CHARLOTTE, June 26.—(AP)—J. A. Cassidy, of Baltimore, grand leader of the Local Order of Moose and Lester W. Block, of New York, assistant regent of the Mooseheart Institution for Children in Illinois are in North Carolina in search of a site for locating a branch of that institution. Mr. Cassidy made this announcement in the course of a brief address before the Rotary club today.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—(AP)—With full military honors and a formation of flying planes flying overhead, the bodies of Major Lutz and Lt. Busbey Marine aviators, who were killed Saturday morning in an airplane crash while en route to Nicaragua were buried today in Arlington National Cemetery.

AL'S NOT SUPERSTITIOUS
ALBANY, N. Y., June 26.—(AP)—Wearing a bunch of four leaf clover, Governor Alfred E. Smith went about his state duties today paying but occasional attention to the Houston Convention now considering his suitability for the Democratic candidate for president.

The governor showed impartiality even toward onens, for though he wore the four leaf clovers presented him by a woman in the state department of purchase, he also accepted a string of 13 brown trout from J. J. Burns of Monticello.

BRINGS SUIT
LOS ANGELES, June 26.—(AP)—Mrs. Irene Barrymore, wife of Lionel Barrymore, motion picture actor was made defendant in a suit for $3,611.452.29 filed in Federal district court today as a continuation of a mortgage foreclosure action started against her in 1921.

ARKANSAS MOSTLY FOR AL
HOUSTON, Tex., June 26.—(AP)—The Arkansas delegation caucused late today and Chairman Thomas B. Pryor afterward announced that at least 90 per cent of the state's 18 votes would be cast for Governor Smith on the first ballot.

BOWERS PILLORIES G. O. P. IN KEYNOTE

Millard Johnson Freed Under $15,000 Bond

ADDRESS BRINGS DEMONSTRATION

G. O. P. Branded As Party Producing "Mythical Prosperity, Mythical Facts."

Sam Houston, Tex., June 27.—(AP)—The Democratic National Convention was thrown into a frenzy of the campaign set off by Claude Bowers of New York, the temporary chairman.

Addressing millions of silent radio listeners as well as 16,000 noisy persons in the convention hall, the party keynote brought wild cheers as he pilloried the last two Republican administrations. He said they had brought "mythical prosperity, mythical economy, mythical facts, mythical figures and mythical men."

"Discomfort of a leaky roof over the convention hall, failed to dampen the roar of approval which greeted his shots. It was the first real session of the convention which began with routine today. The delegates were keyed up to applaud the amassing they knew Bowers would give the party political enemies. They et go with a vim when he came to the oil scandals which he said "involved the pillaging of prosperity, to the farm situation," a disgrace to "American civilization," he said.

Frequently the speaker had the delegates on their feet cheering and waving their hats and handkerchiefs. As he ended on farm relief the delegates began cheering and then W. H. Porter of Calvin, N. D., started a march of the delegates around the convention hall amid bursts of cheering.

Kentucky fell into line behind North Dakota and then in rapid succession, South Dakota, Minnesota and other western states fell into the march. Finally all the standards, even of those of the insular possessions were carried aloft as the delegates rose and fell in wave after wave.

Summoning the Democratic party to a war of extermination against "privilege and pillage," Claude G. Bowers told the Democratic national convention in his keynote speech today that the Republicans had repudiated the leadership of Lincoln and openly adopted the Hamiltonian theory of government for the benefit of the wealthy and powerful.

In sentences loaded with the shrapnel of irony and invective, the New York Evening World editorial writer called the roll of the scandals of the last two Republican administrations; declared the portion of the farmer had become one of thorns and thistle while other industries fattened on tariffs and subsidies; asserted that "the plundering of the power monopoly" was threatening to tighten its grip on public utilities, described the Coolidge policy in Latin America. MAKES REPORT OF CONVENTION

Ray Armstrong Back From Minneapolis; New Officers Are Seated

Gene Newsome of Durham is slated to be the president of Rotary International for 1929-30, Ray Armstrong told the Goldsboro Rotary club last evening. Mr. Armstrong represented the local club at the Minneapolis convention and at the regular meeting last night gave a report of the convention. The report by Mr. Armstrong enthusiastically given and likewise received, and the installation of officers for the new year occupied the club.

R. E. Stevens received the gavel from W. H. Smith, retiring president. Other new officers who take office along with Mr. Stevens are George W. Waters, vice president; Henry Belk secretary; John Norwood, treasurer; Ray Armstrong, Dave Pike, and Dr. W. H. Smith, directors.

"It is impossible to bring back the feeling that one gets at attending a convention where there are 10,000 present and drawn from 44 nations," said Mr. Armstrong, who prefaced his remarks about the convention proper with a vivid account of the trip out and the entertainments provided for the delegates in Chicago and in Milwaukee.

