devices on success in his syndicated writings in the daily press and books had made his name familiar in his own field.

He was born in Urbana, Illinois, May 12, 1861. Before he entered journalism, he was a Methodist minister and occupied pulpits in Chicago from 1896 to 1903. From 1904 to 1909 he was pastor of the Union Congregational Church in Worcester, Mass.

He was editor of "Current Opinion" and author of a number of books including "Adventures in Common Sense," "The Crane Classics," "Just Human" and "War and World Government," and "Why I Am a Christian." His daily writings were syndicated to 50 newspapers.

PUBLICITY AND DIVORCES

England finds that a whole lot more of folks now seek divorces since a law has been enacted forbidding newspapers to give full details of the evidence presented. America would probably find the same thing.

The Church times, which represents the Anglo-Catholic viewpoint in the Church of England, a widely-read, influential church organ, portrays the situation editorially in this manner:

"A terrible number of divorce petitions is down for trial. We are afraid that the effect of the recent legislation has been greatly to increase the evil. In former days, when these cases were tried in public, sensitive persons shrunk from the ordeal of a public revelation of their matrimonial lives. Now that this chock has been removed by the restriction on publicity, the popularity of divorce is greatly increased. Society has already adapted itself to the new order."

A further complication in the divorce situation is seen in the announcement that shortly there will be launched an agitation for the right to divorce on such grounds as separation owing to penal servitude, chronic alcoholism and temperamental difference. The only grounds upon which divorce can now be obtained in England is adultery.

Some strange and unusual matrimonial tangles will worry the judges this session. The secrecy law has encouraged so much collusion in getting divorces that it has been announced the judges will give the hotel bill evidence a searching examination and will not accept as absolutely corroborating testimony such as a confession of a husband or the evidence of the hotel servants.

CHIPS OFF THE OLD BLOCK

(By Maurice L. Block)

Le Roi est morte; vive le roi. Altho I am sorry Mr. Smith didn't win, I herewith tender my allegiance to Mr. Hoover as President of the United States.

There used to be a couple of urduque citizens living here in Goldsboro across the street from each other. One had a better well than his neighbor so it was his (I have forgotten the names so I will call one Mr. Brown and the other Mr. Jones). Mr. Brown's custom to borrow water from Mr. Jones' well. Each of these two gentlemen was well known for a certain habit he had. Mr. Brown stammered

BOND ORDER

Be It Resolved, by the Board of Commissioners for the County of Wayne, State of North Carolina:

(a) That negotiable coupon bonds of said county registerable as to principal, shall be issued under authority of County Finance Act and other statutes applicable, for the special purpose of funding yield indebtedness of said county for necessary expense incurred before March 7, 1927, for roads and bridges in and for said County.

(b) That the maximum aggregate principal amount of said bonds shall be $190,000.00.

(c) That a tax sufficient to pay principal and interest of said bonds as same fall due, shall be annually levied and collected.

(d) That a statement of debt of said county has been filed with the Clerk and is open to public inspection, and the County Auditor is hereby designated as the proper official to file said statement, and same as filed is hereby approved.

(e) That this Order shall take effect on its passage and shall not be submitted to the voters, it being hereby found as a fact and determined and declared that said bonds are issued for the purpose stated and no other.

(f) That it is hereby found as a fact, and determined and declared that this Board is properly and legally constituted and organized and has the power and authority to issue said bonds; that said bonds are necessary and unavoidable for the special purpose stated and the proceeds shall be applied to said special purpose and to no other.

The foregoing order was finally passed on the fifth day of November 1928, and was first published on the Seventh day of November, 1928. Any objection or proceeding questioning the validity of said order must be commenced within thirty days after its first publication.

Dessie Grantham, Clerk. Nov. 7, 1928.

NOTICE OF BOND SALE

Sealed proposals will be received by the official Board of Wayne County North Carolina, in the courthouse in Goldsboro, at 2 P. M., November 23, 1928, for the purchase of the following gold bonds of said County: $500,000.00 Road Bonds, maturing $50,000, 1931 to 1935 inclusive; $10,000.00 1936 to 1960 inclusive; $19,000.00 Road and Bridge Fund. Bond Bonds, maturing $10,000 1930 to 1935 inclusive; $15,000 1936 to 1941 inclusive; $20,000 1942 to 1943 inclusive.

