World Just Begins to Get Details of Storm Damage in Philippines

U. S. CRUISER TAKES RED CROSS AID TO SPOT

Communication Means Restored To Few Points During Tuesday

MANILA, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Reports brought by restored communications today indicated that 200 persons perished in the typhoon which struck the central Philippine islands, Thursday and continued until Saturday. Ten thousand are homeless on the island of Leyte alone.

Leyte and Samar islands suffered most. While no reports have been received from the eastern sections of the islands it is believed that the loss of life was heavy.

Crop and property damage probably will aggregate millions of dollars, although lack of communications renders it impossible to make an estimate. The sugar crop, however, is thought to have escaped serious damage.

The U. S. cruiser Milwaukee with a relief party from Manila left supplies and Red Cross helpers at Catabogan on Samar island, and turned to go to Leyte today.

Four destroyers have been ordered to leave Manila today for the devastated regions as a result of a conference between Governor General Henry M. Stimson and naval officers.

APPEAL GIVEN GOOD RESPONSE

Many Poor and Needy Will Be Clothed As Result of Story In The News

Welfare Superintendent R. H. Edwards found out yesterday just how many folks read The News.

His appeal broadcast for old clothes, shoes, bedclothes and the like for needy families in what he described as the most serious condition he has ever known in the county, brought a generous response. All day yesterday automobiles pulled up outside his office in the courthouse and armful of armful of clothes were carried in.

"There will be many a little child who will go warm now; many a good but unfortunate woman will be clothed as a result of the outpouring," said Mr. Edwards. "I didn't know The News had so much power."

Mr. Edwards pointed out, however, that there are many cases on his list that have not yet been supplied with clothing and renewed the appeal for citizens to go into their closets and attics and get down the unused items and send them in for distribution.

HOSPITAL BURNS IN CRAVEN CITY

Patients Are Removed To Nearby Buildings As Firemen Fight Valiantly

NEW BERN, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Five white patients and eight Negro patients of the New Bern general hospital were transferred to other places last night when fire broke out in a dumb waiter in the basement and worked through to the attic.

Arkansan To Inspect Wayne County Schools

The schools of Wayne county are among four of five county systems to be visited by State School Inspector Hill of Arkansas early in December. J. I. Memory of Raleigh, state high school inspector yesterday wrote Wayne officials. Mr. Hill is coming to North Carolina with the view to gaining practical ideas in progressive school organization and management which may be applied in Arkansas. He will spend the day of December 5 in Wayne county. Mr. Memory will accompany him on his trip here.

Appeal Is Perfected For Millard Johnson

Alleging error in the admission of certain evidence Millard Johnson Grantham township farmer through his counsel yesterday appealed to the Supreme Court from the conviction in Wayne Superior court of the murder of Pink Rose well-to-do Grantham farmer. Judge F. A. Daniels had sentenced Johnson from 7 to 10 years in State prison after the jury had brought in a verdict of guilty at the trial some time ago. Self defense had been the plea of Johnson. The appeal as completed yesterday is expected to be argued before the supreme court in Raleigh on Tuesday, December 11.

PRESENT PLAY BEFORE ROTARY

"The Valiants", Admirably Interpreted By High School Dramatic Club

The High School Dramatic club presented the short play "The Valiants" before the Goldsboro Rotary club at its meeting at the Hotel Goldsboro last evening, and they did it in a convincing fashion. Prior to the presentation of the play, A. A. Joseph, past president of Rotary, in a short talk urged the necessity of continued alertness if the organization is to measure up to its full responsibility in the city.

"The Valiants" is concerned with no more than one scene, but a scene which makes real demands for lucid interpretation, and is after the manner of the short-short story. It tells the tale of Ditre, who killed a man because he was convinced the man deserved it, and how he successfully conceals his real identity in order to shield his widowed mother and sister. Ditre goes to his death satisfied that he has done the right thing at every point, even in preventing his sister who gains an audience with him in a short stay of execution granted by the governor, from learning who he is.

Alexander McLean as the Warden and Newbern Pland as Ditre had the most difficult role but carried it off well. The part of a Catholic priest goes most come so naturally to Ralph Giddens, possibly, but he gave a very good portrayal. Mary Borden as Josephine Paris, sister of the condemned man, played her part with the restraint and carriage it demanded.