To bring the convention and its accomplishments more directly before the club, next meeting night will see the Goldsboro members enact a miniature convention. Each member of the club will be assigned a part played by some one who attended the Minneapolis convention.

The committee President R. E. Stevens named the following committees, approved by a meeting of the directors, who will enter upon duties at the next meeting of the club. Chairman, club service, W. L. Rawlings. Program, Ray Armstrong, W. L. Frederick, Tom O'Berry, and D. S. Hartsorn. Attendance, H. A. Pike, G. W. Waters, Jr., and W. W. Rivers.

RESIGNS POST AS MINISTER OF JUSTICE

Vienna, June 27.—(AP)—Franz Fughofer, minister of justice, has resigned his post as an outgrowth of criticism regarding his refusal to permit the extradition of Bela Kun, Communist, to Hungary. It is believed that the entire cabinet will fall.

PLANNING DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION HALL

Six Hundred Citizens Agree To Give Time To Aid Mart

ONLY ONE MAN ASKED TO JOIN IN EFFORT ON BEHALF SECURING TWO SETS OF BUYERS REFUSES TO SIGN PAPER; COMMITTEE GOES TODAY TO ATTEND TOBACCO MEETING

Goldsboro tobacco market stock took an upward turn yesterday when 600 leading business and professional men of the city signed papers pledging themselves to get out and solicit weed for the market for the coming year.

The names of the six hundred signers were secured by a committee of some thirty which gathered at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday morning, divided the city into sections and then scattered to cover every section. So far as is known only one man who was called upon refused to sign the petition.

This indication of interest is expected to bear considerable weight with the large buying companies in efforts to secure a double set of buyers on the market here this season. Within a short time now representatives of the civic organizations will seek appointments with the buying companies to request the double set of buyers.

The six hundred who signed yesterday agreeing to solicit tobacco for the market here this year will be appealed to keep their promise at a very near date. A definite time will be set and those who signed asked to go into the country and call upon planters, asking them to sell here.

At the meeting yesterday morning, presided over by A. T. Griffin, named chairman of the endeavor sometime ago, arrangements were made to have Goldsboro represented at the meeting of the United States Tobacco Association in Old Point Comfort beginning today. Two automobiles will leave here at 5 o'clock this morning bearing Goldsboro representatives to the convention.

The following were planning to make the trip: A. T. Griffin, Rex Cook, Spicer Holmes, Thomas Griffin, E. E. Eustler, W. L. Rawlings, and W. R. Taylor.

The Tobacco Association will today consider the petition for an early opening of the Eastern Carolina markets but a report on this petition is not expected to be made until tomorrow.

WORK WILL VISIT CAL

Kellogg Expected Sometime In July But Vacation Is Main Thing Just Now

SUPERIOR, Wis., June 26.—(AP)—With a visit from Secretary Work of the Interior Department next week as his only definite engagement, President Coolidge is devoting all of his time to the full enjoyment of his vacation with little thought to future activities.

A call from secretary of State Kellogg is also expected by Mr. Coolidge in July when the former will pay his annual visit to St. Paul, Minn., his home. No direct word has reached the chief executive, however, from Secretary Hoover as to the visit which it was announced the Republican nominee for president would make here on his way to Palo Alto, Calif., early in July.

EXPELLED FROM

STOCK EXCHANGE
New York, June 27.—(AP)—Edward H. Stern, member of the New York stock exchange, since October 13, 1919, was expelled Tuesday for unethical business conduct.

Habeas Corpus Is Unopposed

More Than Dozen Prominent Grantham Citizens Affix Names to Justified Bond

Millard Johnson, Grantham township farmer, was yesterday afternoon released under a justified bond of $15,000 to await a hearing for the killing of Pink Rose, Grantham planter, several Sundays ago. Attorneys for Johnson had instituted habeas corpus proceedings and had gone to Snow Hill for a hearing before resident Judge Daniels. At this stage, however, attorneys for the prosecution agreed to accept the appeal for habeas corpus proceedings and the matter was not argued. The amount of the bond was set by Judge Daniels and more than a dozen prominent Grantham men came forward to sign the papers obligating themselves in the sum of $15,000 to insure Johnson's liberty until the next term of Wayne county superior court.

Rose died of knife wounds inflicted by Johnson. There are two stories which contradict each other entirely told about the case. Dr. Will Spicer said that Rose told him in the presence of two witnesses that Johnson waylaid him and came forward saying that he intended to cut his guts out. The other story is that Rose was the aggressor in the case and that Johnson had run a considerable distance from him before he used the knife in self-defense.

The case has stirred the southern part of Wayne county and incident in that section in general. Though the fatal attack happened several weeks ago, it is still the main topic of conversation in that part of the county. The public sentiment as to the guilt and innocence of the two parties is an equally divided one as are the different versions of the affair.

