Baker Millions Claimants Are Pushing Their Case

The Baker millions—variously estimated at from $100,000,000 to $150,000,000—continue to hold attractions for Wayne and Sampson county folks who claim they have evidence showing that they are the closest of kin to the founders of the mammoth estate now held in trust by the State of California. Next week two representatives of the people seeking to claim the fortune will go next week to Catawba, N. C., and to Washington, D. C., to obtain the fortune. The News learned yesterday. The fight to Washington is to be made for the express purpose of examining the United States census reports from 1809 to 1810 and 1834 in an effort to establish the residence in this part of North Carolina of progenitors of the brothers who later migrated to California. The story circulated among the Sampson and Wayne people claiming the fortune is that there were two brothers and a sister left Wayne county when they were orphaned. That they settled in Moore county and moved later to California. During the pioneer days, they are said to have accumulated great wealth in mining property, and later in oil. Some seventy five claimants of the state fortune from this part of the state met at the courthouse here several weeks ago to discuss plans for pushing their claims. There was, however, a great air of secrecy about the meeting, and The News was not able to gain information as to what actually transpired at the meeting.

SENATOR REED HITS AT LEAGUE

Charges That Anti-Saloon League Trying To Rule Democratic Party

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The Anti-Saloon League was assailed today in a statement by Senator James A. Reed of Missouri who charged the League was trying to dominate the Democratic party while at the same time plotting its destruction. The statement was Senator Reed's first since the recent Missouri primary in which Charles M. Hay, backed by the anti-saloon league, defeated James A. Collett who had the support of Senator Reed for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator.

Making a defense of the policies of Governor Alfred E. Smith, Senator Reed said: "Even now the anti-saloon league is covertly charging the election of Governor Smith means the return of the open saloon and the flooding of the country with unrestricted liquor. They know this charge to be untrue. They know no considerable body of men propose the return of the saloons, and that Governor Smith's attitude is that a better way for the promotion of true temperance can be found than the plan of the Volstead act."

"The anti-saloon league," said Senator Reed, "is an organization which has shown by its record that it is controlled by a few men who have gathered and expended between $30,000,000 and $60,000,000. It acts largely in secret and frequently without regard to morals, fairness or honesty."
