

GOVERNOR SMITH TO VISIT RALEIGH THURSDAY

Invites Wayne Folks To Come Over And Be Part Of Celebration

Governor Will Spend An Hour In State Capital—3:30 to 4:30

CANCEL ENGAGEMENT DANIELS AT FREMONT

Parade and Reception Are Being Arranged For Visit Of Nominee

Al Smith, brown derby and all, is coming to Raleigh Thursday afternoon from 3:30 to 4:30 and wants to meet all his Wayne county friends at that time.

The invitation to the friends here about was extended yesterday afternoon from State Chairman O. M. Mull of Shelby to County Chairman W. A. Dees, who passed it along to the News with the request that it be given the public.

"Add I want every man who hears about it or read about it," said Mr. Dees, "to consider it a personal invitation to be present. Governor Smith wants to see the folks from Wayne. He likes folks. Aside from being a fair fighter, honest, open courageous, his humanistic side is one of his finest points."

Governor Smith does not plan to make an address in Raleigh, according to word from Mr. Dees, but will spend the hour in meeting the folks. There will be a parade and after that a reception.

On account of the appearance of Governor Smith in Raleigh, Chairman Dees said that it would be necessary to cancel the engagement which was scheduled for Josephus Daniels at Fremont. Mr. Daniels, editor of the News and Observer, and secretary of the Navy under President Wilson, will confer with the New York executive, act as one of the leaders in the reception committee, and when the nominee's special train pulls out of Raleigh for Charlotte will be on board with him. The Raleigh editor and Democratic leader will accompany him to the latter city, it was said.

Whether or not Mr. Daniels will be able to come to Fremont later was not known last night. Chairman Dees made it plain to Chairman Mull that Wayne county and Fremont were standing in their right to hear the Raleigh man before November 6, and Mr. Mull said that he would do what he could to arrange another date for Mr. Daniels in Fremont.

The news telephoned to Mr. Dees by Mr. Mull settles definitely reports of the visit of Governor Smith in North Carolina. At one time it was thought that he might deliver an address in the state, but this will be foregone in order that the nominee may see more of the folks and let them see him. He is expected to deliver an address in some of the adjoining states and thousands of Tar Heels will journey to hear him if it is within several hundred miles.

News that Governor Smith will spend an hour in Raleigh will be received in Goldsboro. It was thought, as few pieces of news have been received lately. At least three thous and Wayne county people will go to Raleigh, hoping to get a glimpse of the nominee, it was estimated. Details as to the parade and reception were not available last evening.

Wants Veterans To Unite Stop Religious Prejudice

Congratulating Allen Adams of Greensboro, chairman of the Republican Veterans Organization in North Carolina on denouncing religious intolerance, Col. John D. Langston of Goldsboro, chairman of the Democratic Veterans Organization in the State in a telegram to the Greensboro man yesterday suggested that the two groups of veterans join in a drive to collect publications which further religious intolerance and "have a big bonfire in celebration of a day of religious freedom."

This organization is contained in a telegram which Col. Langston filed to Mr. Adams, answering criticisms of the Veterans Bureau as made sometime ago by the Goldsboro man. "You are correct," wrote the Goldsboro man "Forbes went to Leavenworth prison instead of Atlanta prison. Glad to note you do not deny the definite charges of graft and plunder of Republican officials of Veterans Bureau specified by me. All so glad to note you do not deny the beneficial record of Governor's Smith for the veterans. "I must decline to submit any charges to the attorney general's office. It's been tried before and fail and the rest are still sitting in the sunshine. That office suffers from acute cases of 'prolongitis'. Mr. Stearns also declines to question at American Legion meeting before election. Legion not in politics and Democratic Veterans organization will not be party to raise political question there. I charged party responsibility for past record Republican officials of bureau and that system of hand-picking officials has not resulted in safety and is still unsafe. You answer, let by zones be bygone. "Congratulations you on your desire about joining our organization with mine in a drive to collect Open Forum and all other similar sheets being distributed by Republican officials and have a big bonfire in celebration of a day of religious freedom."

