CLYDE HOEY ANSWERS CRITICISMS AGAINST SMITH

SAYS CITY'S GREATEST NEED IS GET RID OF BOOTLEGGERS

Speech of Former Congressman Launches State Campaign in Gardner's Town

REPORT SMITH WILL MAKE ADDRESS IN NORTH STATE

Hoey Holds Smith Has Not Bolted Party Platform As Refers To Liquor

CHARLOTTE, July 24—(AP)—White no definite word has been received here that Governor Alfred E. Smith, Democratic nominee for president, is to speak in Charlotte "very reliable" information has been received that he is to speak in North Carolina, Y. D. McCall, president of the local Smith for president club announced today.

SHELBY, July 24—(AP)—In opening the North Carolina Democratic campaign here tonight Clyde R. Hoey former congressman from the ninth district, declared that he was for Governor Alfred E. Smith, "without excuse and without apology."

It was a divided crowd in sentiment though Democratic in politics that heard Mr. Hoey, open the campaign, many of them were classed as anti-Smith.

Mr. Hoey centered his speech about his answer to the three major criticisms of Smith—his Tammany connection, his alleged wetness, and his religion.

There is one sure defense for Al Smith against any charge that can be made against Tammany, Mr. Hoey said and that is "his own spotless record of public service for the past 25 years."

Referring to the wet issue, Mr. Hoey said that "for more than thirty years, not a single president of this country has been a prohibitionist. Taft was not, Wilson was not, Harding was not, and Coolidge is not. Moreover, the present Republican candidate, Herbert Hoover never voted for prohibition in his life, is not a dry and never has been."

"We are told that Governor Smith bolted at platform", Mr. Hoey continued, "He did nothing of the kind." The platform declares in favor of enforcing the law and he says, that he will do that to the full letter of his oath.

"Governor Smith's whole record gives assurance that his religious affiliation would in no way effect the administration of his office. There was fifteen members of this cabinet as governor, 12 of whom are protestants, 2 Catholics and one Jew. His policy is to appoint good men to office regardless of religious affiliation."

"If we shall cease our criticisms and quit our fault finding, and line up solidly behind Al Smith, he will charge the breastworks of Republicans, take the trenches of privilege and pillage and go triumphantly over the top on November 6, and plant the unstained and unsoiled banner of Democracy in the citadel of the nation at Washington."

Sheriff Recovers $500,000 in Jewels Sold in Unique Fraud Method

NEW YORK, July 24—(AP)—Jewels valued at almost half a million dollars were seized by the sheriff from a Fifth avenue jeweler today on the ground that he had obtained them, apparently in good faith, from a housekeeper, who authorities said had run wild on her employer's credit.

Mrs. Maria J. This spring the Emersons went to Europe and Mrs. Leslie started in to buy $1,000,000 worth of jewels. She obtained from Wanamaker stores here and in Philadelphia jewels priced at $460,000 on the strength of her former authorization and disposed of them to Harry Winston, a Fifth avenue jeweler, saying she was selling the jewels for Mrs. Emerson who had certain obligations she must meet at once. Winston said he paid $100,000 for them.

Saves His Father From Being Washed Overboard in Storm

J. C. Klutz, of Concord, 70 odd years old, father of C. A. Klutz local barber, had a narrow escape from drowning while fishing at Vandemere Monday afternoon.

Seven members of the Klutz family had been having a great time drawing in big fat blue fish, pig fish, and croakers. The father, who, seven, and another son, hailing from the pulkards were having the time of their lives at the sport, for fishing such as they were experiencing was a thing unknown in Cabarrus county. Every one they were pulling in weighed a pound at least. All unnoticed, an ominous-looking cloud had pulled up close. The first warning the fishing party had of the cloud—and the party was 13 miles out in the Pamlico—was when a large fishing boat began to sound its siren while in warning. The captain in charge of the launch on which the Klutzes were fishing at once pulled up his anchor, cranked his motor and headed for the shore. But miles before the protection of the beach had been reached the storm had broken about the small craft in great fury. Waves many feet high broke over the craft. Nothing daunted Mr. Klutz, the Concord man, stood up in the boat to reply to some word which his son C. A. Klutz, the local barber, had shouted above the waves. As he stood up a big comb was washed across the boat. As it went over it lifted the old man with it. His head went under the water and his feet shot up. Then his feet went down and his head shot up. Reaching out suddenly, C. A. Klutz, seized his father and pulled him into the boat. (Continued on Page Three)

Col. John D. Langston Has Gathered Data From Citizens On Subject

AVERAGE MAN MAKES CHARGES VERY OPENLY

Langston Says Good Citizens Not Good Citizens When Fail To Inform As To Criminals

What Goldsboro needs above everything else right now, declared Col. John D. Langston yesterday, is to get rid of the bootlegger.

"In conversation with citizens of Goldsboro during the past few weeks," Col. Langston said, "I have heard approximately one hundred people respecting various walks of life, state openly and boldly and without apparent fear of contradiction that what they are being continuously and almost openly sold in several hundred bootlegging joints in an around Goldsboro, that a large percentage of the filling stations around the city are in the regular business, and that one house in the city, operated by a white woman, retails liquor and beer by the glass without fear of interruption."

"Either these conditions exist or they don't exist. Either they exist or a large majority of the people are badly fooled in that that the officers of the law are paying no attention to enforcement of the liquor laws except to pick up a 'stray' once in a while."

"I am only relating what the average man on the streets openly and boldly says. If the statements are correct, the present need of the city does not have to be guessed."

"Don't ask me about these charges, ask the average man who walks about the streets."

"There isn't any doubt that liquor is being sold too freely in Goldsboro. It's time for the good citizens of the city to learn that failure to inform about criminals takes them out of the class of good citizens."

RASKOB TO QUIT GENERAL MOTORS

New York American Says He Will Devote All of Time to Smith's Campaign

NEW YORK, July 24—(AP)—The New York American today says it has learned that John J. Raskob, chairman of the National Democratic committee, will sever his official connection with General Motors Corporation to give all his time to the presidential campaign of Governor Smith.

Mr. Raskob, it said, had found the duties of managing Governor Smith's campaign too arduous to permit of his remaining as chairman of the finance committee of General Motors.

Although Mr. Raskob is a director in several other companies, the paper said he does not intend to resign those posts because they do not take the time that had to be devoted to managing the financial affairs of the Motors Corporation.

Mr. Raskob, who for many years was a member of the staunchly Republican Union League Club of Philadelphia has been proposed for membership in the National Democratic club of New York.

Although listed in who's who as a Republican, Mr. Raskob said at the time of his election to the Democratic National chairmanship that he had always been independent in politics.

Although the Governor is expected to make comparatively few speeches, Mr. Raskob said that everyone "will have ample opportunity of either seeing him or hearing him over the radio."
