ISOLATION OF ISLAND DELAYED SENDING NEWS

Greenly Is Name of Tiny Isle on Which Plane Found Haven Of Refuge

(By Associated Press) Apparently fully authenticated reports announced the German monoplane Bremen and her German-Irish crew have beaten that aviation hoodoo—a non-stop westward flight of the Atlantic. They did not completely achieve their announced objective—Mitchell Field or heaven—but they tied in the eastern and western shores in a 34 hour jump from Ireland to Labrador, assert dispatches from several reliable sources.

Slightly damaged in a forced descent, the Bremen was said to rest under the sheer rock cliffs of Greenly Island, a little "dot" on the map marking the northern tip of Labrador.

Her crew of three—Baron Von Huenefeld, Captain Koehl, and Col. Fitzmaurice—unharmful by the long arduous, almost fatal flight from Baldonnel Field, were guests of the island lighthouse. The plane landed about noon yesterday, all reports agree, but the cause of the isolation of the spot, no news reached the outside world until nearly 7 hours later. It came in a wireless message from point Amour, Labrador, apparently relayed there by courier and read:

"German plane landed Greenly Island noon, slightly damaged. Crew well."

May Fly To Aid

NEW YORK—(AP)—Melchior, representing the Junker's Company in America, announced tonight that if developments warranted, he would fly the Junker's C-38, sister ship of the Bremen to Greenly Island, Labrador, to aid the crew of the German plane reported to have landed there in its attempted Island-New York flight.

Melchior said he would await further details before deciding definitely whether to make the flight. He said it might be that he could carry repair parts and supplies to put the Bremen in condition to continue her flight to New York.

Word From Baron

NEW YORK—(AP)—The North German Lloyd announced tonight receipt of a wireless message from Baron Von Huenefeld, one of the crew of the monoplane Bremen, confirming the safe landing at Greenly Island, Labrador. Termination of the flight was necessitated by exhaustion of fuel, the Baron reported. The message was:

"Made a safe intermediate landing at Greenly Island, necessitated by lack of fuel and strong headwinds encountered on way, signed Von Huenefeld."

Report Confirmed

(By Associated Press) Growing apprehension over the fate of the German monoplane Bremen engaged in the perilous westward Atlantic hop was almost entirely relieved last night with exceptionally authenticated reports declared the machine was down at Greenly Island, Labrador.

The plane was said to have been (Continued on page 5)

Wants Negotiations Toward World Peace

WASHINGTON, April 13—(AP)—Negotiations for a world wide treaty solemnly renouncing war in favor of the Pacific settlement of international controversies were initiated today when Secretary Kellogg invited the British, German, Italian, and Japanese governments to join France and the United States in agreeing upon and signing a pact to that end. It is the first time in history that the United States has embarked upon so extensive a project for the promotion of world peace. It has the sanction of President Coolidge and the State Department is confident of its ultimate success.

WAYNE MEN AT SMITH RALLY

Delegation of 100 Is Number Estimated As Being At Battle Talk In Raleigh

Wayne county was well represented at the Al Smith for president meeting in Raleigh, Thursday night. It was learned here yesterday. It was estimated that no less than 100 Goldsboro and Wayne county citizens were among the 3,000 who filled the Raleigh City auditorium for the purpose of listening to George Gordon Battle, native Tar Heel now a successful lawyer in New York City discuss "Al Smith as I knew Him."

"You know I have never seen more interest manifest," said one of those who was present for the meeting, "than was shown last night. Battle made a good speech, and I believe he knew what he is talking about and that just about means that Smith will be nominated, and I believe he will be elected."

Hugh Dortch, local attorney, was among those yesterday who came out strongly for the New York governor. "I am going to vote for him and work for him," said Mr. Dortch yesterday. Some significance was attached to the fact that J. Faison Thomson, who has been mentioned as a possible Smith delegate to the Houston convention, was among those attending the Raleigh meeting Thursday night. Mr. Thomson, however, has not yet committed himself definitely and could not be reached for a statement yesterday.

Concert by Mary Lewis Ends Eastern Carolina Exposition

The tumult and the shouting dies, the captains and the kings depart, and as the last moving picture character of the pageant of last Monday flitted into invisibility across the silver screen at the Big Brick Warehouse last night the Sixth Annual Exposition of the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce was history. Yesterday was a big day with the Exposition—a big day somewhat comparable to the opening Monday, and it was generally said that if the weather man had not been such an ornery cuss during Monday night, Tuesday and Wednesday that the Exposition could have been classed as a magnificent success. Yesterday afternoon was childrens day with Belfast school winning in

ELECTION BOARD WANT TO SELL TO EUROPEANS

Gather At Courthouse At 11 This Morning to Appoint Registrars and Poll Holders

With nobody at all excited over the coming primary yet, the county board of elections will meet at the courthouse this morning at 11 o'clock for the purpose of organizing and appointing registrars and pollholders for the Democratic primary to be held in June. George Vann, chairman of the board, issued the official call yesterday.

The primary is now only about six weeks away and to date there has been very little discussion as to possible candidates.

From this distance it looks like it will be one of the most legathletic primaries ever staged in the county.

Concert by Mary Lewis Ends Eastern Carolina Exposition

The school parade and then the hundreds of children piling into the Exposition to see Baby Dorothy Johnson disport herself for their amusement and then little Roberta Wynn of Raleigh, the dancing doll, show them how it was done. It was a good show and everybody was having a big time. Then Loyd Griffin started handing out free ice cream from the A. T. Griffin Manufacturing Co., and there was such a rush that it threatened to break up the show. Mr. Griffin had to desist until the program was over, for it was desist or break up the show. But the kiddies got their cream after the performance and had a great time doing so. And as for the concert by Mary (Continued On Page Three)

URGES HOME AS NATION'S UNIT

Col. Langston Address Rutherfordton Kiwanians At Regular Meeting

(Rutherford County News) Col. John B. Langston of Goldsboro, Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor was the principal speaker before the weekly meeting of the Rutherfordton Kiwanis club at the Isothermal hotel last Thursday evening. The attendance was good. The Goldsboro man did not mention his candidacy. He said he wanted his audience to think he was introduced by Kiwanian R. E. Price and said in part:

"Many people believe that you cannot think as a group without losing your individuality, but I believe you can. The essentials of good citizenship are: Home stability, demand for a square deal, tolerance of a decent opinion, respect for constituted authority and have a real spirit of Democracy."

"We have too much floating around, hunting for jobs and a home. Most of us do not have a real opinion on many public questions. There is too much 'cussing' at government. It's better to have a weak government than none at all. We should not walk around and abuse our officials such as Sheriff and County Commissioners. Only half our people voted in the last election. Indifference of the public to matters of importance is one of our greatest dangers. Real red-blooded citizens like 'straight from the shoulder doctrine.' The address was full of thought and sound advice.
