THE BOY'S PROBLEM

I do so where my thing all go. They keep me hunting high 'n' low. I'm sure I threw my sweater there. An' now it isn't anywhere!

Sometimes I yell:
Ma, where's my hat?

She says:
"Right where you put it at—"
'tween I hunt around, some more 'n' gently find it—

On the floor?
—John J. Eberhardt, in Brathwaite's "Anthology of Magazine Verses for 1926."

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ward Honored

On Thursday evening at eight o'clock Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ward were given a surprise party and shower in celebration of their fifteenth wedding anniversary by a number of their friends and neighbors. The guests assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Z. L. Thompson and went in a group to the beautiful new home of Mr. and Mrs. Ward at the corner of Ash and Lionel streets.

One of the number, Mrs. S. E. Malone, disguised as a negro washer-woman knocked at the door and when Mrs. Ward answered, informed her that she had brought the washing home. She then carried the basket in the living room, sat it in the floor and told her boss-lady, "Take out dis washing an' let me get on back wid dis basket. I'm in a big hurry". The crowd then gathered around to see the washing taken out. Instead of being filled with clothing the basket was filled with many and useful gifts of both crystal and linen which attested to the love and esteem with which Mr. and Mrs. Ward are held by their friends and neighbors.

Mrs. E. C. Howell had charge of the entertainment for the evening and several interesting contests were held. The prize for the first, a picture guessing contest, was awarded to Mrs. W. D. Hunter. After the contests, games were played and jokes were read aloud by each one present. The party was brim full of fun and laughter from start to finish and everyone had a delightful time.

A delicious ice course and cake were served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Howell, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Berwick, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Finkle, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Raper, Mr. and Mrs. William Whitley, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Broughton, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Spell, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Tew, Mr. and Mrs. Z. L. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Spence, Mr. and Mrs. McBride, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Adams, and Mesdames: C. D. Thompson, H. A. Pike, S. E. Malone, W. D. Hunter, W. P. Wrenn, H. C. Brown, L. H. Marshburn, of Wilmington, H. C. Howell, and L. A. Adams, and Misses Nora Adams, Fannie Thompson, and Annie Whitley.

Business and Professional Women Adopt Songs

The following songs have been adopted by the local Business and Professional Woman's club and are sung at each meeting. The singing is led by Miss Gladys Harris, chairman of the "pop" committee.

There are clubs that make us snappy,
There are clubs that make us free,
There are clubs that make us independent.

There are clubs that fill our hearts with glee.

There are clubs that cheer us when
we're lonely,
There are clubs that help us get along.

But the club that puts the "pop" in business.

The more we get together
together, together,
The happier we'll be,
For your friends are my friends
and my friends are your friends
The more we get together
The happier we'll be.

Miss Dorothy Allen Honored

Miss Eleanor Kornegay entertained very delightfully at her home on North William street Thursday afternoon at a bridge party complimentary to Miss Dorothy Allen, bride-elect.

Lovely garden towers and potted plants were used throughout the room. Bridge was played at five tables and Mrs. Sam Britt was awarded the high score prize, a box of dusting powder. The guest of honor, Miss Allen, was presented a lovely piece of linen.

Miscellaneous Shower

LAORHANGE, N. C., June 15—One of the most delightful social events of the season was a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. W. D. Mewborne and daughters, Misses Jane and Irene, Mrs. C. H. Simon and Mrs. Moutague E. Hardy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Montague E. Hardy at the little village of Jason, on Wednesday evening, complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Norman A. Sutton, a recent bride and groom. The bride before her marriage June 2, was Miss Eleanor Whitfield of Robersonville, N. C.

The guest were greeted by Mrs. Montague Hardy and Miss Irene Mewborne. In the living room, which was decorated in spring flowers, each guest was registered and presented a miniature bouquet of white and pink verbenas or ivy leaves by Miss Jane Mewborne.

In a word contest Mrs. Montague Hardy won prize, a box of candy which she graciously presented to the bride. Mr. Robert Sutton won booby prize, a fan.

After the contest, the guest were ushered into the dining room which was beautifully decorated in color scheme of pink, green and white, where they were served brick cream and cake.

At 10:30 o'clock a bell rang at the front door, Mrs. R. Dan Hardy answered the call, which was a letter to the bride and groom. Attached to the letter was a pink cord which was followed out on the back porch into a concealed corner. There they found many nice and useful presents, which was very much of a surprise.

Mrs. Emmette Sugg and Mrs. Carl Hardy, recent brides of the week were each presented with a guest towel.

A large number of the social set enjoyed the charming reception in this hospitable home.

Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Thompson Entertains

Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Thompson entertained at a barbecue supper on the beautiful lawn of their home last evening at six o'clock honoring Miss Dorothy Allen who will be married on June the 23rd, to Mr. John Duncan, of Raleigh.

Miss Susan Rawlings Hostess

Miss Susan Rawlings was hostess at a lovely Bridge Party at her home yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Elizabeth Rawlings, of Norfolk, Va.

There were three tables of players and Miss Mary Alice Dewey won high score prize. Miss Margaret Well was awarded second high score prize and Miss Rawlings, honor guest, was presented an attractive gift.