Oct. 8—(AP)—Good weather prospects over the Atlantic were awaited tonight by Dr. Hugo Eckener before he would announce the "sailing" hour of the Graf Zeppelin, the huge new dirigible which he is to pilot to the United States. He hoped the reports would be favorable for a departure Wednesday.

The final test of the airship, a flight of less than 5 hours, was given today. The dirigible flew over Lake Constance, while thousands of spectators, a large proportion of whom were tourists attracted here by the coming event, watched and cheered.

Dr. Eckener said tonight that it is going to cost 400,000 marks, approximately $66,000 for the round trip to the United States.

RABBI FREUND TALKS TO CLUB

Sol Isaacs in Charge of Kiwanis Club Program On Last Evening

At last night's luncheon every Kiwanian was delighted with the program put on by Sol Isaacs. He was fortunate in having for his and the club's guests Rabbi and Mrs. I. L. Freund and Miss Mavis Evans. Mrs. Freund accompanied on the piano by Miss Evans captivated the entire membership with a number of vocal music selections.

Rabbi Freund made the principal talk of the evening, beginning with a number of humorous stories he had everyone in a pleasant and attentive mood when he explained seriously why he thought so many enjoyed the Kiwanis and similar clubs. Human nature, he said, causes every one of us to be in constant search for happiness, and indirectly has been the cause of every great discovery in civilization, and the same efforts toward happiness will continue to give us improvements in every way. In this search he continued, we are all dreamers and want to do big things, but most of us have a capacity for little things only. Civic clubs, he explained harmonizes our dreams, making us satisfied to do our little part in the sphere where we live and can do, rather than dream of the impossible. Club association and fellowship results in our satisfaction in improving our own little spot, and as a result we have better towns more inspiring religion, better schools and cleaner environments, and enjoy our club meetings.

At the beginning of the meeting, President Miller read a letter from the Wayne County Motion Picture Steering committee on community club activities in Wayne county including the Kiwanis club to join with various community clubs of the county in giving a Dutch luncheon for the purpose of getting together the various community leaders and the business men of Goldsboro. The club voted to accept the invitation and appointed Mr. Tom Norwood as representative of the club in arranging a joint program.

The attendance prizes presented by Kiwanian Isaacs, were given to Mrs. Freund and Mr. Frank Taylor. Mr. W. W. Minton and Mr. R. D. Blount, Kiwanian of Valparaiso, Ind., were guests of the club.

Yanks Are Stopped But Not By Cards

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 8—(AP)—The Yanks were stopped today in their rush toward a second successive world's series championship—but not by the Cardinals.

A downpour of rain early this morning swamped the playing field at Sportsman's Park to such an extent that Commissioner Landis authorized postponement of the fourth game. The weather prospects favor resumption of the series tomorrow and playing prospects indicate its abrupt end, unless the national league champions show a remarkable reversal of form.

The ground was still a bit soft in spots at 1:15 p. m., but it seemed to the small cluster of disappointed fans and experts who gathered to inspect the situation that emergency could have put the field in good playing shape.

Deputies, Aided By Hundreds of Citizens, Failed to Find "Shack" Tyndall

BAKER FUNERAL RITES ATTENDED BY HUNDREDS

Brother of Slayer Arrested For Alleged Crime of Two Years Ago

A price of $300 on his head, Shack Tyndall, white man who Saturday morning shot and killed Bunn Baker, wealthy Greene county farmer about 15 miles northeast of here, was still at large last evening. "We are still watching every place that we think he might be," Sheriff Rasberry of Greene county told The News over long distance last night. Deputies from Wayne, Wilson and Greene counties spent most of Sunday, aided by hundreds of citizens, in searching for Tyndall.

Greene county has offered a reward of $200 for Tyndall's capture and the family of Baker has offered a reward of $100.

The Baker funeral, conducted at the home Sunday afternoon by Rev. W. C. Blanchard of New Bern, attracted a crowd estimated by Sheriff Rasberry at 3,000.

At one time Sunday it was believed that Tyndall had been surrounded in a thicket near Fremont, but complete heating of the bushes in the section proved this erroneous.

"Do you think Tyndall has escaped from the section?" The News asked Sheriff Rasberry over long distance last night.

"I am afraid so," replied the sheriff. "Feeling runs high against Tyndall in Greene county, the sheriff told The News but he did not think there was any danger of a mob in case the murderer was captured. "Of course," he added "There are some who would like mighty well to get their hands on him."

