SENATOR ROBINSON IS SMITH'S RUNNING MATE

Hectic Convention Is Ended As Arkansan Gets V-President Nomination

Democratic Campaign Entrusted to Two Great Battlers—Smith and Robinson

ROBINSON IS PRODUCT OF AN ARKANSAS FARM

Delegates Heave Sigh of Relief as Dismissing Gavel is Banged Down on Table

HOUSTON, June 29.—(AP)—Joseph T. Robinson, rugged product of an Arkansas farm was chosen today to battle for Democracy side by side with Alfred E. Smith in the November election.

He was swept into the nomination for vice president at the closing session of the Democratic National Convention with an overwhelming vote of 1032.

The next high candidate on the final count was Major General Henry T. Allen, retired, who had a total of 21. But prior to announcement of the official figures many states had switched their allegiance in order to climb aboard the hand wagon of the Democratic leader of the senate.

Robinson was permanent chairman of the convention which selected him as the running mate for Smith.

Long before the convention assembled, it was evident that he was the overwhelming choice of the delegates. With the vote impending he retired from the platform, turned his back over to Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi and went to his hotel to be notified of his victory.

Convention Ends

HOUSTON, Tex., June 29.—(AP)—A last tired cheer, almost like a great sigh of relief echoed the whang of the gavel with which Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi today, sent the Democratic convention of 1928 rumbly and echoing into party history.

It had been a long hot week. Time and again rifts in the rank of the party hosts appeared about to disclose unhesitable breaks in the solidarity on which success in November must depend. But the breaks never did come and when the massed delegates and alternates who alone remained of the vast throng which usually filled the convention hall, turned away from the platform, their work over, to go straggling out into the sun light, the pre-arranged schedule of events had been maintained absolutely.

The convention adjourned just about 1 hour earlier than the leaders of its activities had expected from the first.

The Fight Is On

HOUSTON, Tex., June 29.—(AP)—The Democrats intend to carry the fight to the enemy in the presidential campaign and they believe they have two men on their ticket who will do that without mincing words.

Smith, an old hand at stumpings, likes to stir about, delivering blows—and taking them—out on the platform with the voters looking on. That is the kind of a campaign he plans to wage this year with the presidency at stake.

Robinson, his hard-hitting running mate, with a powerful voice and a strong body also likes to mix with the crowds. Rough and tumble campaigning suits him.

Plans for the Democratic campaign are still in the making. A line of attack will shape up in conferences party strategists will hold during the next few weeks with their standard bearer and the vice presidential nominee.

One of the big jobs is to determine who shall direct the Democratic maneuvers as chairman of the national committee. Clem Shaver of West Virginia went carry over, and the field is now being canvassed for the best men for the post.

Preliminary discussions have developed sentiment among the close friends of the New Yorker that they should go outside that state for a

MOREHEAD CITY OPENS BRIDGES

Address by Governor McLean Features Acceptance Bridge Completing No. 10

MOREHEAD CITY, N. C., June 29.—(AP)—Route No. 10, known as North Carolina's main street—running from the coast to the mountains was completed today with the formal opening of the new $750,000 Morehead City-Beaufort bridge.

Dedication exercises today were featured with an address by Governor McLean who accepted the structure for the state. Congressman Chas. L. Abernethy presented Frank Pace, Chairman of the Highway Commission, who, in turn, introduced the Governor.

"Since North Carolina has made a great investment in her highway system," said Governor McLean, "like such railroad systems as the Pennsylvania and the New York Central, it is our duty to capitalize on this investment by using the highways, not only as a contribution to the social and education advancement of our people, but that it may advance our economic efforts."

The Governor mentioned the problem of farm produce transportation, suggesting that truck lines be established for the movement of farm products and sea food.

"Trade lines should tie up with the inland and coast boat lines," he said, "thus extending the scope of markets using products of this section of North Carolina. This, I feel sure, would mean the increase of this source of revenue and eliminate much of the trouble experienced at times by farmers and business houses."

"Completion of the bridge forming a part of highway No. 10, erection of the bridge over Bogue sound from Morehead Villa to the ocean proper and the extension soon of the Inland Waterway toward the south are all steps which I believe hold out unprecedented promise of progress and development."

BEAN BEETLE IS NOW IN COUNTY

Deadly Pest to Bean Crop Discovered on Farm of H. D. Overman

The deadly Mexican bean beetle has made its appearance in Wayne County, according to County Agent A. K. Robertson. Yellowish insects sent to Mr. Robertson by D. H. Overman, Goldsboro Route 1, for identification were found to be the beetle which has caused much damage in bean crops of adjoining counties.