Paul Mazingo was Dan, assistant to the Warden, and if Paul ever wants a job as guard at the State prison, George Ross Pou would probably give him one if he showed how it ought to be done as he did last night.

The club is coached by Miss Margaret Kordey of the High School faculty, who directed the play before the Rotarians.

Cape Fear Conference To Convene Here This Morning

The Cape Fear annual conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church will convene at the St. James A. M. E. Zion church today and will continue through Sunday. Bishop George C. Clement will preside over the conference and Rev. J. S. N. Tross will be entertaining host as pastor of the Zion church. Three sessions of the conference are scheduled for today. Rev. M. B. Butler will deliver the annual sermon at 11 o'clock this morning, followed by administration of the holy communion, organization and registration. Still Smiling!—Still Frying!

Safe and sound though the whole country was excited by rumors that he had been killed in an airplane crash in Mexico, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh arrived in San Antonio, Tex., from a hunting expedition below the Rio Grande. He was to hop off almost immediately for New York. Photo shows the smile which Lindy turns on folks who think he should give up flying.

Young Woman Testifies In Highland Sanatorium Case

RALEIGH, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Alleged immoral conduct of Dr. R. S. Carroll was portrayed with a wealth of detail today as Wake County Superior Court swung into consideration of testimony upon which the State Board of Charities and Welfare is seeking to have canceled the license of Highland Sanatorium at Asheville, operated by the defendant physician.

The day's star witness in the de-linquent of the amatory activities charged to the elderly physician, was Miss Gertrude Corbett, a cripple of infantile paralysis, who is now employed in a clinic connected with the New Jersey department of institutions and agencies.

Perfectly composed at all times, Miss Corbett swore she had been a victim of Dr. Carroll's advances about 8 years ago. The physician, she testified, justified his behaviour toward her with the claim that it would have a therapeutic value. The witness said she entered the hospital as a patient but later became an assistant to the superintendent.

Included In Legislative Program of Carolina Motor Club For Year

GREENSBORO, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Enthusiastic endorsement of the safety liability measure, designed to bar irresponsible drivers from the highways and provide compensation for personal injuries and property damage, featured the meeting here today of directors of the Carolina Motor Club who formulated a revised legislative program which will be submitted to a referendum vote of the membership.

The club directors voted to submit the following five proposals to the membership:

State automobile driver's license. State highway police patrol. Elimination of obstructions at curves and cross roads, including billboards, shrubbery. Reduction of license plate fees at end of each quarter. Prohibiting installation of light bulbs larger than legal limit.

Orphanage Class To Sing Here Tonight

The Methodist Orphanage concert, class, from the Methodist orphanage in Raleigh, will render a concert program at the Methodist church here this evening at 7:30 o'clock. It was learned here yesterday. The program will be the main feature of the Thanksgiving service, and the public has been cordially invited to attend. The class, which will sing tonight, is composed of twelve voices, it was said, the young people being well trained, and having splendid voices.

CLAIMS HE IS OMAHA KILLER

Negro Arrested in Spokane Confesses To Hatchet Murders In Nebraska

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Police said today that a Negro giving the name of Elmer Williams, 24, laborer, had confessed to the series of hatchet murders in Omaha.

The man was arrested, according to chief of detectives C. G. Miles, after he engaged a newsboy to write letters for him, referring to the wretched murders of Mrs. Walter Resso and her sister, Greta Brown, in Omaha, and saying that Nebraska authorities were making "a bad mistake" by holding Jake Bird, another Negro suspect in connection with the hatchet killings.

Chief Miles said another newsboy told patrolman "Red" Akers about the letters and Akers arrested Williams, who at once said that he had killed Mrs. Resso and Miss Brown with a hatchet. He refused to amplify this statement until police found out whether Omaha authorities wanted him.

A newspaper account of the Resso-Brown murders at Omaha, Nov. 18, was found in the Negro's possession. Police said they would communicate with Omaha authorities to verify his story.

Officers said Williams told them he eluded capture after the slayings and left the city November 19, taking a passenger train to Denver. At Denver he bought overalls and a blue denim jacket, going outside the city to change the clothing he wore at the time of the murders.

