Courtney and Crew Are Picked Up After Plane Is Forced Down at Sea

Drifted 100 Miles From Point Where Dornier Napier First Sent Out SOS

PLANE LEFT AZORES LATE WEDNESDAY P. M.

Hours of Silence From Distressed Plane Raised Anxiety to High Pitch

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Captain Frank T. Courtney and the three companions with whom he made a forced landing in their flying boat today were picked up late today by the steamer Minnewaska, which was announced by radio that Courtney and his crew had been taken aboard and that all was well.

When the flying boat which had taken off from the Azores from New Foundland late yesterday was forced down, Courtney sent out a radio distress SOS call giving his position. A dozen ocean liners turned from their course to race to the rescue but when the first arrived at the position given the plane could not be found.

Hours of silence from the distressed plane after its landing led to the general fear that the radio had gone out of commission. But the steamer Minnewaska got in direct communication with the plane again and was given the new position. This indicated that the plane had drifted steadily to the northeast since its landing and was almost 100 miles from its first position.

Courtney's plane landed in the ocean early this morning and in response to its radio calls for assistance all steamers anywhere in the vicinity turned from their courses to go to the rescue.

At 11:15 eastern daylight time the Radio Marine corporation at New York was advised that the station at Chatham, Mass., had information that the liner President Hayes had reached the position Courtney gave in his distress calls and was searching for the plane. Two hours later no word had been received that the search had met with success.

Other liners that went to Courtney's assistance were the Minnewasas, the Cedric, the Celtic and the Columbus. The Inward, the Gripsholm and the Berengaria aided by relaying the wireless messages. The Cedric was not much further from the landing place of the plane than the President Hayes and it was believed she too must have been searching in waters in the position Courtney gave.

SAMPSON CHILD KILLED IN FALL

Three Year Old Boy Sustains Broken Neck As He Tumbles From Father's Truck

O. L. Carter, Jr., three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Carter of near Ingot, Sampson county was instantly killed when he fell from a truck in which he was riding with his parents last Sunday afternoon, according to information reaching here yesterday. The little boy's neck was broken by the force of the fall.

The Carter family had left their home in their truck for a ride that afternoon and the little boy, with some of the other children, was seated in the truck body, while Mr. Carter, his wife and baby, were in the front seat. It is believed that the child was attempting to move his position at the front to the rear and in some way became overbalanced. Despite the fact that his father was driving at low speed he was hurled to the ground with such force that his neck was broken. Neighbors, whom the Carters passed just before the tragedy occurred, stated that the child was seated at that time on the side of the truck.

As soon as the little fellow could be reached it was found that he was instantly killed by the fall. The horror-stricken mother took her son in her arms and carried him to their home, which they had left only a few minutes before for a pleasure ride, that terminated in one of the greatest tragedies of a family.

SIMMONS AGAIN ATTACKS SMITH

Letter To Wilmington Man Is Given to Press For Publication

WILMINGTON, Aug. 2.—(AP)—Charging Gov. Alfred E. Smith, Democratic presidential nominee, with being "hostile to the fundamental principles of democracy," Senator F. M. Simmons, veteran North Carolina legislator, in a letter to A. B. Croon, local insurance man, declared that "all Democratic voters should be free from coercion or restraint in the exercise of their conscientious conviction and judgment with respect to the national ticket."

The letter, given the Wilmington News Dispatch for publication by Mr. Croon, in part, follows:

"I am deeply interested in the election of the Democratic state, district and local tickets, and I earnestly hope they may receive the undivided support of the democracy of the State, but I feel that because of Governor Smith's action since his nomination with reference to the platform, his organization of the national Democratic executive committee and his and its alliance with interests and groups hostile and antagonistic to the fundamental principles of democracy, all Democratic voters should be free from coercion or restraint in the exercise of their conscientious conviction and judgment with respect to the national ticket."

Senator Simmons, leader of his party in North Carolina and senior member of the upper body from this State, recently resigned as a member of the Democratic executive committee. Throughout the pre-convention campaign he vigorously opposed the nomination of the New York Governor but did not attend the convention.

WAKE CO. ANTIS STAGE MEETING

Dr. Tucker Classes Catholic Church As Political Machine And Cusses Editors

RALEIGH, Aug. 2.—(AP)—With the Rev. J. Powell Tucker, D.D., pastor of the First Baptist church of Raleigh, declaring a vote for the party's presidential nominee would be a vote to "crucify this country on the bloody cross builded by the foreign element" anti Smith Democrats of Wake county launched a temporary organization here tonight.

