sides around which the brethren gathered. There are handclaps that ever they touched."

"The seat where they sat in the Lodge is vacant, the face is gone, but the brothers set aside this night that a hallowed memory might be revered, that the departed may live again in our hearts and minds."

"As we pause tonight" went on Rev. Mr. Daniel, "as we pause tonight to honor the memory of our friends, we can but think of the stana they took. Vows of allegiance to God in all his majesty and mercy, they took. They pledged loyalty to their great country and protection of its people and fidelity to the grand old flag. They vowed to stand by those in sickness and sorrow."

"The gates of the garden of God swing wide and the tired servant enters into walk amongst the beautiful things in the wonderful garden."

W. W. Andrews, Chaplain of the Goldsboro council, characterized Rev. Mr. Daniel as "man of God" in presenting him to the lodge.

S. A. Strickland, counselor of the chapter, presided at the meeting. Invocation was pronounced by Rev. W. P. Watkins, Jr., and benediction by Rev. J. M. Carroll.

U. M. Killikin acted as master of ceremonies and stated the purpose of the meeting.

The quartet of the Council, composed of J. R. Raper, F. J. Casey, R. H. Spence, and J. G. Spence, sang a number of songs appropriate to the occasion.

FOURTH ARREST FOR PURNELL

Another Woman Prefers Charges and Bonds Now Total $125,000

Worried by illness after his BENTON HARBOR, Nov. 18.—(AP)—fourth arrest in two days "King" Benjamin Purnell rested at Shiloh while State authorities watched events at the colony.

Purnell was carried to court late today by six of his aides for arraignment on charges of assault brought by another woman member of the cult. He furnished $5,000 bond and was returned to Shiloh. Bonds for the leader now total $125,000.

Officials took precautions to guard state witnesses after Mrs. Beasie Woodworth, leader of the raid by state troopers, in which Purnell was taken had appealed to prosecuting attorney Geo. H. Bookwalter for protection. Mrs. Woodworth, former colony member, had been summoned to the suit headquarters to see her mother reported "dying." When called Mrs. Woodworth was to be accompanied by an officer, they refused her admittance.

"If the house of David doesn't stop trying to pull fake stuff, I'll arrest everybody in the colony for obstructing justice," said Mr. Bookwalter.

The move to bring Mrs. Woodworth to Shiloh was an attempt to monkey with state witnesses, it was said.

IS BROUGHT TO COURT ON BED

Pig Woman Says She Saw De- fendants Near Spot Where Bodies Were Found

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Nov. 18.—(AP)—Brought into court on a hospital bed after a thirty-mile trip in an ambulance, Mrs. Jane Gibson, ill with a kidney disease, testified at the Hall-Mills trial today for three hours and at the end of her testimony raised herself and partly screamed. "I told the truth so help me God, and you know it," with a wave of her hand toward the three defendants.

The three on trial for murder remained untruffled as the now famous raiser of pigs testified that she had seen Mrs. Hall and brothers, Henry and Willie Stevens and near the place the bodies of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills were found on the night they were slain more than four years ago.

From her bed Mrs. Gibson said she saw Mrs. Hall and Willie Stevens standing in front of an automobile in DeRusseys Lane near Brunswick, before she heard shots fired, later saw Henry Stevens just before she heard shot, and later observed Mrs. Hall kneeling near the place where the witness had heard voices uttering oaths.

She pointed to the defendants in the courtroom and said they were the persons she saw.

The dramatic appearance of the witness followed a ride in an ambulance from Jersey City where she has been a patient for ten days. She apparently suffered no ill effects from the trip and court appearance.

Princeton's not going to play with Harvard any more. The football wasn't so bad, but the words, you should have read them!

CONVENTION COMES TO CLOSE

Baptists Adopt Resolutions of Protest To Be Submitted To Queen Marie

WILMINGTON, Nov. 18.—(AP)—Election of members of various boards of trustees, the members of a general board and the passage of a resolution of protest as to treatment accorded Baptists of Rumania to be sent to Queen Marie, featured the sessions of the Baptist State convention which came to a close here today.

