PERKINS CLAN HOLDS REUNION

Rev. W. O. Cone Says There's No Such Thing as 100 Per Cent American

There is no such thing as 100 per cent American, Rev. W. O. Cone remarked in discussing the matter of genealogy before the 200 members of the Perkins family gathered at Perkins Spring near Pikeville for their annual reunion.

The very term Anglo-Saxon, Rev. Mr. Cone pointed out, indicated that two races joined in the beginning to produce the English, and added that there have been combinations and additions from other races ever since.

WAYNE FALLS IN GROUP 8

Phillips Makes Public Game and Fish Districts of State Under New System

RALEIGH, July 30.—(AP)—Division of the state and county groupings into twelve districts under the direction of the newly named deputy game and fish commissioners for the administration of the state game law were made public today by Wade H. Phillips, director of the Department of Conservation and Development.

Five of the districts follow, generally, the limits of the five active forestry districts, using the chief forest warden in each of these for the combined forestry, game and fish duties. In other parts of the state where there are no active forestry organizations, special districts were created for the game and fish law administration.

The four chief forest wardens, C. N. Mease, Black Mountain, district No. 1; J. E. Long, Nebo, district No. 2; J. A. D. McCormick, Bunn Level, district No. 3; and E. P. Simmons, New Bern, district Nos. 4 and 5 are also deputy game and fish commissioners in their districts with the exception of some counties where the game and fish work has been separated and where they will work in cooperation with the newly named commissioners.

Newly created game and fish districts and the deputy commissioners for each follow: District No. 6—W. M. Jones, Charlotte, deputy commissioner; Meeklenburg, Gaston, Cleveland, Lincoln, Union, Catawba, Hoke, Chatham, Anson, Scotland and Lee. District No. 7—W. C. Lisk, Richfield, deputy commissioner; Rowan, Davidson, Iredell, Randolph, Alexander, Montgomery, Richmond, and Cabarrus. District No. 8—George A. Nicol, New Bern, deputy commissioner; Craven, Johnston, Wayne, Currier, Duplin, Lenoir, Onslow, Pamlico, Wayne, Franklin.

Judge Daniels Discharges Manslaughter Count Under Which 2 Youths Were Held

Orders Them Held For Larceny of Automobile and Turned Over to New Hanover Authorities; Rules They Were not Aiding or Abetting in Operation of Car at Time of Fatal Accident

Aldore Gagnon and William Quinn, young men from Springfield, Mass., held in jail here on charges in connection with the death of Pete Rooney of Springfield, Mass., and of J. L. Hatcher of Mt. Olive, in an automobile accident, yesterday were ordered discharged of the charge by Judge Frank Daniels.

The order by the local jurist came after he had heard habeas corpus proceedings on behalf of the young men several days ago. In making the court order, he ruled that evidence submitted indicated that Peter Rooney, the dead youth, must have been at the wheel when the accident occurred and that Quinn and Gagnon were in the rear seat of the car in which they were riding.

There was no evidence, the court ruled, that Quinn and Gagnon were concealing, aiding or abetting Rooney in the operation of the car when the accident occurred or were in any way responsible for it. Coroners juries had held the young men under charges of manslaughter in the accident.

Sheriff W. D. Grant, upon receiving the order from Judge Daniels about noon yesterday, at once communicated with the sheriff of New Hanover county. The latter reported that he would send a deputy to Goldsboro sometime Sunday to take the two youths in charge under a warrant charging theft of an automobile.

Gagnon and Quinn were occupants of the Hudson sedan which crashed into the Chevrolet driven by J. L. Hatcher, of Mt. Olive near the Peach-A-Rena farm several weeks ago. Peter Rooney, also of Springfield, Mass., and held by Judge Daniels to have been the driver of the Hudson, was killed, and Mr. Hatcher suffered injuries from which he died two days later. Mrs. Hatcher was painfully injured.

