GOVERNOR IN APPEAL FOR WORKMEN COMPENSATION ACT

New Highway Patrol Bill

Want Assembly Set Adjournment Date For March 4 Under Resolution

WOULD PROHIBIT BILLS STARTED IN FINAL DAYS

Senate Approves Idea of Adding Two Associate Justices of Supreme Court

RALEIGH, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The House today heard Governor Gardner in a plea for enactment of a workmen's compensation act, cleared 26 local bills from its calendar and debated at length the "barber's bill." No statewide measures passed, adjournment being taken before a vote was called on the barber bill.

Among new bills introduced was a state highway patrol measure by Representative Hargett of Onslow and Harris of Person, both Democrats, and a bill for state aid in securing better seed for North Carolina farmers. The latter measure was introduced by Representative Everett, Democrat of Martin, chairman of the agriculture committee.

Representative Winston, Democrat of Bertie, introduced two resolutions that together would have the general assembly set the date for its adjournment as March 4 and would prohibit introduction of new bills after February 23. The bill for regulation of barber's was originally introduced by Representatives Young of Durham and Young of Cumberland, judiciary committee number 1 reported it unfavorably with a committee substitute. It provides for a state board of examiners to license barbers and inspect barber shops and a license fee of $3 from each barber to bear expenses of the board. It would permit appeal to the superior court from decisions of the board.

RALEIGH, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The people of North Carolina would vote on a constitutional amendment to add two associate justices to the state supreme court at the next general election if the bill which passed the senate today 29 to 3 is approved by the house.

Freed of the Australian ballot which monopolized the senate's time during the last three days the body renewed its consideration of the growing public and local calendars. The bill providing for two superior court judges for the fourteenth judicial district was sent to the table today 16 to 14 after a lengthy speech had been made for the bill by its author, Clark, of Mecklenburg. He declared that the jails as well as the dockets in Mecklenburg County were crowded and that the need of another judge was marked. The Mecklenburg senator argued that his bill was constitutional and then explained his opinion that judges should be elected and not appointed.

POULTRY MEET WILL BE HELD

Better Practices in Poultry Raising To Be Talked Friday February 22

A county-wide poultry meeting will be held in the Community Building Goldsboro, next Friday, February 22, at 3 p. m.

The purpose of this meeting is to discuss the better practices in poultry raising, especially in brooding, feeding and caring for baby chicks. The program will be conducted by Ewins Shivar of Smith's Chapel Community; Reuben Sasser of Nahunta Community; and Russell Hollowell of Grantham Community, who attended the Poultry Short Course which was held at State College last November. These young men were sent to the Short Course through the courtesy of the Goldsboro National Bank; the Wayne National Bank; the First National Bank of Mt. Olive; and the Wayne Hatchery of Goldsboro, in order that they might learn more of the better practices in poultry raising and in turn bring the message to all the poultry raisers in the county.

Therefore, these institutions join the county farm and home extension workers in inviting one and all who are interested in more profitable poultry raising to attend the meeting. Remember the date, time and place—Friday, February 22, at 3 p. m. in the Memorial Community building. It is urged.

"Everyone knows about this camp," said Mr. Nufer, "it is the largest and best equipped military camp in the world and is situated near Fayetteville."

Mother Kills Self Her Six Children

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—(AP)—A thirty-five year old mother tucked her six children into bed for a morning nap today and then, when they were all asleep, she turned on every gas jet in the apartment.

Jose Pazos returned home at noon to find all the children dead in bed and his wife lying dead on the kitchen floor. The children ranged in age from 1 to 13 years.

Doctors said the children had evidently died in their sleep and from this fact police reconstructed the case as best they could. They believed that the mother, having made up her mind to wipe out the whole family, but Pazos, had told the older children to stay home from school and then on some pretext had put them all to bed for a nap.

FIRE ON EARLY LAST EVENING

Work of Fighters Prevents Destruction At Kornegay and Chestnut

A deserted house at the corner of Chestnut and Kornegay was set on fire Thursday evening about 6:30. The fire was started probably by children playing on the premises. The blaze was soon extinguished by the firemen who arrived soon enough to save the house from destruction. An old iron safe was in the hall. It was locked and the name of the owner could not be learned last evening. Whether this safe contains anything is as much a mystery as is its origin. The fire was first discovered by the neighbors who called the fire department. Spontaneous combustion was believed to have been caused of a small explosion which did little damage.

TO HONOR NAME WAYNE NATIVE

Ask Money for Placing Statue In Hall of Fame In Washington

A statue of Charles B. Aycock, native of Wayne county and one of the greatest of North Carolina governors, may be placed in the Hall of Fame in Washington, D. C. A bill requesting an appropriation for this purpose has been introduced in the General Assembly by A. D. McLean of Beaufort County.

Congressman Abernethy has written the following letter to the members of the state senate and legislature who represent the counties comprising the Third Congressional District:

"It is most pleasing to me to note that Hon. A. D. MacLean, of Beaufort county, has introduced a bill for the purpose of appropriating money to place the statue of Governor Charles B. Aycock in the Hall of Fame in Washington.