The resolutions follow: "The North Carolina Baptist State convention, representing more than 350,000 Baptists in North Carolina, in session at Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 18, 1926 wish to convey to her majesty, Queen Marie through you the following message:

"It is with deep regret that we have learned that our brethren in the Baptist churches in your country are let out of the list of recognized congregations and are not given the privileges given other religions."

We respectfully beseech you to grant the Baptist along with others, religious freedom, that they be allowed to purchase property for educational and philanthropic purposes and that their ministers and other church officials be assured freedom to carry out their functions. We sincerely hope that your visit to our country may be most pleasant and profitable."

The report to be signed by the president and secretary of the convention—B. W. Spilman, R. T. Vann, J. M. Kestler.

SHUN GEYSER AS SPIRITS

American Indians Believe Yel- lowstone Geysers Caused By Spirits in Conflict

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo., Nov. 18.—(AP)—The American Indians believe the famous geysers of the Yellowstone National Park are a conflict of the evil spirits in the deep recesses of the earth and consequently he has shunned the park at all times within the earliest knowledge of the western white pioneer.

The Eastern tourist who expected to combine western atmosphere with the wonderland of nature, was disappointed during the summer if he expected to see any redskins. Park officials recorded only six Indians visitors for the season.

Enter Park at Sacrifice
During the early days of exploring in the West, the white men encountered a complete lack of knowledge of the Park among the Indians. Three tribes—the Shoshones, the Crows and the Blackfeet—lived on every side of the park; according to their legendary history, but avoided entering the geyser region. When Indians went with the white explorers of military forces through the park, they offered up sacrifices before entering the geyser region usually through the "calumet of peace" the peace pipe.

The Yellowstone geysers were definitely associated by the Indians with their idea of hell, according to the legends of the Wyoming and Montana tribes. The rumble within the earth that heralded the geyser eruptions, the redskins regarded as the forging of warlike weapons by the spirits and each eruption signified a victory or defeat of one band of spirits.

A living Shoshone chieftain of more than 80 years, we saw, sounds the opinion of the Indian about the geysers as "hep, hep bad."

CADILLAC CAR IS RECOVERED

Morris Rigdon and James Boyd Bound to Superior Court on Charge of Larceny

Morris Rigdon and James Boyd, the latter said to be from Richmond, Va., were bound to Superior court yesterday on a charge of larceny of the Cadillac Coach of Henry Brizell.

Mr. Brizell left a theory on Center street, Wednesday night to see his Cadillac being driven off, two men occupying the front seat. Halling J. S. Boney in his Lincoln, Mr. Brizell hurried to the police station, officer J. T. Thomas joined the party and chase of the disappearing Cadillac was begun.

"There were only a few gallons of gas in the tank" said Mr. Brizell, "and it will be best for us to trail along and wait for the car to run out of juice."

Sixty miles an hour was said to be the speed which the Cadillac was making in the direction of Raleigh, beyond Princeton the gas gave out. Messrs. Boney, Brizell, and Thomas were only a few miles behind and Rigdon and Boyd were placed under arrest and returned to the city.

Probable cause was found in a hearing before Mayor Ytter yesterday morning.

MARK YOURSELF A WINNER

Any contender can finish the final period high up in the scores and establish himself in position to secure himself one of the fine cars. It all depends upon the amount of work done Saturday and Monday and the accomplishment as a result of it.

The workers will set about the bigards will fall behind. They may catch up by hard work later but those who fall to take advantage of the present big vote are sure to regret it.

No opportunity to secure subscriptions should be overlooked these final days. New subscriptions are especially valuable. The longer term subscriptions have particularly effective vote inducements. With the reduced subscription price still in effect, permitting subscribers to buy their subscriptions at five dollars a year for all they want to take.
