ARRAIGN 2 IN WAYNE COURT FOR FIENDISH CRIME

George DuBois Found Not Guilty Robbing Store A. R. Whitman

R. L. Smith is Found Guilty and Will Be Sentenced Sometime Today

SPEND HOURS IN SEATING 10 MURDER CASE JURORS

James and Amelia White Charged With Starving and Beating Little Negroes Death with ten jurors seated after examination of thirty-five veniremen, Wayne County Superior court will this morning proceed with the case charging murder against James White and Amelia White, negroes, in the death of Vernell White, nine year old Negroes and daughter of White by another woman. Solicitor Clawson Williams said last night that he would ask for a first degree murder verdict.

The State charges that White and his wife all but starved the little negro to death and then finished the job by frequently wielding a leather thong and a belt with a metal buckle about her body. The case yesterday attracted a greater number of negroes to the Wayne courthouse than had been in the building in many years. The room was filled and the galleries packed.

Charges of robbery against George DuBois and R. L. Smith had held the attention of the court throughout the day, and it was about 8 o'clock last evening before the examination of veniremen to select a jury was begun. The process was a tedious one with M. B. Loftin and Col. Roscoe Butler of Clinton representing White; Hugh Dorch and N. W. Outlaw appearing for Amelia White and Solicitor Williams pleading for the State. No juror went unchallenged and the caution displayed by each attorney in accepting a juror indicated the length to which the trial might run. It was 11 o'clock last night before the ten were seated.

Two jurors remain to be seated this morning and then the introduction of witnesses will begin.

DuBois Not Guilty

The jury received the Smith-DuBois case, charging the young white man with robbing the store of A. R. Whitman at the point of a gun, about 7:30 last evening. At 11:30 last night they made their verdict, freeing George DuBois and finding Smith guilty.

The latter had confessed his part in the affair and a defense had been set up. DuBois offered an alibi, offering Mason Howell to prove that he was at the Crystal cafe on the evening hour when the wild west stunt was pulled at the Dudley store.

HOOVER ANTIS GET TOGETHER

Close Organization Started For Purpose of Defeating Commerce Secretary

KANSAS CITY, June 7.—(AP)—Pooling their resources, rivals of Herbert Hoover for the presidential nomination got together today under a single command determined to bring about his defeat in next week's national convention. Into the coalition went the full strength of the field of candidates who have been working more or less independently, giving the anti-Hoover movement a unity which it has lacked until now.

Direction of the united campaign against Hoover was placed in the hands of Louis Emmerson, Republican nominee for Governor in Illinois and a staunch supporter of Lowden.

One of the first names of the Hoover opposition is to get its side of the argument before the big bloc of un-instructed delegates, nearly all of whom are yet to arrive. To that end, Mrs. Ruth Hanna, McCormick, daughter of the man who is credited with placing William McKinley in the White House, has been placed in charge of publicity. She is a delegate at large from Illinois pledged to Lowden.

FAINT SIGNALS FROM DIRIGIBLE

Hope for General Nobile and 17 in Italia's Crew Is Revived

KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, June 7.—(AP)—Twice today the radio operator of the Clitte Di Milano, base ship of General Umberto Nobiles lost polar expedition heard weak signals which he was sure were from operator Biagi, radio man on the dirigible Italia. The signals were too weak to decipher. Hopes that the Italian General and his 17 companions survive were revived among the dozen members of the expedition at King's Bay.

The first signals were heard early this morning. Conditions then were unfavorable for good radio transmission. The operator of the Clitte Di Milano then addressed a message to Biagi, telling him to try again at 5 p. m. when it would be a little darker and more favorable for transmission.

Again at the afternoon hour, the operator thought he caught weak signals, it was impossible, however, to make out what the sender was trying to say.

FLIGHT FLASHES

CURTIS FIELD, New York June 7.—(AP)—Oliver Le Boutillier, pilot of the monoplane Columbia, in which Miss Mabel Boll plans a trans Atlantic flight to Europe, announced tonight that a take-off fog Old Orchard, Maine would be made at 2 o'clock tomorrow morning.

CURTIS FIELD, N. Y.—(AP)—Miss Mabel Boll, the "Queen of Diamonds" who aspires to be the first of her sex to fly the Atlantic, set forth on her great adventure, but she neglected to inquire about the weather prospects. As a result she was no further along her path tonight than if she had never started.

Miss Boll took off this morning with two men, pilot and a mechanic, heading for Old Orchard Me., but the sun was soon lost to sight in dense banks of clouds and after six hours of futile groping for the main coast, a scant 300 miles away, the Columbia was forced back to its starting place, and the flight was abandoned for the day.