I expect, said Mr. Robertson, that from this date on it will be a fight for any of us to have beans of any description or variety, garden or field, because of this pest. This is the first time I have had any of these insects sent in, but have been looking for them as they were in all counties adjoining us last season, especially counties west of here. Early beans will be alright, but the late beans will all be attacked and will have to be poisoned with Calcium Arsenate, and on the under side of the leaves for best control. Poisoning will need to be done about every ten days for good control. A nozzle which turns upward from near the ground will put the dust or spray on the under side of the leaves.

SMITH WIRES ACCEPTANCE

Reiterates His Convictions Concerning Prohibition Question in Message

ALBANY, June 29.—(AP)—Governor Alfred E. Smith accepted the Democratic nomination for the presidency in a 600 word telegram today a full half of which was devoted to his position on the prohibition question.

Shortly after this telegram, which was addressed to Senator Joseph T. Robinson, as permanent chairman of the convention in Houston was made public, Senator Robinson was nominated as vice president and the Governor sent him a telegram of congratulations.

He said in the telegram, the common honesty compels admission that corruption of law enforcement officials, bootlegging and lawlessness are prevalent throughout the country.

"While I fully appreciate," he said after again stating his stand on prohibition, "that these changes can only be made by the people themselves through their elected legislative representatives, I feel it to be the duty of the chosen leader of the people to point the way which in his opinion leads to a sane, sensible solution of a condition which I am convinced is entirely unsatisfactory to the great mass of our people."

After saying in the telegram that he believed the saloon ought always to be a defunct institution; he asserted his belief that by the application of the democratic principles of local self government and state's right, real temperance and respect for law might be secured. While telling of the changes he would like to have made in the prohibition situation, Governor Smith said that, if it was the will of the people for him to take the oath as president to protect and defend the constitution and laws he would execute that oath to the limit of his ability.

Call Asheville Meeting To Organize Against Al Smith

HOUSTON, Tex., June 29.—(AP)—A call to dry southern Democrats to gather at Asheville July 11, to organize at once for the election of dry Democratic senatorial, congressional, and state nominees for public offices and for the defeat of the wet Tammany candidate for president, Governor Smith," was issued today on the personal responsibility of two dry leaders, Arthur J. Barton, Atlanta, Ga., chairman of the board of temperance of the Baptist Convention, and Bishop James Cannon, Jr., Richmond, Va., of the Methodist Episcopal church South.

Making clear that they were acting on their own initiative, the two said that in their opinion "the only hope of preserving the ideals and the unity of the southern democracy lay in such action and for that reason they had called the meeting between July 11 and July 18 to consider the question. "We are greatly gratified that the Democratic convention has pledged itself in specific terms to enforcement of the 18th Amendment and all of the laws enacted pursuant thereto, which of necessity include the Volstead law," they said in a statement.

News Survey Shows That Not More Than One Out of Ten Would Scratch Ticket

MOST FORMER ANTIS TO FIGHT FOR HIM

Months Before Election Expected Cut Down Percentage of Those Objecting

While a great majority of the Democratic voters in Goldsboro had opposed Al Smith as the Democratic candidate for president, his nomination will have little effect in the annual Democratic vote in the county's poll made by The News yesterday showed. Most of those who had opposed him accepted his nomination as the will of the majority. Not more than one in ten questioned by The News in the survey of voters met at random during a two hour period on the streets said that he would scratch his ticket.

"I didn't want him and fought him hard, but the rest of the county seems to want him bad, and I am going to support him," said one man who had been especially interested in opposing Smith prior to the convention.

That seemed to be the prevailing sentiment. A few said however, that they intended staying away from the polls in November of in voting for Hoover.

There were a number of arguments as to the advisability of such a procedure between former anti Smith men now decided that their party means more to them than a personality.

"We have got to forget all about ever having objected to Smith and get busy now toward getting the party eternally for the battle against the arch enemy this fall—against the Republicans."

At least one Republican in the city was noted having a great good time as he watched members of the party opposed to his party arguing about Smith now that he has been nominated.

It was pointed out yesterday, however, that five months intervene before the general election and that the one out of ten who yesterday said he would scratch his ticket would probably cool off before the election and the vote the ticket straight as always.