Johnson, however, has no trouble in producing the unusually large bond which was required.

PREPARING FOR WET-DRY FIGHT

Daniels Leads Forces That Insist 18th Amendment Must Be Named Specifically

HOUSTON, Tex., June 26.—(AP)—Both wets and dries in the Democratic National Convention tightened up their lines today in preparation for a battle tomorrow in preparation within the resolutions committee on the prohibition plank.

Convention harmonizers still were seeking to have the row settled behind the closed doors of the platform committee rooms but such militant leaders of the South as Joseph Daniels, North Carolina editor and former secretary of the Navy, and Governor Dan Moody of Texas, were ready to throw the issue into the convention itself unless their demands were met.

Daniels and his co-workers insisted that the plank must name the 18th Amendment and pledge the party to "sacredly enforce it." Apparently the supporters of Governor Alfred E. Smith were disinclined to go that far and they believed they had the votes in the convention to put over a straight law enforcement plank if they should decide on that course.

The demand of the dries will be countered before the committee tomorrow with a plank for modification of the Volstead act to be offered by George E. Brennan, national committeeman for Illinois and a Smith leader in the Convention. New York, Maryland, and New Jersey are expected to support that plank, although even the most optimistic of the wets entertained no idea that it could be put over.

After the first session of the National convention at which the officials failed to have the resolutions committee appointed so it could go to work today, the dries resumed their conferences for the purpose of agreeing on

Trying To Mail Letter, Girl Pulls Handle Fire Alarm Box

Al Gurley and his ferocious fire fighters never know what they are going to find at the end of a fire alarm now.

Sunday they got a hurry-up summons from down in Little Washington and took off for that congested wooden-framed section at nothing flat.

"I see de one dat pulled dat box," excitedly yelled a negro to Acting Chief Gurley as the fire fighting apparatus ground to a halt in front of the box from which the alarm had come.

"Dese here niggers am done gone and took $5 away from me and I want some firemen to witness it," went on the negro.

Acting Chief Gurley decided that it wasn't his job to act as witness in such a circumstance and so the negro was taken into custody for turning ing in a false fire alarm.

But that's not half the story.

Early yesterday morning an alarm came in from the box at the Orphan Home. Now, when an alarm comes from that box the boys always beat their records in getting out there.

They arrived to find a puzzled looking young woman standing by the box, her mouth dropped in amazement and her appearance one of trepidation.

"I wanted to mail a letter," she said, "and I thought I had to pull out that handle to open the box. They told me at the hospital that there was a mail box down here and I could get it off early. I hope I didn't do any harm," she trembled in explanation.

"That's all right," replied Acting Chief Gurley. "We all make mistakes sometimes. Let's go boys."

OPEN KINSTON BRANCH STORE

Heilig And Myers Furniture Company Has Fine Store In Kinston Now

The progressive furniture firm of Heilig and Myers for many years located here on Walnut street has recently opened a branch store in the neighboring town of Kinston.

In connection with making this move of expansion Mr. Heilig stated that his concern had been looking for a wider field for sometime and after due consideration they decided to open an up to date store on North street in Kinston with Mr. Heilig's brother, Morris Heilig, installed as manager catering to the trade that was expecting big values for a small outfit.

The local firm has built up an enviable name for fair dealing and honesty throughout Goldsboro and Wayne county and it the people of Kinston and Lenoir county may expect the same policies.

June Construction In City Will Approximate $145,000

Upwards of $145,000 worth of construction work is now in progress in the city limits of Goldsboro, statistics secured yesterday from City Engineer Whitman and Tax Collector James Crawford showed. Building in the city since the first of the year has approximately $200,000 or more, with the erection of a number of fine residences featuring the work.

The Montgomery-Ward building on John street, now in course of construction, is the second project now under way. Permit issued called for a two story brick building to cost about $40,000. The Sunday school building of St. Paul Methodist church is the biggest project, costing about $60,000.

The latest permit to be issued was signed about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and was secured by A. M. Shevard for a six room house for Otis McGill to be located on Pheview avenue.

Mulberry street is the scene of active building. Bert Privett has just completed a brick home there and D. C. Cogdell and George E. Cogdell have fine brick residences well under way. Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Minton are erecting a pretentious brick residence in the rear of the Bizzell home place on East Walnut street, the residence facing Kornegay. The brick veneering of the Bizzell home and converting of it into apartments by Norwood Bizzell of New Bern and Dr. Ed. Bizzell is about completed on the outside.

E. H. Walker's brick mansion at Walnut and Beaubien street is nearing completion. Others who have homes under construction are Murray Borden at George and Mulberry streets; John Thompson at Pineview avenue and Evergreen avenue; B. F. Taiton on Pineview avenue; Ernest Davis on Oleander avenue; E. J. Tew on Ash street, and C. J. Carroll on Ash street.
