GOV. SMITH SUMS UP HIS CHARGES AGAINST G. O. P.

SPEAKS TO HIS OWN PEOPLE OF NEW YORK CITY

Confident Nation Will Next Tuesday Give Democracy A Great Victory

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—(P)—Facing the last audience of his campaign, Alfred E. Smith tonight summed up in one speech all the charges he has hurled at Republicanism between Massachusetts and Montana and declared in his opinion the time was at hand when the American people wanted a change in the administration at Washington.

The Democratic nominee, in his one and only speech prepared for delivery before an audience in his native New York City, said he was confident that a re-awakened sentiment of the American people will reflected next Tuesday in the great Democratic victory.

Speaking in Madison Square Garden, where only a few weeks ago Herbert Hoover made a personal bid for New York's 45 electoral votes, Gov. Smith fired back at his rival for the presidency and the party he heads.

He accused the Republican organization of accepting support from the Anti-Saloon League, which organization he charged with "setting at naught all great declarations of political faith and with sweeping aside of all men and measures not in sympathy and in step with their narrow blotted ideas."

Further he declared, it would be difficult to speak of the Anti-Saloon League without saying something about its "twin brother for the destruction of American principles and American ideals, the Ku Klux Klan." The Republican party has made feeble attempts, he continued to disclaim responsibility for some of the activities of the Klan. He added this had been "aid bare before the eyes of the American people, when Senator Moses, the Eastern Manager of the Hoover campaign, mailed scurrilous literature to be published in the state of Kentucky, making an attack upon me because of my religious faith."

The Governor in the sweeping round up of his position on various issues, reiterated a demand for a change in prohibition and again promised to take this issue to the American people. He argued two duties with respect to the laws on this subject devolve upon the president. These he set forth as follows:

"The first is to enforce them. That I promise to do to the best of my ability. The second duty is to recommend the changes deemed advisable. I will recommend to Congress the changes I have indicated in accordance with my speech of acceptance."

At the outset of his speech the Governor ripped into Mr. Hoover for confining his utterances to six or seven speeches in which he deals with the problems under discussion in the most general way.

Reaffirming his position on the tariff, the Governor again emphasized opposition to a general revision of the tariff laws. He said more than 90 percent of the Democratic candidates for Congress had approved his position.

He also branded as "ridiculous" what he said was an attempt on the part of Republicans to lead American working men to the belief that Democratic success meant that "he is to be driven from his home."

PLANE DOWN; EIGHT HURT

Six Passengers and Two Pilots Injured in Crash in California

CHICO, Calif., Nov. 3.—(P)—Six persons and the two pilots of a west coast air transport passenger plane were injured, two seriously, when the craft crashed in the heavily timbered mountainous country near De Sable, 20 miles northeast of here, late last night. The plane was flying to San Francisco from Portland.

G. H. Putman of Portland and B. Silver of San Francisco, the most seriously injured passengers, were rushed to a hospital here. Miss Mildred Devitt of Seattle, C. R. Adams of Portland, passengers, and Lewis Goldsmith, pilot, and Noel B. Evans, assistant pilot, were less seriously injured.

The names of the two other passengers were not immediately available.

The plane left Portland yesterday at 10:10 p. m., and was due at San Francisco late yesterday afternoon. Goldsmith encountered heavy weather in crossing, landing at Corning, 150 miles from San Francisco, where he took on 200 gallons of gasoline to get him to his destination. He said the weather was bad but he believed he could make it.

Two hours later the plane was heard over Chico, barely fifty miles from Corning. Later it was sighted over Maxwell which indicated that it was flying in circles, and the pilot either had lost his bearings or was endeavoring to find a safe place to land. It was not heard from again until the wreck had been found.

Mebane of Beaufort, candidate for Congress in the third district, were speakers. "While I was visiting Turkey," said Mrs. Faison, "the guides told our party never to let our young daughters out of our sight. One day a Turk, who had noticed this, remarked on

Campaign Over, Chairman Dees Confident Of Result

Confident of victory for the county, state and national tickets, the Democratic party in Wayne county yesterday brought to an end the historical presidential campaign of 1928. Solicitor Clawson L. Williams of Sanford fired the final rallies on behalf of the party, delivering an address at Lukeville in the afternoon and one at Casey's Chapel last night. At Lukeville he delivered the only open-air address of the entire campaign. He mounted a truck and spoke to the two or three hundred people who gathered around, mostly residents of the rural sections adjacent to Lukeville. Both at this place and at Casey's Chapel at night he reviewed the hope which lies for the farmer in case Gov. Smith and the Democrats are placed in charge of the affairs of the nation. "The hope of the farmer of America," he declared lies in the Democratic party. Eight years of unfulfilled promises on the part of the Republicans show clearly that there is no hope in this direction. Mr. Williams went deeply into the question of Mr. Smith's religion, citing his record in New York to show that never had his membership in the Catholic church in any way influenced any of his acts as governor. Dees' Confident With the final rallies held, W. A. Dees, county chairman last night said he was confident of victory. "The county will go safely Democratic," he said.

YOUTH KILLS SWEETHEART

High School Student Felled Girl To Floor and Her Then Strangled Her to Death

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—(P)—Vincent Rice, 17, confessed today, according to police, that he strangled to death his 15-year-old high school sweetheart, Alice Joost, after he felled her with his fist and "lost his head" in her home in Staten Island yesterday. Through several hours of questioning by police, Rice maintained his innocence. He was then taken to the Joost home and questioned at the scene of the crime, where police said he broke down and confessed. Young Rice, according to the police version of his story, spent most of yesterday at the girl's home. Her widowed mother was at work in a Manhattan book bindery. Late in the afternoon, police said, the couple quarrelled and Rice struck the girl with his fist so hard that she fell senseless to the floor. Frightened Rice seized an electric extension cord and bound it tightly around her neck. Her mother found the body when she returned home last night. Detectives said they believe Rice hit the girl after she resisted his advances. Both were students of the Port Richmond high school and had been friends for several months.

Autopsy Only Adds Mystery

LAKE BLUFF, Ill., Nov. 3.—(P)—A pall of doubt hung over the inquiry into the strange death of Alfreda Knack today after the coroner's autopsy was completed and the seared body of the once attractive teacher and saleswoman was made ready for burial. The story of self sacrifice in a fire, as whispered by the young woman in her dying moments, was supported by the coroner's physician, who announced that the autopsy disclosed "no evidence of violence."

He said he believed the young woman acted alone in thrusting her arms and then her legs into the furnace in the Lake Bluff village hall as she sought to prove "her love and faith" for Charles Hitchcock, actor, teacher, and Lake Bluff policeman. An examination of her skull disclosed no concussion and there was no evidence of violence except the broken arm, which the doctor said, resulted when she fell after trying to walk on her feet which had been burned to the bone. State's attorney A. V. Smith, however, was not convinced and said he would continue his investigation along the lines tending to show the young woman was either urged or aided by someone in the furnace or caused the immolation.

Postpone Assembling Of Coroner's Jury

Officers yesterday postponed the convening of the coroner's jury to hear further evidence in the hit and run death of Charles Pickerton, Sanitron man, near his home last Sunday night. Angus and Bryant McLean, negroes, natives of Hoke county, but now residing in the Sanitron section are being held in jail under circumstances of evidence gathered by sheriff's deputies. It may now be the middle of this week before the jury may again be assembled to hear the evidence gathered.
