William Tudor Badly Hurt In An Automobile Accident Early Yesterday Morning

William Tudor, young white man of Goldsboro, is in a local hospital with severe injuries; Delmos Cole, young white man of Goldsboro has minor injuries; a Chrysler roadster is badly wrecked and a Ford coupe damaged as the result of the Chrysler, driven by Cole, striking the Ford parked on the right side of the road early yesterday morning. The accident took place on Slocumb street.

Mrs. Tudor and Cole were returning to Goldsboro from Grifton when the accident occurred. The Ford coupe was knocked upon the sidewalk at the point by the Chrysler which was travelling south. A left hand wheel of the Ford, the luggage compartment and the left rear fender were smashed. The accident took place in front of the home of Richard Newell.

The Chrysler is reported to have turned over twice. The front right wheel was completely demolished, and the sides of the car damaged. "Badly wrecked" was the term used in describing the condition of the Chrysler.

Young Tudor was rendered unconscious in the crash and continued in that state until about 1 o'clock yesterday. His condition was such, it was said, that he could not be moved to the operating room for an X-ray and a thorough examination. All morning it was feared he might die at any moment. About one o'clock however, he is reported to have taken a turn for the better and to have regained consciousness.

At the hospital last evening it was said that he was resting "somewhat better".

Young Cole was not badly injured, suffering minor cuts about an arm. As the driver, Mr. Cole was farthest away from the Ford when the impact came. Mr. Tudor was occupying the side of the right side of the car and was in such a position as to catch much of the force of the impact.

Woman May Have Been Slain by Rifle Bullet

MANAGUA, Nic., May 28.—(AP)—Although Capt. William Richards of the U. S. Marine Corps shot and killed the Nicaraguan bandit leader Cabulla in self defense, it has not been determined whether another bullet from his pistol killed a woman who attacked him with a machete or whether she fell from a bullet from an automatic rifle fired by another member of the Marine patrol.

Capt. Richards had undertaken to remonstrate with Cabulla against his cruelty to the natives. Cabulla with members of his band, and the woman were found in an isolated house. Almost at once Cabulla reached for his pistol but the Marine of fear was too quick firing three shots and killing him.

The woman sprang forward and a rifleman fired almost simultaneously with Capt. Richards and the woman dropped.

General Rain Worth Thousands Dollars

A general rain over Wayne county and this section of Eastern North Carolina late yesterday afternoon broke the back of the drought which has gripped the country for weeks. "It's worth a thousands of dollars to the farmers of the county," said one familiar with conditions throughout the country. The long drought, with a hot dry wind which blew for several days, materially cut short the truck crops in the Mt. Olive section. It is said. Yesterday's rain will aid the potato crop to grow larger but it is thought that no new tubers will develop such was the extremity of the dry spell before broken. Yesterday's rain was general over the section. New Bern reported a good downfall. Kingston information was that it rained all day, and reports from Wallace and Warsaw were that these sections benefited. Wilmington, however, was not touched, it was said.

HOOVER ASKS NORTH TO AID

In 40-Station Hook-up Broadcasts Appeal for Flood Ravaged States

NEW ORLEANS, May 28.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover tonight called upon the North to come to the aid of the South in her tremendous task of giving 600,000 victims of the greatest Mississippi valley flood in history a new start in life.

The appeal of the commerce secretary, who has directed the great relief machine of the flood, broadcast by 40 radio stations into every state in the union, asked the nation to contribute $2,000,000 more to the Red Cross and the Northern bankers and industries to subscribe $1,500,000 to the financing agencies of the three hardest hit states which will supply funds for the reconstruction of the territory.

Mr. Hoover reviewed the entire devastation of the flood and described how the greatest machine to save lives and care for the homeless in the nation's history was organized in the South. He also outlined the great task of reconstruction of the people, driven from their homes by the waters which confronts Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi after the waters recede. Six hundred thousand of the 700,000 homeless are destitute he said. The reconstruction should be the task of a generous North to a resolute and courageous south, he said and we of the north have the right and duty to bind their wounds.

BELGIUM ADOPTS LINDY

COMMITTEE HAS MEETING HERE

Talk Ways and Means of Acquiring Land for Waterway Right-of-Way

Further course of procedure to be taken toward the acquiring of land for the right of way for the inland waterway from Beaufort to Wilmington is being considered here yesterday by the sub-committee of the State Transportation Advisory Commission, composed of J. Allen Taylor, Wilmington, chairman; E. K. Bishop, of New Bern and J. W. House of Washington. The committee is faced with two problems in the acquisition of the necessary land for the right of way. First, it must "sell" the state on the importance of the canal to the entire State, as well as the eastern section, and it then must get the cooperation of all the landowners whose lands are to be traversed by the canal so that the right of way may be obtained as cheaply as possible. "Since the Federal Government is going to spend approximately $10,444,000 to dig and developing the canal, we feel that the landowners involved should be willing to provide the necessary land at very reasonable prices" said a spokesman wide for the length of the canal hence considerable land will be required. However, since most of the land traversed is marsh land not under cultivation, the commission is confident that no difficulty will be experienced in obtaining the needed land.

Brussels Gives Royal Welcome

Will Take Off About 1:30 For London Today If Plans Not Changed

BRUSSELS, May 28.—(AP)—A royal welcome awaited Captain Charles Lindbergh, who flew from Paris to Brussels today. Within two hours after he brought the "Spirit of St. Louis" down upon Belgian soil, King Albert had received him at the palace, showered congratulations upon him for his conquest of the Atlantic and placed upon his coat the insignia of Order of Leopold. A little later he was presented with the highly coveted gold medal of the Royal Aero Club, an honor that only five other airmen, all Belgian citizens have received. The Belgians say that Lindbergh has "become a fixed member of this little family and thus is a sort of adopted son of Belgium." Today the Belgians showed they loved heroic prowess and as the best proof of this they emphasized the fact that Captain Lindbergh is the only foreigner thus far admitted to the family of Belgian heroes of the air. The American airman was escorted all the way from Paris by a group of French airplanes and was met at the border by two squadrons of Belgian army planes. Everywhere he went through the streets, the populace hailed him heroically. He met members of the American colony at his country's embassy and visited the tomb of the unknown soldier, and the monument to the Belgian airman who have died in battle. "A week ago this very moment," he said "I was over the Atlantic." There were two desires in mind—first to reach Le Bourget, the second, to visit Brussels. I landed at Le Bourget and now I am in Brussels. Both of my wishes have come true. "Unfortunately I cannot remain long with you, but I shall never forget Belgium and France and some day I shall return." Lindbergh is certain to hop off for London tomorrow, but the exact hour remains in doubt. He wants to know just when his arrival would be most convenient, and it looks tonight as if he would take the air at the hour originally fixed—1:30 p. m.