Five minutes after the plane left Dr. James H. Kimball of the weather bureau telephoned to the field that fog between here and Old Orchard made a flight impossible.

Tomorrow he said, the fog would be dispelled and the short first leg of the journey could be made without difficulty.

Delivery the afternoon of the new plane in which Thea Rasche, of Germany, hopes to fly to her homeland, caused many to be out to see the present plans of women fliers and passengers as a three cornered race, also each had denied any such intent.

TREPASSY, N. F.—(AP)—A small leak in the oil tank of the Fokker monoplane Friendship was discovered late today and Wilmer Stultz, pilot of the plane on its proposed trans-Atlantic flight announced that the take off for Europe would not be attempted until tomorrow. Repairs were made to night.

ASKS CHANGE TAX SALE LAW

2,500 Duplin County Citizens Forward Petition To Gov. McLean

Governor McLean is called upon in a letter by Judge Henry A. Grady, "to recommend to the next General Assembly the repeal of this iniquitous law that requires the sheriffs to sell lands on June 6, or on the first Monday in June, and to repeal the 20 percent penalty also."

Judge Grady's letter to Mr. McLean followed receipt by the Clinton jurist of a petition of 2,500 Duplin county taxpayers seeking restraint of sale of their lands for taxes. Failure of truck crops in Duplin was blamed for the inability of the taxpayers to pay their taxes. They asked that sale of their lands be restrained until fall.

In writing the Governor, Judge Grady declared that the condition under which the Duplin taxpayers are laboring is more or less general in eastern North Carolina. He called attention to the fact that he has granted injunctions such as sought in the Duplin petition, to Craven, Pamlico, Carteret and Duplin counties on substantially the grounds stated in the petition, but frankly admits no legal basis for his action.

Judge Grady also urges the Governor to seek passage in the legislature of a "just school law" as a remedy for the hardships now imposed on some North Carolina counties by the present system.

FIVE DIVORCES GRANTED THURS.

Court Gave Odd Moments To This Detail Work During Yesterday Session

Five divorces were granted during odd moments of the court before Judge R. A. Nunn in Wayne Superior court yesterday.

On statutory grounds, Snow Belle Newsome was given a divorce from Clarence Newsome.

Emma Canton was granted a divorce from Arthur Cannon on the grounds of separation for the period required by statute to entitle one to divorce.

Statutory grounds were also alleged for the divorce granted Mark Taylor against Dona Taylor.

Three other cases were disposed of. Ray Alford submitted to transporting whiskey and having whiskey for the purpose of sale and was sentenced to serve 12 months on the roads, capias not to issue during good behavior. A like disposition was made of a similar charge against E. L. King.

William Wood was served to 12 months on the roads for safebreaking and larceny.

Report Is Made By Grand Jury

Highway Commission Purchasing System Gets O. K. and Commendation

Recommendation of the passage of legislation which will give Wayne county a permanent grand jury, in part at least, is contained in the report of the grand jury made yesterday afternoon to Judge R. A. Nunn. Other interesting items in the report are the clean bill of health given the purchasing system of the highway commission, of the clerk of court as regards fees in civil actions, and attention of the necessity for improvement at the jail.

The convict camps, the county home, sheriff's office, clerk's office, register of deeds office welfare office and health department are listed as performing in a manner commendable with the best interests of the county.

"We made a special investigation of the system and manner of purchasing supplies by the Highway Commission. We found it based on a strictly competitive bid basis and conducted, according to our judgment on the high set business plan," reads a portion of the report and continues:

"We also made a thorough investigation as to the cause of the failure on the part of certain witnesses in civil cases to receive their fees, and found that the fault in no way was chargeable to the clerk of court, it being due in every case to the failure to payment of costs by litigants.

"We made thorough examination of the jail and found some of the conditions outside of the cells which were not entirely satisfactory but which the Sheriff has assured us will be corrected at once and not be allowed to recur.

"We found the building and equipment inadequate and recommend and assist that the board of county commissioners make such improvements at once as will give temporary relief but that no considerable amount be spent on the present building for repairs and enlargement. We feel that if the taxpayers of the county realized the conditions now existing they would likewise insist upon a new and adequate building.

"We recommend that our Senator and Representatives have legislation passed at the coming session of the Legislature whereby an entirely new grand jury will not have to be selected at each term of the court.

"We recommend that a copy of Michl's North Carolina statutes be purchased for the use of the court."
