Many Driven From Homes By Floods In Mo. and Ark.

Fight Vainly Against Water

Break Near New Port, Arkansas Spreads Destruction Over 40,000 Acres

NEW RISE IN RIVER FEARED LAST NIGHT

Hundreds of Missouri Families Had Fled From Homes Ahead of Warnings

NEW PORT, Ark., June 16.—(P)—Some 250 of the 100 persons driven from their homes by flood waters of the White River camped tonight on hills in the lower part of Jackson county and many of them faced the prospect of living for several days more in improvised quarters before their homes are released from the floods.

A break last night in the dyke 13 miles south of New Port spread the flood waters of the river over between 35,000 and 40,000 acres of land in the Southern part of the country from which the residents previously warned had fled with their belongings.

Keep Up Vain Fight JENNETTE, Mo., June 16.—(P)—All most vainly fighting to keep back the steadily rising waters of the St. Francis River more than 300 farmers business and professional men battled on tonight in a desperate effort to save the remainder of their crops and homes from floods.

The workers are leaving nothing unturned in their unceasing toil to strengthen the weak spots along a 25 mile front on the north of here. After the 15 foot break which occurred today, inundating more than 25,000 acres of land and driving hundreds of families from their homes, ample warning was given those in the area flooded.

At several points at Campbell to the north of here the task of keeping the river back seemed hopeless this afternoon with the dykes weakened by seepage.

It was believed by some that the crest of the third rise, expected to exceed the flood stage of last night by a foot and a half, would appear to night and tomorrow.

NO RADIO SAT. FROM DIRIGIBLE

Believe Marooned Explorers Conserving Power of Sending Apparatus

KING'S BAY, June 16.—(P)—Spitzbergen—The fact that no radio signals have come from the stranded polar explorers with General Nobile since yesterday is interpreted here as meaning that everything is in the status quo with the Nobile party. It is believed that they are conserving the sending power of their radio for possible emergency use.

The base ship sent its usual quota of cheering messages to the Italia's men, telling them particularly of the progress being made toward the north by rescue plane and of the fact that two vessels are making to penetrate the ice pack along the north shore of the Archipelago.

COOLIDGE GOES TROUT FISHING

Mrs. Coolidge Delights Woman's Heart By Inspecting House

HOOVER KEEPS RIGHT ON JOB

Talks to McNary About Farm Relief Problems and Inspects New Building

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(P)—Secretary Hoover mixed in considerable attention to his official duties today in the course of dealing with matters that have to do with his newer status of the Republican presidential candidate. While his earliest caller was Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, leader of the fight of agricultural interests for the equalization fee plan of farm relief, an hour later found Mr. Hoover surveying the new commerce department building in Washington. He went over the site of the structure with his assistant and lunched later with Secretary Kellogg of the State Department. Despite his attention to official duties, Mr. Hoover was able to find time to acknowledge many of the thousands of messages on congratulations which are still coming in.

BOLL WEEVIL IS HERE IN FORCE

Pikeville Farmer Finds 100 Or More In Acre Field of Cotton

The invading army of the boll weevil has already arrived in full force in the cotton fields of Wayne reports reaching The News yesterday indicated.

Mr. C. W. Warrick brought to The News a bottle of the bad buzz picked at random from the field of Johnnie Smith of the Pikeville section in an area of once acre.

There was a whole handful of them and Prof. Warrick said that there was at least a hundred in the handful. Somebody else said there was enough to eat up a 40 acre field before the end of the season.

"I'll tell you what," said Mr. Peele a prominent farmer of the northern section of the county "That fellow had just as well go out and plough up that field right now and plant it in corn. He will make more."

The reports from the Pikeville section were similar to those from many parts of the county. There are frequent predictions that Wayne's crop will be cut short one-half this year.

The government recommends dusting with calcium arsenate as the most effective and economical way, putting same on late in the evening so that the dew which the boll weevil drinks may be charged with the poison and thus bring about his extermination. Farmers may be compelled to use this method this year if they would raise a crop of cotton.

DENIES EFFORT POISON HUBBY

Mass Meeting Tuesday Night

Two Committees Try Monday Get Citizens Agree to Solicit For Market

To make every business and professional man of the city an active worker for the Goldsboro tobacco market.

That is the object of work which will be started Monday morning by two committees representing the Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs of the city.

The work which they will accomplish is preliminary to the mass meeting to be held in the courthouse on Tuesday evening at 8:15 when definite plans for securing a double set of buyers for the Goldsboro market this year will be considered.

The two committees scheduled to go forth Monday will cover the city systematically requesting every citizen to sign a paper agreeing to solicit at least one day during the season for selling farmers to sell tobacco on the Goldsboro market.

The paper which the committee will ask the citizens to sign will be in effect as follows:

"Realizing that Goldsboro has all the facilities for a 15,000,000 tobacco market, believing that the farmers of this section can secure as fair a price for their weed here as anywhere else, believing that if the city as a whole will get behind the matter of a market, stay behind it, believing that if the entire city shows an interest in the proposition a double set of buyers will be provided this fall, I hereby agree to spend at least one day or the equivalent soliciting farmers to sell their tobacco in Goldsboro this fall and give the market a trial."

The warehousemen of the city are more hopeful over this latest move for the tobacco market than they have been over any previous one and they are confident that if the city will give the movement the support it deserves that two sets of buyers can be placed here this season.

