THE SOWING

Bitter promised the yield
Of that dark field,
The buried stones
Lay white as bones,
And screamed at the share
That harried there.
Overhead a crow
Wore to and fro.
The horses were wet
With matted sweat,
And the wind blew dust
In swirls of rust
Like a plague of flies
In the plowman's eyes.
Yet out of those lines
Of furrow pain,
In its due time
Rose the fragrant grain.

of the Week.

Mrs. Sally D. Davis yesterday received word from her son, James LeRoy, that he would not be able to return home this spring but had been transferred to Java, by the British-American Tobacco Company. Mr. Davis has been for the past four years in China with this company. The Java appointment was urged on him, thus preventing his coming home on a vacation which had been expected to start in March. He will spend six months in Java.

Miss Mary Williams Honored

Miss Mary Williams, of Durham, whose marriage to Mr. John D. Langston, Jr., of this city will be solemnized on Friday of this week, was again honored with a shower, as the following clipping from a Durham paper reports:

Miss Mary Williams, bride elect of April, was delightfully entertained at a lovely miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. A. L. Tucker and Mrs. T. L. O'Brien. The lower floor of the home was thrown en suite and decorated very artistically, a pink and white color scheme being used.

Several contests were enjoyed and during the evening punch was served. The guests were invited into the dining room, which was prettily decorated. The table was covered with a handsome lace cloth and had as its center attraction a beautiful wedding cake topped by miniature bride and groom. Cut flowers were used in profusion in the room carrying out the pink and white color scheme. Delicious refreshments were served.

Miss Williams was presented with many beautiful and attractive gifts.

Miss Schell Speaks to W. M. A.

Miss Naomi Schell, who has spent six years in Japan as the missionary of the Southern Baptist Convention who spoke yesterday afternoon at the First Baptist church to a large and interested audience of women. Preceding her address the different circles of the Woman's Missionary Society met for a short business session.

Miss Schell discussed in a most interesting way the present status of Japan economically, politically and religiously. Japan is committed to progress, said Miss Schell, though she painted a dismal picture of the lot of the peasant farmers, who comprise about fifty percent of the population. These farmers are bound to the soil by mortgages and are forever in debt. One third of one percent of the Japanese people are Christians, and most of the rest of the people are devotees of Buddha or worshippers of the Shinto faith, which includes ancestor worship, emperor worship, nature worship. A great many of the young people are atheists as the religion of their fathers has failed them and they have found no other. Miss

Helpful Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I have been keeping steady company with a boy a few years my senior. He has asked me to marry him. I have told my mother and she did not object—although I am still in my teens. What would you do if you were I?

HAPPY: If you feel that you are still too young to marry, I should advise you to wait a while before you undertake such a serious step. As long as your mother approves and is willing for you to marry this boy, the decision rests with you. Good luck to you, my dear. I hope you will be very happy.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:
I am a girl in my early teens.

and I have just recently met a boy a little older than myself.

He took me to a show the other evening and asked me for another date soon. Do you think he cares for me?

LUCKY: Obviously this boy is interested in you, my dear, or he would not have suggested another date. I would advise you to accept this friendship and be content with out letting yourself become too deeply concerned. I see no need for you to consider this boy in any way than as a charming friend, and if you wish to further your friendship, do not anticipate any future complications.

Schell pictured the challenge that Japan is to the Christian people of America, and particularly to Southern Baptists.

The meeting opened with the singing of a hymn and prayer led by Mrs. W. C. Suggs. Following Miss Schell's address Mrs. A. J. Smith led the closing prayer.

The members of the Society enjoyed a social hour at which punch and cakes were served.

Wilkins, secretary of Foreign Missions; and Mrs. E. W. Vick, secretary of the Assembly Home.

ent at large; Mrs. F. Harrell, Tarboro, vice president; Mrs. Frank Lee Wilson, recording secretary and treasurer; Mrs. H. L. Hicks, of Rocky Mount.