LEVINE LEAVES ASK DELEGATES DROUHIN HOME TO FARM MEET

Honors Afloat That American Efforts Will be Made Form State Wide Farmers Organization in August

PARIS, July 30.—(AP)—Talk of discord between Charles Levine and Maurice Drouhin, French flier, whom he has engaged to pilot the Columbia on a return trans-Atlantic flight was again brought to mind today when Levine departed for England and left the pilot behind.

Levine, as well as a Wright motor expert who accompanied him in the flight to England, said the Columbia remained in her shed because they did not want to give the plane unnecessary hours in the air. Friends of Drouhin, however, say the plane remained in the shed because the Frenchman refused to fly her and put his foot down against making any other than test flights before starting the trans-Atlantic hop.

NO SETTLEMENT

LOS ANGELES, July 30.—(AP)—The financial and family strife at Angeles temple failed of settlements here late today. The approach of the evangelistic Almes Temple McPherson to an attorney's conference resulted in the hasty departure of her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, and reported tentative plans for agreement went unapproved by the Temple leaders.

RALEIGH, July 30.—(AP)—James M. Gray, secretary of the state farmers convention, just closed, today rested on a statement issued last night in which he called upon local communities and county organizations of farmers and farm women to send on representative to a state-wide meeting to be held at State College Friday morning, August 26.

Steps will be taken at this meeting to form the farm organization asked for by those attending the 25th annual farm convention just closed.

Mr. Gray was asked to serve as temporary secretary of the proposed organization and he asks all farm organizations wanting representation on the committee to notify him of the names and addresses of such representatives in order that all communications about the proposed meeting might be sent directly to them.

Drilling Is Still Held Up As Efforts Free Well Go On

(Special To The News) CLINTON, July 30.—Today passed with drilling at the Clinton prospect well where a deep surprise of crude has been encountered, still being held up by a machinery breakdown.

Operators were at work to prepare a new grapples-hoek with which to locate the piece of steel which has worked loose from the bottom of the casing enclosing the hole part of the way to the bottom. They felt that the new hoek being constructed—a hoek which will automatically adjust itself to any size—will give grasp the steel lodged at the bottom and pull it out.

Interest in the well has assumed state wide proportions, and Sampson county, through the find, has attracted more attention than at any other time in its history. From all over the state come reports of decided interest, and hundreds of visitors have been here since the find was announced last Saturday. Goldsboro, Wilmington, Dunn and Fayetteville have shown the greatest interest, and number of automobiles from Raleigh, Greensboro and Durham have been seen here.

Just what the discovery will ultimately mean, no one has been found who will hazard a guess. That there oil here is known. That is in good sized quantities is strongly indicated. That the field may be one of the largest in the world is indicated by the surface indications that led to the boring of the first well. It has been pointed out by some that, since the surface indications have proven up in this instance, that they will also prove up in the whole, and that Sampson is sitting on top of one of the greatest fortunes in the world.

One of the most gratifying almost too good to be true things in connection with the discovery is the grade of oil found. For some time, those who have closely studied the indications here, have believed that oil, if found, would be of paraffine base and high volatility. The samples from the well prove this contention, thus putting the Sampson field outside of the

TROOP SIX HAS BABY SIGNALER

George Patrick, Mascot of Troop Receives During Last Day at Camp

(By DAVID LILES)

Troop No. 6, Goldsboro Boy Scouts, had its first regular weekly meeting after returning from camp, on last Friday night. About nineteen Scouts were present, and the scoutmaster and assistant scoutmaster.

The meeting was opened with the Lord's Prayer, this being followed by a short and very interesting talk by W. W. Rivers, our scout executive, who dropped in to say hello. He complimented the troop on having so many members in the honor tribe of Knieh. Troop 6, furnishes ten out of the seventeen members of this honor tribe of Tuscarora council.

Our scoutmaster then complimented us on the record that the troop made while at camp, taken off honors in field and water sports while there, and lying with troop No. 1 in the number of merit badges passed there.