On motion of Rev. C. A. Upchurch, Superintendent of the North Carolina Anti-Saloon League a committee of seven was named and charged with nominating a county committee to be composed of a man and woman from each of the 13 townships.

A second meeting was arranged for and pledge cards were distributed among the audience for signature but Roy Banks, a moving spirit in the enterprise, said he was unable to say how many had been filled out. The cards merely pledged the signers not to vote for Governor Smith.

Dr. Tucker, who made the only speech of the evening took a rap at "two by four editors" who criticized ministers for political activity. "Why in God's name don't they help keep the Roman Catholic church out of politics," he demanded. Dr. Tucker had previously referred to the Catholic church as a "political machine basking under the guise of religion."

BUILDING WOULD BOOST CANNING

Pikeville Woman Shows Need of Proposed New Building for Fair Grounds

No better way of encouraging canning in Wayne county could be devised than through providing the proposed woman's building at the Wayne county fair, according to Mrs. E. L. Peele of Pikeville, chairman of the canning and pantry supply displays at the fair. Mrs. Peele in a letter to the fair association expressed the hope that the $5,000 needed for the new buildings will be provided.

"No one in the county," writes Mrs. Peele, "has read with more interest of your plans to build a woman's and girls' building at the Fair grounds than I have."

"I have been supervising the canned goods and pantry supplies department at the fair for a number of years, and we have not only been crowded for space, but the dirt floor in the old building makes it impossible for the women and girls of the county to display their work in a creditable way."

"The limited amount of space makes it impossible for us to encourage the canned food and pantry supply exhibits. The canning industry is rapidly growing in the county and with a building for the woman and girls to use exclusively you have no idea how much it would encourage them to exhibit their products."

"I sincerely hope that you will not let the good people of Wayne county rest until you get this building for us."

SPANIARDS TO CONTINUE HOP

Will Today Resume Flight Interrupted When Forced Down At Sea

HELVIA, Spain, Aug. 2.—Forced down here by motor trouble, Commander Ramon Franco and his three companions will resume their round the world flight Friday.

Franco favors starting Friday instead of Thursday because Friday is the anniversary of the beginning of Christopher Columbus voyage to America in 1492. Franco had originally intended starting his flight from Cadiz Friday, but had made the hop off because of extremely favorable weather conditions.

With his companions, Captains Ruiz De Alda and Gallarza of the Spanish Royal Flying Forces, and the civilian mechanic Pablo Rada, Franco hopped off from Cadiz, less than a hundred miles southeast of here, at 7:30 a. m. yesterday, encountering slight trouble with one of the four motors of the huge Dornier seaplane Numancia. Franco turned back and made a safe landing here.

The fliers spent the night as the guests of the Rabida Monastery here which is famed as a haven used by Columbus during the years when he was trying to persuade the Spanish court to finance his voyage of discovery.

Declaration of Intention to Support Smith Follows Conference

SMITH WOULD CALL FARM AID CONFERENCE IF NAMED

Peek Was One of Champions of McNary-Haugen Bill and Prominent Leader

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—(AP)—In his fight for the presidency, Governor Smith gained an ally today from the corn belt—George N. Peek, of Illinois, one of the champions of the McNary-Haugen farm bill which was thrown out by the Coolidge administration.

Peek announced that he had bolted the Republican party to enlist under the Smith banner after he and the Democratic nominee had discussed the farm question for two hours.

Immediately after their conference, Smith reaffirmed his intention, if elected of calling on the best minds for advice in shaping up of a farm relief program. He mentioned Frank O. Lowden of Illinois as one of the Republicans he would like to consult.

In his statement, the Governor reiterated that he would discuss the farmer's problem at length in his acceptance speech and observed that control of the sale of agricultural surplus is recognized by our platform as an essential need. He said to be imposed on the unit to be financed. "The principle is fixed by our platform; on which I stand—only the details of its accomplishment remain, he added.

Peek, who supported Lowden for the Republican presidential nomination, came out for Smith formally after he had visited Chairman Raskob at campaign headquarters late in the day.

"As a result of my conference with Governor Smith," he dictated to news papersmen, "I feel certain that he has a clear and correct understanding of the farm problem and that he will solve it with intellectual honesty. My letter posts is entirely in the hands statement to me as the epitomized in his public statement this morning. I shall support his candidacy for presidency."