"This is most appropriate, and I am taking this opportunity to urge that you give favorable consideration to this measure. Governor Aycock, in my opinion, was one of the most outstanding men that North Carolina has ever produced. His home was in the Third Congressional District. The place along side of Governor Vance has been vacant for many years. I feel sure that North Carolina as a whole will approve the selection of Governor Aycock for this distinguished honor."

Tennessee Senators Come Near to Blows

NASHVILLE Tenn., Feb. 15.—(AP)

Abtler factional fight in the senate of the Tennessee general assembly came to an unexpected head today when Senator John Brown of Shelby county, with a closed pocketknife in his right hand, advanced upon Senator A. H. Wiggs of Perry county while a mixed gallery gasped. Brown was stopped directly in front of his seat by the sergeant at arms. Other senators and newspapermen. Just before Brown started his interrupted rush he had hurled a curse at Wiggs using "common, double dealing, lying" and other adjectives to emphasize his point in the shouted sentence. Wiggs retorted: "You are another."

DAVIS GOES WITH JACOBI

Goldsboro Citizen To Become Vice President and Sales Manager

The N. Jacobi Hardware company of Wilmington yesterday announced that D. W. Davis of Goldsboro had been elected vice president and sales manager of the firm, one of the oldest and at the same time most progressive hardware firms in the Eastern section of North Carolina. Announcement that Mr. Davis would become vice president of the company comes only a few days after decision was reached to open a branch of the Wilmington firm in Goldsboro.

In assuming the executive position with the Wilmington company, Mr. Davis is retiring from the Wayne Agricultural Works, which he has directed for the past six years. Under his management the Agricultural works has steadily expanded in business and now places its manufactured products in a number of states.

Connection with the N. Jacobi Company will be no new experience for Mr. Davis. For some twenty years prior to his assuming direction of the Wayne-Agricultural Works he has been in the employ of the firm. It is expected that his new duties may require a large part of his time in Wilmington, but it is not definitely known whether or not he will move his family to the Seaside City.

The Goldsboro branch of the firm with which Mr. Davis becomes connected will be located on East Walnut street in a brick structure now being erected on the spot where the Home Furniture Company was destroyed by fire several weeks ago.

Goldsboro Native Recovering From Harrowing Experience

Wille Wilson is at his mother's home, 716 North William street, after an absence of nineteen years. He is recovering from as harrowing an experience as occurs to few men in the course of a life time.

Four months ago Wilson was standing in front of a store in Spartanburg, S. C., when a man, who was under the influence of whiskey, lost control of his car, hit a fire plug and ricocheted into the store, catching Wilson on the bumper and taking him into the store with the car. After the wreckage had been cleared away it was found that Wilson had been seriously injured by having both of his legs broken.

After a period in the hospital at Spartanburg where he underwent a serious operation in which bones were grafted into the broken legs, he was discharged on February 7 and being without funds he hitch-hiked his way toward Goldsboro, his boyhood home, getting as far as the over-pass bridge on Highway 10 between Clayton and Raleigh.

Wilson stated that on Thursday night of this week he was put out of the car at this point; he remembers nothing further and was found in an unconscious condition lying by the side of the road with the side of his head beaten in.

He was carried to the Smithfield Hospital where he received first aid. Continued on page 8

Upwards of 200 Young Men From Eastern North Carolina Registered

OTHERS ARE EXPECTED TO ARRIVE SOMETIME TODAY

Senator Broughton of Wake County To Be Speaker At Banquet Tonight

"Choose the profession in which you can best express yourself and the profession in which you can impress the world," was the advice which Dr. Francis P. Gaines, president of Wake Forest College, brought to the older boys of Eastern North Carolina as they met last evening at the First Baptist church for the first session of a three-day conference.

Upwards of two hundred young men of the late teen ages had arrived for the first meeting despite the very inclement weather which prevailed yesterday. New arrivals today are expected to swell the number in attendance to four hundred.

In a style which delighted his youthful audience Dr. Gaines told three stories which led to the conclusion which he wished to make—that the greatest lesson any man can learn is to distinguish right from wrong and make the right choice under every circumstance and condition. The story of the Lord appearing to Solomon in a dream and asking him to choose the thing he desired above all provided the Wake Forest president with his central theme. Solomon made the right choice. Dr. Gaines pointed out, in that he did not place riches first, in that he did not place self first. He made the right choice in that he asked for a understanding heart, wisdom—the ability to sense right from wrong, and to choose the right.

Dr. Gaines listed humility as one of the fundamentals of great character, and he urged the young men in planning their own lives to remember this fact. Find your happiness in your work, he told them, declaring: "God pity the man who has to wait for his vacation to have a good time." Jerome Clark of Fayetteville, president of the Conference, was in the chair last night. Ezra Griffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Griffin, welcomed the boys to Goldsboro in a very pleasing and effective manner. Response was made by William Temple, of Dunn, who returned thanks for the gracious welcome.

The sessions will be continued at 9 o'clock this morning, and the feature of the day will be the banquet at the Hotel Goldsboro at 5 o'clock this evening with Senator J. M. Broughton, of Raleigh, as the speaker.

The first session today will be at the Community Building at 9 o'clock, and after a general meeting the delegates will be divided into groups for discussion. Election of officers and report of committees is scheduled for a general assembly at the Memorial Community Building at 2 o'clock this afternoon.