They are busy in the county now in visiting farmers to attend the meeting to be held here Tuesday night.

The Rotary club is getting behind the proposition and all members of this club have been urged to be present at the Tuesday evening meeting.

The Kiwanis club is expected to take action on the matter at the meeting of the club Monday evening and if possible arrange to be present at the Tuesday meeting in a body.

SERVICE HELD SATURDAY NIGHT

Evangelist Gaskill Discourses On Three Groups Who Watched At Cross

What was said to be the best message delivered by Rev. E. C. Gaskill since the meeting began at the Free Will Baptist church was brought last evening from the subject "Watching at the Cross" in which the evangelist used for text "And sitting down they watched him there" Matt. 27:36 Mr. Gaskill said in part that there were "three groups that watched on that occasion."

There was the unfriendly group. The group that hated the Christ and nailed Him to the cross. These are in the world today, those who make this unfriendly group. They deny Him any place in their life.

There was another group which was composed of curiosity seekers. They were there to see what was done. This group is with us today. They go to see what others do.

Last there was a small group. This group was composed of those who loved Christ. Mary the mother was there. John and the brethren were there. This group is watching today. It is composed of those who are saved. They love the church of Christ. They love to watch at the Cross.

The congregation was large for Saturday evening. A godly number of the congregation coming from the country. At the conclusion a number came forward asking prayer and confessing that they wanted to be more watchful at the cross.

Mr. Gaskill will use for a message at the 11 o'clock hour today "The Road to Heaven" At 3 p. m. the subject is "Looking for a Man" and at the evening (8 o'clock) "Eternal Life"

EYES TURNING HOUSTONWARD

Governor Smith Said to Have 686 Votes With 733.5 Necessary Nominate

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(P)—The political spotlight, centered on Kansas City and the Republicans during the past week is now turned to Houston. There the Democrats, hoping to avert a repetition of the strife that split their ranks four years ago at Madison Square garden are beginning to assemble to select presidential and vice presidential nominees and draft a party platform.

At Houston the big question to be settled is whether Smith is to be the presidential nominee. That issue over shadows all others, including the prohibition question which is intertwined with his candidacy and farm relief.

All of the 1100 delegates to the national convention have been selected except the 24 from Virginia. Two thirds or 733 1/3 will be required to nominate.

The total after each candidate's name in the table below represents the delegates, instructed, pledge, or claimed for him by his political managers, not the number conceded by opponents.

The line up includes: Smith 686 of which 94 are in dispute. Reed 129 of which 93 are in dispute. Ayres, 29 also claimed by Reed. Pomerene, 47.

Rose Said Johnson Advanced Saying "I'm Going to Cut Your Guts Out"

GRANTHAM MAN DIED AT 8:45 YESTERDAY MORN.

Affray Took Place in Grantham Township Late Last Sunday Afternoon

A coroner's jury empaneled by Coroner T. R. Robinson yesterday afternoon ordered Millard Johnson, Grantham farmer, held without bail for the death of Pink Rose, prominent Grantham township planter. Mr. Rose died at Spicer's sanitarium at 8:45 yesterday morning of knife wounds inflicted by Johnson in an affray late last Sunday afternoon.

Dr. Spicer Testifies Dr. William Spicer, prominent Goldsboro surgeon, who was the only witness called by the jury at the inquest, testified that Rose made an ante mortem statement in his presence and the presence of two other witnesses a short time before his death, in which he said that Johnson approached him as he was crossing a field near his home and said: "I've been wanting to kill you, and now I'm going to cut your guts out."

Rose said in his statement according to Dr. Spicer, that he was on one side of a fence, and that Johnson was on the other side. Johnson kept following him down the fence until they came to a gate, which he came through and walked toward Rose, with a knife in one hand and a stick in the other.

When Rose saw that Johnson really intended doing him harm according to his last statement, he took out his own knife, cut a scabbard stick, closed his knife and put it back in his pocket. By this time Johnson had reached him, he declared in his statement to Dr. Spicer, and had attacked him before he could move. Rose said he could not remember whether he struck back at Johnson or not—that it all happened so quick he couldn't remember any of the details of the cutting. After he was cut, he walked about 250 yards and then either lay or fell to the ground, where he stayed until his cries brought some lady to his aid, he said in his statement.

Dr. Spicer, in his testimony stated that Rose was brought to his sanitarium Sunday evening about 7:30 or 8 o'clock, suffering from shock and loss of blood as the result of wounds inflicted by some sharp cutting instrument. He found that Rose's intestines were protruding from his abdomen, and that there was an incision on the left side, rather posterior in direction, about three inches long, which penetrated the chest cavity and injured the lungs. He also stated that he found a stab wound anterior to this one, about three quarters of an inch in length and depth. The incision in the abdomen was on the left side, and by actual measurement was 8 inches long, according to Dr. Spicer.

Dr. Spicer testified that Rose made his ante mortem statement when told that he was in a serious condition and might die at any time. Rose was absolutely in his right mind at the time of his statement, Spicer declared.

No Other Witness Called Dr. Spicer was the only witness examined. Neighbors said, however, that the affray was the result of bad blood which had existed between the two for sometime.

Friends of Johnson in a statement to The News, insisted that Rose had been the aggressor in the affray and that Rose had waylaid and attacked Johnson, that the latter wielded his knife only in self defense.
