Believe Jealousy Caused Brutal Murder Of Durham Woman, Finding of Body Is First Step in Solution Bridge Mystery

Coroner's Jury Finds Mrs. Terry Was Brutally Assaulted and Thrown in River

SHERIFF'S SEARCH FOR MAN IN SOUTH CAROLINA

Durham Woman Believed to Have Been Murdered Night She Left Her Home

CORINTH, N. C., April 2.—(AP)—The brutal extremes to which jealousy may resort were revealed this morning with the finding of a horribly bruised body, identified as that of Mrs. Annie Terry, 45 of Durham, who had been missing from her home since March 24 when she left on the pretense of going to Greensboro for a visit.

It was seen floating at the surface by Lissy Nychason, young married man of Corinth community. It is expected that several others who have been active in the search will share in the $100 reward offered by the sheriff of Chatham and Lee counties.

A coroner's jury was impaneled after observing the body went to pits here for a secret session. It decided that Mrs. Terry came to her death as a result of a "brutal assault" and was drowned in the waters of the Cape Fear river, thrown from Avents ferry bridge by a "person or persons unknown to the jury."

Mrs. Terry was recognized by her daughter Mrs. Mary Yandic of Durham who reached the scene a few hours after news of the recovery came. She was dressed exactly as Mrs. Yandic had predicted she would be when found. Items of jewelry that could be positively identified as belonging to the missing Durham woman were found upon her person.

FALL BLAMES REPUBLICANS

Names Three Leaders in Party Who Suggested Writing of Famous Letter

ELPASO, Tex., April 2.—(AP)—Three Republican leaders—a former cabinet member who is now in Europe, a senator and a former secretary—have been named by Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, as having advised him to write the famous McLean letter to the Senate.

Fall, his friends revealed today, declared that the party leaders urged him to cover up the loan from Doherty in the fear that public knowledge of the transaction would result in charges that the Republican administration had favored the oil man in its Mexican oil policy.

He said the three men visited him while he was sick in bed in Washington.

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Both Senator Smooth of Utah and former Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin denied flatly today that they had anytime suggested to Albert B. Fall that he write the McLean $100,000 loan letter to the Senate Teapot Dome committee. Replying to suggestions that he was the senator mentioned by Fall as having advised him to write the committee Senator Smooth said that this was "absolutely untrue. He explained that after Fall came to Washington on ill man, he suggested to Lenroot that the former interior secretary owed it to himself and to the committee to tell about the source of the funds with which he had purchased the Harris ranch.

Tragic Development In Saulston Shooting Case

The strong constitution of Amiziah Smith, Saulston man who was seriously wounded when he halted at the door of Hinton Best last Friday night, yesterday asserted itself, and he seemed to have conquered pneumonia which developed following his wounds. At the Goldsboro hospital where he is a patient it was said last evening that he was resting comfortably.

A raving mad man, Hinton Best, charged with shooting Smith, was yesterday committed to the insane asylum in Raleigh. For a number of hours before the man from a prominent family was committed to the Raleigh institution, it required the strength of three men to keep him quiet.

IRISHMAN MAY JOIN GERMANS

Head of Irish Free State Air Force Makes Trial Flight in Bremen

DUBLIN, April 2.—(AP)—The German plane Bremen made a trial flight at Badonnel airbase this afternoon with Col James Fitzmaurice, head of the Irish Free State airforce, as assistant pilot.

While Col. Fitzmaurice and the Baldoonnel authorities deny that he will replace Arthur Spindler, as copilot with Captain Herman Koehl on the Bremen's trans-Atlantic flight the nature of today's trial, coupled with the departure of Spindler from Dublin, strengthened a belief that there has been a hitch in the plans of Baron Honefeld, sponsor of the project.

Baron Honefeld was a passenger today in the plane while Captain Koehl and Col Fitzmaurice handled the dual controls.

The expedition continues to await favorable weather.

Secured License Falsely. W. I. Kennedy was fined $50 and costs after the court had found that he falsely procured a marriage license for his son. Kennedy thought the fine too much and appealed. Bond was fixed at $100. Appearing at the office of Register of Deeds, Kennedy had requested the license. When told that he would have to certify to the marriageable age of the girl, he asked if a signed statement from the girl's father as to her age would be satisfactory. He was told that it would according to evidence submitted, and went away. In a short time he returned, bearing a statement purporting to bear the signature of the girl's father. It turned out, however, that the girl's father had never signed a statement. Meantime, however, the young couple had been married and yesterday's court action in no way affects them.

In his sermon last evening, the popular young pastor of Goldsboro Methodist church employed a stone which he secured while on a visit to Plymouth Rock, Mass., to make his illustrations. The method was effective and commanded great attention from the good-sized congregation.

Miss Stella Crone led the meeting and Mrs. E. W. Rutledge rendered an excellent solo.

Hundreds Battle Forest Fires in Ozark Territory

RUSSELVILLE, Ark., April 2.—(AP)—Reports of one death and numerous forest fires in the Ozark national forest reserve have been received by the forest service here.

Five warrants for the arrest of persons charged with setting fires in the forest were issued today.

WALDRON, Ark., April 2.—(AP)—The fury unabated by the efforts of more than 800 men, forest fires tonight were sweeping through Arkansas as two national forest reserves after having claimed their first victims, a child who was burned to death when the Tilley home in Baxter county was destroyed. Five new outbreaks were reported following early reports that the flames were under control. Two Arkansas national guard planes patrolled the area today flying dangerously low through walls of smoke and as close to the flaming tops of giant pines in an effort to detect new fires or incendiaries whom officials say are probably to blame for the numerous outbreaks.

The region abounds in game and it was pointed out that unscrupulous hunters probably set the fires to drive game to easy kill.

Efforts to trench the fires because of the rapid gain and "backfires" and hand fighting are the only methods used by more than 600 men who are toiling night and day in the furnace like forest.

No town is threatened by the fires, unless checked they may menace scattered farm homes.

COTTON PROBE DRAGS ALONG

Wm. L. Clayton Still On Stand After Lapse of Week In Replying to Marsh

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(AP)—A contention by Wm. L. Clayton, cotton merchant who has stoutly denied all charges of speculative market operations hurled at him by Arthur B. Marsh, New York Exchange broker that cotton speculations is a "fine art" and deserves a useful purpose in making a market for the commodity gave a new twist today to the prolonged cotton enquiry.

Clayton's view on the subject were developed as incidental to his weekly effort to make specific denial under oath to the Marsh charges. He entered into an explanation of his shipments of 172,000 bales to New York storage, a movement which Marsh alleged was designed to destroy and did destroy parties in threat future market, leading up to the 1927 general crash.

"It is alleged," said Senator Smith "that the shipments depressed futures market disastrously. Why didn't holders of your futures contract take it up?"

Clayton said it had not moved out to millers because at no time since it was shipped nor in the 1926-27 season had it not been possible to buy cheaper in Southern markets.