Troop No. 6 has the distinction of having the youngest signaler in this part of the country, and probably in the entire country. Little George Patrick who is the mascot of the troop received for his tribe at the last field day of camp and came in second. George is just ten years old. If he keeps this up somebody better watch out. He placed second with all those older scouts in competition with him.

Because our senior patrol leader resigned before camp, the troop and scoutmaster was hard put to find another scout to hold down the job. It was not because of the scarcity of material, but because of the excess of material. There were several boys in troops that would make good senior patrol leaders, and after a great deal of worry and though Mr. Patrick picked George Edwards from the crowd, and with the approval of the entire troop, he was pronounced senior patrol leader. Edward Evans was elected scribe of the troop. Edward is a hard worker and we think that a better scribe could not have been picked.

They pledged themselves as a unit to stand by these new officers. This means that the old troop, which is calling on the wings of glory will continue to sail, and to still higher peaks as yet unseen.

We had three new members come into our troop last Friday night. The scouts are pleased with the new additions, and we all believe that they will make excellent members of troop No. 6.

Henry Liles is getting his share of the glory. He is the baby Eagle of the Council, Henry passed his Eagle test the week of camp. Henry will not be the baby long, though, because Edgar Bain, David Bland and Edward Evans are in a pretty close race to see who will be the next one on the list.

Junaluska Debt May Soon be Cleared Now

LAKE JUNALUSKA, July 30.—(AP)—Hope that the "unprecedented era of prosperity" upon which the Southern Methodist assembly has been launched, may result soon in the liquidation of the debt of about $30,000 on its property here was expressed at a meeting of the board of trustees here today.

The view was advanced that this might be accomplished in time to transfer the entire plant to the Methodist Episcopal church, South, at the next general conference. So optimistic were the commissioners on this score that they fixed a day in August, 1928 for a jubilee meeting to celebrate the occasion.

Paris Says Hips Are Stylish, Knees Not

PARIS, July 30.—(AP)—Knees are to go into eclipse next winter and waistlines will be worn and hips have been reinstated.

This bulletin from the sanctuaries of the dress makers where winter fashions are being shown to buyers to the United States may have an immediate effect upon the white bread and pastry consumption of the world.

If women follow Paris, curves will be worn again without apology. Bread and potatoes fit right in in the more-feminine campaign which includes everything connected with the fashion trade from hair goods to jewelry.

Short hair is threatened if not actually doomed, by the fashion-makers. Now that ruffles are back with all they stand for, almost anything may happen in the world of style.

Several Principles in Sampson Oil Drilling Experiment are Implicated

CLINTON, July 30.—Because Mr. Keiper, one of the defendants who is charged jointly with Messrs. Orr, Jackson and Wherry, oil well men here, with aiding and abetting in the manufacture of whiskey resulting from the capture several weeks ago of a well, several hundred yards from the Sampson county experimental oil well, was absent from the trial today on account of sickness, Solicitor J. A. Powers, of Kinston, requested that the hearing be continued until Thursday or until the missing defendant is well enough to attend.

Justice of the Peace George L. Peterson before, whom the warrants were sworn out, was relieved of the case today by the defense counsel and he recommended M. E. Britt, J. C. to hear the proceedings. Ketter is represented by J. D. Johnson, Jr., while Messrs. Orr, Jackson and Wherry are represented by Attorneys Butler and Herring and Henry E. Paison. B. H. Crumpler and W. H. Fisher are aiding the prosecution. The defense counsel contends that the three defendants who were present were entitled to a hearing but Justice Britt ruled in favor of the State and the case was continued until Thursday.

STEVENSSON TALKS

INDIANAPOLIS, July 30.—(AP)—D. C. Stephenson, "talked" for five hours today. Into just what phases of the complex Indian political corruption enquiry his conversation with the six county grand jurors carried, him is a matter that only the secret official record could illuminate, but at any rate he talked. Having done the talking which he threatened for a year to do, he was whisked back to the cell at Michigan City, which has been home to him since he was convicted of murder 20 months ago.