Brother Arrested

Jack Tyndall brother of the murderer, was arrested by deputy sheriff Saturday night and taken to Wilson and lodged in jail for a crime committed two years ago. Tyndall attempted to draw a pistol on the two officers who arrested him and surrendered only after one of the officers beat him to the draw. Charge of carrying a concealed weapon will be placed against him for having the pistol. Sheriff O. A. Glover of Wilson county, notified Solicitor Don Gilliam of Tarboro, of Tyndall's arrest and was awaiting word as to what action to take concerning holding him for trial for the two year old crime for which he jumped a $300 cash bond. A court order for his arrest has been secured and he is being held on that.

Tyndall is alleged to have broken into Driver's store, about five miles from Wilson and to have stolen several automobile tires and other things. Johnnie Heath was also arrested in connection with the robbery and was tried and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. Heath accepted the sentence and has been released from penitentiary. Tyndall had never been heard of until officers found him Saturday night while searching for his brother.

The shooting of Baker occurred at the home of Ernest Jones, negro, who resided across the road from Tyndall and at whole home Mr. Baker stopped, was preparing some barbecue and while he and Mr. Baker were talking Tyndall, who had been hunting walked up and started a conversation. During the talk Mr. Baker, accused Tyndall of secretly disposing of some of his crop. Tyndall denied the charge and Mr. Baker asked him to go to Snow Hill and he would prove his charge. Baker started walking off and Tyndall tarried momentarily.

After Mr. Baker had gotten a few steps ahead Tyndall fired. Baker fell face foremost to the ground. Tyndall stepped forward and placing his gun near Mr. Baker's head, pulled the trigger a second time, tearing away a portion of the head and causing instant death. Jones was the only eye witness to the murder and he gave the alarm as soon as possible.

OTHER CHARGES AGAINST CARNES

Solicitor Believes Carnes Used Mission Board Credit In Main

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 8—(AP)—Solicitor John A. Boykin declared today that he believed most of the documentary evidence for the state against Clinton S. Carnes former treasurer of the Baptist home mission board, was ready for presentation to the grand jury. Tomorrow that body is expected to take some action.

Already three indictments have been returned against Carnes, all charging embezzlement from funds of the board.

The solicitor general said that "we are going to get several more indictments against Carnes for his speculations from the building fund, but the chief source of his revenue appears to have been through the banks to which he sold the mission board's notes. It is on these counts, I understand, that there can be any number up to forty, that we hoped to assure Carnes a sentence in the penitentiary, which, to a man of his age may mean life."

Resigns Principalship Of High To Do Graduate Work

In order to pursue graduate work in Peabody college, Nashville, Tenn., T. T. Hamilton, has resigned as principal of the Goldsboro high school, it was announced last evening by City Superintendent Ray Armstrong.

Mr. Hamilton received what he thought an unusual opportunity to continue his graduate work at Peabody, and his resignation was accepted with regret on the part of the School Board.

The resignation is effective Friday and Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton will leave then for Nashville. Mr. Armstrong will assume the duties of principal of the school in connection with his work as city superintendent. The school has been in operation for five weeks now on its present term and has been well organized for the year by Mr. Hamilton. Much of the activity for the year has been planned, out it was said.

Mr. Hamilton came to Goldsboro from Salisbury to become principal and in the time that he has been here his work has won commendation from the school board and from the general public. Followers of high school activities have pointed to the noticeable increase in school spirit among the students under new organizations instituted. Scholarship and attendance have been strengthened.

Mr. Hamilton is a graduate of Wake Forest college in the class of 1923. He taught in the Edenton high school and in the Salisbury high school before becoming principal in Goldsboro. For the past three summers he has pursued graduate work in education in Teacher's College, Columbia university.

Upon completion of the winter and spring terms at Peabody, he will return to Columbia summer school to secure the Master's degree. At Peabody he will play his courses with the view to obtaining the degree of doctor of philosophy.

It was while visiting in Nashville in August that Mr. Hamilton received the offer to enter Peabody. He at once took the matter under consideration and conferred with his superior Ray Armstrong here.
