Negro Speakers Express Appreciation For What North Carolina Is Doing For Race

Appreciation of the negro race for what the State of North Carolina is doing for it provided distinguished leaders of the race with their theme yesterday when they addressed an audience running close to 1,000 upon the occasion of the formal opening of the new O'Berry building at the Hospital for the colored insane here. On Wednesday the white people of the section, at the call of Captain Nathaniel O'Berry and the board of trustees of the hospital, had gathered for the opening of the building and yesterday the negroes did likewise. "We set today for the negro race to call and inspect the building and gain some conception of what the state is doing for the unfortunate colored insane," explained Captain O'Berry, as chairman of the board of directors. "Because the auditorium here was entirely too small to have permitted both races to have gathered at one time. Had not this been the case there would have been one program with representative speakers from both races talking to a mixed audience." Fine Singing Heard As an opening number, they sang America—all of it—and with a volume and harmony that filled the great stone and cement building with a reverberating beauty that pulsed and pulsed and warmed every patriotic heart. And later, every man and woman, boy and girl standing erect and at attention, they sang the Star Spangled Banner and there was a fervor in their voices and a shine in the eyes that spoke of faithfulness and deep love and devotion for the flag and country whose national anthem they raised. Four young negro men sang quartet selections and the great audience rhythmically accompanied them. These young men—Clarence Sampson, Abner Sampson, Luther Wooten, and Dock Sykes, sang as only the child of music can sing, their harmony based not upon the trained art of the musician but upon the deep-seated feeling for harmony. Then the choir—picked from the negro choirs of the city—joined in "Steal Away" and those of the white race who heard were lifted up and carried into communion with higher things. Time after time, Captain O'Berry found occasion to compliment the choir on its manner of singing. Rev. B. F. Johnson returned a

Mr. Culbreth Claims Measurements Show Auto Which Hit Boys Was Speeding

Cornelius Culbreth, aged 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Culbreth and Owen Pate, aged 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Pate, who were injured when they collided with an automobile driven by Willie Taylor at Greenleaf Wednesday evening, were last night reported as still suffering from the effects of the accident. "I carried my boy home from the hospital at noon," said Mr. Culbreth last night. "But he has a high fever tonight. I can't see that he is any better, and Mr. Pate's boy, the one who had his tongue cut badly, just vomited up a quantity of blood." Mr. Culbreth said that measurements made by himself, in company with Deputy Sheriff J. C. Korugay indicated that Mr. Taylor must have been traveling at a high rate of speed at the time the accident occurred. The boys were chasing a ball with which they were playing when they hit the automobile, it had been claimed. "We took a steel tape measure," said Mr. Culbreth and it was 15 feet from where the brakes were first applied—as shown where the wheels had slid—to where the boys were hit, and from where they were hit to where car stopped was 83 feet and 10 inches. I just wanted the report about how fast the automobile was going kept straight." Mr. Culbreth, indicated last evening that indictments would be asked against Taylor, driver of the automobile.

Want Butler For Cabinet

3rd District G. O. P. Meet Here And Decide Not To Instruct Delegate

In what was termed one of the best attended Congressional conventions which the Republican party has ever staged, the G. O. P. of the third district met here yesterday listened to Senator Marion Butler outline the why and wherefore of why he believed it was a Republican year and perfected their organization for the approaching election. All of the nine counties in the district were represented at the meeting. W. H. Fisher of Clinton was named delegate to the national convention to be held in Kansas City with John B. Handley of Goldsboro alternate. Apparently the Hoover supporters and Lowden supporters were unwilling to come to a test of strength for Mr. Fisher was left uninstructed as to the convention. The election of the Sampson man as delegate to the convention and the passage of a resolution anticipating the return of a Republican administration with the request that the Secretary of Agriculture be selected from the south and from North Carolina in the person of Senator Butler were the outstanding developments of the convention, described as a "harmonious" one.
