GERMANY ASKS WORLD UNITE IN DISARMAMENT WINDOW CONTEST MON. NIGHT LAUNCHES FALL OPENING

Dr. Stresemann Tells Assembly Armies Don't Insure Against Peace

Curtains Will Be Run Up at 7:30 Evening, Featuring Fall Styles

TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY GIVEN TO FASHION SHOWS
Novel and Elaborate Effects Perfected by Some Entering Window Contest

GENEVA, Switz., Sept. 24—(AP)—Germany—once regarded as the greatest military power in the world—is now disarmed and calmly waits for her neighbors to do likewise. Dr. Gustave Stresemann, the German foreign secretary, declared tonight in a plea from the rostrum at the Assembly of the League of Nations for the speeding up of preparations for an international conference for the reduction of armaments.

Hating at former enemies in the great war, he continued by citing an incident of a citizen who appeared among a peaceful crowd in the ancient Roman forum, armed to the teeth, and who when justifying his arms on the grounds that he feared he might be attacked was asked: "Who gave you leave to be so afraid?"

"We in Germany," he quietly remarked, "are often tempted to say that to our neighbors."

Dr. Stresemann insists that armaments could not and do not form the basis for security, arguing that their effect was a threat to other nations, implying the delegates of more than 50 nations not to shake the faith of mankind that a better future is ahead for the world, he asserted that the League of Nations could not endure unless the duty of general disarmament was discharged.

Dr. Stresemann, Mons. Paul Boncour, of France, and Dr. London, of Holland, all spoke when the disarmament plans were submitted to the assembly. Senator De Brouckere, Socialist parliamentary leader of Belgium, delivered a powerful address. He challenged at once to the report of the disarmament committee. With years of experience in the League's disarmament efforts, he solemnly warned his hearers that the road to success would be long and perilous. Yet he eloquently painted a picture of fervent faith that the goal will finally be reached.

"My life in the future will be devoted to my sons. I am going to put all three through school. They are all I have to live for now."

GUARD AGAINST BABY SHUFFLES

Chicago Hospitals Use Special System to Identify New-comers

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 24—(AP)—Large Chicago hospitals where hundreds of babies are born each year virtually have eliminated chances of mixing the babies such as was charged in a Cleveland hospital recently. A triple check system devised by Dr. J. B. Lee, obstetrician of the Chicago Lying-in Hospital, is the safeguard used to make certain that babies find their way to their own parents and to make certain that parents get their own babies.

The minute a new baby arrives, the first step of the triple check is taken when a metal tag with a number attached is fastened to the baby's wrist and another bearing the duplicate number goes on the mother's wrist. Next a small piece of adhesive tape is fastened to the baby's back and written on it are the numbers of the tags, baby's surname, date of birth, sex, and name of attending physician.

WILD MAN REALLY WILD WHEN HECKLER NAGS HIM

NEW YORK, Sept. 24—The usual crowd of curious onlookers had gathered around the wild man from Borneo, in a Coney Island side-show. "That ain't no wild man," a visitor remarked. "That shows all a fake." This enraged the wild man. He threw a bottle of heckle, then a glass was about to change the skeptic himself when a guard interferred. The "wild man" proved to be a negro from Harlem. But he was wild for the time being.

WEEVIL EATS 25 PER CENT

Dr. Leiby Estimates That From 25 to 30 Per Cent of Crop Destroyed by Pest

RALEIGH, Sept. 24—(AP)—Boll Weevil damage to cotton has increased during late August and the early part of September to a point where it is now believed that from 25 to 30 percent of the state's cotton crop has either been destroyed or prevented from maturing.

Such is the conclusion advanced by Dr. H. W. Leiby, entomologist for the state department of agriculture, who has just completed his second official survey of the weevil situation. He finds that the actual damage varies from 30 to 50 percent in the lower coastal plain section and from five to 20 percent in the upper coastal plain and lower Piedmont sections. The damage was found to be more serious by far than in any previous year since the weevil has invaded the state.

Following his first survey, made a month ago, he forecasted increasing damage to the middle crop of bolls if the weather during August remained wet. This condition prevailed over most of the cotton section, resulting in the destruction of half grown and even larger bolls by weevil grubs. These grubs developed from eggs deposited under the boll shells by female weevils, a habit which Dr. Leiby says very many cotton farmers have previously questioned as being possible for the weevil to accomplish.

The most serious damage, it was pointed out, was in Scotland county, where some fields that the owners declared should make a bale and a half to the acre showed a fraction over three open bolls on the average plant. The remaining bolls were either entirely eaten up or showed most of their locks of cotton blackened and destroyed by the weevil. The state department's entomologists have predicted serious injury for several years when a wet and moderately warm July and August followed a winter that was uniform and not too severe.

Dr. Barber addressed the convention of the American Association for Medical Physical research yesterday and was quoted as saying that the death of these infants was due primarily to nicotine poisoning.