Statement Authorized by Exiled Prince Given The Associated Press

SAYS RENUNCIATION WAS FORCED ACTION

Has No Intention of Provoking Any Agitation in His Native Land

PARIS, July 30.—(AP)—Former Crown Prince Carol of Rumania informed the Associated Press today that he still maintains his hereditary rights to the Rumanian throne.

Carol, through an authorized agent, spoke of the acceptance of his renunciation of the throne which was voted by the Rumanian government January 4, 1926, as a forced action. He still considers himself authorized to intervene personally. It was said, although "remaining a loyal patriot."

At 10 o'clock this morning the telephone rang in the Paris office of the Associated Press and a voice asked: "Is Mr. Topping there?"

J. T. Topping, of the Associated Press, was summoned to the telephone and was given the following message:

"Prince Carol of Rumania authorizes us to declare that his letter of renunciation of the throne signed by him a year and a half ago was imposed upon his dignity under grave circumstances and by persons from whom he prefers to abstain judgment or giving details.

"Prince Carol affirms that he has no intention of provoking any agitation in his country, but as a father and Rumanian he has the right and duty to safeguard and to watch over his nation. He considers himself to have personally the right to intervene and will remain an ardent patriot and Rumanian whose only desire is to be useful to his country.

Should the Rumanian people address an appeal to him, he believes it would be his duty to obey that command."

Immediately upon receipt of this telephone communication, the Associated Press demanded and received verification of the announcement.

SUPREME COURT TO BEGIN SOON

Wake County Road Case Will Get Unusual Attention, is Expected

RALEIGH, July 30.—(AP)—Supreme court opinion days will begin in another month and with the busy routine there stands out, as usual, a road suit.

The Wake county commissioners have brought suit against the state highway commission, charging that the commission acted so as to divert funds from Raleigh and other Wake county points to Durham.

The county commissioners seek to restrain the commission from taking over three roads which the commission has adopted. They seek a temporary restraining order from Judge N. A. Sinclair.

The suit is the first to be made in the courts of 1927 legislation which was enacted following the action of the supreme court in denying to the highway commission powers which it had asserted in regard to the location of roads through the town of Newton.

The county commissioners the commission has disregarded the cooperative clause in the 1927 road act, reading: "That the state highway commission shall work in cooperation with the road governing body of the counties and in their respective and several districts in the laying out of these roads, always looking after the interest of both county and state in so doing."

Five Wayne Veterans Plan Attend Raleigh Reunion

Everything is in readiness for the entertainment and convenience of the veterans and their families who will attend their reunion in Raleigh August 2 and August 3 and 4, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, next week, according to A. S. Hoover, business manager of State College, in charge of dormitory arrangements and other matters there.

Five Wayne county veterans have indicated their intention of going to Raleigh for the reunion according to W. K. Griffin, commander of the local unit. "You bet we are going to be represented," he said yesterday afternoon.

Immediately upon arrival in Raleigh the veterans will be taken from the trains by the reception committee to Pullen Hall, State College, where they will be registered and assigned to rooms in the college dormitories. The reception committee has requested that no veteran leave the station, except under the guidance of some member of his committee. Stewart Robertson, professor of Journalism, at State will be in charge of the registration, and will be assisted by members of the reception committee and boy scouts.

After being registered, the veterans will be assigned to their rooms by Lieutenant E. P. Passalunghi, and escorted to them by the boy scouts on duty.

The room number of each veteran will be pinned to his lapel in order to avoid confusion.

The veterans will be quartered in the dormitories near Pullen Hall, where all the meetings will be held. All meals will be served in State College dining hall. The capital city as well as State College is planning to open its hearts to the veterans. A large number of citizens are serving on the various committees, and working with the college officials to make the reunion a great success. In addition, practically every car owner will display a placard reading, "Veterans. This is Your Car," signifying his willingness to take any veteran anywhere he wants to go in the city.