"That's all I'll tell you now until I know that the captain of detectives in Omaha wants me," Williams said.

CHARGE LOCAL MAN AT FAULT

J. M. Meacham of Goldsboro in Collision Near Four Oaks in Which Three Are Hurt

J. M. Meacham of Goldsboro is out under $200 bond for an appearance in Johnston county recorder's court on a charge of driving an automobile while drunk with the alleged result that he was responsible for an accident in which two persons were injured, according to advices from Smithfield.

Meacham's car was in collision with that of Joseph Smith of Benson on highway number 22 near Four Oaks. Miss Mildred Smith and a ten-year-old son of the Smith's were painfully hurt in the wreck. Miss Smith sustained a cut on the hand and the boy had to be taken to an Erwin hospital for treatment. He was able, however, to return to his home on Monday. Another child of the Smith's was slightly hurt in the accident. Both cars wrecked.

C. B. Strickland, chief of police of Four Oaks, was called to the scene and placed the Goldsboro man under arrest.

SMITH AT RALEIGH

RALEIGH, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York, passed through Raleigh this morning going home from his southern vacation, but he was not seen by the small crowd who went to the station in the hope of seeing the former democratic nominee for the presidency.

Eastern Carolina League Set For Its Second Year

The Eastern Carolina Baseball League got set for its second year of history at the fall meeting of directors of the league—made up of presidents of the various clubs—held at the Hotel Goldsboro here last evening with W. G. Bramham, head of the league, presiding. As indicated at the meeting last night the league this season will be made up of the same cities which comprised it in its initial season—Goldsboro, Wilmington, Fayetteville, Rocky Mount, Greenville and Kinston. All of these cities were represented and there was no move on the part of any clubs, so far as was learned, to

KING GEORGE NEARS CRISIS IN ILLNESS

Brief Bulletin, Claiming He Holds His Own, Fails To Alleviate Anxiety

LONDON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—King George tonight was said in an official bulletin to be holding his own as he approached the time when medical opinion in general expected a crisis in his illness which would determine its future course.

A brief bulletin was issued from Buckingham palace tonight at the same time that it was announced that a warship had been ordered to proceed to East Africa for the disposal of the Prince of Wales. The bulletin read:

"The king passed a less disturbed day. The temperature was somewhat lower than at the corresponding hour last night. His strength was maintained."

The admiral has directed His Majesty's ship Enterprise to proceed from Axen to Dar-es-Salaam and to there hold herself at the disposal of the king to the throne.

The prince, who has been hunting in the inaccessible interior, was due tonight at Bodoto, Tanganyika, which is on a railway and connected by telegraph.

The bulletin issued by Sir Stanley Hewitt and Lord Dawson of Fern seemed to hint to say as much as it conveyed.

Last night it had been stated frankly that his Majesty's temperature was 101.4, while tonight it was termed "somewhat lower."

BAPTISTS GET NEW PREACHER

Rev. Elbert Johnson Accepts Call to Pastorate Local Church

Rev. Elbert N. Johnson, pastor of the First Baptist church of Dunn for the past seven years, has accepted the pastorate of the Mt. Olive Baptist church. It was learned here yesterday, Rev. Mr. Johnson was in the city on Wednesday and Thursday of last week. It was said, and a cordial invitation was extended to him Wednesday night by officers of the local church. The preacher telephoned his acceptance Sunday morning, and the announcement was made to the church membership at the Sunday school hour.

Rev. Mr. Johnson will take the pastorate, which was recently given up by Rev. S. L. Nott, when he received a call to the North Winston-Salem Baptist church in the Twin city. He will come to Mt. Olive with a splendid record of achievement. Prior to his seven year pastorate at the Dunn church, Rev. Mr. Johnson, was for seven years pastor of the First Baptist church in Reidsville, and he came to the Reidsville church from the Morgentown Baptist church. His terms of service at each of these churches has been marked with unusual success, and members of the Mt. Olive church feel very fortunate in having secured a man, who is said to be one of the out-standing Baptist ministers in the state.

Rev. Mr. Johnson, his wife, daughter of Dr. Livingston Johnson, and two sons and two daughters, will make their home in the church parsonage.