All of said bonds bearing interest at the rate of four and three quarters per centum per annum, dated December 1, 1928, and all maturing on first day of December in the years as stated, without prior option. Interest payable semi-annually on the first day of June and December. Principal and interest payable in gold at the Handover National Bank in New York. The bonds are negotiable coupon bonds registerable as to principal, and all in denomination of $1000 each. They can not be sold for less than par and accrued interest, and no bid will be considered except on printed form and according to the stipulations thereon.

Bidders must present with their bids a certified check upon an incorporated bank or trust company unconditionally payable to F. L. Peacock, Jr., County Auditor, for two per cent of the face value of said bonds, to secure the County against any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. The bids and all further communications should be addressed to F. L. Peacock, Jr., County Auditor, Goldsboro, North Carolina.

and Mr. Jones sat on his porch barefooted on an evening. One evening Mr. Brown had gone to his neighbor's well and on his way back home he stopped to pass the time of day with Mr. Jones. He set the bucket of water on the porch and started talking. Finally he noticed Mr. Jones washing his feet in water. He said, Miss-mmm-miss-ter Jo-Jones, you ain't go-gonna wash your feet in my wat-water bucket, are you?" Mr. Jones replied, "Not if you had of talked faster."

NOTICE OF MORTGAGEE'S SALE.

Under and by virtue of the power and authority conferred in a certain mortgage deed executed by N. B. Bradford and wife, Clyde P. Bradford to Mollie E. Jennette, dated the 14th day of November, 1921, which mortgage deed is duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Wayne County in Book 156, at Page 593, there having been default in payment of the indebtedness thereby secured, the undersigned will sell to the highest bidder for cash at the Court House door in the City of Goldsboro, on Monday, December 3, 1928, at 12 o'clock M., 3 certain tracts of land lying and being in Wayne County, State of North Carolina, and bounded as follows, to-wit:

3RD TRACT: One certain lot of land being Lot No. 1 in the plan of the Beck Thompson homestead, Wayne County, North Carolina, containing 15 47/100 acres. Said plan being surveyed and platted by Laurence H. McCullough, Civil Engineer and Surveyor October 24th and 26th, 1917. The said plan being duly recorded in Plat Book 1, at Page 68 in the office of the Register of Deeds of Wayne County, North Carolina, which reference is hereby given for a more perfect description of said lot.

This the 29th day of October, 1928. MOLLIE E. JENNETTE, Mortgagee.

GROW BIG STRAWBERRIES

Without any Hoop or Cultivating. The best method of growing strawberries is practically eliminated by setting the plants through the new Mollie Paper.

A wonderful new strawberry, especially adapted for growing through Mollie Paper, has been originated by Capt. Chas. F. Gardner, horticulturist and fruit grower at Orange, Iowa, in "The State Where the Tall Corn Grows."

This new Red Gold variety is the result of 17 years of scientific strawberry breeding and selection. It will yield thousands of dollars profit to growers in this vicinity who are fortunate in getting an early start with this wonderful new strawberry variety.

Red Gold is a true strawberry grower and is practically immune from rust and other strawberry diseases. It is also frost resistant to a remarkable degree.

Red Gold is a once a year fruiting variety in northern states but has a longer season than ordinary strawberries and is far more fruitful all winter. The color of Red Gold berries is a beautiful, lustrous red. The flesh is firm and meaty, but not the least bit pummy or pulpy. The berries are of large size, single specimen having measured 4 1/2 inches around, and are simply loaded with that delightful fragrance and flavor of old-fashioned wild strawberries. They are so sweet and juicy that they require only half the amount of sugar to make high grade strawberry preserves.

He Was Caged Too Late!

Vincent Rice, 19, blond Adonis, in detention cage in Staten Island jail shortly before his arraignment for murder of Alice Joest (inset), 15-year-old Port Richmond high school student, found strangled to death. The sheik killer asked for ham and egg breakfast, then settled to a perusal of football scores in Sunday papers.
